TREATING SEED IS CHEAP CROP INSURANCE

By Herman Dick

Suppose you were snapped awake at night by a steady swish, a swish that told you a thief was shoveling grain from your bin into his truck? You wouldn't turn over and go back to sleep; you'd do something about it.

Thieves have been operating in your community for years. They work too quietly to awaken you from your sleep. They take a toll of millions of dollars worth of crops every year. You are among the victims if you haven't been on guard. These thieves are Plant Diseases. They steal before the crops are ready for market.

The Tecumseh F. F. A. wants to help farmers stop these thieves from stealing more grain. To do this we have built a gravity seed treater which any farmer can use free of charge. The amount of work required in treating seed is not great. The seed along with the powder is poured in at the top, a bushel at a time, and when the seed comes out at the bottom it is treated. The cost of "Ceresan", the powder with which to treat the seed, is about three cents per bushel for wheat and oats. This low expense is offset by the increase in yield.

Anyone interested write or see Mr. D. G. Locke, instructor of agriculture, Tecumseh High School, Tecumseh.

HOLLOWAY

WED 50 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dawson will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary April 14 with open house in their home from 4 to 9 o'clock.

William Dawson and Eva Schaffer were wed in the home of her mother, Mrs. Dinna Schaffer in Grand Rapids on April 14, 1898 by the Rev. Wheeler who was pastor of the Methodist church at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Will Dawson returned to their home two miles south of Holloway at that time and still are living there. Mr. Dawson has been engaged in farming until the last few years. To this union were born three children, Yevia, living at home with her parents, Mrs. John Mitchell and Mrs. Vesta Treat both of Adrian Route 3. There are eight grandchildren, one of them in Germany with the Army.

Mrs. Frank Hedrick and Miss Edna Hedrick of Ypsilanti called on friends around Holloway Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kohler of Monroe were Sunday visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gritzmaker and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bennington.

Edward Mitchell did it again. He has the first field of early oats, planted on Monday.

The Holloway Mothers Club will meet April 6 at the Family Inn. Members are urged to be there by 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Alton Wellnitz was hostess to a group of children who came to help Ann Christine Wellnitz celebrate her birthday on Thursday afternoon. Games were played and each child received a prize. The table was centered with a large lighted birthday cake and each guest had a small duplicate of the large cake on their plates, even to the lighted candle. Ann received nice gifts from those present.

Mrs. Claude Walters was hostess to the Raisin Sewing Circle which met Friday afternoon. Quilt blocks were distributed for a new quilt top. The hostess served light refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The Volunteer Class of the Holloway Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening with sixteen members present. A box social was the featured attraction and a social evening was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kopke as hosts. Of the five newly married couples of the class, two of them were presented with gifts from the class and the other three will receive theirs at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnston. It was decided to entertain the Leaders Class at this meeting.

"Let's Talk About SMART FEEDING"
"It seems to me that there's been too much talk about SAVING FEED. Too much livestock has been liquidated on this account.
"Feed saving should not be just a matter of locking up the corn cribs and grain bins and living on corn bread and muffins.
"SMART FEEDING should replace mere feed saving. Making better use of the feed you have and stick more or less to your regular production program.
"With increased prices ahead for livestock and poultry, there are a lot of folks who'll wish they had 'stayed put' instead of concentrating so much on grain farming.
"Drop in, and let's discuss this matter of 'smart feeding'. Maybe we have some ideas that will show you some good profit."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER TWENTY-ONE — TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, APRIL 15, 1948 — FIVE CENTS PER COPY

$200,000 Products Additions

NEW ASSEMBLY PLANT BEING BUILT, BOILER HOUSE ENLARGED, SIDING INSTALLED

Three major improvements at Tecumseh Products Company, costing about $200,000, were announced today by Ray W. Herrick, president.

Ground already has been broken for the construction of a new assembly plant on the east side of the present factory, this building to be one story in height, 400 feet in length and 125 feet in width. Plans call for the occupancy of the building about September 1, and it is expected that added employment will boost the company's payroll to 3,000 or more.

An addition to the present boiler house, costing $40,000, also is under way, this project to be finished about October 1. The present boiler house was completed about a year ago, but steady growth of the factory has made it necessary for immediate enlargement.

To greater facilitate its shipping needs, Products is now installing a new railroad siding to its plants, and this improvement will cost, when completed, about $24,000.

"Work on these three projects is now under way, and we hope to finish them on schedule," Mr. Herrick said in making the announcement.

The improvements are a part of those which Mr. Herrick mentioned prior to and at the T-Day banquet, last February 27, when the company reached its decision to keep all of its future expansion program in Tecumseh.

Ground Broken For New Store

WHELAN IMPLEMENT COMPANY TO ERECT NEW BUILDING ON W. LOGAN STREET

Construction of a new building, 54 by 100 feet, on West Logan street, immediately west of its present store, was announced today by Fay A. Whelan of the Hoyt E. Whelan Implement Company. The new structure, to be built of cement blocks, steel and brick, one and a half stories in height, will cost about $30,000 and will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

Ground was broken this week for the new construction, and one of the features of the new building will be radiant heating. It will be one of the first commercial buildings in this vicinity to be so heated. The new building will be used for offices and display purposes and a modern shop. The present building, Mr. Whelan said will serve as a storage warehouse.

"We have needed a new building for a long time," Mr. Whelan said in making the announcement, "and now our business has grown to the point where it is a necessity. The new structure will include many features beneficial to our type of business, and we believe that we will be better able to serve our customers."

School Budget Is Up $18,000

MOST OF INCREASE, HOWEVER, WILL COME FROM STATE AID CHANNELS

It will cost some $227,000 to operate the Tecumseh public schools during the year 1948-49, the school board estimated Tuesday evening when it prepared its budget for the new year. Of this amount, $145,000 is for operating expenses, an increase of about $18,000 over a year ago, but most of this money will come from state aid funds, it was said.

Aside from about $19,000 in the sinking fund and $30,400 in the debt service fund, the district will raise only about $35,000 in direct taxes. The remainder of the budget will be made up from tuition money and state aid.

For the operation of the public library, $4,300 was budgeted, some $3,800 of the amount coming from direct taxes.

Salary increases amounting to about $200 for each school employee were granted.

The board acknowledged the gift of two record players for the music department, one from the American Legion Auxiliary, the other from the Child Study Club.

Resolutions preparatory to the sale of bonds for Tecumseh's new $400,000 high school, approved by voters a few weeks ago, were adopted. It is hoped to get construction of the new building started in June.

The board fixed September 9 as the date for the opening of the fall term of school with adjournment for the summer recess as June 2, 1949.

The Baptist Junior League will meet Tuesday evening, April 20, at the home of Mrs. Dow Bilby, with Mrs. W. L. Becker assisting hostess.

Seven Band Students Win Honors at State Festival in E. Lansing

Seven Tecumseh high school band students participated in the annual state Solo and Ensemble festival held at East Lansing Saturday. More than 800 young musicians who had won first and second honors in sectional competition throughout the Lower Peninsula last month, competed for top honors. The session, under the sponsorship of the Michigan Band and Orchestral Association, was held in seven campus buildings at Michigan State College.

The musicians competing were given one of five ratings, the first being superior. The other marking rated down through excellent, good, fair and needs improvement.

Tecumseh high school had three entries: saxophone solo by Louis Vargo accompanied by Sally Brown; cornet trio composed of Marian Murphy, Dave Lott and Gerald VanValkenburg accompanied by Marilyn Lindsley, and a clarinet trio composed of Janice Boltz, Grace Moore and Tommy Wilt. These students, who had trained for weeks under the direction of Clare Camburn, local band instructor, all rated excellent, the second highest grade. The clarinet trio is composed of sixth graders and was the only group in the Clarinet trio division who were not senior high school students. They were also recognized as the only group in the festival who had their music memorized.

Much of the credit of the success of these young musicians rightfully belongs to Mr. Camburn. In commenting on the festival, a parent of a band student remarked, "Mr. Camburn has spent many hours throughout the day and evenings for several weeks in preparing these students for the festival and really deserves a lot of credit." "Tecumseh can be proud of what it has done in the musical way. Mr. Camburn has played a great part in these accomplishments," it was said.

Club Speaker

Hazel Peckinpaugh Dunlop, well-known authority and lecturer on flowers and flower arrangements, will address the Tecumseh Garden Club on Friday, April 16, at 2:15 o'clock, in the Methodist church parlors.

Mrs. Dunlop's subject will be "Flower Arrangements." She believes that familiar flowers, arranged with imagination, are fundamental to pleasant living, as important to the small home as to the mansion and within reach of the most slender pocketbook.

The speaker stresses simplicity above all else and says that learning the art of arranging flowers is an invitation to discover beauty in the most unexpected places—the road by the door, the nearby vacant lot or the common kitchen garden. Mrs. Dunlop discusses design and color and demonstrates with holders, containers and accessories.

Mrs. Dunlop is the author of the book, "Let's Arrange Flowers" and has appeared throughout Michigan and in other states as a lecturer on flower arrangements and table settings.

Town Hall Date Is Moved Ahead

DR. LAWRENCE PREUSS TO SPEAK HERE APRIL 27 INSTEAD OF APRIL 20

Dr. Lawrence Preuss of the University of Michigan is the speaker to be presented here Tuesday evening, April 27, at 8:15, under the auspices of Town Hall, it was announced today. The meeting will be held at the high school auditorium. Dr. Preuss's subject is, "The Marshall Plan and European Recovery."

One of many University faculty members who rendered outstanding governmental service during the war, Dr. Preuss served for more than three years with the Department of State in various capacities. In 1943, he was appointed head of the legal branch of the Department's Division of International Organization Affairs, a division which he helped to establish. From 1943 to May 1944, he was in London as advisor to the United States representative on the United Nations War Crimes Commission.

Dr. Preuss was also technical expert and assistant secretary at the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations in Washington in 1944. He was principal secretary of the United Nations Conference of Jurists in Washington in 1945 and was technical expert to the American delegation at the United Nations Conference on International Organization in San Francisco in 1945.

Dr. Preuss received his A. B., his master's degree, and his doctorate from the University of Michigan, where he is now professor of economics. He has also studied extensively in Europe.

Dr. Preuss originally was scheduled to speak at Town Hall here on April 20 but, because of a conflicting engagement, the date for the meeting has been advanced to April 27, one week later.

Vote To Close On Thursdays

RETAILERS, IN MEETING LAST WEEK, TAKE ACTION EFFECTIVE IN MAY

Members of the Retailers Division of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, at a dinner meeting held here last week, voted to close their stores all day on Thursdays during the summer months, effective the first Thursday in May. The action followed an unofficial straw vote, taken by members of the retail committee, which showed sentiment favoring the Thursday closing.

Leon Mix is chairman of the Retail committee, and he presided at the dinner meeting which also was attended by Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber. Several matters pertinent to the retail merchant were discussed, including a proposal for some type of sales promotion program during the last quarter in 1948.

The dinner was attended by some 15 merchants.

ENLISTMENT SUNDAY

Enlistment Sunday will be observed at the Baptist church Sunday morning April 18, at the 11 o'clock service

Work Started In Subdivision

STREETS, WATER MAINS AND OTHER UTILITIES RUSHED FOR 176 NEW HOUSES

Bulldozers and plows are now at work in the subdivision on North Brown street, recently purchased by Tecumseh Products Company, and in a short time the first of some 176 houses, to be built there, will be under construction, Ray W. Herrick, president of the company, said today.

The land formerly was used for farming purposes, and now in the subdivision program streets must be built, sidewalks laid, basements dug, water mains laid, and electricity also must be brought to the area. All of this work will consume considerable time, but it is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Herrick said that all of the 176 lots in the subdivision have been spoken for by employees of the company. Products gives each of its qualifying employees who desire to build there a lot and $200 to aid in the cost of home building.

It is the plan, as soon as basements and utilities become available, to build five houses of the type that will be constructed in the subdivision. Lot owners then may choose from these houses the styles that they desire and the program will proceed.

Mr. Herrick estimates that it will cost $100,000 or more to develop the subdivision and make it ready for the building program. He said that he hoped that at least 100 or more houses would be built there this summer. The five model houses will be built by R. S. Moore & Son Co., and VanCamp & Riley.

Daylight Time Opposed Here

FACTORY HEADS TURN THUMBS DOWN ON MOVING CLOCKS AHEAD ONE HOUR

Although the city of Adrian has voted to speed its clocks ahead one hour to daylight saving time at 2 a.m., Sunday, April 25, it seems unlikely that Tecumseh will follow such a practice, an unofficial canvass of the industries of this village disclosed today.

A poll of the principal manufacturers of Tecumseh today showed, with one exception, that all of them favored remaining on the present so-called "slow" time.

"I am absolutely opposed to it," was the comment of Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co. "It would throw us out of gear with most of our customers, and it would mean nothing but confusion. I am in favor of keeping the time that we now have."

W. J. Bruce of the Bruce Foundry & Manufacturing Co., said that he was opposed to any time change. "It just means confusion, and I cannot see where we would benefit by changing. I agree with the President when he said that unless the whole country decided to change to fast time "it would be a mess."

Donald Nixon, head of the Quaker Oats Co., here, said that he, too, was opposed to tampering with the clocks. He expressed a fear that such a change would only add confusion.

Al Meyers of the Meyers Air-Craft Co., stated definitely that he was opposed to any time change. "It just means a lot of confusion if we do change, and why do it," he concluded.

Wm. Beardsley of the Wm. Hayden Milling Co., was the only Manufacturer favoring moving the clocks ahead locally. He believed that it would be best for their business, if such changes were effected in Detroit, Toledo and Adrian.

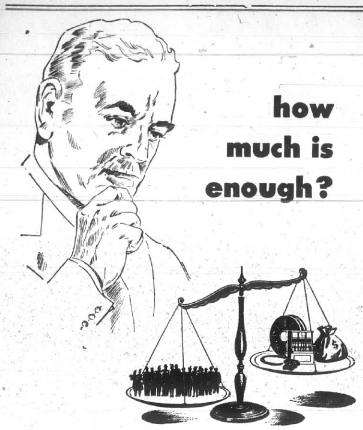
Thus far, it appears that the only communities in this area that will turn their clocks ahead on the 25th are Detroit, Toledo and Adrian. Jackson recently refused to go along with the program.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber, at their last meetings, discussed the fast time proposal but took no action.

In view of the stand taken by manufacturers, it is doubtful if the village council officially discusses the proposal at its next meeting, which is scheduled for Monday evening.

TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The local order of Eagles has announced an open house, to which family and friends of members are invited, this evening at 7 p.m. A fish supper will be served and there will be entertainment.



We wish we knew. In spite of our best efforts, the demand for telephone service continues to exceed the supply of materials necessary to provide it. We have already installed a record number of telephones, but still more applications for new service continue to come in. All of our efforts are aimed at "balancing the scales"—to have installations keep pace with new applications. It takes time and money, but we hope before too long to keep up with this tremendous demand.

SAVE THE FORESTS

This spring, the State Foresters and the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture are conducting a nationwide program to reduce fire losses. And that campaign can be a success only if the public is made aware of the problem and how to deal with it.

Fortunately, some progress has been made in dealing with the forest fire menace. In prewar years, we averaged 210,000 fires in our forests, woods and range lands. Since the war, the number has dropped, and was 172,000 in 1946. But no one should accept these statistics as an indication the waste is unimportant. Last year, forest fires burned enough trees of saw-timber size to build 86,000 5-room homes; and enough pole sized trees to provide a 12-month supply of newsprint for every newspaper in this country.

What causes forest fires? The experts have the answer to that, based on years of correlated experience. Only one in a hundred is the result of explosions, sparks from machinery, etc. A very few are the handiwork of arsonists. Less than ten per cent are started by lightening. And here is the big point: 90 per cent are caused by people—by the carelessness of the campers, hunters, travelers, logger, farmers and the others who live in the forests, who work in them, or who visit them.

During the campaign, these and many other facts will be made available. Forest fire prevention—like any other kind of fire prevention—isn't a job for the "other fellow." It is a job for you.

Don't Let a Cold Catch You Napping

Summer, Fall, Spring and Winter — all of them wrapped up in a single April day of changing temperatures makes it necessary that we be constantly on guard against colds. Especially is this true with children.

Always keep handy home remedies in your medicine chest, ready for instant use. The minute you discover a cold starting, begin to fight it.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION

... Of the People
... By the People
... For the People

Democracy is more than a system of government. It is an attitude of mind—a technique of procedure—a way of life. It operates on the principles that voluntary action through group and individual initiative can solve social, community and even economic problems far more effectively than regimentation or governmental control. Here is a striking example of democracy at work.

A PROBLEM THAT CHALLENGED MICHIGAN CITIZENS—
THE COST OF HOSPITAL AND SURGICAL CARE

Since hospital-surgical expense is often an unexpected emergency for which a family may be unprepared, the financial burden involved may be heavier than the average person can bear. Sometimes it can be ruinous to entire families. Often too, worry over paying hospital bills may retard or prevent a patient's recovery. This problem has been solved by Michigan's hospitals, Michigan's medical profession, and the public by voluntary democratic action and all 'round cooperation.

BLUE CROSS—A NON-PROFIT PUBLIC SERVICE

First, Michigan hospitals and its medical profession got together. They organized Blue Cross. Blue Cross is a non-profit plan of cooperation between hospitals, doctors of medicine, and the public to make good hospital and medical-surgical care available to everyone without economic strain upon anyone. This is accomplished through the payment of a small monthly sum which entitles members of the plan and their families to needed hospital care or doctors' services without worry about the expense.

THE PUBLIC COOPERATED

The public quickly exercised their democratic right of voluntary choice. Today over 1,200,000 people of Michigan have solved the cost of hospital and surgical care by becoming members of Blue Cross. They are protected—their families are protected—again proving that no matter in what sphere it is applied, "DEMOCRACY WORKS!"

ONE NIGHT ONLY

Tecumseh F. F. A.

Tecumseh was host to a Lenawee County F. F. A. meeting last Wednesday evening. Seven schools in Lenawee were represented. Don Daniels, president, presided.

A summer softball program was organized to provide a chance for fellows in the F. F. A., to become acquainted. The county is divided into two groups and the winner of each group will play a championship game sometime late in the summer.

A "Dairy Day" was discussed and the members were found to be in favor of it. The advisors are planning to get the cooperation of the breeders of the area. On this day we will visit many of the breeders of the county. We will practice judging and the owners will show us what to look for in picking a dairy animal. This will help to prepare schools for the judging contests to be held at Michigan State College, June 17 and 18.

A radio broadcast for the county was discussed. We decided to let each school present a program. Tecumseh will present theirs April 23 at 12 o'clock. After the meeting refreshments were served.

We are starting to dip sheep now and have orders for about 1000 sheep to be dipped so far. We plan to continue dipping through the summer.

At the Tecumseh High School Carnival we are putting on a Style Show. The F. F. A. boys are going to display the latest in women's styles. Be sure to visit the Style Show and enjoy yourself at the Carnival. We will hold our regular meeting this Wednesday evening.

LOCAL KROGER STORE SEEKS SMITH TROPHY

"I'm confident I will be able to display the Mrs. Smith trophy in Tecumseh," Harvey Wilson, local Kroger manager, remarked.

Funeral Today For Pfc. Frolich

BODY OF HERO OF IWO JIMA, FORMER NEWBERG RESIDENT, IS RETURNED

The body of Pfc. Wilfred K. Frolich, who was killed on Iwo Jima, March 17, 1945, arrived in Clinton last evening. The funeral is to be held this morning at 10 o'clock in St. Dominic's Catholic church in Clinton, with burial in the parish cemetery.

Pfc. Frolich enlisted in the marine corps in February 1944, after having graduated from Clinton high school in 1943. He was 19 years old at the time of his death.

Pfc. Frolich's activities on the day of his death were recorded by Sgt. Red O'Donnell, marine corps combat correspondent, who wrote:

"Pfc. Frolich had led a patrol against trapped Japs on the northern end of the island late in the afternoon of March 17 and had personally accounted for seven shortly before he was killed.

"Pfc. Joseph Cesaro of Providence, R. I. of the Ninth Marine Regt. served with Frolich throughout the day and was with him when he died. Cesaro said Frolich crawled out in front of the patrol and picked off two enemy snipers then shifted to the flanks and took cover behind a rock overlooking the high bluff. From this point, he flushed out a Jap ambush party which was holding up an advance. 'Frolich fired down on the Japs,' Cesaro explained, 'and when they made a run for it, he got all five of them.'

"As he tried to manuever his way to another position, Frolich was shot through the neck. He ran about ten yards to cover, fighting gamely to the end."

A main road in the Third Marine Division area was named "Frolich Drive" in his honor.

Pfc. Frolich is survived by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Frolich, who lives in Newburg, two and one-half miles south of Clinton, five brothers, Theodore, who served with his brother in the marine corps on Iwo Jima, Raymond and Leo, who served with the navy, Cyrl and Richard and two sisters, Dorothy Jean and Patricia, all now at home with their mother.

DEPENDABLE CLASS

The Temple Dependable Class of the Methodist church school will meet Wednesday, April 21, in the church parlors. Mrs. Gertrude Pangle and Mrs. Mertie Waring are the hostesses.

LAMB CARE NEEDED FOR TOP RETURNS

Prices for lambs to be marketed during the coming summer and fall will be determined largely by the management practices followed in the farm flock now, advises Graydon Blank, Michigan State college animal husbandry specialist.

Two practices which are especially important are docking and castrating. Ram lambs more than three to four months of age sell at a discount of one dollar per hundredweight. During the fall season, they lose flesh and retard the gains of other lambs. Long-tailed lambs are discriminated against on the market. Feeders do not want ram lambs and those with long tails. Lambs should be docked and castrated between one and three weeks of age.

Details of profitable sheep management as well as instruction for docking and castrating will be found in extension bulletin 242, "Selection and Care of the Farm Sheep Flock." The bulletin can be obtained from county agricultural agents' offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Michigan.

COUPLE AT NEWBURG COMPLETE NEW HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Curran have completed their new house, located across from the Ernest Harris farm on the Newburg road. Mrs. Curran drew the original plans for the building, and construction on the two-story frame and brick house was begun in the fall of 1946, the couple working diligently toward completion since that time. The six-room house includes a full basement, two bathrooms and is completely modern throughout.

GOVE-SHERMAN

The marriage of Irving W. Gove and Mrs. Mamie Sherman took place Saturday evening at his home near Clinton, in the presence of the immediate families. Rev. B. O. Bashore read the double ring service at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Corkery attended the couple.

After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

TO MEET IN ADRIAN

The Lenawee County Baptist Church association will meet in the Adrian Baptist church Sunday evening, April 25. The program will begin at 3 p.m. and continue through the evening.

Habit

The professor was in the habit of allowing his dog to sit on a chair beside him at meal times.

One evening he was out to dinner. The woman sitting next to him wishing to attract his attention, touched his sleeve.

Absently, the professor picked up a bone from his plate and, without turning his head, held it out to her and said: "Oh, don't worry so. Take this on the mat and eat it."

ARTHRITIS PAINS GONE AFTER 10 YEARS SUFFERING
MRS. MILKS TELLS HOW O-JIB-WA BITTERS OVERCAME HER CRIPPLING ARTHRITIS AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE HAD FAILED.
Mrs. Herbert Milks of 3309 Menominee Street, a prominent Flint resident, suffered continually with severe backaches, kidney trouble and crippling arthritis in her hip and knee. In spite of trying everything that might help she continued to get worse. In fact her knee became almost rigid and she was an invalid.

Now O-JIB-WA BITTERS has brought her blessed results and she wants to tell others what this amazing medicine has done for her. Read her statement below for more convincing proof that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is worth your trial.
COULDN'T DO OWN HOUSEWORK
"For over 10 years I have suffered with the pains of Rheumatism and Arthritis throughout my entire body, and especially in my hip and knee, and although I tried many preparations and treatments, I continued to get worse. Even a trip to Florida failed to bring relief from my pain and suffering. Oh! I tell you the pain was terrible and I was unable to do so many of the things one takes for granted, such as doing my housework, driving the car, walk up stairs, in fact I couldn't dress myself. To make things worse, my knee had become almost rigid and I was confined to bed for weeks at a time, and had fear that I would never walk again as I had been told many times that there just wasn't any help for me.
"Now, I cannot praise O-JIB-WA BITTERS too highly for I no longer suffer with the pains of Rheumatism and Arthritis. It has helped me marvelous and I have complete use of my hip and knee. I am now able to do my own housework and can even run if need be. I no longer suffer from backaches and my general health has improved 100%, and I don't suffer from sour stomach, heartburn and gas any more either. I cannot say enough for this wonderful medicine."
STRIKE AT THE CAUSE
O-JIB-WA BITTERS is an all-herb medicine which acts to correct the cause of Rheumatism, Arthritis and Neuritis. O-JIB-WA acts to clear the blood of poisons and waste that foster these conditions, tones up weak, sluggish organs, promotes better digestion and strengthens the kidneys. Yes, O-JIB-WA is truly an amazing medicine, and will probably do more for you than anything that you have today and give it a chance to help you. O-JIB-WA IS NOT EXPENSIVE! In fact, it is very reasonable and within the reach of all. It is available in three economical sizes for your convenience and is sold and recommended by

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor:

Congratulations to the Tecumseh Garden Club and the American Legion Auxiliary for their plans to plant flowers and shrubs along the boulevard.

How about the men's clubs of Tecumseh getting together on the purchase of a sprinkler system to help the ladies on this project? How about the ladies letting us know the kind of flowers that will grow and look best along the boulevard, that we citizens should plant to help their scheme along?

Here is Tecumseh's chance to grow into a better place to live while it is growing bigger. When people plant flowers, shrubs or anything that grows, it is their outward expression of their hope for a better place to live. Remember, today's hopes are tomorrow's realities.

Cancer Deaths Are On Increase

STATE DEPARTMENT WARNS THAT EARLY SYMPTOMS SHOULD BE DIAGNOSED

Cancer deaths in Michigan increased five per cent in the past year and have increased 26 per cent since 1940, Dr. G. D. Cummings, Acting State Health Commissioner, said today in calling on all Michigan people to participate in Cancer Control Month activities during April.

There is a notable increase in cancer deaths among children 5 to 19 years of age and an increase among people over 50 according to provisional 1947 figures, he said. There is a decreasing trend in cancer deaths among females and an increasing trend in cancer among males. Male deaths from cancer exceeded female deaths by 142 last year. A contributing factor in the upturn among males is lung cancer in males 20 to 45 years of age.

Cancer took 8,100 lives in Michigan last year. It was the second cause of death among people of all ages, second only to heart disease.

One person of every seven who died in Michigan last year died of cancer. The national average is one in eight.

Cancer is no respecter of age, family or locality. Only cancer of the colon is known to be hereditary, but almost every family has some history of cancer among its members. There is no evidence that cancer in humans is communicable, yet last year it took the lives of more children under 20 years than all the acute communicable diseases of early childhood put together. It took the lives of 75 high school and college age youths.

There is no protective treatment such as a vaccine or anti-toxin which will prevent cancer, nor any pill or drug which will immediately cure it, but cancer can be cured by x-ray, radium or surgery when it is found and treated early. The best precautions are annual physical examinations and early treatment.

Certain signs and symtoms occur early in many cases of cancer. They do not necessarily mean cancer, but they are indications that something is wrong and that the individual should have an immediate examination by his physician.

These include:

1. Any sore that does not heal —particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
3. Irregular bleeding or discharge from any natural body opening.
4. Progressive change in color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
5. Persistent indigestion.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any persistent change in normal bowel habits.

EARLY PASTURE GOOD FOR PIGS

Early pasture for sows and their litters as well as ewes and lambs is the key to good health, feeding economy, and profitable livestock management. This recommendation is made by L. H. Blakeslee, Michigan State college animal husbandry specialist.

Clean, parasite and disease-free early pasture can be provided before new seedings of alfalfa or rape are available by using small areas of rye, wheat, alfalfa, or June grass not pastured by swine the previous year. Young litters with their mothers should be put on pasture as early as possible to prevent anemia and other baby pig ailments.

The use of temporary 36-inch hog fence makes possible adjustment of areas to needs. A suitable shelter should be provided for the sow and litter.

Heavy fall growth of wheat or rye also furnishes good early pasture for ewes and their young lambs. Limited or controlled grazing of suitable areas also makes harvesting of a crop possible.

Eager Volunteers

Everything about the R. A. F. Headquarters was interesting to the visitor from the American Embassy, and he asked a never-ending string of questions.

"Say," he exclaimed, "how is it that you seem to have so many Scotsmen among your pilots?"

The guide, a bit fed up, snatched at the opportunity. "Well, sir," he said, "since the Scots have learned that every cloud has a silver lining, we can't keep 'em out."

Warning

She — My little brother will tell if he sees you kissing me.

He—But I'm not kissing you.

She — Well, I thought I'd tell you anyway.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate —because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

HOUSES POP UP IN THE SPRING LIKE MUSHROOMS

Herrick Officially Launches Site For 176 Homes

That, perhaps, is the best way to describe the activity at the new Herrick Subdivision, East Browa street, where in a week or 10 days five model homes will go on display and, by late fall two-thirds or more of the 176 houses to be built there will be occupied by their owners.

"This is a fast-moving program," was the way Robert H. Moore, of R. S. Moore & Son Co., said today in describing the project. "It will not be too long before these new houses will be produced at the rate of three or four a week."

The new subdivision was officially launched last Saturday morning at a ceremony in which more than 100 persons participated. There was a parade of construction equipment through the business district, headed by the high school band. When the steam shovels and grade reached the plot the Rev. B. O. Bashore offered a prayer and Marvin Watkins, village president, expressed his appreciation to Ray W. Herrick, Tecumseh Products Company, president, for the part he is playing in the village's growth. Earl L. Wickwire, Chamber of Commerce president, also expressed Tecumseh's appreciation for Mr. Herrick's keen interest in the town's future. Ronald Harris, Chamber secretary, acted as master of ceremonies.

"This is a great day," Mr. Herrick said as he spoke to the assembly. "Soon this site will be the home of 176 of our employees. I recall when Indian Acres Subdivision was launched in a similar manner. Today, it is one of the show places of Tecumseh. We plan to spend more than $100,000 here in improvements, streets, water, sewer, landscaping, etc. We also plan, in the future, for a club house on the banks of the river for Products executives. There will, of course, be a park with playground facilities for the children. I predict that this will be one of the most beautiful subdivisions in Southern Michigan."

Mr. Herrick then turned, with a gold-painted shovel, the first of the earth to be moved for the basement of the first home. Then the steam shovel moved in and as it was about to begin its work Todd Herrick, the manufacturer's grandson, broke a bottle of River Raisin water over the shovel.

Mr. Moore and VanCamp & Riley are beginning the construction of the houses and Moore said today that the first of the five models would be roofed by Saturday night. A week later, the others may be finished.

"We will build five models of the types of houses planned for the subdivision," Moore said, "and then those who have lots there will choose the style they want and we will proceed. The houses are of the four and five room type, one with breeze-way and garage."

Mr. Herrick announced purchase of the site several weeks ago and a plan whereby each qualifying worker at Tecumseh Products would be given a lot and $200 to build a home there. Already, it was said, all of the lots have been spoken for.

It was indicated today that it will be in the forepart of May before "honest-to-goodness production construction" begins. It will take some time it was pointed out, to get everything in readiness for such rapid building, and there still are some preliminary details to be worked out.

Photo above shows Ray W. Herrick and his grandson, Todd Herrick, just as the child broke a bottle of River Raisin water over the steam shovel that, in a few seconds after the picture was snapped, began excavating for the first of the basements in the new Herrick Subdivision, East Brown street. The subdivision is the site for 176 homes of workers at Tecumseh Products Co., who qualify under FHA for new dwellings. The company, of which Mr. Herrick is president, gives each qualifying employee a lot and $200 to speed up the home building. The picture below shows Herrick as he was about to turn the first bit of ground in the subdivision with a gold-painted shovel. The pictures were taken last Saturday at a ceremony in which more than 100 persons participated. (Photos by Cooney).

Women Get A New Suit Once In Eight Years

A spot where male labor is employed for 60 cents a day; where women who work earn eight cents daily in American money and the poorer class of people can afford only one suit of clothing in about eight years is described by Manuel Andrade of Holloway, who recently returned from the Isle of Madeira, which belongs to the Portugese. Mr. Andrade's relatives live on the island and he spent the winter there visiting them. He has been a resident of the United States for about 26 years and operates a farm three miles north of Holloway.

Manuel says that the island is about 300 square miles in area and now has a population of about 400,000, an increase of more than twice what it was when he was there 26 years ago. About one third of the people are engaged in farming and every foot of land that can be used is worked to the limit. Much of the island is mountainous. He tells that they cannot use mules, horses or machinery because of the steep hills and mountains and that every bit of the work on the farms is done by men, women and children. Most of the farmers raise large quantities of bananas. Cows are used to haul

No Time Change

COUNCIL DISCUSSES STEPPING UP CLOCKS BUT GOES ALONG WITH SLOW TIME

The village council, in special session on Monday evening, discussed unofficially the stepping up of the clocks in this village to daylight saving time but, like a hot potato, they dropped the subject. The largest employers of labor in Tecumseh have expressed themselves as definitely opposed to any time change locally and, in all probability, there will be none.

Thus far, it would seem, Adrian may stand alone in the county on so-called "fast" time, that city deciding to move its clocks ahead one hour next Sunday morning. Detroit and Monroe have decided on fast time, but Jackson and other communities west have spurned it.

There was little other business before the council on Monday. It was decided to extend water and sewer mains west on Pottawatamie to Park street. Plans for financing other utility projects in the village were discussed. Current bills were audited and ordered paid, and reports of committees were placed on file.

In 1943 he was named as the head of the legal branch of the department's division on international organization affairs, and from 1943 to 1944 he was in London as advisor to the U. S. representative on the United Nations War Crimes Commission. He also was a technical expert at the Dumbarton Oaks conference in 1944 and a technical expert at the United National Conference in San Francisco.

Dr. Preuss is an authoritative speaker and his remarks will be doubly interesting at this time due to the recent election in Italy.

Tecumseh Wins From Britton Hi

INDIANS VICTORIOUS IN OPENING BALL GAME; TO PLAY ADRIAN NEXT TUESDAY

(By Pat Wilson)

The Tecumseh Indians began their 1948 baseball season with a bang by shellacking the Britton Hi team 21-3, here Friday afternoon. Tecumseh grabbed an early first inning 4-0 lead by virtue of four hits and a convenient error on the part of Britton's first baseman. From then on it was all Tecumseh. The Indians scored five runs in the second, three in the third, one apiece in the 4th and 5th and seven in the seventh. For Tecumseh the score totaled 21 runs, 21 hits and 4 errors. Britton made all their runs in the third inning, by virtue of 2 hits and 3 errors by Tecumseh, making the final score 3 runs, 5 hits, and 9 errors.

Jack Gillen got 4 hits in 4 times at bat, all of them singles. Melvy Murphy got 2 for four, a single and a double. Duaine Murphy also got 2 for four, a single and a double. Tecumseh looked quite impressive in their first victory, not only afield but also at bat.

The batteries were Dave Murphy and Duaine Murphy for Tecumseh, with Ferguson replacing Dave Murphy, in the fifth inning; for Britton, Niblack and Auten.

MEETING POSTPONED

BRADY CONSTRUCTION COMPANY TO SHOW FACTORY-BUILT HOUSE TO PUBLIC

A new type of factory-built house, making possible speedy construction at a minimum of expense is being featured here by the Brady Construction Company. A model of this type of dwelling, completely furnished and ready for occupancy, will be opened for public inspection on Saturday. The model is located on the Occidental Road, about three quarters of a mile south of M-52. (Turn south at Robison Farm Equipment building.)

The model house is made up of living room, kitchen, two bedrooms, bath, full basement, hot air furnace, water and sump pump, and electric hot water heater. The house is completely finished, inside and out, and sidewalks laid. That the public may have a better idea as to how it will appear furnished, local merchants are cooperating with Brady Construction and for the showing have installed everything that the average family desires.

"We expect to build many of these houses in and around Tecumseh this year," Arthur Brady declared. "This is the seventh that I have built on my property here, and we have room for two more in this location. The houses, ready to move into, sell for $6,425 up to $22,000, depending upon what the buyer chooses."

Houses the size of the model can be constructed in about 10 days. Of course, there are some details that require added time, paint and plaster must dry, etc., but it is safe to say that a house started today will be ready for occupancy in 30 days or less, Mr. Brady said. In production, he said, his company could produce at least three of the houses a week.

The seven houses already built and the two more that will be constructed soon are on the Brady farm, formerly the Isaac Sloan farm. All of the houses, except for the model home, already are occupied.

Telephone Rate Increase Asked

TECUMSEH'S SERVICE CHARGES HAVE NOT BEEN BOOSTED SINCE OCT., 1930

The Michigan Associated Telephone Company has announced that it will ask the Michigan Public Service Commission to review the Company's rate schedules applying at exchanges in communities it serves throughout the state, including Tecumseh. The company, with headquarters at Muskegon, operates 71 exchanges serving 64,059 telephones in various parts of Michigan.

H. R. Christianson, vice president and general manager, stated that the company has had no general adjusment in its rates for service in the past 20 years, and in most exchanges present rate schedules date back somewhat further into the early twenties. At Tecumseh the last increase for the principal classses of service was authorized by Michigan Public Service Commission Order T-483 and effective October 1, 1930.

Christianson said in his announcement of the proposed appeal for higher rates that operating expenses have increased faster than revenues have increased during the past few years, and that additional revenue must be obtained in order to render a satisfactory grade of service.

He further stated that additional revenue must be obtained in order to render a satisfactory grade of service.

He further stated that additional revenues are also required to maintain the company's credit at a level sufficient to permit it to attract new capital to finance the company's construction and expansion program already under way.

The cost of specific projects now scheduled throughout the company's exchanges in Michigan calls for a gross expenditure of more than $7,000,000 Christianson said.

NO PLACE FOR EDDIE

The Evening Banner, of Greenville, Texas, recently told, in an editorial, the sad story of Eddie, an inefficient and discourteous clerk in a store. One day a customer noticed that Eddie wasn't present and asked about him. "He's just not working here any more," the proprietor said. "Got anybody in mind for the vacancy?" the customer responded. "Nope," said the proprietor. "Eddie didn't leave no vacancy."

As the Banner added, "There's no place for the Eddies because the days of competition have returned and customers want to be waited upon . . . they want to see clerks take an interest in their requests, give them courteous, attentive service and try to make them feel at home. That's just human nature."

During the war, many a store, from the big chains down to little shops, had to employ poor and disinterested help, because nothing better could be had. But we're getting back to normal now, and we're seeing again that retailing is a career, that it calls for very special talents and mental attitudes and capabilities, and that it isn't a job that anyone can do. Many of the larger stores carry on highly developed training programs for their employes, and these are of service to small stores as well, by raising the standards of retail service in general.

The customer is entitled to intelligent service, whether he's after a pound of hamburger or a complete spring outfit, and retailing is giving it to him. That small percentage of stores which takes no interest in this basic form of public relations won't be in business long. And, like Eddie, they'll leave no vacancy.

Telephone installation men have a popularity rating that's absolutely tops today. Although they have already installed a record number of new telephones, the demand still keeps up at a tremendous pace. They are working at full speed to fill requests for service. Of course, we all hope they'll be popular for other reasons when telephones can again be installed without delay.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Homer Does Some "Back-Seat Sewing!"

Homer Bentley's missus was working on her new sewing machine, when Homer comes in, draws up a chair, and starts talking: "Don't you think you're running too fast?" he says. "Slow down! Watch out! Be careful!"

When the missus finally turns with murder in her eyes, Homer says goodnaturedly: "I thought you might like a little help, dear—like you help me drive the car."

The missus can't help but burst out laughing—and they settle what might have been a quarrel over a friendly glass of beer. The missus agrees to give up back-seat driving and nagging Homer about ashes on the rug. Homer agrees to quit criticizing Sarah's taste for flowery hats and parsley salad.

From where I sit, the key to getting on together is meeting every issue half way—and overlooking any petty differences in tastes—whether these tastes apply to beer or flowery-looking hats!

Over 150 guests were registered in a book with golden edgings during the afternoon and evening and each was served a piece of the four-tiered wedding cake which centered the lace covered table and ice cream with golden bell centers. The napkins were edged in gold and bore the names of "Will and Eva." The house was decorated in keeping with the occasion and had many lovely vases of yellow roses and plants of daffodils. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson received their guests congratulations, gifts of flowers, cards and many other lovely things to make the day a happy one. Miss Ruth Kronberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kronberg of Tipton, exchanged her marriage vows with Arthur Fritz, son of Wm. of Tecumseh, Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Miles Peele, pastor of the Tipton Community church performed the double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

The bride was attractive in a dress of powder blue silk crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Miss Doris Warner, the bride's only attendant, wore dusty rose silk crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetpeas and rosebuds. Howard Kronberg, jr., brother of the bride, attended as best man.

After the ceremony refreshments, featuring a three-tiered wedding cake, were served by Mrs Kenneth Munger, Mrs. D. J. Van Valkenburg and Mrs. John Van Valkenburg of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz are graduates of Tecumseh high school and until her marriage, the bride was employed by the H. W. Tuttle Company in Adrian. On their return from a trip to the southern states the couple will reside at the farm home of the groom five miles southwest of Tecumseh.

Coworkers of Mrs. Fritz at the Tuttle Company honored her recently with a miscellaneous shower, and presented her with a number of lovely gifts. Mrs. Lloyd Billington and Mrs. D. J. Van Valkenburg entertained in her honor at the former's home recently. Games were played after which refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mrs. Fritz received many gifts.

Women Get A New Suit Once In Eight Years

Andrade says the cost of fertilizer on the island is about $200 a ton and not of a very good grade even at that price. Laborers there work for sixty cents a day for the men and about eight cents a day for the women. The poorer class of people can afford a suit of clothes about once in eight years and a good pair of shoes cost around eight dollars. He said that there was plenty of food and clothing on the island but that the farmers and working class of people cannot afford to buy very often. Acreage on the island is very high, with one acre costing about $3500. Only the rich can afford more than a few acres and a farmer with ten acres of land is considered very wealthy.

Andrade's people, as do most of the others, live in comfortable stone houses and are not used to any of the modern things we think necessary to live. Only in the large city on the island do they have electricity and running water.

There is one large city called Funchal with about 40,000 population. It has a good artificial harbor and very good streets and buildings. There are some American cars there but the price of our cheapest cars are more than double in cost there. He asked his family how they got along on such small amounts and they answered him "that with their sweet potatoes and corn mash they could manage very well for the Portugese people are very fond of that kind of food."

A good share of the women do beautiful fancy work and until the last few years have found a good market in the United States, but since the restrictions have been on their work has not been very valuable.

Andrade's mother, sister and brother are all living there. His father is dead. They are all engaged in farming, but in a much different manner than that of their brother here.

Mr. Andrade is very glad that he visited his people and found them all well but, he said with a twinkle in his eye "that he liked it here so much better that he believes he will stay here for some time to come."

Mrs. Fisher received many gifts for her new home at 734 North Union street, where the couple will live after they return from their wedding trip.

BRITTON

George A. Schumm of Tecumseh was the guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club, Tuesday evening. Mr. Schumm used as his subject, "Business and Its Relation to the Community." He stressed the fact that good communities develop from good citizenship plus good leadership, not through the efforts of professional politicians and community organizers. "Good business men are sensitive to the needs and desires of people and have the ability to organize people to put forth the effort to meet these needs and satisfy their desires. Failure on the part of business to make this leadership available for the benefit of the community is the basic cause for the confusion and strained relations existing between business and the people that make up our communities," he said.

Prepare Her Life For Happiness

A parent's responsibility is the problem of planning for the future of his children—of continuous care and self sacrifice to insure tthe happiness and well being of your children, and, most of all, teaching them the value of the worth-while things in life.

Instilling in them the value of regular Church attendance is a realization of happy companionship for parent and child, and your child's benefits will be greater in adulthood, when she faces problems which call for the faith only regular Church attendance can nurture. Join your friends in the Church of your faith toomorrow.

We'll Help You To Protect The Investment In Your Car

Every motorist, regardless of the age or make of his car, has an investment in that car that should be protected. It is important that repairs should be made promptly; that neglect should not cause his investment to depreciate faster than it reasonably should depreciate. Sooner or later, he will trade his present car on a new one. A well-kept car always brings more money.

To protect the investment that you have in your car; to make it give you economical service that is dependable, bring it to us regularly for the care that it needs. Because we use precision built parts, have the tools to do the job, and mechanics who are thoroughly trained to do the work, we can cut your repair costs to a minimum.

We've proved that statement to scores of our regular customers. We will prove it to you, too, if you'll come in and let us explain our service program.

LENAWEE FOLK HAVING THE TIME OF THEIR LIVES

Why Swap a Good Time for Confusion?

Residents of Lenawee county are having "the time of their lives."

Some of the residents are happy about it, others are doing their share of griping about it, and still another group is accepting the "time" in stride and is going about its affairs as though nothing had happened.

It seems that the time trouble—good or bad, as you like it—started when a certain hundred or two residents of the City of Adrian, in true political style and at the last moment, stuffed the ballot box with favorable suggestions and the city fathers, by a two-to-one vote, decided that they should follow Detroit's style and move the clocks one hour ahead to so-called daylight saving time. Scores of residents earlier had lodged protests against it, but the last minute drive, (and any good golfer knows how to drive), favoring the change, was most convincing. And so, early Sunday morning, the clocks were changed and the 18,000-or-so Adrian residents, about one third of Lenawee's 60,000 population yawned heavily when the church bells sounded a few hours later.

It then became necessary for the remaining 40,000-or-so other residents of the county to make up their minds what kind of a time they were going to have.

And, according to the poll today, Adrian is "too fast" for the rest of the county—with the exception of Deerfield and possibly Clinton.

Tecumseh, even before Adrian voted to change its clocks, decided that it was satisfied with the kind of a time it was having. Its industrialists announced that they didn't care "to swap good time for confusion" and so the village fathers kept their hands off the clocks.

Deerfield voted to go along with Adrian but Blissfield, its neighbor, said nothing doing. Likewise all other communities in the coun[ty] have refused to tamper with their clocks with one possible exception —Clinton. There, the village fathers are [illegible] and it would appear, as though some of them might tumble off on the favorable side. It is reported that at a Commerce Club meeting Tuesday evening, sentiment favored a time change next week.

As for those residents of the county who live on the farms, talk about speeding up the clocks has much the same effect as waving a red flag in front of a bull. Farmers are against it, and that's that. They say that you can kid yourself but that you can't kid Mother Nature.

And so time continues to fly, depending upon where you are and where you are going. Train and bus schedules are on slow time, but you may arrive on fast time. If you early or late in keeping an appointment, time, of course, is your alibi.

It would appear that Lenawee county is in for a summer of confusion as a result of the time mix up. There is talk that the state legislature may, eventually, act to end future confusion.

In the meantime, it would seem, time is just what you make it.

John Starkey Hurt In Shotgun Mishap

A 12-guage shotgun which accidentally discharged while being cleaned, seriously wounded John Starkey, 35, of Route 2, Britton, Saturday at 6:45 p.m. The charge struck Starkey in the chest and left arm, some of the pellets just missing a lung.

Brooklyn Man Dies In Wreck

OTHERS INJURED IN CRASH ON M-50 JUST WEST OF WALDRON'S HILL, SATURDAY

A Brooklyn motorist was killed and four other persons were hurt, some of them seriously, in a traffic accident Saturday evening on M-50 just west of Waldron's Hill.

Fred Marsh, 35, was dead on admittance to Tecumseh hospital.

Mr. Marsh was a passenger in a car driven by Maynard E. Creger, 42, also of Brooklyn, which collided with another car driven by Bert H. Green of Route 1, Jasper. The mishap occurred at 8:40 p.m.

Mr. Creger told state police from the Clinton post that he was driving east when an unidentified car went around him and cut in sharply. Creger said that he applied his brakes and it is believed that they locked throwing his car sharply into the left traffic lane. There it was struck broadside by the car driven by Mr.

Creger suffered chest injuries and William Johncox, 25, also of Brooklyn, was cut and bruised. He also was a passenger in the Creger car.

Green's chest was injured and his right knee cap was broken and his wife, Carlotta, suffered injuries to her left hip, leg and knee cap.

All of the injured were taken to Tecumseh hospital and later Mr. and Mrs. Green were removed to Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

F. C. Hanna, Tecumseh justice of the peace, acting as coroner, has not yet given his decision as to whether or not an inquest will be necessary.

To Publish Booklet On Tecumseh Hospital

An interesting booklet on Tecumseh Hospital, illustrated with several pictures taken by L. W. Larsen, is now being printed and will be distributed without charge beginning May 27 when the hospital observes its 10th anniversary. The booklet was compiled by a committee made up of Mrs. Charles O'Neill, Mrs. Ray Schlegel and Mrs. R. K. Anderson, and the cost of the project is being underwritten by doctors who are members of the staff.

The purpose of the book, it was explained by the Hospital Auxiliary, its sponsor, is to acquaint the public with the many privileges available at the hospital, and to show an immediate need for its further expansion.

Says Marshall Plan Contributes To Security

Europe will not be able to be prosperous for many, many years despite all of the assistance given by the United States through the Marshall Plan, Dr. Lawrence Preuss, faculty member at the University of Michigan, declared when he addressed the fourth meeting of Town Hall, Tuesday evening at the high school. Some 20 persons were in attendance.

Canada, in proportion to population and resources, is doing far more for European recovery than the U. S., Dr. Preuss declared, and he pointed out that the great powers failure to collaborate is causing world insecurity. He declared that the Marshall Plan is contributing to the security of the United States, by helping wartorn countries to help themselves.

Dr. Preuss was for several years attached to the State department, served at the Dumbarton Oaks conference and the United Nations conference in San Francisco.

Indians Meet Morenci Friday

DEFEATED ONSTED BY 4-3 SCORE LAST WEEK FOR A SECOND VICTORY OF SEASON

(By Pat Wilson)

The Tecumseh baseball Indians stretched their winning streak to two games by beating Onsted 4-3 here last Tuesday afternoon. Neither team scored in the first inning, although Onsted got one hit. In the second inning Tecumseh came to life. Mel Murphy walked and was assisted to second by Duaine Murphy, and on a fielder's choice Cameron got on base. Jay Tressler came up in a pinch and singled, scoring Mel Murphy and John Cameron.

In the third inning Onsted tied it up 2-2 by virtue of three hits and a walk. Then neither team scored again until the seventh inning. Tilden from Onsted walked to start the 7th inning. Finally, after Tilden made his way to third base, Jack Gillen made an error allowing the man to score. In the last half of the 7th, in retaliation Dave VanWinkle, replacing Tressler, lined a single past the second baseman. By means of errors on the second and third basemen the bases were loaded with no one out. Lee Smith then hit a long fly to the center fielder and VanWinkle scored to tie the score. The next two men were put out and the inning ended. The game then went into extra innings.

In the last of the eighth with one man out, Duaine Murphy walked. John Cameron singled for the second time, and VanWinkle struck out. Then with two men on and two out, Lee Phibbs walked up to the plate and hit out a solid double scoring Murphy and ending the game, Tecumseh winning 4-3.

For Tecumseh: five runs, seven hits, four errors. For Onsted: three runs, seven hits, three errors.

The Indians next game is Friday, April 30, with Morenci, here.

Tecumseh's Junior Hi beat Adrian here Friday afternoon, 8-5. Ron Hinkle pitched for Tecumseh, allowed only two hits and had 11 strikeouts. Tecumseh got six hits. Charles Stables was outstanding at bat with a double and a single.

HYDROPHOBIA DEATH BRINGS STATE WARNING

Health Unit Urges Vaccination of Dogs

Spurred by the death of a 4-year-old Michigan child of hydrophobia, the Michigan Department of Health today urged an active dog control program in the state.

"Only the enforced vaccination and licensing of all dogs, the impounding of stray dogs, and quarantine of areas infected with rabies, can minimize the danger of hydrophobia deaths in the state," Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the Bureau of Disease Control warned.

The death of Carol Mannor of Ann Arbor, the first from hydrophobia in Michigan in the past four years, could have been prevented by such a program. The child received multiple dog bites about the face and even immediate administration of antirabic vaccine could not save her life, Dr. Leeder said.

While 72 cases of rabies among animals have been reported in 16 counties of the state so far this year, only five counties, Cass, St. Joseph, Livingston, Ottawa and Washtenaw, were under quarantine April 20. Two of these counties, Washtenaw and St. Joseph instituted their quarantines after the hydrophobia death. Only three counties in the state, Van Buren, Kalamazoo and Berrien, required vaccination before licensing as of April 20.

Rabies in dogs is hydrophobia in humans. While anti-rabic treatment, administered at once, will usually prevent hydrophobia in humans, there is the exceptional case. Hydrophobia, once developed, is always fatal in humans.

For every rabid animal reported in this state seven humans who have been bitten by or were in close contact with the animal must receive anti-rabic treatment. Last year such treatment cost 2,211 persons approximately $450,000. All dogs, farm, pet and game animals contracting rabies die of it multiplying the cost of the disease.

Counties reporting rabies in animals so far this year are: Wayne, 15 cases; St. Joseph, 8; Oakland and Cass, 7; Berrien, 6; Ottawa, 5; Lenawee, 4; Hillsdale, Livingston, VanBuren and Washtenaw, 3; Kalamazoo and St. Clair, 2; Calhoun, Gratiot, Branch and Macomb, 1 each.

"Until we have an adequate dog control program, the best precautions are to have your own dog vaccinated, avoid stray dogs, and report any animal bites to your physician at once," Dr. Leeder said.

Work Is Rushed In Subdivision

FIVE MODEL HOUSES WILL BE READY FOR SHOWING BETWEEN MAY 15 AND 25

The first five of the some 176 houses to be built in the new Herrick Subdivision, East Brown street, will be completed and opened for inspection sometime between May 15 and 25 and after that date the production schedule will be accelerated so that from three to four houses a week may "come off the line," it was indicated today.

Robert H. Moore of R. S. Moore & Son Co., which firm with Van Camp & Riley is doing the building, said today that the program in the subdivision is progressing normally. The first of the five model houses now is roofed and work on the other four is in progress. It is the plan to open the five houses to the prospective purchasers in the subdivision simultaneously, permitting them to choose the types of houses they desire. From that point on it will be "just a job of construction."

Streets are being built in the area as rapidly as possible and sewer and water will follow. Power lines also are being strung to the section.

Two weeks ago the subdivision was only an acreage and it was pointed out that it takes some time to complete surveying, engineering and grading and to get such a plot in shape for building.

The subdivision was purchased by Tecumseh Products Company and R. W. Herrick, president, has announced that a lot and $200 will be given to every employee of the company qualifying for a house there. Already, it was said, most of the lots in the area have been spoken for.

Thomas Kelly Chosen District VFW Chaplain

Several members and delegates of Hall-Slater Post No. 4178, Veterans of Foreign Wars, attended the district rally at Eaton Rapids, Sunday. Officers for the new year were elected and Thomas H. Kelly, chaplain of the local post, was named as district chaplain. The new sixth district is composed of posts in Jackson, Ingham, Monroe, Washtenaw and Lenawee counties.

During the day, members toured the VFW national home for orphans. Many saw for the first time, what an opportunity is being given to the children of their departed comrades in arms.

Next month the local post will again sponsor the annual poppy sale. The proceeds of the sale will, in part, go to the national home for the continued care and training of the orphaned children.

More Toll Circuits To Adrian, Detroit

Another toll circuit to Adrian, making three in all, was announced this week by Ernest Green, business manager of the Michigan Associated Telephone Company here. Mr. Green also announced that another toll circuit to Detroit had been placed in operation, making seven now available.

The local company now has two toll circuits to Dundee, one to Toledo and one to Ann Arbor.

Two years ago, Tecumseh had only one toll circuit to Adrian and three to Detroit. The steady increase in toll calls, Green said, has made the step-up necessary.

Mr. And Mrs. Ira Lamkin Married Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lampkin will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with open house at the Baptist church, Sunday, May 2, from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Gifts are to be omitted.

The couple lived in Franklin township on a farm south of Billington Corners for 43 years. For the past three years they have been living with their daughters, Mrs. Robert (Charlotte) Hutton of Detroit and Mrs. Dewey (Mildred) Berry of Blissfield. There are six grandchildren.

Play Festival Here On May 7

SPEECH CLASS TO PRESENT TWO COMEDIES AND DRAMA; ADMISSION FREE

The Speech class of Tecumseh High School will present a Play Festival at 8:15 p.m., Friday, May 7, in the high school auditorium. Three one-act plays have been chosen.

"Come Out Of It" is a farce comedy in which an amateur hypnotist gets some surprising results. Those taking part are Garland Holmes, Gladys Riley, John Young, Gene Tuckey, Mary Louden, Barbara Schoeck, Alice Everlove and Dick Henkel.

"Romany Chi" is a pleasing drama of Romanian life with an added spice of gypsy love. Included in this cast are Jason Woodcox, Frank Rumler, Jack Colson, Helen Strachn and Dorothy Jewell.

The third play is a modern comedy, involving a young married couple, an uncle who is a bachelor by choice and an attractive young widow. Uncle changes his mind about marriage before the play is over. Jim Colson, Lois Purkey, Floyd Guy and Ardyth Cole compose the cast.

The Speech class, under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Dickinson, looks after all details of stage setting, costumes and programs. Admission is free, although opportunity will be given for any who wishes to donate a small amount toward expenses.

Youngsters Are Warned Not To Raid Gardens

Police have received several complaints recently from residents who say that children have been and are destroying their gardens. Especially is this true, it is said, with residents who grow flowers.

"Boys visited my garden, damaged my fence and destroyed several of my choice tulips," one woman complained. She said that when she asked them to leave one youngster inquired as to "what business it was to her" if he did damage her fence.

If the practice continues it is likely that police will apprehend some of the youngsters and then invite their parents to pay for the damage done. The offense, of course, will be trespassing.

43RD ANNUAL MEETING OF LENAWEE WOMEN'S FEDERATION HELD HERE

The 43rd annual meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs closed last week Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist church to the complete satisfaction of over 200 delegates and officers in attendance.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. Leon VanValkenburg and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, members of the Tecumseh Monday Club and the Tecumseh Business and Professional Women's Club, hostesses for the event, arranged the decorations in the church for the occasion. Forsythia and daffodils dominated the yellow color scheme. Mrs. Vera Conner served as timekeeper, and the pages were Mrs. E. J. Abersold, Mrs. C. Ray Puffer and Mrs. Earl Wood. Mrs. Fay Whelan, Mrs. Thomas O'Hara, Mrs. Mae Dillon and Mrs. Ted LaBounty seated the guests. Mrs. Kenton Hunt was the organist.

Delegates from the Tecumseh Monday Club were Miss Edith Ingersoll and Jennie E. Satterlee, B. & P. W. delegates were Miss Ruth Harding, Miss Elizabeth Chase and Mrs. Dale Tingley.

Mrs. Martin G. Coy, president of the federation, presided at both sessions and at the close of the afternoon meeting presented the gavel to Mrs. Harold Rohrback of Blissfield, who was elected president for the year 1948-49 during the morning session. Other officers are: first vice president, Mrs. Harmon Gamble of Hudson; second vice president, Mrs. Truman Rentschler of Tecumseh; recording secretary, Mrs. William Engel of Adrian; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rex Crist of Blissfield; treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Taylor of Britton; parliamentarian, Mrs. John McPhail of Adrian.

The morning was taken over by reports of various committees, officers and club presidents. Luncheon was served to the guests in the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. A fact worthy of attention is that the timing at both sessions was perfect. The sessions closed promptly at 12:30 and again at 4 p.m.

The afternoon program opened with a combined chorus of the county directed by Mrs. H. P. Vaughan of Clinton, singing "Were You There" and "The Market Place". Mrs. Vaughan chairman of the federation music committee and district chairman, was honored at the state convention of the M. F. W. C. in Grand Rapids recently when her composition "Michigan, Queen of States", a three part song, won first prize. This she presented with Mrs. Marjorie Weghorst of Dundee and Mrs. C. L. Seiffer of Adrian assisting.

Mrs. Weghorst, a dramatic soloist, well-known throughout the state, sang "The Time for Making Songs Has Come," "The Cave" and "Hills", accompanied by Miss Thelma Oyer of Dundee. Her encore was "Mandy and the Spiders." She is district president of the Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity.

Mrs. Harold Reynolds of Onsted, past president of the county group, extended greetings from the Past Presidents Club after which Mrs. Robert Crary of Jackson, president of the Southeastern District of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs brought greetings from the district.

Dr. Edgar Bruce Wilson, who becomes dean of Adrian College in July, spoke on the subject "Abusing Our Advantages", pointing out that one of today's deadliest sins is our lack of concern in the great world outside, our interests being confined to the little world in which we live.

MONDAY CLUB PICNIC TO BE HELD MAY 24

Officers of the Tecumseh Monday Club met at the home of Mrs. Truman Rentschler, April 26, to appoint committees for the coming year. They will meet again at the library, May 10. DANGER IN HEALTH INSURANCE

What is perhaps the strongest indictment yet made of the national compulsory health insurance is found in a study made by the Brookings Institution. The study was undertaken at the request of Senator H. Alexander Smith, Chairman of the Senate Labor Subcommittee on Health.

In its conclusion, the Institution points to the main basic faults in the proposal. First of all, in its opinion, compulsory health insurance would necessitate a high degree of government control over the personnel and agencies engaged in providing medical care. It is extremely doubtful if politics could be eliminated from so vast a bureaucracy.

Second, the plan would inject government into the relationship between practitioner and patient. There is real danger that this would impair that relationship and hence lower the quality of medical care.

Third, the plan would actually increase the cost of medical care and because of administrative overhead, the tendency of insured people to make unnecessary demands for treatment — on the grounds that they'd paid for it — and the possibility that some practitioners would take advantage of the system for their own financial advantage.

Finally, the Institution points out, many of the needy for whom the plan is supposed to be designed would "lack the means to attain and maintain an insured status."

The Brookings Institution has a deserved reputation for objective, factual reports on many important issues. Its findings in the case of compulsory health insurance should be given the widest study and attention.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles — which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues ... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts ... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Tecumseh F. F. A.

Last Friday the Tecumseh F.F.A. presented a radio program over radio station WABJ, Adrian. Herman Dick, Howard Pennington and Fred Feight described the activities carried on by our F.F.A.

On May 12 we are presenting a special program for all eighth grade boys and their fathers in this area. We have arranged for a guest speaker. Our president for next year, Howard Pennington, will give an outline of next year's program of work. After the program refreshments will be served and then we will conduct the boys through the school building. We hope this will help these fellows to be able to know what to do when they first enter high school.

Our officers for next year were elected last Thursday and are as follows: president, Howard Pennington; vice president, Lawrence Young; secretary, Jim Winzeler; treasurer, Jerry O'Brien; reporter, Fred Feight and sentinel, Dick Khale. These officers will begin their duties this summer.

At the Lenawee County Jersey Breeders sale held at Adrian last week, one of our members, Fred Feight, purchased a Jersey heifer. At this sale only 4-H or F.F.A. members could buy an animal.

Tuesday we are going to Blissfield where the Blissfield F.F.A. will put on the chapter degree.

Miss Mary Rebottaro Weds William Frederick

St. Elizabeth church was the scene of a lovely spring wedding Saturday morning at 9 o'clock when Miss Mary Linda Rebottaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro of Tecumseh, exchanged her marriage vows with William LaVern Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick of Hudson. The Rev. Fr. Michael Collins officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with pink and white snapdragons and white stock.

Mrs. Mary Geehan accompanied Rosemary Froelich when she sang, "On This Day."

The bride chose a gown of white satin, styled with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The bustle-back peek-a-boo skirt extended into a short train. Her full length veil of illusion fell from a crown of white beads and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Clara Rebottaro was her sister's maid of honor and Nilda Rebottaro of Detroit, cousin of the bride, was the only bridesmaid. Both attendants wore identical gowns of pink and blue net, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. Both wore headdresses of pink rosebuds and shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Louis Rebottaro, brother of the bride, was best man, and Anthony Sinelli of Royal Oak attended the bridegroom. Harold Ruhl and Martin Korth served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gray dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore moss green with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony breakfast was served to 50 guests at Witherell Hall. Later in the afternoon 160 persons enjoyed a dinner in the hall and later in the evening a reception was held with some 300 guests in attendance. A buffet lunch was served from the table centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Guests attended from Hudson, Battle Creek, Royal Oak, Detroit, Addison, Britton, Adrian, Ridgeway and this vicinity.

The bride is a graduate of Macon high school and until recently had been employed by the Tecumseh Products Company. Mr. Frederick attended Clayton school and is an employee of the Utilities Construction Company in Monroe. The couple will reside in an apartment at the home of his parents.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 150 friends and relatives was held in the I. O. O. F. hall in Britton. The lunch was served buffet style from the table which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, baked by Miss Geneva Kimerer.

Use Of Iodized Salt Is Urged By State

"The need for iodized salt to prevent goiter in Michigan children is as great today as it was a quarter-century ago," Dr. G. D. Cummings, Acting State Health Commissioner, said today marking the twenty-fourth anniversary of the state's fight against the thyroid ailment, May 1.

He urged all parents to demand and use only iodized salt for all table and cooking purposes.

While Michigan has done more than any other state to popularize iodized salt as a goiter preventive, and has had the most notable benefits from its use, not all of the salt sold in the state for table use is iodized.

Until there is legislation requiring that all table salt contain iodine, the responsibility for assuring that children get a sufficient quantity of iodine to prevent simple goiter rests with the parents.

Iodized salt was first introduced in Michigan grocery stores, May 1, 1924, after a survery made in four counties of the state had shown that 47 per cent of children suffered from simple goiter. A survey conducted in 1935 after eleven years of voluntary use of iodized salt showed only one-fifth as many children afflicted with simple goiter.

Iodized salt was introduced in Michigan through the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Health, the Michigan State Medical Society and the salt manufacturers of the state.

Simple goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland which lies at the base of the throat. The enlargement is chiefly due to the lack of natural iodine in food and drinking water. It does not commonly occur in areas where there is sufficient iodine in the soil and water, or in areas where unrefined salt is eaten. Michigan is a "goiter" area because there is not sufficient iodine in the soil to provide a protective amount of the chemical in foods grown in the state.

Farm Labor Supply Is Again In Hands of MSES

As of January 1, 1948, Congress has returned the responsibility for agricultural labor supply to the Michigan State Employment Service. The farm labor program will operate and serve farmers in the same manner they have previously been accustomed to. The Michigan State Employment Service in each county has set up a special farm placement service program to handle the employment problems of the farmer and the farm worker.

Mr. Vloch who for the past four years has served as Farm Labor Assistant in Wayne County is now with the Michigan State Employment Service, supervising farm labor activities for a six-county area, namely Wayne, Washtenaw, Jackson, Monroe, Lenawee and Hillsdale Counties. His headquarters are at the Michigan State Employment Service in Wayne.

HOWDY FOLKS: Let's rebash some of the good old stories that folks tell about the farmers:

It was moonlight — the farm boy and the girl from town were leaning on the pasture bars watching the calf and its mother rub noses.

"Gee," said the boy, "I'd like to be doing that."

"Go ahead," said the girl, "It's your cow."

It was Farmer Brown's first trip to the big city. Looking in a store window, he saw a sign which read:

"LADIES READY TO WEAR CLOTHING"

"About time," he said.

Miss Halcyon Mead Weds Dale W. Cook

Miss Halcyon Joyce Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mead, exchanged her marriage vows with Dale W. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Sturgis, at a lovely home wedding, Friday evening. Rev. A. C. Brazee performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock before an improvised altar of palms, candelabra, and hampers of pink and white snapdragonse.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive wearing a light blue suit with black accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow Talisman roses. Mrs. Robert Purkey as matron of honor, wore a gray suit with black accessories and carried pink Talisman roses. Loren Clark of Sturgis assisted his brother as best man.

Mrs. Mead, and Mrs. Clark, the bridegroom's mother, both wore navy and corsages of a single light lavender orchid.

At the reception following the ceremony 100 guests were served by Mrs. Mildred Phillips, sister of the bridegroom, presiding at the punch bowl and Mrs. Earl Jackson of Detroit, who cut the three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells. Mrs. C. J. Austin and the Misses Nancy Phillips and Dorothy Clark also assisted.

The bride, a graduate of Tecumseh high school, is employd as a secretary to the Tecumseh Refrigeration Sales and Engineering company. Mr. Clark is a graduate of Sturgis high school and is employed by the Michigan Associated Telephone Company. The couple spent a few days in Chicago and now reside in Dundee.

Guests were present from Sturgis, Detroit, Lansing, Onsted, Jackson and Constantine.

THE BUYING POWER OF THE FARM DOLLAR

Hayden's would like to call your attention to the fact that farm product prices are still high enough to buy 14 per cent more goods than they bought in the base period of 1910—1914.

$ And the ratio is still better when compared with 1940, for farm prices since then have risen higher than for quite a number of the items you buy. Facilitating this buying power is the fact that Hayden's Feeds are down $15 to $19 a ton.

And here's something else not to be overlooked—especially by the women folk: Coupons in the bags of Hayden's Poultry Mashes get you lovely dinnerware at a fraction of the wholesale cost.

American Legion to Build Memorial Home Here

GROUND TO BE BROKEN NEXT WEEK FOR $70,000 BUILDING; READY OCTOBER 1

Ground will be broken next week with appropriate ceremonies for a $70,000 American Legion Home in Tecumseh. The new structure, located on a site already owned by the Legion at South Evans and Pottawatamie streets, will be ready for occupancy about October 1.

"It will be one of the finest Legion homes in Southern Michigan, and one of which Tecumseh and all Lenawee county may feel justly proud," was the way that Leon Mix, a director of the American Legion Memorial Home Association, described the building when he made th announcement. He said that the contract for construction had been awarded to Artesian Builders of Toledo.

The new building, one story and basement, will be constructed of cement, brick and steel. It will have a frontage of 76 feet on Evans street and 88 feet on Pottawatamie street. Included in the plan is an assembly hall, 42 by 75 feet, a large club room and lounge and a spacious kitchen. It was announced that the Home will be used exclusively by the Legion but that it also will be available for community activities.

The entrance to the auditorium and assembly hall will be from the Evans street side of the building and the club and lounge entrance will be on the Pottawatamie side. The entire building will be air conditioned.

The Legion has sufficient funds with which to build the building, it was pointed out. The program is being carried out by the American Legion Home Memorial Association of Underwood-Orr Post, made up of Ned Baldwin as president, Louis Schneider, vice-president, Al Hammond, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Mix. The officers and Mr. Mix constitute the board of directors.

C. L. Dickinson is commander of the Legion post and plans for the breaking of ground next week probably will be completed at a Legion meeting this evening.

Indians Defeat Morenci 17-0

TO PLAY HUDSON IN HOME BASEBALL GAME AT RECREATION CENTER, MAY 7

(By Pat Wilson)

Last Friday afternoon Tecumseh was host to the Morenci Bulldogs and sent them home with a 17-0 defeat. Bill Furgeson, Tecumseh's able moundsman, held the Bulldog batsmen to one hit—that a Texas League single over in short center field. Tecumseh made two runs in the first, two in the second, five in the fourth, two in the fifth and six in the sixth. This was Tecumseh's first shutout of the season. As well as being stars afield, the Indians also starred at bat.

Jack Gillen got three hits out of four times at bat, John Cameron got four hits out of five times at bat. Duane Murphy got three out of four, and Melvy Murphy got two out of four. Every man on the team hit safely at least once with the exception of Bill Furgeson.

For Tecumseh: 17 runs, 14 hits, 1 error. For Morenci: O runs, O hits, 8 errors.

Last week Tuesday afternoon the Tecumseh Indians traveled to Adrian to take on the Adrian Maples. Although Tecumseh played fairly good ball, the Maples were a little better and eked out a close 6-5 victory. The battery for Tecumseh was Dave Murphy and Duaine Murphy. For Adrian, Pitzer and Callahan.

12,587 Employed In The County

TECUMSEH AND ADRIAN INDUSTRIES ACCOUNT FOR 82% OF THAT NUMBER

Tecumseh and Adrian account for 82% of all the industrial employment in Lenawee county, the two communities having more than 10,000 of the 12,587 workers on their payrolls, a report by Clifford Rice, manager of the United States Employment Service, Adrian, shows.

There are 7,820 persons employed in Adrian, 2,513 in Tecumseh, 596 in Clinton, 372 in Hudson, 263 in Blissfield, 200 in Morenci and in all other areas of the county 824. Figures represent only those persons employed in businesses where eight or more are on the payroll.

Recent losses among reporting establishments show that about 1,123 less persons are now employed than six months ago, Mr. Rice says. However, the current employment figure represents a net decline of only 289 over the past year.

Unemployed persons received approximately $80,000 in unemployment compensation benefits from the Adrian office during the month of March, Rice declared. Claims for unemployment benefits and servicemen's readjustment allowances totaled 906 during the week ending March 27, he said.

Openings received during March totaled 319, slightly less than the February total. The Adrian office filled 227 jobs during the month, with manufacturing industries hiring 159 workers, wholesale and retail trade establishments 135, and the remaining number distributed among agricultural, domestic service and miscellaneous industries.

Speaker

Dr. Dale D. Welch

ALMA PRESIDENT TO SPEAK HERE, SUNDAY

On Sunday morning, May 9, the Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh will welcome to its pulpit Dr. Dale D. Welch. Dr. Welch is president of Alma College, the Presbyterian college of the state of Michigan. Before assuming his post at Alma last September, Dr. Welch was president of Dubuque University in Iowa and is well qualified not only as an educator but as a pastor and speaker.

The morning service begins at eleven o'clock and all members and friends are invited to worship at that time.

Fast Time Effective On Sunday

COUNCIL VOTES TO MOVE CLOCKS AHEAD ONE HOUR; POLLS BEING TAKEN

Time is still a problem in Tecumseh.

The council, by unanimous vote, Monday evening, approved a motion to set Tecumseh's clocks ahead one hour, to Eastern Daylight Saving Time, effective at 12:01 a.m., Sunday morning, May 9.

The council's action came as a complete surprise. Just before adjournment the motion was offered and it was passed without a dissenting vote.

Last week, a poll of industrialists showed that the larger employers of labor here, by a four to one vote, favored so-called "slow time," or Eastern Standard Time. It is known that some of them have not changed their opinions.

Street rumors this morning, and some of them were confirmed, were to the effect that a poll is being taken among workers to determine whether "fast" or "slow" time is desired here. It is possible, it was said, that if a majority of those polled favor "slow" time the council will be asked to rescind its action.

It will be late Friday before the outcome of the poll will be known.

In Lenawee county, time is truly a problem. Farmers, county-wide, are operating on "slow" time. The City of Adrian is a "fast time" community as is Deerfield, Blissfield and Clinton. All other towns are on "slow" time.

Busses and trains are operating on the "slow" time schedule and Michigan's attorney general has ruled that Eastern Standard Time is the only legal time in the state.

If Tecumseh does switch to "fast" time, it was said, all incoming mail at the local post office will arrive one hour later. This will mean that the mail that normally arrives at 4:25 in the afternoon will not reach here until 5:25 Tecumseh time and, as a result, will be too late to be of value to business men.

REBEKAHS TO MEET

The Rebekahs will meet Friday evening, at 8 p.m., EST., for the degree work and lunch.

Voters May Get Sigler Reform

GOVERNOR, LET DOWN BY LEGISLATURE, MAY CARRY HIS PROGAM TO PEOPLE

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—Who's out on the end of a limb — Kim Sigler or the state legislature?

That was the interesting question at the state capitol this week, following clock adjournment of the special session of the state legislature at midnight Wednesday April 28.

Governor Sigler's pet reforms, such as his proposed streamlining of state government by a state department of administration, four-year terms for state and county elective officials, and power to permit the governor appoint the attorney general and secretary of state, were rejected by a Republican-dominated legislature.

Rejected also were other planks in the Sigler program: Removal from the November ballot of proposed repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment; removal also of a call for a state constitutional convention; and a one-mill state property tax.

Legislators were of a majority opinion that the folks back home were not enthusiastic about these reform ideas. They also inclined to a belief that too many things were going to the voters in November for decision and that the Sigler reforms would add only to general confusion.

Rebuffed by the legislature, Governor Sigler declared, "My fight to try to improve Michigan's government is only beginning."

Previously he had warned legislature committees that he might call solons back for a second special session, should they decline to submit his program to the voters. He also considered making an appeal direct to the "jury" — the people — by circularizing petitions to place the reform amendments on the November ballot.

There is every probability that he will employ the second and latter method rather than the first. Sigler now has a new campaign issue, wrapped up and tied, all ready to be tested. He is a dynamic public speaker; he enjoys audience contacts; he likes a good scrap. Never lacking in high courage and still convinced that he is right in his convictions how better government may be achieved, Governor Sigler is not likely to back down because of the legislators' rebuff. He is more apt to take his fight direct to the people.

The legislature did approve the governor's recommendation that an amendment to remove salary limitations of state officials and legislators be placed before the voters in November. Last week Attorney General Eugene F. Black ruled that the governor's expense allowance of $10,000 a year was unconstitutional. Legislators countered promptly, voting a "grant" of $12,500 to the governor for a total compensation of $20,000 instead of $17,500.

Ironically enough it was Black, selected personally by the governor for attorney general, who has displayed considerable independence to date by saying exactly what he thinks. Black has often done so bluntly and non-diplomatically in direct opposition to the man who picked him for the office.

Mr. Black has no concern for his political future. He expects to retire from office at the end of his present term. Particularly irritating to Mr. Black is the fact that 12 employees of his department receive more compensation from the State of Michigan than he does. This doesn't make sense to the young Detroit attorney.

As Mr. Black was hand-picked by Governor Sigler at the 1946 Republican state convention for the post of attorney general, the legislators were cool to the governor's recommendation that the constitution should be amended whereby this office would become appointive, rather than elective.

It all adds up to one thing, as we have often observed. People do not think alike. Presented with identical information, they react differently. Honest differences of opinion are to be expected as a course of events in a democracy.

The important thing is that the people should have access to complete information. This often comes through a popular debate of issues in which both sides are represented, and the people thus have an opportunity to choose.

BUSY BEES TO MEET

8th Grade Commencement Exercises On May 14th

A number of rural students will participate in the program and an address will be given by Dr. Bruce Wilson, dean of Adrian College. Diplomas will be presented to the students by Milton C. Porter, county superintendent of schools. The public is invited to attend and a special invitation is extended to all former eighth grade students."

Last Town Hall Meet On May 18

RONALD HARRIS, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY TO BE THE SPEAKER

The final meeting of Tecumseh's Town Hall for the spring of 1948 will be held on Tuesday evening, May 18, at 8 p.m., in the auditorium of the high school. The speaker will be Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Harris will then have completed the first six months of his office as secretary of the local Chamber and at the meeting he will review the organizations activities and point out some of the high points of the program that are to come during the remainder of the year. He also is expected to touch on his recent trip to Washington, where he conferred with postal authorities regarding the building of a new post office here.

A meeting of the Town Hall Council, made up of representatives of all of the organizations subscribing to Town Hall, will follow immediately after the program. At the Council meeting, plans for changing the organizations by-laws will be discussed.

Local Couple Wed 50 Years

MR. AND MRS. IRA LAMKIN OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY HERE ON SUNDAY

Many friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lamkin came to Tecumseh Sunday afternoon to congratulate the couple on their golden wedding anniversary which occurred Tuesday. Open house was held in the Baptist church parlors from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

The room was filled with plants bouquets of flowers and gifts from their many friends. Four of the some 135 guests present were at their wedding at Three Rivers, May 4, 1898. They were Mrs. John Harwood of Tecumseh, Mrs. Lamkin's sister, Mrs. Nettie Butrick of Detroit, Mr. Lamkin's sister, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Pierce of Three Rivers.

Four yellow tapers on either side of an arrangement of yellow flowers centered the lace covered refreshment table. The four tiered wedding cake was topped with a gold ornament. Another large decorated cake was the gift of a grand nephew, Dale Ruggles, who baked it. Two granddaughters, Miss Evalyn Berry of East Lansing and Miss Alice Berry of Blissfield, presided at the urns.

Relatives and friends attended from Howell, Detroit, Whittiker, Three Rivers, Constantine, Marcellus, Blissfield, Tecumseh, Tipton, Onsted and East Lansing.

The Raisin River Riders will meet at the hitching post May 17 at 7:30 and 8 p.m. for a ride to the Cohea farm, Route 1, Tecumseh. There will be a business meeting and weiner roast.

Post Office Unlikely Now

NEW BUILDING PROGRAM HERE MUST WAIT APPROPRIATION BY CONGRESS

A new postoffice building in Tecumseh, even though the government does own its site at the present, must wait an appropriation by Congress and such action is altogether unlikely at this session, Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was advised in Washington last week by R. G. Betterle, assistant postmaster general in charge of buildings.

"There seems to be four schools of thought in Congress," Mr. Harris said. "There is a group that opposes building at the present time because of high prices. There is another that opposes it because they believe that building should wait until government projects are necessary to afford additional labor. Then, there is another that thinks that economy should be the watchword and a fourth that thinks that spending money now in view of our international program is unwise. Until Congress is more agreed on a course to follow, it appears very unlikely, I was informed, that any post office building program would be given the green light."

Mr. Harris was in Washington last week attending the United States Chamber of Commerce meeting there and the Michigan Dinner, for members of Congress from this state. He conferred at length with postal officials regarding Tecumseh's need for a new building, and pointed out that the government has, for several years, owned a site on South Pearl street. He also was armed with figures showing how postal receipts here have grown, and he filed pictures with the department of the present post office building, showing how employees are cramped for room in which to work.

"The department assured me as quickly as funds were appropriated by Congress for post office buildings, Tecumseh would be given immediate consideration, but, until Congress acts, I fear that we will not be getting a new building," Harris said.

Gold Star Mothers To Be Remembered, Sunday

Regular business was transacted and reports of various committees were given at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday evening. Some 20 members were present.

The Girl's State chairman reported the committee had chosen a girl for Girl's State to be held June 15 to 22 in Ann Arbor. The Gold Star chairman will send flowers to all Gold Star Mothers for Mother's Day, and plants will be placed on the graves of deceased members for Memorial Day. The Poppy Chairman reported the purchase of 3500 poppies to be sold on Poppy Day, May 29.

The secretary reported proceeds from the recent magazine sale drive amounted to $198.89. With this the Auxiliary will purchase an inhalator to be placed in the council building for use in the community.

The Auxiliary is purchasing a collapsible wheel chair to be sent to Battle Creek hospital for the Veterans use. The group is also sending $50 for the candy fund at the Veterans hospital.

Mrs. Joan Rossman and her committee served refreshments and provided entertainment. Mrs. Olga Smith will be chairman for the June meeting.

TELLS EXPERIENCES IN LATIN AMERICAS

A. O. Beamer, an export representative of Tecumseh Products Co., stationed in Latin America, was an interesting guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening at Brees House. He was introduced by L. W. Larsen and was the guest of C. M. Brown.

Mr. Beamer told of many interesting experiences in old Mexico and South America; how once he was kidnapped during a revolution, and of how difficult it sometimes is to travel in some of the southern countries.

Donald F. Skilling, a time study engineer at Tecumseh Products Co., was introduced as a new member.

WHERE INFLATION BEGINS

Paul H. Nystrom, Professor of Marketing at Columbia University, recently gave the country some information which it may not like, but which it must eventually take to heart. "When a government issues money faster than goods and services are produced you have inflation," he said. "When wages rise faster than production, you likewise have inflation. The only new thing we have to learn from this inflation is that wage increases, supported by increases in the production, are identical in principle to the issue of unregulated and unsecured paper money. Such wage increases will in the long run produce precisely the same inflationary effects."

The deterrents on production are many. Strikes are one. So are deliberate slowdowns, whereby workers just go through the motions and operate below any reasonable capacity. And so are abnormally short work days and work weeks, which make it impossible to get enough goods flowing into the hands of the public.

No intelligent man wants to deprive labor of its just gains. The highest attainable degree of prosperity for all has always been the American goal and it always will be. But, to quote Dr. Nystrom again, the surest way to dissipate the strength of this country would be through "the debasement of purchasing power and by the restriction of productive energies."

Every worker, whether he is employed in agriculture, manufacturing, retailing, or anywhere else, can help fight inflation by doing the best job of production possible. That is essential if our standards of living are to be preserved.

Cut Home Maintenance Costs With Sidewall Shingles

Would you like to give your home "that new look" and do it economically? Of course you would, and you can do just that by modernizing with sidewall shingles.

Before you spend your money on a paint job, inquire from us as to the cost of sidewalls. Not only are they far, far more permanent than paint — and protect your home from heat in the summer, cold in the winter — they also can be installed for about the same price as it costs for two coats of paint.

SIDEWALLS Are Easy To Install

The average sidewall shingle job can be done in about the same amount of time as painting. Think how much better your house will look — how it will take on that new appearance.

We'll be very glad to give you an estimate of cost of sidewall shingling your home.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

Keith DesErmia Weds Miss Audrey Fielder

A lovely spring wedding took place Saturday morning in St. Mary's church in Manchester when Miss Audrey Fielder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fielder of Manchester, became the bride of Keith Des Ermia, son of Mrs. George Wright and Lyle DesErmia of Tecumseh. The double ring ceremony was performed at 11 a.m.

The bride chose a gown of white satin trimmed in Venetian lace. Her headdress was of matching lace and she carried a prayer book and single orchid. She was preceded to the altar by little Mary Frances Fielder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fielder, who carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Margaret Fielder was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Virginia Fielder and Maxine Heimerdinger. Mrs. Margaret Fielder wore a gown of pink taffeta and the other two attendants wore identical gowns of green taffeta. All carried bouquets of sweetpeas and roses with matching flowers in their hair.

Don Fielder, the bride's brother, assisted as best man. The ushers were Norman and Clarence Fielder, Harold Easton and Nathan McWilliams.

Some 250 guests enjoyed the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Mr. Truman furnished music.

The bride graduated from Manchester high school and was an employee in the office of the Ford Motor Company in Manchester. A graduate of Tecumseh high school, the groom is in business with his father. After a trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will reside at 308 E. Main St., in Manchester.

MRS. BERKHOF HONORED

Marie Koernig was program chairman. Phillip and Charles Hendershott gave spring readings and Mrs. Ed Aebersold gave a report on Stewardship, the theme of the evening.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and the disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

"In excess of 45,000 lbs. Payload

. . . on my new FORD F-7 BIG JOB"

"I purchased my F-7 Ford in February," reports Chester Fields of Dayton, Ohio. "To date, maximum payload has been 53,000 pounds . . . average has been well in excess of 45,000 pounds.

"Of the many other makes of trucks I now own, none can equal the performance of my F-7 Ford. Performance and economy have been amazing."

Men who know trucks claim 6,000 miles per month for months on end with no time out . . . payloads over 50,000 pounds . . . power that leaves other trucks eating dust . . . a mile of full-load travel on about a pint of gasoline.

Irish Hills Church Is Scene of Pretty Wedding

Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in St. Joseph's Catholic church in the Irish Hills, Miss Dorothy Jean Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Higgins of near Tecumseh, and Eugene Krzyzaniak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Krzyzaniak of Manchester, were united in marriage by the Rev. Fr. McGoldrick, in the presence of the immediate families.

For the ceremony, the bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white lace and slipper satin gown styled on princess lines. The long sleeves tapered to points at the hands. Her fingertip veil of net fell from a beaded headdress and she carried a Mother of Pearl prayer book and rosary and a bouquet of white carnations.

As maid of honor, Rosemary Frolich, wore a blue net gown fashioned with short sleeves and full skirt. Her headdress was a short veil of matching net and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Donald Krzyzaniak assisted his brother as best man.

The bride's mother wore a gray dress with black accessories and the groom's mother was dressed in navy with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Brees House to 16 persons. Upon their return from a short wedding trip the couple will reside at his farm home in Manchester.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school and has been employed at the Ford Motor Company in Manchester. The groom, a graduate of Manchester high school, is employed by the Tecumseh Products Company.

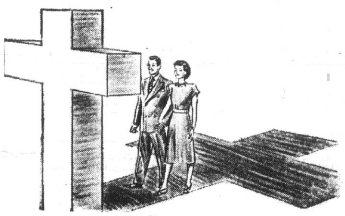
Go To Church On Sunday



In The Shadow

In the formative years of youth, religious faith plays an all-important part. As the twig is bent — so grows the tree. That our young folks may be strong and true in maturity, teach them the beauty and consolation which faith brings. Encourage your children to attend the Church of their choice regularly each week.

Auto Mishaps Show Increase

BUT DEATH TOLL DUE TO ACCIDENTS DROPS, POLICE REPORT SHOWS

Motor vehicle accidents in Michigan reached a new high in 1947, the injury toll was the second highest on record, travel mileage exceeded that of any previous year, but the death rate per 100 million miles of travel dropped to an all time low.

This information is revealed in the annual accident experience report released by Commissioner Donald S. Leonard of the Michigan State Police.

The report shows 137,619 traffic accidents during the year as compared with 110,531 in 1946, an increase of 27,088, or 25 per cent. There were 1,270 fatal accidents in which 1,434 persons met their deaths; 26,714 accidents which resulted in 38,195 injuries, and 109,635 property damage accidents. Compared with 1946 experience, there were 34 fewer deaths, or a reduction of two per cent, and an increase of 3,716, or 11 per cent, in injury accidents.

Estimated motor vehicle travel exceeded 17.6 billion miles in 1947, or 10 per cent more than in 1946, and the death rate of 8.14 per 100 million miles of travel was 12 per cent below 1946.

More care in driving and walking and better control measures appear to be the most logical explanation for the reduced severity of accidents, the report states. Contributing to this was the important influence of the press and radio and other agencies in stressing safety. On the other hand, the increased mileage multiplied the chances for accidents and was partly responsible for the increase in personal injury and property damage mishaps.

Incorporated communities accounted for 85 per cent of all accidents, 63 per cent of the injuries and 37 per cent of the deaths. Rural areas accounted for 15 per cent of all accidents, 37 per cent of the injuries and 63 per cent of the deaths. Higher speeds were largely responsible for the increased severity of rural area accidents.

Pedestrian, railroad train and ran-off-road accidents resulted in highest ratio of deaths and injuries per accident. Passenger cars accounted for 77 per cent of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents, and trucks, buses, and taxicabs accounted for 20 per cent. In addition, 40 motorcycles and four school buses were involved in fatal accidents.

The report also points out:

Night accidents accounted for 57 per cent of the fatalities, although there is usually only one-third of the total daily travel during these hours.

Seven out of 10 drivers involved in fatal accidents were reported to be violating the law at the time. Driving too fast for conditions was by far the major cause. About one out of five, or 22 per cent, of these drivers "had been drinking", and one out of 17, or six per cent, was "under the influence."

There were 495 pedestrians killed in 1947, a reduction of eight per cent compared with 1946. Two out of three were violating the law or acting unsafely at the time. Children under 15 years of age accounted for 98, or one-fifth, if all pedestrian fatalities.

Vehicle defects were reported in 15 per cent of all fatal accidents.

"During the 10-year period of 1938 to 1948 there were 987,367 reported traffic accidents in Michigan," Leonard said. "These accidents resulted in 14,302 deaths and 301,096 injuries. The number of deaths was eight times greater than resulted from all types of murder and non-negligent homicide. Figured in earning capacity and other factors the loss is estimated in excess of $750,000,000. While we have made substantial gains in cutting the death rate in recent years, the entire accident record shows that the traffic toll will increase unless all forces intensify their effort to keep it at a minimum."

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind — if you know automobiles — the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big — and spring-colt lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too — with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflow Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

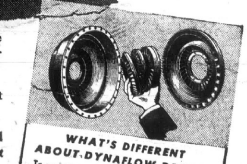
In short — here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance — looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer — and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good — specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) fly (eg hand) which produces a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

BUICK alone has all these features

★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)
★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster)
★ VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE ★ SAFETY-RIDE RIMS
★ HI-POISED FIREBALL POWER
★ ROAD-RITE BALANCE ★ RIGID TORQUE-TUBE
★ QUADRUFLEX COIL SPRINGING
★ SOUND-SORBER TOP LINING (Super and Roadmaster)
★ DUOMATIC SPARK ADVANCE ★ FLEX-FIT OIL RINGS
★ TEN SMART MODELS ★ BODY BY FISHER

Old Folk May Carry TB Unwittingly; Gland Extract Can Aid Colds, Allergy

Older people frequently have tuberculosis without its being detected, with the result that they have become innocent carriers of the disease. A thyroid deficiency may cause an increased tendency to nasal infection and allergy, says Dr. Martin Gumpert. Discussing these and other medical news in Redbook magazine, for a current issue, he writes:

"We must revise the belief that tuberculosis is a disease of youth and that persons over fifty are seldom affected. Recent experience has shown that many cases in older patients are overlooked and that, therefore, insufficient precautions are taken to prevent the spread of tuberculosis by these innocent carriers of the disease.

"Salt has a natural minimal content of iodine, and when it is recrystallized by heating, iodides contained are lost. The American Medical Association is urging its members to give vigorous support to a new bill which will be introduced in the coming Congress. This bill would provide Federal authority to supervise the marketing of non-iodized salt.

"A majority of cases with high blood pressure has been helped within a few weeks by a rice, fruit and sugar diet with low salt content, Dr. M. E. Flipse reports in Southern Medical Journal that failures result chiefly from poor patient co-operation. The diet, which should be prescribed by a physician, may later be modified by lean meat, small amounts of salt and some vegetables.

"Patients deficient in thyroid hormone may have an increased tendency to nasal infection and nasal allergy, according to a recent investigation, and such conditions may be corrected by thyroid extract alone. Headache and nasal obstruction are prominent symptoms. Only a physician can decide whether the hormone is needed.

A new type of pocket-size radiometer permits the exact measurement of daily absorption of dangerous radiation in clinical and industrial laboratories. Thousands are in use in atomic energy plants. They are available for anyone working with x-ray or radium.

The President of the New York Medical Society has issued a warning that competitive school sports involving body contact oft times result in serious injury to competitors. At all such contests there should be a physician in attendance and such equipment as stretchers, boards, splints, etc., should be available.

Seven states and Canada now require cheese to be made from pasteurized milk or cream, or to be held in storage for at least sixty days after manufacture. Contrary to the opinion of many cheesemakers, pasteurized milk will make better — and more healthful — cheese."

Home Lighting Is Important

PROPER DISTRIBUTION OF LIGHT CAN REDUCE EYE STRAIN, TIREDNESS

Your family has the benefit of the very best in lighting while they are at school, the office or factory during the day. Do they come home to dimly lighted rooms to read, study or sew at night."

You may not have the experience that the person who planned the industrial lighting had, but you can do something about lighting. Beatrice Franquist, home demonstration agent, believes that the most common fault is that lighting is planned in terms of fixtures rather than the eyes of the family.

If you wonder how much light is enough, remember that you are much more likely to have too little than too much. Our eyes will adjust themselves to any amount of light but specialists have proved that we see more slowly when there is not enough light.

We also see more easily and do not become tired as quickly when there is enough light. Industry has learned that any expense caused by furnishing good lighting pays for itself.

Did you know that just having enough light on the page you are reading or the sock you are darning isn't enough? If the rest of the room is dark when you glance up, your eyes have to adjust to the contrast in lighting. This adjustment to sharp contrasts in lighting is the greatest single cause of eye strain.

For a living room you should have a reasonable all-over light and concentrated direct light where it is needed. You also will find that three-way lamps that permit the light to be raised or lowered are a help. Several wall outlets in a room also add to the flexibility of the lighting. Maybe new shades or adding a white lining to your present ones can be the first step in your lighting improvement.

. . . OF THE PEOPLE . . . BY THE PEOPLE . . . FOR THE PEOPLE

FROM THE PATTERN OF DEMOCRACY

The strength of democracy lies in the voluntary group action it sets in motion to solve social and community problems. Let a need arise and democratic principles voluntarily applied are sure to find a superior answer. This is again emphasized by an all 'round cooperative action which solved a real challenge to the people of Michigan:

THE COST OF HOSPITAL AND SURGICAL CARE

Hospital costs are usually unexpected. In many instances the average man's budget does not provide for this additional emergency expense and meeting these bills is often beyond his ability to pay. It means, at the least, a serious drain on the family resources and perhaps even creates a burden of debt from which the family may never recover. To correct this condition here in Michigan—Michigan's hospitals and Michigan's medical profession set in motion the principles of voluntary democratic action—they organized Blue Cross.

BLUE CROSS— A NON-PROFIT PUBLIC SERVICE

Blue Cross is a non-profit plan of cooperation between doctors of medicine, hospitals, and the public to make good hospital and medical-surgical care available to everyone without financial strain upon anyone. A small monthly sum paid by members of the plan assures them of the care they need when they need it without worry about the expense.

This action on the part of Michigan hospitals and Michigan's medical profession was met with equal cooperation by the public. Today over 1,200,000 people of Michigan have solved the problem of paying for hospital and surgical care by adopting Blue Cross. It is efficient—it is fully protective and economical. It answers the need—fulfills every protective purpose.

Miss Joice Galbreath Weds Robert D. Beevers

The Tecumseh Friends church was the scene of a charming wedding Saturday morning when Miss Joyce A. Galbreath of Ypsilanti repeated her nuptial vows to Robert D. Beevers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Beevers of Tecumseh, before the altar decorated with hampers of yellow and white snapdragons and palms. The Rev. Edward Escolme read the double ring service at 11 o'clock.

As the guests were being seated by Gerald Elliott and Virgil Oman, Mrs. Amos Wilson presented a program of organ music, after which she accompanied Miss Martha Hayden who sang "Because" and "Always".

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Galbreath of Jackson, chose white slipper satin for her bridal gown. It was fashioned with a net yoke edged in lace, the hooped skirt featuring flounces of lace insertions and ending in a long court train. The full length veil edged in lace fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade shower arm bouquet of white roses and white sweetpeas.

The yellow taffeta gown worn by the maid of honor, Kathryn Beevers, sister of the groom, was styled with short sleeves and the full skirt featured flowers pinned on the bustle back. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses edged with lavender carnations.

Arthur Stobert assisted the groom as best man.

Some 75 guests enjoyed the reception in the downstairs room of the church following the ceremony. The lace covered table was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake. Lavender sweetpeas, yellow snapdragons and lighted yellow tapers in candelabra completed the decorations. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Virgil Oman of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Gera'd Elliott of Brooklyn and Miss Galbreath, sister of the bride, of Jackson.

Guests were present from Jackson, Ypsilanti, Brooklyn, Cleveland and Tecumseh.

The groom attended Macon high school and is now employed at the Tecumseh Products Company. The bride operated a beauty parlor in Ypsilanti. They returned from a short wedding trip yesterday and are residing with his mother for the present.

Mrs. Virginia Halladay was elected superintendent of the Congregational Sunday school to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Carleton.

Miss Nelma Heilman Bride of Martin Korth

The spacious living room in the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Heilman, near Macon, was the scene of a lovely spring wedding at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Nelma, exchanged marriage vows with Martin Korth, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Korth of Britton, before a beautiful setting of palms, sweet cherry blossoms, and pink snapdragons.

"I Love You Truly" and "Always" were played by Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin, a friend of the family, before the bride entered upon the arm of her father to the strains of "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin."

Rev. J. deRuiter of the Lutheran church of Tecumseh officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a gray ballerino suit with red accessories and wearing a corsage of American Beauty roses. Miss Jean Williams of Battle Creek was her attendant. She wore an aqua suit and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a rose print dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Attending the wedding besides the parents and the groom's sister, Miss Marjorie Korth, were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Burleson of Macon, Marcheta Gillespie of Clinton, Nelma Beerman of Port Clinton, Ohio, Harold Ruhl and Louis Rebottaro of Tecumseh.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and Cleary College. The groom is a graduate of the Ford high school at Macon. He spent two years in the South Pacific and Japan. He is now employed by D. Linn doing mason work.

At five o'clock a delicious dinner was served at Brees House in Tecumseh to the party. The table was adorned with a beautiful wedding cake and white candles.

The young couple received many lovely gifts. The groom's gift to his bride was a single string of pearls.

Later in the evening the couple left for an undisclosed destination. Upon their return they will be at home at 6362 Pennington Road, R. D. No. 1, Clinton, Michigan.

Eleven Bands At Homecoming

BALLOON ASCENSION AND FIREWORKS ASSURED FOR JULY 4TH CELEBRATION

Plans are being completed for Tecumseh's Fourth of July Homecoming Celebration, to be held Monday, July 5, because the holiday falls on Sunday, and already many top-flight attractions are assured, Wade L. Jones, general chairman of the affair, told the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, in regular meeting, Tuesday evening.

"We plan to again have a band festival, even larger than the one held here a few years ago and which attracted several thousands of people," Mr. Jones said. Already, Jones declared, 11 bands have signed up for the festival and it is possible that there will be one or two more.

In addition to the festival, he said, there will be a balloon ascension with triple parachute drop, races of many kinds, baseball games, and a "greased pig." Many other attractions will be added and announced later, the board was told.

"There is no doubt but that this is going to be one of the biggest Fourth of July celebrations ever attempted in the county, and one that no one will want to miss," Jones said. "The display of $1,000 worth of fireworks in the evening will attract folk for many miles."

In addition to receiving the Homecoming report, the board also listened to a report from R. F. Harris, secretary, concerning his recent trip to Washington. He also was instucted to attend the Michigan Commercial Travelers meeting in Bay City, this week.

Motorist Dies In Crash Here

NO CRIMINAL ACTION WILL BE TAKEN IN DEATH OF ROY BAKER, PROSECUTOR SAYS

No criminal action will be taken in connection with the death of Roy S. Baker, 50, Tecumseh, who was fatally injured Saturday night in a crash on Burt street, Rex B. Martin, prosecutor, has announced. Mr. Martin's statement followed the questioning of witnesses and a conference with Leo Smith, chief of police.

Mr. Baker died about 10 minutes after he had been admitted to Tecumseh Hospital, following injuries suffered when he was struck by a car driven by Judy Claxton, 16, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Claxton of Britton.

Baker and his wife were driving east near their home on Burt street Saturday night when they noticed a car owned by Edward Glisson of Tecumseh, a friend, stalled in the highway. Baker stopped his car and walked across to the Glisson car which was unoccupied. He attempted to push it off the highway.

Miss Claxton was approaching in her car from the east and, according to statements to officers, Mrs. Baker stood in the road and attempted to halt the oncoming Claxton car. Unable to do so she leaped to safety. The Claxton car struck the Glisson car and Baker.

When Police Chief Smith arrived he said that Baker was walking around and told him that he had been hurt. He was taken immediately to the hospital in an ambulance.

Miss Claxton told authorities that she was unable to see the stalled car and Baker pushing it because of the lights of the parked Baker car, which blinded her as she approached. The Glisson car was partially across the road when the accident happened. With the Claxton girl was Miss Beverly Brown, 16, also of Britton.

Funeral services for Baker were held Wednesday afternoon from the Collins Funeral Home with burial in Brookside Cemetery. The Rev. B. O. Bashore officiated. Surviving him are the widow, Maudie, two sons, Roy jr., of Adrian and Jon of Spring Lake, two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Bunting of Tecumseh and Mrs. Gertrude Ervans of Canton, O., one grandson, a brother Herbert of Adrian, and one nephew.

Tecumseh Hospital To Observe 10th Anniversary On Wednesday

The tenth anniversary of the opening of Tecumseh Hospital will be observed on Wednesday, May 19, from 2 to 4 p.m., with open house, Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent, announced today. During the two hour period, Miss Spaulding said, the public may feel free to visit the institution and observe some of the many advantages offered to patients. While it may be impossible, she said, for them to visit the entire hospital, arrangements will be made for guide-nurses to show visitors through the laboratory, X-ray room, and the operating room. There also will be other exhibits.

Something of the rapid growth of the hospital is observed from the records at the institution. In the year 1939, 511 patients were cared for, 5,689 days of nursing care were given and there were 88 births at the hospital. Total cash receipts were $21,598.32, and salaries to employees amounted to $9,633.55.

In 1941, 1,021 patients were cared for, 11,090 days of nursing care were given, 206 babies were born, and cash receipts jumped to $47,968.71 with salaries totaling $21,107.63.

Figures for last year, 1947, show that 3,031 patients were cared for, that 14,713 days of nursing care were given, that there were 394 births and that total receipts amounted to $98,836.92 with salaries totaling $45,070.92.

"A look at the figures," Miss Spaulding said, "immediately convinces one that Tecumseh hospital is out of the 'small town' class."

At the present time, the hospital is caring for 28 adult patients and 12 babies.

Since the hospital's inception, 10 years ago, one addition has been built and now there is an immediate need for a new $100,000 addition, doctors declare. Construction of this addition is now under consideration by the board and the village council.

Louisville To Tecumseh In 1 Hour, 42 Minutes

Time marches on!

And on one is more convinced of the fact than Dr. H. H. Hammel, local physician and surgeon and an enthusiastic airplane pilot.

Sunday, Dr. Hammel piloted a new Meyers 145-horsepower all-metal low wing plane from Louisville, Ky., to Tecumseh Airport, a distance of 230 miles, in one hour and 42 minutes. His average speed was 168 miles per hour. Dr. Hammel flew to Louisville Sunday morning and returned in mid-afternoon after spending about three hours there.

"Times sure have changed," the doctor recalled. "In 1916, just 32 years ago, it took me three and a half hours in the mud to drive from Britton to Ridgeway. Of course, it was with a horse and buggy."

HE CAN'T HELP IT

Anyone who thinks the retailer has an easy time of it should think again.

A Wall Street Journal reporter recently surveyed the situation in Newburyport, Massachusetts, which a year ago made national headlines with a brave but short-lived effort to beat inflation by across-the-board price reductions. Newburyport is a small community, but it is typical of a large segment of this country. The reporter found that the merchants are more perplexed than ever. Sales are down 10 to 20 per cent. Inventories are rising. And customers are protesting high prices.

In a situation like this, the merchant is really caught between the devil and the deep blue sea. He has to keep his shelves well stocked — and at the same time he has to take extreme care lest he become loaded up with goods that won't move. He has to keep on giving high standards of service. The retail store, whether it be a chain or an independent, can't afford to go backward.

The Newburyport Plan with its arbitrary 10 per cent price cuts failed because the margin of profit on most goods is too small to make such a cut possible. If it had been continued long enough, storekeepers would have taken heavy losses and eventually courted bankruptcy. Whether the consumer realizes it or not, most stores, faced with the pressure of tougher competition and buyer resistance, now earn unit profits which are less than the average before the war and during OPA. On staple goods, the profit is only two or three cents per dollar of sales, and in some cases is even smaller. So don't blame your merchant when something seems to cost too much—he can't help it.

Farmers Should Plan For Needs In Fuel

County agricultural agent, L. G. Hall, says that farmers should be making plans now for their tractor fuel needs.

The fuel situation is expected to be quite tight this spring when field work gets into full swing. The agent says that two steps can help to ease the fuel oil shortage:

1. Keep tractor engines in good running order with periodic tune-ups. This could save as much as 10 percent on tractor fuel consumption.

2. Advise tank wagon salesmen in advance of needs. Help the oil industry to channel the right products to the right place at the right time.

The county agent joined with oilmen to urge that farmers fill their storage tanks whenever fuel is available and, if possible, provide additional storage. If orders are placed with dealers now for delivery anytime when supplies and roads permit, it will help build up a stockpile of fuel against possible extreme shortages.

Although not too plentiful, some dealers may have storage tanks available. These can be used for storage of gasoline on the farm.

STATE COOPERATES IN WAR ON NOXIOUS WEEDS

Farmers who derive some extra income from the tourist and resort business in Lenawee county will find a new Michigan State college circular of interest.

Noxious weeds, county agricultural agent Louis G. Hall reports, often cause resort operators to lose money. Many persons accidentally contact poison ivy or poison sumac each year. The purpose of the circular is to help resort operators and other landowners to get rid of the objectionable weeds.

Titled "Weed Control in Resort Areas", the publication is circular R-201, issued by the MSC Extension Service and the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Details are given regarding the use of chemicals and equipment needed for control. Such pests as poison ivy, poison sumac, common ragweed, giant ragweed, and perennial ragweed can be eliminated by the suggestions given. Special instructions are included for lawn, beach, and water weeds.

A copy of the circular can be obtained from the agent's office or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches — doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking — but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't — some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk — and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose . . . no, we're like you — we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Breakfast In Hollywood Is Big Success Here

"Breakfast in Hollywood," sponsored by El Misti Santha, No. 93, Nomads of Avrudaka, Tecumseh, was served to some 200 persons in the K. of P. hall, Saturday evening.

Immediately following the dinner the program was turned over to Garth Hall impersonating John Nelson as the announcer, who gave a reverent eulogy to Tom Breneman, Glenn Driscoll was then introduced as M. C. in the role of Tom, with Mrs. Driscoll at the piano.

Mrs. Pauline Kopka, as Tizzy Lish, entertained with several humorous readings. Tom then found the service man present who served the longest length of time in World War II, from those who were seated at the table especially decorated in their honor. The prize was awarded to George Foos.

All the prizes, except the orchid and big cigar were donated by the merchants of Tecumseh. Forrest Abner's public address system was used throughout the evening and Henry Kempf took flash pictures.

The famous Breakfast in Hollywood song closed the program. The D. O. K. K.'s then took over and gave their prizes followed by dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Ask The Man Who Plants Pre-tested Garden Seeds

He'll Tell You It Pays To be Certain of Growth

Yes, it really pays, especially at harvest time, to plant pre-tested seeds in your garden.

Pre-tested seeds, you know, are seeds that have been tested by the grower, and found to be "tops" for planting. They cost no more at our store than ordinary seeds.

Forget, then, about the late season, the rain and the cool weather. Plant our pre-tested seeds and let your garden "catch up" with the weather.

We have a large variety—in fact everything in seeds that you'll be wanting to plant.

Milk In Child's Diet Important To Health

Does your young hopeful sometimes turn the other way when milk is served him? Mothers enrolled in home economics extension classes have learned to handle this problem of pre-school children in several ways.

First, says Beatrice Frangquist, home demonstration agent, they may pretend to ignore Junior's lapse in milk drinking and say nothing about it. Instead they use it in plentiful amounts in their cooking and serve it in soups, custards, puddings and cheese combinations. Then adults in the family begin to drink milk at one meal each day.

Another approach is the home "milk bar". Even a three-year-old can whip up a wonderful milk shake with a cup of milk and a tablespoon of peanut butter, using an egg beater. If children go to the opposite extremes and drink more and more milk, leaving vegetables, fruits, eggs and meat untasted, wise parents leave milk from the menu for at least two meals each day until good eating habits are adopted again.

Home extension members have also learned the importance of using iodized salt to promote pep and prevent simple goiter in children of all ages. Many adults, too, feel more wide-awake and energetic when a lack of iodine has been corrected. It is important to read the label and be sure you're buying iodized salt.

The Editor
Tecumseh Herald
Tecumseh, Michigan

Dear Sir:

Is war imminent? Apparently so. If it is what can a citizen of this country—a citizen of a town like Tecumseh—do about it?

I, for one, cannot sit idly by, reading the newspaper, and hear my fellow-citizens belabored with the same old guff "that the best defense is a good offense." That is true, fatally true. But not in the sense in which proponents of military aggrandisement preach it. We are being called upon to give authority to the leaders of the "get tough" policy. If we grant them authority, their policy would be implemented. We should know what it is.

How will we fight? Where will we fight? Will it be military intervention in Finland? the Middle East? China? Perhaps "freedom is is being attacked" in the South American countries and Franco Spain? Will we back up with military power any nation, regardless of its ideals, that simply is on record as "against Russia"?

Or do even the military leaders concede that our fight is not against Russia but against Communism? From the news that comes to us who have no direct wire from the Department of the Army through the ordinary news channels, it would seem there is failure clearly to see the "Red" danger. Failing to see the greatness and nature of our peril, they fail also by insisting on wrong measures for defense. The fatal error of the military position is its assumption that we can stop Communism by a military victory over Russia. It is a mistake to identify Communism with Russia. The only way to stop Communism is to stop the hunger, despair, and bitterness to which Communism is a response. A war with Russia even if it did not end in a stalemate, even if it brought us a blitz victory overnight, would so increase the burden of the world's misery that Communism would sweep the whole world like a prairie fire in a high wind.

It is apparently the conviction of some of the military that we will have to burn Russia out. Entirely aside from the answer of Christian faith, we know that an idea can't be stopped with a bomb. You can't fill vacuums of hunger, despair and bitterness with guns and armaments and Selective Service and the UMT. They only create more of the same. That course would extend the desolation and deepen the misery, and would nourish Communism by enriching the evil soil in which Communism flourishes. The world would dissolve into anarchy in which democracy itself could not survive.

Supremacy on land, sea and air is the popular and fatal answer to the threat of Communism and Russia. It proposes an arms race in which we have a great head start, but a race we cannot win in the long run against the human and natural resources of Russia. It is also a race in totalitarianism that is fatal to democracy. An "all out" arms race must, of necessity, bring the violation of democracy.

"We must be so strong no one will dare attack us" is the answer, so they say, to our security problem. Then we begin to count the cost of that answer: liberty, dollars that might well have been spent for peace (e.g. for education), and in the end, just what we were looking for—war. Or will Russia give up the contest in a hurry and accept a poor second place in the race? To believe that her hatred will not increase in direct proportion to our war production is to credit her with a forbearance, which if she possesses makes such an arms race unnecessary. Her fear is the main threat to our security.

What can an average citizen do, if, like the present writer, he resents having himself talked into a war that might well be avoided? For one thing, we still have the legislative process. He can write and wire and write again to the men who do make the laws and tell them what he—the one who determines that stateman's job—wants done. If he doesn't know what he believes about our country's stand in her fight against Communism, let him write that congressman and have him commit himself. At least, this let him tell the man who makes the laws that he, the citizen, is very much concerned that before he grabs his rifle again, he wants to be jolly well sure that the peaceful way, yes the Christian way, was at last given a whispering chance.

Can you imagine the reception that a congsessman would receive should he stand one day on the floor and demand universal world disarmament? The "get tough" boys would laugh him off the floor. Why? Because it might work. War might thereby be averted, and nothing like that should happen.

There are men in Congress who should be told how "we the people" feel. In the House: Speaker Joseph Martin; Charles Halleck, Majority Leader; Leo E. Allen, Rules Committee, and our own Representative, Earl C. Michener. In the Senate: Robert A. Taft, Arthur Vandenberg, and Homer Ferguson. How shall they hear unless we tell them?

Respectfully yours,
Donald C. Wilson

HOWDY, FOLKS: Everybody has a good story about Johnny and the school teacher. Let's look these over:

Teacher: "When I say 'I have went' what is wrong with that?"

Johnny: "It's wrong because you ain't went yet!"

Freddy took a long time to show his report card. "Maybe I'd better explain it," he said "A stands for excellent, B is for good, C is fair, and D is what I got."

Teacher asks Johnny, "If you had seven apples and I asked you for two, how many apples would you have left?"

Johnny: "Seven!"

We're Proud To Display The Products That Are Making Tecumseh Famous

Through A Special Arrangement With Tecumseh Products Co. We Are Making A Special Showing Of The Units Built Here

That Tecumseh and its trading area residents may have a better understanding of the many types of refrigeration units now being built at Tecumseh Products Company, we have, through a special arrangement with the company, been authorized to show the several freezing units manufactured at the local plant.

These units will be on display in our show rooms for several days. You will see the famous "hermetics" — the worlds' most popular unit for freezer chests.

Few people realize it, but more freezer chests are equipped with Tecumseh Products Company's "HERMETICS" than with all other makes of units combined.

It also is a fact that Tecumseh Products Comany is the world's largest independent manufacturers of electrical refrigeration. Tecumseh Products Company's products are known and used in practically all of the countries of the world.

It is little wonder, then, that we are mighty proud of Products, and to know that Products is a part of our community.

We believe, however, that there are many people who do not realize just what is manufactured in the local plant; that they do not realize its tremendous importance in the world market.

That then, is why we are making this display possible — that Tecumseh may be better acquainted with its home town products.

This year, Products' payroll will probably exceed $8,000,000 dollars. It employs nearly 3,000 men and women; it is the largest single employer of labor in Lenawee county; it furnishes employment to approximately 2,000 persons who reside outside Tecumseh.

It will pay you to make a special trip to our showrooms in the Ford Building to inspect the freezing units that we will have on display. You then will be able to get some idea of the fine products manufactured here, and to realize just why they are so famous.

We will have the Products models on display for several days. Tell your friends about the showing — made possible through a special company arrangement, and don't miss seeing it.

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR, NUMBER TWENTY-SIX | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MAY 20, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Poppy Day Is Sat., May 29th

APPEAL FOR DISABLED VETERANS AND THEIR FAMILIES MADE BY AUXILIARY

Mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of the men who defended America in two world wars will be among the volunteers who will distribute poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead here on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 29.

Mrs. Carl Thompson, Mrs. Geo. Wittrup, Mrs. Louis Carlson and Mrs. Earle Timm, making up the poppy committee, of Underwood-Orr Post of the American Legion Auxiliary, have reported an enthusiastic response to their call for volunteers from the families of veterans of both wars. All will serve without pay of any kind, the contributions they receive going entirely to the Auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

"Many of our poppy workers this year will be young women distributing poppies for the first time," Mrs. Thompson said. "They will be largely wives of World War II veterans who have recently come into our Auxiliary and are taking up their share of the work.

"Side by side with the younger women will be our older members, women of World War I families. They have been Poppy Day volunteers for many years and have seen the poppy fund bring aid to veterans and their families year in and year out.

"Our junior members, too, will have a part in Poppy Day. They are daughters and young sisters of veterans and they are learning early to serve for the welfare of their community and their country.

"These public spirited women and girls will be on the streets of Tecumseh throughout Poppy Day, offering their veteran-made memorial flowers for everyone to wear. I hope everyone will greet them in the same spirit they are showing and help make the day truly one of remembrance of the war dead and aid for the war's living victims."

Hudson Tigers Down Tecumseh

FIRST LOSS OF SEASON FOR INDIANS, NOW TIED FOR FIRST HONORS

(By Pat Wilson)

Tecumseh lost a close game to the Hudson Tigers last Tuesday afternoon, here. This is the first loss for Tecumseh and, because Hudson bowed down to Milan Friday, the two teams are tied for first place in the L.C.A.A. championship race. There were two big factors which contributed to the Indian defeat. The first was the condition of the playing field. There had been much rain in the previous two and three days and the field was muddy and very difficult to play on. This caused many Tecumseh errors. The other factor was the failure of the Tecumseh team to hit in the clutch. Three times the Indians loaded the bases only to find that the next hitters were unable to hit.

In the first inning for Hudson, they grabbed a three to nothing lead by means of one hit, and three errors by the Tecumseh team. In the first for Tecumseh, Tecumseh got 6 hits but was unable to push over more than two runs and left the bases loaded. In the second inning for Hudson, they started hitting and scored two runs by means of three hits and two errors. Tecumseh didn't score again until the fourth inning, when the Hudson pitcher got extremely wild and walked three men and then Dave VanWinkle got a hit to make the score: Hudson 5, Tecumseh 3.

The winning pitcher was Harry Phillips and the losing pitcher Dave Murphy. Dave VanWinkle was outstanding at bat, by hitting three for four. Jack Gillen got two for three, Dave Murphy and John Cameron both got two for four. Tecumseh got 12 hits as compared to four for Hudson, however Tecumseh had five errors while Hudson had two.

This Tecumseh Reserve Team beat the Adrian Reserves by the score of 5-2. Ron Henkel was the winning pitcher for the Indians. Dick Beasley and Jerry Judd were outstanding at the plate by both getting two out of four.

The funeral service for Michael Grant Peterson was held at the Green Funeral Home Monday afternoon. He was born to Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Mr. Robbins owned The Clinton Local for 17 years and from 1926 to 1929 he published The Morenci Observer. He lived in both communities for some time. Mr. Robbins also at one time published newspapers at Bellevue, Schoolcraft and Swanton, Ohio.

C. This was an outstanding achievement. Miss Aebersold has been awarded a University of Michigan scholarship and will go to Ann Arbor to enter college in September.

Herman Dick is salutatorian. He also has a fine record in Tecumseh high. He has done outstanding work in the F.F.A. for several years and has been reporter for the F.F.A. this year. His condition is reported to be "as well as could be expected."

The shooting occurred about 2:45 a.m., when, according to officers Studnicka attempted to gain an entrance to Mrs. Lupton's home on East Chicago boulevard. The woman ordered him away and threatened to shoot. When he persisted, police say, she fired. Studnicka, in a statement to officers, said that he had had "six or seven bottles of beer," but declared that he was not drunk.

New Sponsor For Town Hall

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO INCLUDE PROGRAMS AS PART OF ADULT EDUCATION

The Town Hall Council, sponsoring a series of Town Hall programs here during the past two years, Tuesday evening voted to turn the management of the organization over to the Board of Education, that the program might become a part of the school's adult education plan. Heretofore, sponsorship has rested with many of the clubs and other organizations in the village.

It was pointed out that Tecumseh's adult education program rates highly with the University of Michigan and the State Department of Public Instruction, and to bring Town Hall under its direction would have a tendency to further strengthen its work in the future.

At the closing meeting of Town Hall, Tuesday evening at the high school, Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker. Mr. Harris reviewed briefly the work that is being done by the Chamber, and told something of its plans for the future.

"I believe that the success of the local Chamber is assured," Mr. Harris declared. "The activities of the first six months of the organization indicate that it is well founded, well organized and is producing results for its membership."

Presbyterians To Celebrate

LOCAL CHURCH TO OBSERVE ITS 120TH ANNIVERSARY ON SUNDAY

The First Presbyterian Church will celebrate the 120th anniversary of its formal organization with appropriate services next Sunday morning, May 23, at the morning worship hour. The Rev. W. E. Rex of Defiance, Ohio, a former pastor of the church, will be the speaker. The St. Andrews Choir and the Junior Choir will sing and there will be other special features in the service. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson, present pastor of the church, will preside at the service.

The first sermon preached in Lenawee county was given by the Rev. Noah Wells, a Presbyterian minister from Detroit. It is recorded that every inhabitant of the settlement of Tecumseh attended this service. From this beginning came the organization of this congregation in 1828 with meetings held in the school house.

The first Presbyterian building, known as the "Session House" was built in 1837. This building still stands on Adrian street where it is used as a private residence.

The present building was dedicated in 1868, free of indebtedness, at a cost of $32,339. Since then various additions and repairs have been made which produced the edifice now in use.

Of the twenty-six pastors who have served this church and community, six are living. Brief messages will be read from these former pastors at the Sunday meeting.

There are twenty members living who joined this communion before 1900. Some of them will be present for this anniversary occasion.

There will be on display in the narthex of the church some of the old records, one of the first communion sets and other things of historical value.

The friends of this church in Tecumseh and other communities are cordially invited to be present for this service.

UNION RESPONSIBILITY

There is one statement in Judge Goldsborough's decision on the government's case against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers which goes to the heart of the controversy. He said that a union must be held responsible for the acts of its members. He added that it was "ridiculous" to argue that hundreds of thousands of men would walk out of their own violation simultaneously.

It is clear that the law is not yet capable of dealing effectively and swiftly with iron-clad labor monopolies. It is clear that some labor leaders are convinced that they are bigger than the government of the United States, the people of the United States, and the welfare and international prestige of the United States. And there is every reason to believe that attitude will prevail again in the future.

The first step must be to bring labor monopolies within immediate reach of the anti-trust statutes. There can be no excuse whatever for continuing to exempt them from the same laws that protect the people against abuses of power by industry. This view has been taken by Senator Ball, among others, who recently wrote that the "traditional American approach is to break up the concentration of power by approaches similar to the Sherman antitrust acts. In other words, to make industry-wide agreements and strikes or lockouts subject to the anti-trust laws." That was done in the House version of the Taft-Hartley Act, but it lost out by a single vote in the Senate.

In any event, the power of a man, a group of men, or an organization to defy this nation cannot be countenanced.

The GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW

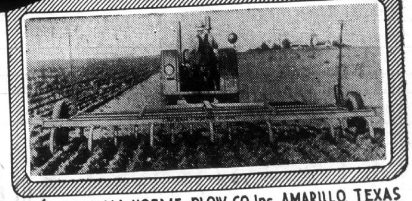
The Revolutionary Plow

Self Sharpening Points • No Side Draft
Extra Light Draft • Nothing to Grease
Plows All Types of Land Without Adjustments
Prevents Erosion by Wind and Water
Cuts Plowing Cost in Half
Doubles Sub-Soil Moisture

BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME

KEEP VEGETATION ON TOP

Nature's own method is to keep vegetation on top. That cuts down evaporation, keeps the soil in place in spite of heavy winds. The Graham-Hoeme Plowing Method with the two-inch chisel, as shown in illustration, permits water to by-pass the top soil into the sub-soil. It's a moisture storage center.



WE HAVE 'EM ON HAND

Manufactured by GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW CO, Inc. AMARILLO, TEXAS

PROVEN FACTS

On the average, enough rain falls on your farm every year to make fine crops. But, after the first few minutes of rain a smooth surface seals itself, causing run-off. It has been scientifically proven that the same field will NOT seal itself when plowed with the Graham-Hoeme All Purpose Plow with a 2-inch chisel furrow every 12 inches. This method by-passes the rainfall through the top soil and keeps a straw mulch on TOP. Upwards of three times the moisture enters the ground.

If the next day is fair and hot, the bare soil would soon be steaming and losing its moisture rapidly, BUT NOT IF THAT GROUND IS COVERED. The Graham-Hoeme Plow leaves vegetation on top to shade and protect, and moisture stays in the soil longer to bridge between rains.

These are not just opinions, but proven facts. A covered corrugated field in a good, brisk rain, will absorb 200 per cent more moisture than a bare field and 60 per cent more than a field with vegetable matter plowed into the surface. To supply this covering for the soil without the expense of artificial cover, and to place the soil in a condition to by-pass the moisture through the top soil is the purpose and achievement of the Graham-Hoeme Plow.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice, Neighbor!

The missus—who writes our Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"—gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply:

"Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider—any more than you have to serve beer ... but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

From where I sit, that simple answer applies to more items than Welsh Rarebit. In a world where everyone has different tastes and ideas—we should recognize those differences—and never deny the right of choice to anyone!

Ask The Man Who Plants Pre-tested Garden Seeds

he'll tell you it pays to be certain of growth

Yes, it really pays, especially at harvest time, to plant pre-tested seeds in your garden.

Pre-tested seeds, you know, are seeds that have been tested by the grower, and found to be "tops" for planting. They cost no more at our store than ordinary seeds.

Forget, then, about the lateness of the season, the rain and cool weather. Plant our pre-tested seeds and let your garden "catch up" with the weather.

We have a large variety — in fact everything in seeds that you'll be wanting to plant.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Alma Tate

Funeral services for Mrs. Alma Tate were held Friday afternoon in the Hause Funeral Home at Clinton. The Rev. Allan Ramsay officiated and burial was in Riverside cemetery, Clinton. The bearers were Fay Anderson and Lester Heeson of Tecumseh, and E. B. Rynd, George Tag, George Lancaster and Frank Rawson, all of Clinton.

Mrs. Tate, prominent in women's organizations in the county for many years, died in the Parrett Nursing Home last Wednesday morning. She was 90 years of age. Born five miles west of Clinton on December 30, 1857, to William C. and Sarah Reynolds Rogers, she has lived in Clinton since 1873, with the exception of one year spent in Manchester and 11 years in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Tate was a life member of the Tecumseh chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, a member of the Tecumseh Monday Club since 1895, and a charter member and past president of the Clinton Woman's Club, formerly the Clinton Culture Club. From 1923 to 1925 she was president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs and it was largely through her efforts that the Women's Congress building was erected at the fairgrounds. She served as president of the Lenawee Historical Society for 17 years, and was general chairman of the Clinton centennial celebration in 1929. She was a devout member of St. John's Episcopal church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. E. A. Clark of San Gabriel, Calif., and a number of nieces, nephews and other relatives. Her husband, Elbert S. Tate, died in November 1932.

What price would you set on your eyes? We believe you'll agree that they're priceless. Treat them that way. Wear your safety goggles!

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Lawhead, a son, Foster Hardesty of southwest of Ridgeway, a brother, Hervey of Aurora, W. Va., and four grandchildren. His wife, three children and a sister preceded him in death.

Rev. R. L. Sheehy officiated at the service and burial was in the Zion cemetery in Ogden township. The bearers were David Taylor, Harley Kimerer, Ernest Spohr, Alva Myers, Merle Lawhead, and George Baker. Friends and relatives were present from Tecumseh, Britton, Blissfield, Palmyra, Adrian, Deerfield, Toledo and Aurora, W. Va.

BIBLE PICTURES ARE NEEDED BY CHURCH

Bible pictures and those concerning Christian life are desired by the primary department of the Baptist church school. Several weeks ago the children sent a few packages of church school papers and pictures to Baptist missionaries in India and have received a thank-you letter, in which the missionaries expressed the great need for pictures. The people there do not read English and therefore the pictures aid the missionaries a great deal in expressing their teachings.

Anyone who wishes to donate pictures can leave them at The Herald office or in the vestibule of the Baptist church.

Sigler Seeks Added Powers

REFORM MEASURES TO GO ON BALLOT IF 167,000 SIGNATURES CAN BE FOUND

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—Wanted: 167,000 signatures to petitions for a November ballot on Governor Sigler's program for state government reorganization.

That's the latest news at Lansing.

It comes from the newly formed Citizens' Committee for Better Government, headed by Laurent K. Varnum of Grand Rapids, president. Varnum is a past president of the State Bar of Michigan.

Petitions would place before the Michigan voters a new amendment to the state constitution. This amendment would require merger of the state's 100-plus state agencies and departments into not more than 20 state departments. The governor would have the right to appoint all department heads. They would serve at his pleasure.

What are these state units? Here are a few examples: Conservation, labor, agriculture, aeronautics, banking, highway, health, economic development, public instruction, insurance, apple, cherry, corporations and securities, crippled children, historical, Mackinac Island, tourist council, public service, safety, racing, teachers' tenure, unemployment compensation, waterways, workmen's compensation, tuberculosis, liquor control, stream control, municipal finance, two state fairs, labor mediation, and office, libraries, plus a long list of examining and licensing boards.

Left for future consideration—unless present plans are changed—are other reforms, rejected by the legislature during the 1948 special session. (1) Four-year term for state elective officials; (2) Power for the governor to appoint attorney general and the secretary of state.

Governor Sigler's changes of mind leave both of these reforms up in the air. They may be revised later. Some mention has been made of the possibility that the governor should appoint all officials except the auditor general.

Assuming that 167,000 persons can be induced to sign the petitions (and some citizens have been known to sign petitions without knowing what they proposed)—then Michigan voters would be asked to judge the following constitutional changes at the November election:

(1) Should a convention be called to revise the state constitution?

(3) Should the sales tax diversion amendment be repealed?

(3) Should present constitutional limitations be removed from salaries of state officials and state legislators?

(4) Should Michigan 100-plus state agencies be merged into not more than 20 state departments whereby the governor would appoint all department heads?

With these proposed reforms, Michigan voters will have plenty to decide in 1948.

Rebuffed by the state legislature which flatly rejected his leading reforms, Governor Sigler has announced he would take the issue direct to the people.

The legislators' decisions indicate that the debate will be vigorous. More centralized power in the hands of the governor will be contested within his party. Not even the governor's so-called "cabinet" is unanimous in its support. The fight will be lively.

Tecumseh Will Honor War Dead

PARADE AND PROGRAM WILL MARK MONDAY OBSERVANCE; STORES TO BE CLOSED

Tecumseh will pay a fitting tribute to its war dead on Monday, Memorial Day, with a parade through the business district and a program in Brookside Cemetery. Stores will be closed throughout the day, and Leon Mix, chairman of the retail merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce, has requested that flags be displayed in the business and residential districts.

Louis Schneider, general chairman of the Memorial Day service, announced today that the parade on Monday would form at 9:30 at the corner of Chicago boulevard and Ottawa street, and move westward on the boulevard to Union street and then north to Brookside. There will be a brief pause at Evans creek while a wreath is placed on the water in memory of departed sailors.

At the cemetery, the address will be given by Dr. John Marvin of Adrian College. He will be introduced by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools. At the conclusion of the program, a salute will be fired and taps sounded. The service will end with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. During the program a plane will fly over the cemetery and drop flowers on the graves.

In the line of march, Mr. Schneider said, will be the high school band, officials and speakers in cars, veterans of the Spanish American War, World War I and World War II, colors and color guard, mounted, firing squad, a flower truck, Boy and Girl Scouts, school children and citizens.

Persons who desire to ride horses in the parade, Mr. Schneider said, should arrive in the park opposite the high school on Ottawa street, with their mounts, not later than 9:15 a.m.

Funeral Held Tuesday For Mrs. Jessie Page, 83

Mrs. Jessie Page, 83, died at the Parrett Nursing Home Saturday afternoon at 12:40 o'clock. She was born September 8, 1864, in Hillsdale county and at the age of five moved with her parents, Melissa Russell Packard and Abijahi Packard, to Raisin township and a year later moved to Tecumseh, where she had since resided.

On September 8, 1881, Jessie Packard was married to Charles Adelbert Page. To this union was born eleven children.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Carl Burch of Tecumseh and Mrs. Edna Worden of Chelsea, two sons, George and Charlie of Jackson, twelve grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, four great-great- grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Rose A. Pangs of Spartansburg, Pa., one brother, Charlie Packard of Blissfield and a number of nieces and nephews. Her husband preceded her in death in 1935, and also four sons, three daughters, three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Collins Funeral Home. Dr. Norman MacNaughton officiated assisted by Mrs. Page's grandson, Rev. Herbert Burch of Celina, Ohio. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were Perry Satterthwaite, Harold Anderson, Leon Rosacrans, Arthur Harding, Ned Baldwin and Donald Wright.

12 Bands Will Participate In July Fourth Celebration

Twelve bands, massed in one of the largest music festivals in many years in Southern Michigan, will highlight Tecumseh's homecoming and Fourth of July celebration, to be staged on Monday, July 5, Wade L. Jones, general chairman of the affair, said today. The affair is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

"Beyond any doubt, the Fourth celebration here this year will be one of the biggest ever attempted by any community in Lenawee county, and should attract 10,000 or more persons," Mr. Jones said. "Already we have acceptances from bands in Hudson, Morenci, Sand Creek, Clinton, Saline, Metamora, Fayette and Lyons, Ohio, Napoleon, Milan, Britton and, of course, our own band here. These bands will play individually and there will be a massed program. Prizes will be awarded for the best marching band, and the best playing band. A contest for drum majorettes also will be staged."

In addition to the band festival, Jones said that in the late afternoon William Henderson of Fayette, O., who holds the world's record for consecutive leaps from airplanes and balloons, will make a triple drop from a radio balloon. The balloon will be moored at Elliott park.

Later in the evening, $1,000 of fireworks will be set off at Recreation Center. It will be one of the largest fireworks displays in the county, Jones said.

"The affair will take on a carnival air," the chairman said, "with concessions, races, ball games, sports of all kinds, a greased pig, and calling contests."

Chester A. Valentine, Clinton Resident, Dies

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Hause Funeral Home, Clinton, for Chester A. Valentine, 66, who committed suicide by hanging himself, Sunday morning. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mr. Valentine, a resident of Clinton for the last 25 years, had been employed at the Clinton Woolen Mills most of that time.

Memorial Service To Be Held Sunday At St. Peter's

A special Sunday service will be held on Sunday in St. Peter's Episcopal church at 11:15 a.m. Members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are invited to be present.

The dedication of the new flag pole erected in the church yard by Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hammel in memory of their son, Lt. Jack W. Hammel, will be held at the close of the service. The choir will lead in special Memorial Day music and the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, rector of St. Peter's will have for a sermon topic "Why Memories?"

Weather permitting the choir and congregation will leave the Church at the conclusion of the service and march to the flag pole for the dedicatory prayer, the raising of the colors and the singing of the national anthem.

Tecumseh school girls will leave on June 22 and return the evening of July 6. The camp will operate as a private camp for boys from July 7 to August 15 as advertised in Parents Magazine and the Tecumseh school boys will come to camp August 18 to September 2. It is still possible to enroll Tecumseh school pupils in the Tecumseh school section of Camp North Woods.

The boys and girls will actually be away from Tecumseh for fifteen days as W. L. Berkhof superintendent has announced that a bus will transport the campers to and from the camp free and about a day is spent on the road. Camp North Woods is three hundred miles north of Tecumseh. Also, he said that all Tecumseh school boys and girls who care to enroll for camp may still do so even though they have not been participating in the school savings program this spring.

The directors are pleased to secure the services of Miss Dorothy Rowen as assistant to the regular water front director for the girls section. The other counselors will be chosen from among the Tecumseh teachers.

Parents who are interested in sending their children to camp and who have not already enrolled them should see James McDowell or David Dick soon for they will leave for camp almost immediately after school is out in June.

Poppy Sale To Aid War Vets

PAPER REPLICAS OF FLOWERS THAT GREW IN EUROPEAN FIELDS ON SALE SATURDAY

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Tecumseh and throughout the nation.

From early morning until nightfall, volunteer workers of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets offering memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the dead of the two world wars.

In exchange for the flowers they will receive contributions for rehabilitation work among the disabled war veterans and for child welfare work among children of veterans.

The poppies, which are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies that grew on the European battlefield of the two wars, have been made by disabled veterans working in hospitals and convalescent workrooms throughout the country.

Poppy Day activities here will be directed by Mrs. Alta Thompson, poppy chairman of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. A large corps of volunteer workers has been organized to distribute the poppies in downtown and neighborhood centers.

"Much depends upon the success of Poppy Day," said Mrs. Madge Lewis, president of the Auxiliary. "On the public response to our Poppy Day appeal depends the Auxiliary's ability to carry forward its work for the disabled war veterans and for the children from whom the war has taken a father's support. We would not like to go to them with empty hands. Poppy Day contributions give us the means to serve them with more than words of cheer.

"But the poppy is more than a badge for those who contribute to our rehabilitation and child welfare work," she emphasized. "It is a symbol of the individual tribute to the war dead—a sign that the wearer holds in his heart a place of honor for those who died for America."

Hospital Has New Equipment

OVER $16,000 WORTH OF IMPROVEMENTS SHOWN TO PUBLIC AT "OPEN HOUSE"

Tecumseh Hospital, observing its 10th anniversary last week Wednesday afternoon with open house, had on display more than $16,000 worth of new equipment, installed during the past two years to make the local institution one of the best equipped in southern Michigan. Scores of persons inspected the hospital during the afternoon.

The newest equipment to be installed is a large X-ray machine, purchased at a cost of $5,000. A part of this expense was borne by the Semark Fund.

An electrocardiograph, purchased by the Hospital Auxiliary at a cost of $600 also was on display, as was new sterilizing equipment, purchased with hospital funds at a cost of $2,500.

An emergency lighting system, recently install..d, cost $1,500. This makes it possible for the hospital to generate electricity for its own lighting system, without the aid of outside power. The board considered this step necessary following the sleet storm of last January when the hospital's electrical current was cut off for several hours.

Other new equipment was on display in the laboratory, purchased by the Hospital Auxiliary at a cost of about $2,000, and additional improvements in the refrigeration room, kitchen and offices has been completed at a cost of $2,000. The latter expense was borned by gifts from the Friends Church and the Semark Fund.

Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent, said today that the hospital is crowded to capacity. There are 35 patients and 15 babies in the nursery. In some instances, hospital beds have been set up in the hall to furnish added room for patients.

Persons visiting the hospital, Miss Spaulding said, were very interested in displays that had been set up. Several of these were in the X-ray room and laboratories, and the operating room was in readiness for surgery. "Of course," she said, "the nursery was the highlight of the inspection tour."

The hospital board of trustees and the village council are now considering plans for a second addition to the hospital, nearly doubling the size of the institution. When such an improvement will be possible, it was said, will depend upon financing.

New Ford Cars Will Be Shown Here on June 18

The new Ford for '49, as revolutionary in the automobile world as the new Lincoln and Mercury, will go on display in the showrooms of Butler Motor Sales here on Friday, June 18, Charles O. Butler, local dealer, said today. Mr. Butler was in Detroit on Monday where, at Olympia, with dealers from the central states, the company held a pre-view of the new cars.

"Of course, I can't say too much about it now, but this much is true," Mr. Butler said. "The new Ford for '49 is truly revolutionary. It is new throughout, and is streamlined. In all of my years with Ford, it is the most unusual car the company ever has produced."

Butler said that the new Fords would be shown nation-wide on June 18, and he expects to have all of the models on display here on that date.

An Editorial

More rigid enforcement of traffic laws in the downtown section of Tecumseh (meaning that area on Chicago Boulevard between Pearl street and Ottawa street), which, in our opinion, is fast becoming a no-man's land for pedestrians and careful drivers, would, we think, have a tendency to correct a condition which is surely becoming dangerous and, at the same time, it would teach certain motorists, (most of them local), that the business section is not a place for "show off" and fast driving.

Since the installation of parking meters and parallel parking, the traffic lane in Chicago boulevard in the downtown area is considerably wider. Certain motorists are finding it to be an area where, with their car in second gear and their foot on the gas, they can cover the distance in the blocks either way from the Evans street traffic light "in nothing flat." Its fun for some drivers, when they can make a four-lane highway out of the district. Apparently they enjoy seeing how close they can drive to the other cars without rubbing fenders and, once in a while, (and recently its been twice in a while), that fenders are rubbed.

While this show of "power and skill" is going on, motorists who are attempting to drive sanely, or who are attempting to park their cars or to get them out of a parking spot, are at the mercy of the show-offs. To miss a fender by a fraction of an inch generally provokes a broad smile and, in addition, another spurt of speed.

We realize that it is impossible for police to pick up every offender of a traffic law. We realize, too, that the installation of traffic lights on the Boulevard at Pearl and Ottawa would have tendency to slow down speed. However, in the meantime, it would appear to us that a sober warning or perhaps a ticket or two might have a telling effect.

CLEAN-UP TIME

The spring and early summer community clean-up is one of the oldest and most valuable of American institutions. It makes for attractive homes and towns. According to medical men, it helps fight disease, by getting rid of germ-filled refuse. And it is absolutely essential to fire prevention.

Many fire departments have on hand self-inspection guides prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The advice given is simple—and it is also vital to domestic and industrial safety. All rubbish in and out of buildings should be gathered up and disposed of. Heating equipment of all kinds should be inspected by experts in order to ready it for hard use next winter, and needed repairs should be made at once. Electric cords, lamps and appliances should also be checked for possible dangers. Flammables, such as paint and cleaning liquids, should be carefully stored, and rags which are used with them should be kept only in closed metal containers.

Careful clean-ups were never more needed than now. Last March alone, fire destroyed over $74,000,000 worth of property—a jump of about 2.5 per cent over the same month a year ago. Unless it is checked, a new high record of waste will again be established this year. Those dollars are represented by lost housing, buildings, food, raw materials, manufactured goods, and everything else that can burn. And along with property, fire takes more than 10,000 lives annually. The spring clean-up can be one of fire's most effective enemies.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It's Leap Year, Girls!

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Janey really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat beside the fire.

"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."

I know it's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)

But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

Lansing — Things we didn't know before department:

Final draft of the state government reorganization amendment, sponsored by the Citizens' Committee for Better Government in Michigan, would give the legislature rather than the governor power to hire and fire department heads. Not more than 18 departments would be permitted.

Twenty-six states have a four-year term for governor, 21 a two-year term, and one (New Jersey) a three-year term.

Michigan has had 33 governors, 20 of whom served for more than one term.

Waste corn cobs are being utilized to make nylon hosiery. (Furfural is produced by Quaker Oats company from cobs; then used by Du-Pont to make nylon hose.)

"Boss" Kettering's new high compression motor, saving gasoline consumption 33 to 40 per cent, will get its first public bow probably in 1949 Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs.

The State Bar of Michigan, taking a cue from the enterprising State Medical Society, has adopted a public relations program, wooing Hugh W. Brenneman away from the medics to head it.

Michigan was 15th in 1947 farm income with a total of $719,484,000. Iowa led with $2,368,962,000.

Michigan Tourist Council reports that every dollar spent for national advertising brought $128 in traceable tourist expenditures.

Beauty shop operators are said to be worried about today's vogue of self-wave kits.

Youths over 18 who enlist in the Michigan National Guard will be exempt from proposed selective service draft. One "if": They must enlist before act is law.

The 1948 reduction in federal income taxes may be the last for some time, if Congress is to avoid deficit financing. Defense expenditures, now running at $11 billions, are due to rise gradually to $22.5 billions by 1953.

Two hundred and sixty-two local governmental units are not spending liquor license revenue for law enforcement, as the law intended: 59 are using only some of the revenue for this purpose, and 304 are spending it properly, according to a state survey.

Michigan's new Economic Development Commission, newest state agency, was given a $198,000 budget by the state legislature . . . The Office of Veteran Affairs will go out of business June 30.

G. Mennen Williams, Detroit attorney, is a Democratic candidate for governor. He quit the liquor control commission Saturday, May 15.

Time was, not so long ago, when I'd go a long way toward buying new equipment, paying wages, expanding service, etc. Today . . . but then you folks know what's happened to your cost of living dollar! THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY EIGHTH YEAR NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JUNE 3, 1948 | FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Will Make Triple Parachute Drop From Balloon 5,000 Feet In Air

A triple parachute drop from a balloon nearly a mile above the earth, accomplished by a flyer who holds the world's record for consecutive jumps from airplanes and balloons, is expected to attract thousands of persons from southern Michigan and northern Ohio to this community on Monday, July 5, when Tecumseh stages an old-fashioned homecoming and Fourth of July celebration.

"The balloonist will be William Henderson of Fayette, O., and he will use the radio-type balloon," Wade L. Jones, general chairman of the local entertainment committee, said. "Mr. Henderson has thrilled thousands with his daring as he soars aloft in the gas-inflated bag to a height of 5,000 feet before he releases his first parachute. Henderson does not use a basket in which to ride, but rather the old-fashioned sling-style seat, popular with acrobats."

The balloon ascension will be made during the afternoon from Elliott park. Henderson already has been here and selected the site.

There will be many other features highlighting the day's program Mr. Jones said, including two baseball games, contests of many kinds, a greased pig, and scores of concessions.

Already 12 bands have been signed up for appearance in a gigantic band festival, to be staged in the afternoon. The bands will come from both Michigan and Ohio and there will be prizes for the best musical group, the best marching group, and for the best majorettes.

"Some 500 musicians will be massed in a concert sometime during the day," Jones said.

In the evening, the top attraction will be the firing of some $1,000 worth of fireworks, one of the largest displays ever to be seen in Lenawee county. The site for the fireworks display has not yet been announced.

Employment In County Slumps

INDUSTRIAL PAYROLLS LOW EST SINCE 1946; AGRICULTURE NEEDS HELP

Payrolls in Lenawee county sank to a new low during the past month, employment in industry being at its lowest ebb since September of 1946, according to a report just issued by Clifford J. Rice, branch manager in charge of the U. S. Employment Service at Adrian.

"Continuing the downward trend of the last four months, employment in the 16 major industrial establishments slipped to 7,479," Mr. Rice's report reads, "while in September of 1946, 7,076 were on payrolls."

"In order to streamline the unemployment compensation program," Rice's report continues, "determinations and payments of benefits are now being made at the Adrian office rather than through the state's central office. During the first week in May, more than $9,700 in checks were issued in Adrian under this new procedure.

"This centralization speeds up payments to claimants by at least a week, centralizes record keeping, and keeps employers currently notified of employment claims filed against their establishments and of charges being made against their accounts. Employers who disagree with action taken on a claim should immediately notify Leo Kelly, principal claims examiner, at the Adrian office."

During April, Rice said, the Employment service placed 254 persons in jobs including 34 women. Manufacturing industries hired 106, agricultural employers hired 78 (including 59 for seasonal or short-time jobs.) Wholesale and retail trades employed 33 with 18 of the placements being for short duration.

A growing shortage of experienced farm labor is evident since all the available jobseekers do not meet the requirements of hiring farmers, Rice said. The farm placement program formerly under the Agricultural Extension Service has recently been transferred back to the MUCC and a specialist in farm employment problems is now available at the Adrian office to aid all interested workers and farmers.

Jack Smith Is Winner In Aircraft Contest

A contest on ground school attendance, flight attendance and best safety record, held recently at the Gottschalk School of Aeronautics at Tecumseh Airport, was won by Jack Smith. Mr. Smith will represent the school at a pilot's regatta in Bay City, June 13. At the regatta, different types of aircraft will take part and the plane flying the triangular course set up for them, using the least gas and in the least time, will be the winner.

Farm Program Planned June 9

"GRASS DAY" WILL BE OBSERVED AT LLOYD RUESINK FARM NEAR TIPTON

County Agricultural Agent, L. G. Hall, this week issued completed details of the Grass Day program to be held June 9 on the Lloyd Ruesink farm, near Tipton. All state and county highways leading into Lenawee County will be posted with signs to assist drivers in reaching the Grass Day area. Cooperatively between the County Highway Department and the county sheriff's department, a one way traffic pattern will be established and enforced on the roads in the immediate vicinity of the Ruesink farm. Officials are appealing to local farmers to observe these regulations, otherwise nothing but confusion will result.

Demonstrations of new pieces of hay making equipment used in grass land farming is planned for the days' activities. According to Arthur Bell extension specialist in agricultural engineering, Michigan State College and Faye Whelan, Tecumseh, local chairman of the farm machinery committee, different equipment to be displayed and demonstrated and being planned for includes: 7 hay choppers, 7 balers, 4 rakes, 1 hay crusher, 4 mowers, 5 wagons, 4 blowers, 3 bale loaders, power trol grain drill and mower; cultpackers, lime drills and tractors. All manufacturers of hay equipment will make a display that day.

Farmers and their families who attend the Grass Day program will find that arrangements have been made for lunches, drinking water and health service. Mrs. Electa Wilcox, Rome, is supervisor of the noon feeding. Organizations to serve the noon lunch include the following: Tipton Community Church, West Adrian Church, Deerfield Grange and Rome Farm Bureau.

A full day of activities has been planned beginning at 9:30 a.m., fast time, with conducted tours of groups of 40-50 persons each, to demonstrational areas on the farm. E. Longnecker, extension specialist in soils at Michigan State College, will be in general charge of demonstrational areas. Members of the tour guide committee are: L. T. Brighton, Cambridge; Matt Benner, Dover; L. S. Shumway, Madison; Ellis R. Roosa, Seneca; Andrew Lennington, soil conservation service; George Kunze, Madison; James Mitchell, Raisin; Fred Blaker, Medina; John Kellar, Jasper. Assisting the above committee will be members of the Adrian Farmers Night School. In charge of the public address system, organizing the tours, and giving local color will be R. J. Foreman, Manager R.E.A. In charge of the demonstration areas are: Ward Andrews, Monroe county agricultural agent, simulated close grazing demonstration, Blair Woodman, Hillsdale county agricultural agent, wheat demonstrations; Frank Trull, district soil conservationist and Donald Eopelheimer, Branch county club agent, demonstration of legume seeding fertilization; Stanley Culver, Jackson county agricultural agent,

Few Accidents Over Holiday

NATION'S DEATH TOLL NEAR 400 BUT COUNTY ESCAPES WITHOUT FATALITY

Although it appeared that the nation's death toll over the long Memorial holiday week end would near the 400 mark and that a majority of the fatalities resulted in automobile accidents, Lenawee county came through the vacation days without a single traffic death and with only two or three serious motor mishaps.

Eleanora Robison of Tecumseh, was given a summons by sheriff's officers after her car struck one driven by Charles Bays of Rt. 3, Adrian. The accident happened on M-52 north of Adrian.

Mrs. Nancy Hoag, 21, Ann Arbor, suffered a broken jaw, a broken nose and cuts about the face when the car driven by her husband, Earl, 26, struck the rear of a car driven by Austin Miller, 26, of Tecumseh. The accident happened on Miller road a half mile south of US-112, at 10 p.m., Monday. State police charged Hoag with not having his car under control. Mrs. Hoag was treated at Tecumseh hospital and later removed to University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Miss Edith Ross, 30, Detroit, suffered a broken jaw and back injuries Saturday at 10 a.m., when the car in which she was riding was sideswiped by a truct and went into the ditch four miles east of Clinton on US-112. W. T. Allen, 36, of Kansas City, the truck driver, was charged with improper passing. Miss Ross was treated at Tecumseh hospital and then released.

MONDAY CLUB MEMBERS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

The Tecumseh Monday Club enjoyed its annual picnic at the home of Mrs. Guy Pocklington at Ridgeway, Wednesday afternoon, May 26. Some 22 members were in attendance.

Mrs. Donald Goddard, president, opened the business meeting and announced the Lenawee County Federation annual picnic to be held at Green Gables with Mrs. Ella Kellar at Devils Lake, June 25 at 1 o'clock. The program included several reports. Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Pocklington gave reports on the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Edith Ingersoll and Mrs. Jennie Satterlee reported on the County Federation meeting and Mrs. Truman Rentschler gave a report of the adult education school held recently in Ann Arbor.

For a number of years she contributed to the Christian Science weekly and monthly periodicals and for the past year has been associate editor. Her many friends throughout the world will be gratified to learn of her election to The Christian Science board of directors of The Mother Church.

PLAN SCAVANGER HUNT

A "Scavanger Hunt," sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held June 11, and tickets are available from every member. The Hunt's starting place has not yet been announced, but it will end at the Polar Bear, east of Clinton.

At a JCC meeting Tuesday evening, Arthur Baaske was named as secretary-treasurer for 1948. New members are being accepted by the organization.

HENRY FORD—PERRY HAYDEN

Tithe Movie To Be Shown Here

HAYDEN'S "GOD IS MY LANDLORD," AT BAPTIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY EVENING

Perry Hayden will show his now-famous color-sound movies, "God Is My Landlord," at the Tecumseh Baptist Church this coming Sunday night, June 6, at 8:30 o.m. The lateness of the hour is due to the daylight saving time. This is the first time that the new revised film of the nationally talked-about tithing demonstration will be shown in the home own.

Inspired by a sermon in September 1940, Perry with the aid of 12 boys from the Macon Ford schools planted a cubic inch of wheat on a plot of land four feet by eight feet in size near the Ford-Hayden mill east of the village. At that time he decided to pay a tithe of the crop to the church, and replant the balance. In 1941 the first crop was one quart. It was cut by sickle, the heads cut off by scissors, and later threshed by a carpet beater, and blown out by lung power in the Hayden home. The first crop of 59 cubic inches was tithed, and the remaining nine tenths replanted across the road from the mill. In 1942 this harvest was cut by cradles, and the crop was 55 times the seed. Again it was tithed, and the nine tenths replanted on an acre of land again furnished by Henry Ford just east of the Tecumseh Hospital. In 1943, with several hundred people looking on, Henry Ford himself came out to witness the cutting and the threshing two Saturdays later. The tithe was taken out and the balance replanted on 14 acres on which is known locally as the old Shull farm, at the southeast corner of the Britton and the Holloway roads one mile east of Tecumseh.

Some 5000 persons attended the colorful 4th harvest, which Henry Ford, his grandson, Henry Ford II, Mrs. Ford, Governor Kelly, and scores of other notables came to witness. WJR radio station broadcast the event and Universal News Reel took a reel story that was released nationally the following week. Life Magazine, July 24, 1944 devoted two complete pages to this harvest.

Successfully in 1945 the harvest of 220 acres was again tithed, and in 1946 the final harvest of 2,666 acres, completed with the aid of 276 farmers of 30 faiths and creeds, produced 72,150 bushels of grain. A large portion of the tithe in 1946 was sent overseas for famine relief.

Hundreds of local people appear in various scenes of "God Is My Landlord." Most of the scenes were taken by Ralph Comfort owner of the Comfort Tile Yard. Perry Hayden has shown the film in some thirty states of the Union besides in Mexico and Canada, to audiences as large as 6,000 persons.

There is of course no admission charge, but a free will offering will be taken, going to the Dynamic Kernels Foundation and to the Tecumseh Baptist Church radio fund.

AUXILIARY MEETING

CROWNED QUEEN OF MAY AT INDIANA COLLEGE

Miss Carol Jean Cox, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Carl C. Cox, had the honor last week of being crowned Queen of May at Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Ind., where she is a junior this year. This honor is won by popular vote of the students, and Carol will reign as queen over the campus until next May when she will crown her successor.

The ceremony was a colorful affair, with each of the seven candidates dressed in white formals. Until the very last minute only one teacher knew who was selected and when she presented Carol with the largest corsage the secret was out.

Miss Cox will take some classes at the University of Michigan this summer and plans to return to Indiana Central as a senior next year.

$5,000 Damage In House Fire

EDWARD BLASKA RESIDENCE WEST KILBUCK STREET SWEPT BY FLAMES

Fire caused damages estimated at $5,0000 Thursday afternoon at the Edward Blaska residence, 109 West Kilbuck street. The Tecumseh fire department was summoned at 1:20 p.m. and brought the flames under control shortly thereafter, but remained at the scene for two and one-half hours.

The fire started from an oil stove in the kitchen on which a boiler of water was being heated. Mrs. Blaska was in the yard when she noticed smoke pouring from the rear windows of the house. The rear of the residence was completely burned out and the second floor was damaged extensively by fire and water. Much water damage also occurred on the first floor. They were unable to remove many of their belongings from the burning building.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steele and their family reside in the other side of the two-family house. They removed their furniture. The only damage in their side of the house was from smoke.

A Detroit party owns the house. Fireman answered another call Tuesday about 12:30 p.m. when rubbish was found burning behind Shorty's Texaco station, North Evans street. No damage to the building resulted.

Hundreds See Holiday Parade

DR. JOHN MARVIN DELIVERS MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS AT BROOKSIDE CEMETERY

A fitting tribute to its war dead —with one of the largest parades to be staked in Tecumseh in many years—marked Memorial Day in this community, Monday. This village, as did all Lenawee county and Michigan, because the holiday fell on Sunday, observed a long week end, and the weatherman cooperated with two days of sunshine and temperatures in the 70's.

The parade, under the direction of Louis Schneider, was, beyond doubt, the largest and the best staged here in many years. It formed on Ottawa street, and moved westward on the boulevard to Union street and then to Brookside cemetery where the program was presented.

Dr. John Marvin of Adrian College, was the Memorial Day speaker in a brief but fitting memorial, he warned that the peace of the future will and must depend upon our desire for peace. At the conclusion of the program, taps were sounded and there was a volley by a firing squad. During the service, an airplane flew over the cemetery and dropped flowers on the graves and into Evans Creek in memory of departed sailors.

Hundreds of people lined the streets and were at the cemetery for the parade and services. Brookside this year was unusually well prepared for the holiday and caretakers received many compliments for their efforts.

Stores and offices, generally speaking, were closed here from Saturday night until Tuesday morning, and traffic into and through the village was very heavy. There were many reunions and picnics locally, and in the lakes area scores of cottage owners spent a greater part of the long week-end preparing their summer homes for the warm weather season.

ASHES ARE BURIED IN RIDGEWAY CEMETERY

On Saturday, May 29, at 3 p.m., in Ridgeway cemetery, a service was held at the Waring lot by the Rev. G. Hallouer when the ashes of Mrs. Ella Waring were interred beside those of her husband, Dr. Guernsey P. Waring and her only son, Richard. Mrs. Waring was born on the Cadmus farm in Macon, August 13, 1853, and died at her home in Harvey, Ill., February 28. She was married in 1886 to Dr. Waring and lived in the Waring home in Ridgeway until they moved to Chicago in 1893. Surviving is one daughter, Ruth Ann, who came with her husband, William J. Luke and Miss Sarah Palma of Grand Rapids, for the service. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Zeluff of Britton.

Mrs. Waring was the daughter of Richard Cadmus, who lived to be over 100 years old and the only sister of Wallace P. Cadmus, who died many years ago.

EVERYTHING BUT THE MOO!

Human nature being what it is, most of us kick about the price of our pork chops and T-bones. However, we shouldn't aim our resentment at the people who run the complicated machine that turns steers, hogs and lambs into meat.

The worlds' largest food manufacturers are the meat packers of America. And the American Meat Institute recently issued some interesting figures in what happened to the average dollar received by the packing industry in 1947.

Nearly eighty cents of it, first of all, went to farmers and livestock producers. This means that the money was pumped into every corner of the country and was a very big factor in promoting agricultural prosperity. Payrolls took 8.4 cents. Supplies, transportation and miscellaneous charges accounted for 8.3 cents. The government, through taxes, got its palm crossed with silver to the tune of 1.4 cents. After paying all expenses, the meat packers had a net profit averaging 1.5 cents out of each dollar of sales—a profit so small as to not affect appreciably the price of meat to the public. That 1947 profit, incidentally, was close to a cent less per dollar of sales than in 1946.

Meat is a staple in the American diet, even as it is the source of the farmer's largest cash income. And the remarkable efficiency with which the packers operate is largely responsible for that. Nothing is wasted—hides, horns, hooves, bones and hair and everything else is put to some use in the manufacture of by-products, running an amazing gamut from fertilizer to insulin! Thus meat can be offered to us at the lowest possible price.

Mr. Jump, Clinton agricultural teacher, was chairman of the day. The cows were arranged in a show ring and Mr. Jump explained how the new system of judging dairy cattle is carried out. Then the students placed the cows the way they thought they should be placed. There were three different classes to judge. After the judging was completed the correct placings were given by the manager of the Arnos Farms. A discussion was held explaining why the cows were placed as they were. Reasons were given by the students and the manager helped the fellows in learning to correct their mistakes. After the judging the boys were taken through the barns. The day was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW

The Revolutionary Plow

Self Sharpening Points • No Side Draft
Extra Light Draft • Nothing to Grease
Plows All Types of Land Without Adjustments
Prevents Erosion by Wind and Water
Cuts Plowing Cost in Half
Doubles Sub-Soil Moisture

BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME

KEEP VEGETATION ON TOP

Nature's own method is to keep vegetation on top. That cuts down evaporation, keeps the soil in place in spite of heavy winds. The Graham-Hoeme Plowing Method with the two-inch chisel, as shown in illustration, permits water to by-pass the top soil into the sub-soil. It's a moisture storage center.

WE HAVE 'EM ON HAND

Manufactured by GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW CO., Inc. AMARILLO, TEXAS

PROVEN FACTS

On the average, enough rain falls on your farm every year to make fine crops. But, after the first few minutes of rain a smooth surface seals itself, causing run-off. It has been scientifically proven that the same field will NOT seal itself when plowed with the Graham-Hoeme All Purpose Plow with a 2-inch chisel furrow every 12 inches. This method by-passes the rainfall through the top soil and keeps a straw mulch on TOP. Upwards of three times the moisture enters the ground.

If the next day is fair and hot, the bare soil would soon be steaming and losing its moisture rapidly, BUT NOT IF THAT GROUND IS COVERED. The Graham-Hoeme Plow leaves vegetation on top to shade and protect, and moisture stays in the soil longer to bridge between rains.

These are not just opinions, but proven facts. A covered corrugated field in a good, brisk rain, will absorb 200 per cent more moisture than a bare field and 60 per cent more than a field with vegetable matter plowed into the surface. To supply this covering for the soil without the expense of artificial cover, and to place the soil in a condition to by-pass the moisture through the top soil is the purpose and achievement of the Graham-Hoeme Plow.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticize temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer... who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law —there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, "yranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.

MULTIPLE DEATH ACCIDENTS IN MARCH CAUSE SHARP RISE IN MICHIGAN

The downward trend in traffic fatalities in recent months was reversed in March, when 94 persons lost their lives on Michigan highways, an increase of nine over the same month a year ago, according to a summary prepared by the State Police.

The change, however, was attributed largely to a series of multiple death accidents. Six persons were killed in one mishap and three in each of three others, a total of 15.

In all there were 12,025 reported accidents during the month and 2,801 persons were injured. Accidents increased 9.5 per cent and injuries were up 11.6 per cent over the same month of 1947.

Rural deaths gained sharply, mostly as the result of collisions between vehicles, while urban deaths decreased one-third. Pedestrian deaths also declined.

There were 244 persons killed and 8,024 injured in 37,024 accidents reported during the first three months of the year. Compared with the same period of a year ago, deaths decreased five per cent, injuries increased 10.6 per cent and accidents were up 4.7 per cent. Fewer deaths resulting from collisions with railroad trains accounted for most of the cumulated fatality reduction.

Mileage for the first two months of the year increased 12 per cent over the same period a year ago, and the death rate of 5.74 per 100 million miles of travel was down 22 per cent on the same comparative basis.

Have You Ever Planted

PRE-TESTED GARDEN SEED

If you have never planted pre-tested seeds in your garden, we'd like to suggest that you do so this year. Pre-tested seeds, you know, are those that have been tested by the growers and found to be speedy in growth and certain to produce an excellent harvest.

We have an excellent supply of pre-tested seeds in all of the wanted varieties. They cost no more than ordinary seeds, and we'd suggest that this year, due to the lateness of the season, you hurry up your garden by planting them.

BIRTHS ON DECLINE BUT CENSUS GROWS

Michigan's census continues to climb in spite of the fact that less babies were born in the first three months of this year than in the same period a year ago.

There were 20,716 more births than deaths during the first quarter of 1948, but births continued to decline from their 1946-47 high.

First quarter births numbering 35,214 were 5,994 above the five year average, but 3,618 less than the 1947 record first quarter. The greatest number of births in any quarter occurred in the last quarter of 1946 when 44,675 babies were born in the state.

Deaths during the quarter maintained the five year level. There were 14,498 deaths in the first quarter of 1948, and 14,485 deaths in the first quarter of 1947. The five year agerage for the quarter was 14,425 deaths.

Inevitable

A wealthy old woman who was very ill sent for her lawyer to make her will.

"I wish to explain about the disposfion of my property," she said weakly.

The lawyer was sympathetic. "There, there," he said. "Don't you worry about it; just leave it to me."

With resignation the old woman said:

"I suppose I might as well—you'll get it anyway."

LENAWEE COUNTY JERSEY HERD WINS RECOGNITION

Columbus, Ohio—The herd of registered Jersey cattle owned by C. M. Brown, Tecumseh, Michigan, is announced by The American Jersey Cattle Club from their offices here as having completed a year's work in official Herd Improvement Registry testing with an average production of 8633 pounds milk and 459 pounds butterfat per cow. The herd contained an average of 18 milking cows during the year.

All tests on this herd were conducted by the Michigan State College and verified by The American Jersey Cattle Club.

In accomplishing this production Mr. Brown's herd has joined the select group of Jersey herds in which the cows have produced more than two times the amount of butterfat obtained from the average dairy cow in the United States.

By Gene Alleman

(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—An answer to the eternal question — why does government cost so much? — was provided recently by Governor Kim Sigler and Thomas J. Wilson, director of civil service.

Wilson pointed out that 3,215 new employees had been added in the past five years as a result of new activities, most of which were authorized by the legislature. Another 2,300 employees were hired to take care of an added load of work due to a 16 per cent increase in population.

Governor Sigler pointed out that if people wanted increased services from the State of Michigan, they must expect to pay for it.

A good illustration of how public services expand is found in Michigan's newest state agency, the Michigan Deparment of Economic Development.

The legislature set up this agency at the request of Governor Sigler. In his inaugural message January 2, 1947, Sigler recommended that the Michigan Planning Commission be abolished and a Department of Economic Development be created. Here is an excerpt: "I believe we can agree that the development of the economic, social, and physical well-being of the State has become a established function of State government . . . All of the States of the Union, except three, have recognized this responsibility."

Heading the Economic Development department is Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce of Houghton county, a retired army career man. General Royce is director at $9,500 a year. Administrative director is Don C. Weeks, former head of the disbanded planning commission, at $8,500 a year. The year's budget is $198,000.

What will this new agency do?

The year's program was adopted by the commission at its May meeting in Lansing. Here are some highlights: Assisting communities to make industrial surveys, such as has been done in the Upper Peninsula; including Michigan industries to consider Michigan locations when planning branch plants; development of rural industries; industrial land use; model township building code; special economic studies such as the state's transportation needs; publicity of the state's economic resources; and quarterly reports on economic conditions and trends.

The commission believes the state highway department should supplement its auto ferry service at the Straits by a similar service "between additional points." Frankfort to Menominee has been mentioned. A fast daylight streamliner passenger train schedule connecting Upper and Lower peninsula cities is also suggested.

The new departments' value will be judged in the future by what it accomplishes. Again, the agency illustrates the point that growth of public service is usually the result of demands made upon the legislature. We get what we are willing to pay for.

Police To Have Two-Way Radio

WILL BE INSTALLED IN PATROL CAR; EXPENSE TO BE PAID BY PRODUCTS CO.

Tecumseh's police patrol car will soon be equipped with 2-way radio, making possible immediate communication with the county sheriff's office at Adrian, as well as police in Jackson and Ann Arbor. It was announced today. The cost of installing the radio, about $500, will be paid by Tecumseh Products Co., R. W. Herrick, its president, said.

Leo Smith, police chief, said that the installation would be made as soon as approval could be obtained from communication commissions at Lansing and Washington. He said that the proposed had the approval of the sheriff's department and Michigan State Police.

"With a radio in our patrol car we can instantly contact the sheriff at Adrian, or police in nearby cities," Chief Smith said. "We have needed such equipment for a long time and now, thanks to Mr. Herrick, it will be available."

Mr. Herrick said that he became interested in a police radio a few weeks ago, after a hit-run driver was involved in an accident here. The offending motorist would not have escaped, he declared, if local police had had radio equipment.

The council approved the radio installation at its regular meeting on Monday evening. It also authorized the closing of Chicago boulevard in the downtown district on Monday, July 5, the day of Tecumseh's homecoming celebration.

Bids were requested for the installation of water mains in East Brown street, and in Herrick park area, not later than June 28. The grading of Union street, north of Brown street, was ordered, and the Top Hat Soda Bar was given tentative approval for dancing in the basement of the building.

Members of the board of review, named by Marvin Watkins, president, are A. B. Hammond and Lester C. Rogers.

Bible School Opens Monday

PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL VACATION PROJECT ANNOUNCED BY CHURCHES

The Tecumseh Daily Vacation Bible School will open Monday, June 21, at 9:15 a.m. in the high school. All children between the ages of four and 14 years may attend this annual project sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association.

Under the leadership of the dean, the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, the school will operate in four main departments, Beginners of 4 and 5 years old in charge of the Friends church, the Presbyterian church will have the primary children of 6, 7, 8 years, the Methodist church the juniors of 9, 10, 11 years, and the Baptist the intermediate department for 12 to 14 year old pupils. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson will act as secretary-treasurer of the school, the Rev. B. O. Bashore, chaplain, the Rev. Dr. MacNaughton is consultant for the school, and the Rev. Edward Escolme will be in charge of the department of visual education. Leaders for recreation and music will be provided by the Episcopal church.

The expenses of the school are borne by the daily offering taken in the opening chapel service and the closing service on Friday. In this way the children have an experience in stewardship and share in the support of their program.

Sessions will be held from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. from Monday to Friday beginning June 21 and closing July 2. On Friday evening, July 2, at 7:30 p.m. all parents and friends and the general public will be welcome to the closing service and presentation of a special program by the children.

FBI AGENT SPEAKS TO THE ROTARY CLUB

Interesting events in the life of an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were told to members of the Rotary Club following dinner at Brees House on Tuesday evening when C. H. Kast, agent connected with the FBI in Detroit, was the speaker. He was the guest of P. C. Satterthwaite.

Mr. Kast reviewed briefly two cases with which he had been connected and declared that today science plays an important part in crime detection. The crime that undoubtedly would have been classified as a mystery 20 years ago today unfolds in the laboratories of the Federal Bureau.

The New Revolutionary Ford

The revolutionary new Ford four-door sedan for 1949 is lower, wider, roomier and provides nearly 25 per cent more visibility.

New 1949 Ford Is Revolutionary

WILL BE SHOWN HERE ON FRIDAY, JUNE 18, BY BUTLER MOTOR SALES

The 1949 Ford, which reveals a radical departure from traditional Ford styling and engineering, was made public today by the Ford Motor Compay. It will be shown here on Friday, June 18, by Butler Motor Sales, local dealers.

"New standards of beauty, comfort, economy and performance in the 1949 Ford passenger cars advance them far ahead of others in the low price field," J. R. Davis, vice-president and director of sales and advertising, said "Styling of the new Ford definitely establishes it as the car of the year."

To develop and produce the 1949 Ford passenger cars, Ford Motor Company has expended more than $37,400,000 in tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

STYLING —The modern design has been molded along functional lines resulting in a long, low sweeping silhouette. The grille is distinctive, the hood massive but shorter and the body so wide the rear fenders have been eliminated. There are clean, unbroken lines from front to rear.

COMFORT — Comfort has been one of the primary objectives in the new Ford. There is more room in the "lounge car" interiors than in many cars with much larger over-all dimensions. Front seat widths have been increased six inches and the rear seat nearly eight inches. The body has been moved five inches forward with the seats cradled between the axles for a much smoother ride.

$125,000 Country Club Here

A program was launched today for the building of a new $125,000 Tecumseh Country Club, following a meeting of some 40 business and professional men in the offices of Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Company, Wednesday afternoon.

The club would be located on a 160-acre site, to be purchased from Ford Motor Co., on the south side of the highway and just east of the Grange Hall. It would be only a stone's throw from Herrick Park, where 176 new houses are being constructed.

Plans call for the construction of a cement, brick and steel club house, a swimming pool, caddy house and locker room, a 9-hole golf course, and a 5-room dwelling for the caretaker and his family. Building would start immediately.

The club would be open 12 months in the year, for both summer and winter sports. The main lounge and dining room, 30 x 70 feet, would accommodate large community parties.

Later, it was said, another 9-hole golf course would be developed.

Night Softball Is Coming Soon

NEW LIGHTS INSTALLED AT RECREATION; EXCHANGE AIDS IN PROJECT

Night softball games, boxing and wrestling will appear on the summer program at Recreation Center this year, as a result of the installation of some 30 new flood lights at the field, it was announced today. The new lights are now in place, and a dedication service will be held, probably the end of the next week.

The new lighting system, in addition to the lights already installed on the gridiron, cost about $3,000. The expense of the project is being underwritten by the Center's board of control and the Tecumseh Exchange Club. The latter organization now has programs under way to assist in defraying some of its share of the expense. It also is hoped that collections and admissions at the field this summer for the several entertainments planned will further swell the Center's treasury.

The new "light as day" lights will give the field a Class B rating, it was said, considered exceptionally high for communities the size of Tecumseh.

Parents Watch As 57 Graduate

COMMENCEMENT ACTIVITIES HERE LAST THURSDAY EVE BRING END TO SCHOOL YEAR

A capacity audience of parents and friends filled the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, when 57 members of the senior class received their diplomas. The Rev. Marshall R. Reed, pastor of the Nardin Park Methodist church in Detroit, delivered the commencement address, using as his subject "To Put The Future On The Throne." The ceremonies brought an official end to public school activities here until next fall.

Many baskets of spring flowers decorated the stage and to this the graduating class marched as the processional was played by Miss Arlene Peugeot. Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the Tecumseh Baptist church, gave the invocation.

In his salutatory address, Herman Dick expressed thanks to the parents, teachers and friends for their guidance throughout the school years which was so willingly offered. Miss Anna Aebersold, in her valedictory address said, in part, "If we are to make a success of our lives, we must learn to apply the principles taught us in the classroom."

"A Hymn to Music" was sung by the high school girls chorus, under the direction of Miss Peugeot and Mrs. Gordon Miller sang "A Perfect Day."

Superintendent W. L. Berkhof presented scholarships to Miss Aebersold and Miss Patricia Wilson. In a brief talk Mr. Berkhof recalled that the graduating class were kindergarten students his first year in the Tecumseh schools and feels as if he were one of them because, he too, is leaving. The Berkhof family will move to Mt. Clemens in July, where he becomes superintendent of schools.

James McDowell, principal, presented the class of Jerry W. Spafford, a member of the board of education, who in turn presented a diploma to each member of the class. Rev. B. O. Bashore pronounced the benediction.

Repeat Showing Of Tithe Movie

HAYDEN PICTURE WILL BE SHOWN SUNDAY EVE IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Due to popular request, Perry Hayden's Dynamic Kernels film, "God Is My Landlord," will be shown again this coming Sunday evening, at the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church at 8:30 p.m., daylight time.

Last Sunday evening a crowd, estimated at three hundred persons, filled the Tecumseh Baptist church to see the first local showing of the color-sound film, that has created such widespread interest not only in the United States, but in Canada and in Mexico as well.

Mr. Hayden stated last Sunday night at the Baptist church that if he were in a position to present a million dollars in cash to the churches of Tecumseh, it would not mean as much to the churches or to the town as if every member became a tither.

"If every member of a Tecumseh church paid a tithe of his income to his church, there would be around $200,000 a year available for the program of the church, instead of around $30,000 a year as at present," he said. "Think of the good that could be accomplished in Tecumseh with a chest like that!"

The movie, produced by McHenry Films of Chicago, was taken largely by Ralph Comfort, of Tecumseh, with supplementary shots contributed by seven other amateur movie fans who attended the various harvests of the Dynamic Kernels project, from 1941 through 1946.

Charles Hay, state commissioner of agriculture, with residence at Morenci, will speak briefly. A special section of the church will be reserved for members of the Grange, with Clarence Kleidinst, master of the Pomona Grange, also being present. A song service will be led by William Berkhof, superintendent of Tecumseh public schools.

There will be no charge, but a free will offering will be taken for the Dynamic Kernels Foundation.

Mrs. Louis Schneider and Mrs. Laine Holden were appointed as delegates of the Underwood-Orr post, American Legion Auxiliary, to attend the National Convention to be held in Grand Rapids, August 19 to 23, at a regular meeting of that organization, Monday evening. Some 30 members were in attendance. Mrs. H. B. Lewis and Mrs. Joe Russell were appointed alternates.

The nominating committee to report at the September meeting were appointed as follows: Mrs. Florence Howe, Mrs. Helen Bowen, Mrs. Alice Schneider, Mrs. Jessie Slugter and Mrs. Joan Rosacrans.

An announcement was made of the district meeting to be held at Blissfield, July 25. Other routine business was enacted.

The next meeting will be September 13 at the Schneider cottage at Wamplers Lake with a potluck supper in the evening. Mrs. Olga Smith and her committee served refreshments.

The Past Noble Grand Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Glancy on West Chicago Blvd.

Kroger Plans Super Market

WILL BE OPENED THIS FALL ON SHULL PROPERTY, PURCHASED BY H. VAN CAMP

Construction of a large supermarket on the former Shull property, just east of Ottawa street on Chicago boulevard, was announced at a dinner here on Monday evening by the Kroger Grocery & Baking Co. The new store will be 50 feet in width and 130 feet in length, and there will be an adjoining parking lot of sufficient size to accommodate 100 cars.

The Shull property, which has frontage on the Boulevard and Ottawa street, recently was purchased by Hubert VanCamp, of the firm VanCamp & Riley, and the Kroger company will lease the building from Mr. VanCamp. Construction of the building will be started soon and it is hoped that it will be completed in October.

"The store will be of the latest design in self-service stores," Carl Fuller, Kroger Toledo branch manager, said in making the announcement. "It will be equipped with new streamline shelving, self-serve refrigerated fruit and vegetable department, and self-serve dairy and frosted foods department. There will be roomy aisles, fluorescent lighting throughout, and new type check-out stands will afford customers the maximum convenience in shopping." Mr. Fuller estimated that the store's stock and fixtures would cost some $50,000.

The Kroger company was host to the Tecumseh store personnel, nine officials of the company from Toledo, and other local guests, at a dinner served Monday evening at Brees House.

"This dinner serves a three-fold purpose." Mr. Fuller said in a brief address. "First, it is my pleasure to award the Mrs. Smith trophy to the manager of the Tecumseh store, Harvey Wilson, and, second, to award to Burdette Kizer, Kroger district manager, and Mrs. Kizer, a one-week all-expense paid trip on the Great Lakes, and third, to announce the new, modern store for Tecumseh. It is indeed a happy day for both Tecumseh and the Kroger company."

The Mrs. Smith award was won by Mr. Wilson and the personnel of the local store last month in a contest in which 80 stores competed, including stores in Adrian, Jackson and other cities. The stores were graded for cleanliness, display, courtesy and many other standards and the local store won over all others. Mr. Fuller, in presenting the cup, congratulated Mr. Wilson and the personnel for their excellent record.

The vacation cruise won by Mr. and Mrs. Kizer, who live here, was presented for excellence in a six-district contest, in which the local district placed first.

"We surveyed Tecumseh carefully before we decided to open a large supermarket here and we are satisfied with what we found out about the town's future," Fuller said.

Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, and Earl L. Wickwire, president of the Chamber, spoke briefly concerning Tecumsehs' growth and of its future.

Top Hat Soda Grill Will Open Tomorrow

The Top Hat Soda Grill, located at the corner of Mill and Brown streets, will open formally tomorrow, its owners Hal Lewis, Jack Gooding and Jack Osburn, announced today.

The one-story building is of cement block construction. Its interior is strictly modern and the furnishings are the latest in restaurant equipment. The Top Hat is featuring sandwiches, short orders, steaks and chops, besides the regular line of ice cream. On the opening day, free coffee will be served and, to purchasers of ice cream, tumblers will be given free.

FORECASTING PRICE TREND

Will commodity prices go up? Go down? Stay where they are?

Newsweek recently asked 50 leading economists, connected with business, labor, governmental, statistical and educational institutions to forecast the price trend for the balance of the year. Twenty-six thought prices would continue upward; 14 said they will remain about the same, and the remaining ten believe they will be lower by the year's end.

Averaging the answers, the consensus is that prices won't change substantially one way or the other. That may be a disappointment to the consumer, who has watched his dollar shrink like wool in water, but it is completely understandable. Spending—by government business, and the individuals—goes to higher and higher peaks. The vast sums being spent for foreign aid and military purposes will further strain the supply-demand balance. And millions of Americans have a higher standard of living than they ever had before.

So, when you go shopping, don't expect to find a lot of bargains soon. What you will find, however, are merchants who sell you what you want at a far lower profit margin than most people realize. That is true whether you patronize the chains, the independents, the specialty shops, or anything else. The profits per sale are so small, generally speaking, that if they didn't exist at all it would make little difference in your purchasing power. Retail trade, whether we realize it or not, deserves much of the credit for the abundance that exists in this nation.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

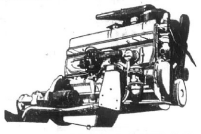
And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet—long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.



REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against tiring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motoring practically fatigue-free.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading "Is This Man?" For instance ...

"He was one of the earliest lovers in American history...

"And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright...

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower...

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims...

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, who returned the clipping to me with "John Alden" on it. She recognized all the clues—including that reference to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her history, knows that beer as the beverage of moderation, is as old in this land of ours as the never-ending American search for tolerance which brought the Pilgrims over to this country in the first place.

New 1949 Ford Is Revolutionary

system is centered around airplane type shock absorbers mounted within low frequency coil springs. In the rear, extra long longitudinal springs are complemented by airplane type shock absorbers.

The drive shaft tunnel has been decreased by adoption of the Hotchkiss drive and the hypoid rear axle. These engineering changes also minimized the transmission of road noises into the car.

Engine vibration has been reduced by literally floating the power plant on rubber mounts.

A new heating system available in the new Ford brings year around comfort to driver and passengers. Fresh air is scooped into the car through large intakes just behind the grille.

The system, which has an automatic temperature control, can be used as a fresh air ventilator, a fresh air heater or as a recirculating heater. Fresh air plus the pressure effect obtained by the car's forward motion reduces fogging and drafts.

ECONOMY — Economy of operation has been increased up to 10 per cent improvement in gasoline mileage for the new six-cylinder engine and the extensively redesigned V-8. Both are offered as power plants in all Ford models. Other engineering features result in better performance and longer engine life.

A new intake manifold achieves better fuel distribution. It is attached to the engine so that it is horizontal to the ground, reducing the tendency of raw gasoline to flow toward the rear cylinders and smoothing engine operation.

The new "equa-flow" cooling system contributes to good performance under extreme conditions by improving general operating efficiency. Water flows in volume the full length of the block. Temperatures in "hot spots" in the six and eight cylinder engines have been decreased by as much as 12 degrees. There are larger water pumps in the V-8.

Improvements in the ignition system also have contributed to increased economy and efficiency.

As much as 25 per cent improvement in gasoline economy may be achieved by taking advantage of the overdrive which is available as factory-installed optional equipment.

SAFETY — New standards of safety have been set in the rugged construction of the chassis and body. The box-type frame is of all-welded construction. Although the frame is lighter, there is 59 per cent more rigidity when combined with the body.

Lowering the over-all height by four inches and placing the seats between the axles results in a lower center of gravity, an aid in safe driving.

The windshield has been increased in height and width and the rear window now provides "picture window" visibility for driver and passengers. The rear window is larger than the ordinary windshield. There is as much as 20 square feet of windows in the new cars.

All doors hinge at the front. Inside handles push up instead of down to open the door. Both features combine to preclude accidental opening of the doors.

PERFORMANCE — Increased performance values are one of the highlights of the new cars.

Steering has been greatly improved. The new Ford may be guided by a minimum of effort even under severe wind conditions. Road shocks has been minimized. This is the result of a newly designed linkage in which the pivot point of the tie rods is on the same center line as the wheels.

Engineering changes in the engines, some of them already mentioned, contribute to smoothness of operation. These include the new cooling system, intake manifold, redesigned combustion chambers and improved crankcase ventilation system as well as other features.

The 114-inch wheelbase, convenient for parking and in moving through heavy traffic, has been retained.

The new six develops 95-horsepower, providing better acceleration in passing and heavy traffic. The V-8 develops 100-horsepower.

Funeral Services Held For O. B. Leonardson

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton for Owen B. Leonardson, 58, of Britton, who died Friday in Tecumseh hospital, where he was taken after suffering a heart attack in his home a few hours earlier. Rev. Gerald Hallover officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

Mr. Leonardson came to Britton 64 years ago and, with his father, opened a dry goods and grocery store. After the death of his father he operated the store alone and in 1916 sold out to his son, Faunt. He was a life member of the Tecumseh Masonic lodge and a member of the Wooden lodge in Britton.

Surviving are the widow Mary, a son Faunt of Wampler's Lake, two grandsons and one brother E. W. Leonardson of Blissfield. Two brothers, C. E. and Vernon John Leonardson preceded him in death.

AT GREENFIELD VILLAGE

Thirty members of the Girl Scout Troops 2 and 7 enjoyed a bus trip to the Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, Monday. They were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Arthur Bowser, Mrs. R. H. Moore, Miss Elizabeth Blohm and Mrs. Walter Pfaus.

COMMUNICATIONS

To The Editor Of
The Tecumseh Herald:

I saw the showing of "God Is my Landlord" for the first time last Sunday. I was first impressed with the fact that it was a worth-while story, well told and presented.

But I was particularly impressed with its story of Tecumseh. By means of this film thousands of persons all over America have seen our town and our people. A Tecumseh citizen can go almost anyplace and identify himself as coming from the town of the great tithing experiment.

It would be exceedingly short sighted of us to fail to inform ourselves about a worthwhile series of events which took place right in our own back yard. Tecumseh citizens can help themselves and their community by seeing and talking about this picture.

Ronald E. Harris, Secretary
Chamber of Commerce

Miss Ida M. Bolyard Weds Charles Bancroft

Miss Ida Mae Bolyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haroid Bolyard of Jasper, exchanged her nuptial vows with Charles Bancroft, son of Mrs. Vira Bancroft of Tecumseh, Saturday evening in the Adrian City Friends church before the altar banked with baskets of white peonies, palms and burning tapers in tall candelabra. At 8 o'clock the Rev. Walter Bailey performed the double ring service, assisted by the Rev. Edward Escolme.

Ruth Beckinick of Columbus played a program of organ music as the guests were being seated by the ushers, Guy Gillen, Charles Manley and Bill Hayden of Tecumseh, Lloyd Fisher of Fairfield, and Robert Baker of Waldron. James Willyard of Penrock, Ohio, attended Mr. Bancroft as best man.

Preceding the ceremony Ronald Ricard of Bowling Green sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always", and during the service "The Lord's Prayer."

White organdy fashioned with a fitted bodice of eyelet embroidery was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Loretta Warner of Tipton was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Nell Townsend, Lois Boyyard, sister of the bride, Delpha Cox of Tecumseh, Alma Jean Coy and Lorraine Parlier of Bedford. Patrick Alexander and little Lynette Baker, carried the rings in flowers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the I. O. O. F. hall in Jasper for some 100 guests. The bridal table was centered with the tiered wedding cake. Those who assisted with the serving were Gwendolyn Fisher, head waitress, Letha Bolyard, Jennie and Margery Dowling and Lois Ann Alderich.

The bride graduated from Adrian high school with the class of 1947 and Mr. Bancroft graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1945.

Friends and relatives attended from Cleveland, Grand Rapids, Clayton, Tecumseh, Jasper, Waldron and Detroit.

Bug's Super Service
HERE'S WHAT THE MARATHON SIGN MEANS

It's the sign millions of midwest motorists look for on the highway. It's the sign that tells them — as it will now tell you: here are gasoline and oil and other petroleum products that assure absolutely top performance for your car.

Our Marathon sign gives red - white - and - blue proof that you can look to Bug's Super Service for the newest and finest developments of the progressive petroleum industry.

For Marathon means "The Ohio Oil Co." and The Ohio Oil Co. has been one of the most progressive, most respected companies in the industry for over 60 years.

Ohio Oil research has been responsible for such outstanding developments as Marathon Seasoned Gasoline and Marathon V. E. P. Oil. And a great expansion program now in progress at Ohio Oil, means even finer products to keep pace with automotive development.

Our introduction of this fine gasoline and oils starts Saturday, June 12 with a free gift with each purchase.

Increased Facilities And Personnel
Assure Faster, Better Customer Service

Constantly we are striving to better our service to our customers; to reduce the "waiting time" for cars being repaired; to assure ourselves and our customers that nowhere else in Lenawee county can a better job of service be done than in our garage in Tecumseh.

In keeping with this program, we are pleased to announce that Mr. Robert Dannells has joined our staff in the capacity of parts manager and assistant service manager. Mr. Dannells is thoroughly trained in Ford service. For three and a half years he was with the Handley Motor Sales, Toledo's large Ford dealer, in the capacity of service manager, service salesman and efficiency man — jobs that gave him a world of experience. In addition, he has attended Ford factory schools.

We believe that the addition of Mr. Dannells to our staff will greatly step-up our service to our customers. In all, we now have 11 full-time employees to serve the needs of the motoring public — many of them specialists in their field.

If you haven't visited our remodeled and enlarged garage we'd like to have you stop in. And, we'd like to be of service to you when your car, truck or tractor needs repair. We're equipped to give you guaranteed service.

The FORD For '49 On Display JUNE 18

The smooth, flowing lines of the 1949 Ford passenger cars are accented by the simplicity of the air-scoop grille. Fresh air for the pressurized ventilation system also enters through the grille.

At Our Show Rooms Don't Miss It!

Yes, the most talked about car in the United States will be on display in our showrooms here on Friday, June 18.

We've seen the new Ford. It's revolutionary. We predict that it will be the most wanted car in any price class.

Be sure to come early for the special showing next week Friday. See for yourself the most sensational motor car in any field.

2- HOUR FIREWORKS DISPLAY TO CLIMAX BIG CELEBRATION

10,000 Expected To Attend Homecoming

"There is every indication that 10,000 persons will attend Tecumseh's Homecoming Celebration on Monday, July 5," Wade L. Jones general chairman of the affair, said today. "We are receiving inquiries from many states regarding the celebration, which promises to surpass any previous homecoming event staged locally."

That it will be a fun-packed day was evident when Mr. Jones announced the program that is being drafted and declared that already a dozen bands from as many cities and villages have indicated their intent to participate in the music festival.

"In all probability," Jones said "there will be 500 musicians in the massed band concert during the afternoon. There will be a great parade of bands, both in the downtown area and at Recreation Center."

Two main attractions of the day will be the balloon ascension and triple parachute drop, during the afternoon, and in the evening a two-hour display of fireworks, costing $1,000. The company from which the fireworks were purchased is sending technicians here to "shoot" the display which will be at Recreation Center.

Chicago boulevard, downtown will be closed during the day to traffic and there will be dozens of concessions, races, and other entertainment in the business area. A 4-H Club junior and senior plowing contest is being arranged, and in all probability there will be a large display of farm implements.

This year the Fourth of July falls on Sunday and the celebration, for that reason, will be held on Monday. All stores will be closed, as will offices and most industry.

Daily Vacation Bible School Opens Monday

The opening session of the Tecumseh Daily Vacation Bible School is scheduled for Monday, June 21, at 9:15 a.m. in the high school. All children from 4 to 14 years of age are welcome.

Sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association the children will be divided into four departments under the direction of the Baptist, Friends, Methodist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches. There will be a chapel service, classes in Bible study and memory work, handicraft, visual education, recreation and music. The sessions will be held each day Monday through Friday for two weeks.

On Friday, July 2, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a closing service and demonstration for the children to display their handwork and memory work. All parents, friends and the general public are invited to be present.

Britton Farmer Hurt When Hit By Tractor

The condition of John Welchner, 70, is improving, according to authorities of the Tecumseh hospital, where he was taken after suffering serious shoulder and chest injuries. He was run over by a tractor he was attempting to crank on his farm, located six and one-half miles north of Britton, last week Tuesday afternoon.

The tractor, in the toolshed, was apparently in gear and it ran over Mr. Welchner and onto a moving machine before it stopped. His screams attracted his wife, who found him caught between the tractor and the plow attached to it.

School Board Election Soon

TWO VACANCIES MUST BE FILLED; NOMINATING PETITIONS MUST BE FILED SOON

Two vacancies on the board of educaton must be filled when the voters of Tecumseh district cast their ballots in the annual election, to be held at the council building, July 12. Those whose terms of office expire are Perry Satterthwaite and Jerry Spafford.

Under the law, nominating petitions of candidates for the school board offices, must be filed with the secretary of the board 20 days prior to the annual election. That would make next Monday the last day for the filing of such petitions which must bear the names of at least 50 registered voters. Dr. Ralph Helzerman is secretary of the board.

Persons who are not now registered to vote in the election may do so at the high school June 28 to July 3, between the hours of 9 a.m., and 4 p.m.

The board, in meeting Tuesday evening, discussed a proposed reorganization of the Tecumseh school district, and believed that such reorganization might come following completion of the new $400,000 high school here next fall. A tentative reorganization area for Tecumseh, as discussed, was as far west as the Grubb district, south to Holloway, east to Ridgeway and northeast to Macon.

The board was advised that the state's check for $3,000 as its share in the educational planning program here was being forwarded to the treasurer.

Earl Place, newly named superintendent, will be on the job July 1, it was said. While there still are two or three vacancies in the local teaching staff, these appointments were announced: Mrs. Martha L. Kuhn, Britton, to teach homemaking, replacing Mrs. Orville Laidlaw; Miss Marie Froutschi, girls' physical education, replacing Miss Agnes Hansen; Mrs. Margaret Heimerdinger, Clinton, kindergarten-first grade; Edward Duvall, Willow Run, physical education; Don C. Smith, Detroit, elementary supervisor.

Officers and directors of Tecumseh's new Country Club were named at a meeting here last week when it was decided to incorporate the new enterprise for $250,000, with one-half, or $125,000 of the stock to be paid in at this time.

The board of directors is composed of Ray W. Herrick, Robert Fuller, Frank Smith, Frank Purcell, L. W. Larsen, C. W. Gilman, Charles Butler, Robert H. Moore, and Ned Baldwin. The officers are: Mr. Herrick, chairman of the board. Mr. Purcell, president, Mr Moore, vice president. Mr. Gilman, secretary, Mr. Fuller, treasurer, and Ronald E. Harris, executive secretary.

The new club will be located on a 160-acre site on Milwaukee road just east of the Grange Hall on the south side of the highway. The land is purchased from the Ford Motor Co. It is planned to build a clubhouse with a main lounge 30 by 70 feet, and there will be a 9-hole golf course, and swimming pool. Later, a second 9-hole course will be developed.

The program calls for the building of the clubhouse this summer, making it available for use in October. The club will be open winter and summer, and winter activities will include skiing and tobogganing.

Figy Praises Kernels Movie

STATE OFFICIAL SAYS WHOLE WORLD NOW KNOWS ABOUT TECUMSEH PROJECT

Charles Figy, Michigan's commissioner of agriculture and whose home is in Morenci, was high in his praise of Perry Hayden's tithing wheat demonstration when he spoke briefly at a meeting at the Presbyterian church here on Sunday evening, preceding the showing of the Dynamic Kernels Foundation movie, "God Is My Landlord."

"The whole world now knows about the tithing project," Mr. Figy declared. The commissioner had encouraged Mr. Hayden through the earlier years of the undertaking and inspired him to form the Dynamic Kernels Foundation.

An audience of some 300 persons saw the tithing film, Sunday evening. It was the second time that the movie had been shown here in a week. A similar crowd attended its showing in the Baptist church.

Last Sunday evening, Melvin Partridge greeted the audience; Mrs. Leo Richards, of Adrian, chaplain for the Pomona Grange, offered prayer; W. L. Berkhof, led in singing. A cello solo was rendered by Miss Camilla Heller of Appleton, Wis., accompanied by her sister, Carla May. Mrs. Mary Jane Wells, of Wilmore, Ky., sang the song "God Is My Landlord" accompanied by her husband, composer of the song. Rev. Donald Wilson, minister of the Presbyterian church asked the blessing on the offering; Larry Payne, program director of Adrian's radio station, spoke appreciatively of Tecumseh and the Dynamic Kernels project, which he said had made the name Tecumseh known around the world. Edward Escolme, pastor of Tecumseh Friends church gave the benediction.

Other individuals present who were recognized as having played an important part in the Dynamic Kernels tithing wheat project were: Ralph Comfort of Tecumseh; C. D. Finkbeiner of Clinton; Floyd Jacob of Manchester; Clarence Kleidinst of Ogden.

Driver Killed In Mishap Here

ROBERT BROWN, 20, PETERSBURG, FATALLY HURT; TWO OTHERS INJURED

One youth was killed and two other young people injured when their car struck a tree in front of Monument Park on North Mill street, Sunday morning at 1 a.m.

Robert L. Brown, 20, of Petersburg, driver of the car, died within 15 minutes after being removed to Tecumseh hospital by ambulance. The car he was driving south failed to make the curve in the highway.

John Goar, 20, also of Petersburg, was removed to the University hospital, Ann Arbor, Wednesday, from the Tecumseh hospital where he was reported to have suffered a fractured jaw and head lacerations. Mr. Goar was riding alone in the rear seat of the Brown car.

Miss Shirley Klantz, 19, of Deerfield, who was riding in the front seat, suffered fractures of several ribs and the breast bone. Hospital attendants said her condition is improving.

Tecumseh police investigated the accident and, after the death of Brown, Coroner Paul Mott of Adrian was called and decided the death was accidental and no inquest would be held.

Mr. Brown was discharged from the U. S. Navy, with which he served almost two years, April 23, 1948. Funeral services were held Wednesday in Petersburg.

New Ford To Be Here On Friday

TWO MODELS WILL BE DISPLAYED BY BUTLER MOTOR SALES IN TECUMSEH

The new Ford cars for 1949 will go on display here tomorrow morning in the showrooms of the Butler Motor Sales, local dealers.

"We will display two of the new models," Charles O. Butler said today. "We will show one of the four door sedans, and one of the two door models. Both cars, the public will find, are as different from last year's Ford as they can imagine. They are lower, roomier, faster, more streamlined, in fact they are a new car altogether."

Arrival of the new Ford, which has been widely advertised as "revolutionary" has created considerable interest locally, Buter said, and the demand to see the new models is expected to be heavy.

The new models, Butler said, would be ready for showing when the sales rooms open tomorrow morning.

Meaning of FHA O.K. Explained

INSPECTIONS RESULT IN BENEFITS TO HOMEOWNERS; COMPLAINTS ARE FEW

"When the Federal Housing Administration issues a commitment to insure a mortgage loan on a house to be built," said George W. Zinky, state director of the Detroit Insuring Office of FHA, in an interview with a Herald reporter, "that commitment carries the implication that the house will be inspected by staff FHA inspectors during construction.

"These inspections are made to assure the FHA that the minimum construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration have been met, and also to assure reasonable conformity to the plans and specifications as submitted," Mr. Zinky continued.

"The FHA at no time has indicated that these inspections constitute architectural service or supervision for the home owner. While the primary purpose of these compliance inspections is to assure the Federal Housing Administration that there is substantial security for the loan it is asked to insure, they naturally result in benefits to the home owner; and while it is true that in some instances there have been complaints relative to construction, the number of these complaints represent a very small percentage of the home owners who are enjoying complete satisfaction with their homes."

Mr. Zinky pointed out that when complaints are received from home owners, the FHA in most cases has been able to obtain the cooperation of the builder to correct many justifiable complaints with regard to original faulty construction.

"When a complaint is made," Mr. Zinky said, "it must be made by the home owner or buyer, and it should recite specific items involving original construction as distinguished from maintenance and repair items. The FHA can not accept generalizations nor unsigned communications. The FHA has occasionally received unsigned communications and of course is unable to act upon them.

"The Federal Housing Administration has no jurisdiction over houses built with non-FHA financing, even though the owner might later apply for an FHA loan as an existing house."

DON'T HOLD YOUR BREATH

You still hear people talking about buying something or other "when prices go back to normal." Anyone has a perfect right to defer his purchasing in hope of a price millenium. But, judging by the evidence, he's going to have a long wait indeed.

The inflationary pressures are as strong as ever. The usual upward wage adjustments are taking place. The national income is still at or near its peak. The government is showing little disposition to economize in any direction. The cost of the European Aid Program and the preparedness program will turn more dollars loose, and lead to more competition for scarce goods. Nothing, in fact, indicates the probability of important price drops for any kind of commodity in general use.

The work of retailers, chain and independent, in aggressively fighting inflation, is a measure of the difficulties encountered. Store have voluntarily cut their profit margins, discouraged consumers from buying high priced wares, worked with manufacturers to improve qualities and lower prices, reduced their overhead to the last nickel, and so on. This has helped enormously to retard increases—but it hasn't caused a swing back to the 1941 price level. There is a definite point past which retailers or any other group can't go and stay in business. They have to make both ends meet like the rest of us.

We all hope for lower prices. But don't hold your breath while waiting.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

Howdy Folks: A pious lady who lived by herself was quite put out because the neighbors had not invited her to go on a picnic with them. On the morning of the picnic, however, they relented and asked her to join them.

"It's too late," she answered. "I've already prayed for rain."

Bob: "You looked dazed, Tom. What's the matter?"

Tom: "My girl's gonna get married."

Bob: "Well, too bad, but forget it. There are lots of girls."

Tom: "That's not it—she's gonna marry me!"

Camilla Satterthwaite and Kenneth T. Munson Exchange Marriage Vows

Miss Camilla Margaret Satterthwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Satterthwaite of Tecumseh, was united in marriage to Kenneth Truman Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Munson of Portland Oregon, at a beautiful double ring service at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Sunday afternoon, June 13, at four o'clock.

St. Peter's church, scene of the wedding ceremony of the bride's parents and grandparents, was decorated with the traditional wedding white. Mixed bouquets of white gladiolas, carnations, calla lilies, stephanotis and fern and long white tapers were used in the scheme. Jack Tomeberger presided at the organ.

The half hour musical service which preceded the nuptials was opened with a violin solo by Miss Joan Heller of Appleton, Wis., cousin of the bride. This was followed by a choral number, by a mixed quartette from the University School of Music at Ann Arbor. Among the other choral numbers and solos was "The Wedding Song" sung by Mary Jane Hayden Wells of Asbury, Kentucky, another cousin of the bride. The marriage hymn, "O Perfect Love" sung by the quartette climaxed the musical prelude to the March from Wagner's "Lohengrin."

The groomsmen were Paul Mobley and M. B. Parker, both of Chicago, Perry Satterthwaite Wood, cousin of the bride, Schnectady, N. Y., and Perry Hayden Satterthwaite, brother of the bride. As the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay entered the chancel, the groom and his best man, David H. Hughes of Detroit, joined the groomsmen.

Miss Elizabeth McNeill of Wilkesboro, N. C., led the bridal procession. She wore an orchid moire' gown with halo hat and mitts of same material, and carried a bouquet of pink Briarcliff roses. She was followed by Miss Barbara Taylor from Detroit, similarly attired in pink moire' and also carrying pink roses. The maid of honor, Miss Beatrice McAuliffe, from Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada, was in aqua taffeta and carried yellow roses. All of the bride's attendants wore pearls to match their gowns, gifts of the bride. Johnnie Naser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Naser, bore the rings on a white moire' pillow, and like all the other men of the bridal party wore white palm beach. He was followed by the flower girl, Carol Ann Berkhof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Berkhof, wearing a floor length gown of yellow organdy and a rose bud in her hair bow. She scattered rose petals before the bride who entered on the arm of her father.

The bride's sleeveless gown, like those of her attendants was in the colonial style fashioned of white moire', it had a fitted bodice with illusion neck and drop shoulders, outlined with folds of material and a full skirt which was modeled over a hoop and ended in a long round court train. The full length circular veil of nylon illusion was caught into a pearl tiara. She wore long white mitts of material matching her gown and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, centered with a natural colored orchid. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon gown of dusty rose crepe with white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was a single natural orchid. The groom's mother was unable to be present.

The bride, Camilla, was given in marriage by her father, Perry Satterthwaite in the double ring service performed by the Rev. Mr. Ramsay, after which the bridal couple turned from the altar and left the church with their attendants to the gay music of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the two hundred and fifty guests at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Clara May Waldron and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Beardsley of Albion, had arrayed the house with a profusion of garden flowers, pink and white peonies, white daisies, syringa and pink and red roses.

The four tiered bride's cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and wedding bells was cut by the bride and groom before they received their guests.

The hosts were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Keeney of Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heller, Appleton, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Satterthwaite of Washington, D. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Naser of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Berkhof and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hayden presided at the punch bowls, while Miss Geneva Satterthwaite and Mrs. Glenn Williams served cake and sandwiches. Others who assisted with the reception were Mrs. Pauline Mattis, Mrs. Russell Thurlby, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw, and Mrs. Ruby Smith of Tecumseh. Mrs. David Hughes from Detroit. Mrs. M. B. Parker and Mrs. Paul Mobley from Chicago.

Instrumental music was furnished by cousins of the bride. Miss Lisbeth Hildebrandt of Ann Arbor, and the Misses Camilla and Carla May Heller of Appleton.

Among the many relatives and friends who attended from out of town were Mrs. F. B. Wood, II from Berkeley, Calif., Miss Eva Norris of Westport, Conn., Miss Asenath B. Hosmer from Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarkston and family, Mrs. Bertha Dickey and son, Robert and fiancee' Miss Louise Jack, Dr. and Mrs. Verner Crane and son, Ted from Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gauss from Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Leslie from Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Cayvan and Prof. and Mrs. Merle Storr and son, Allen from Grand Rapids, Miss Dorothy Ruthruff from Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Birdsall from Albion, Miss Martha Comfort from Battle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keeney from Chicago, Miss Kate Rankin of Ypsilanti. From Detroit there Mr. and Mrs. Harry Satterthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. William Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. Nilo Manso, the Misses Wallin, Harriet Blum, Ruth Ward, and Mary Powrie, James Taylor and Mrs. Helen Lynn. From Birmingham, Miss Florence Staley from Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Ware Detweiler and son, George and Mr. and Mrs. John Garlinghouse and daughter, Susan. Mrs. W. A. Kinsman, the former Edith Corey, came from Newbury Port, Mass. Miss Bertha Mae Kring from New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Langthorne from Farmington. Ronald Wells from Asbury, Ky., Richard Heller from Appleton Wis., and Miss Ruth Eva Satterthwaite from Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Munson left after the reception, by motor for Portland, Oregon, home of Mr. Munson's parents, thence they will proceed to Seattle, Oregon where he is to counsel in a Y.M.C.A. camp located on an island in Puget Sound. Mrs. Munson will assist in the camp store. They will return to Chicago in September, where Mr. Munson will continue his education at George Williams College.

The bride traveled in a summer suit of grey and white stripe stone cutter rayon, with which she wore white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet, which had been caught by one of her cousin's, Miss Betty Hayden.

After being graduated from Tecumseh high school, Mrs. Munson attended for one year Quaker boarding school at Westtown, Pa. Thereupon she entered Albion college which she attended for two years before enlisting in the Women's Army Auxiliary. After two years service in the Army, she attended George Williams College in Chicago from which she was graduated, Sunday June 6, with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Mr. Munson attended college in Oregon, following his graduation from high school in Portland. Enlisted in the Navy, he was assigned to submarine service and participated in many missions in the Pacific area. After four years service in the Navy he entered George Williams College, to prepare himself to become a professional secretary in the Y.M.C.A.

Michigan Mirror

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

A handful of Michigan's 100 plus state governmental units targets recently of the crusading Governor Kim Sigler, are about to be merged into a new state department of administration at Lansing.

Therein lies a predicament for John A. Perkins.

Perkins, capable budget director will become head of the new department at a salary of $12,000 a year. An appointee of the governor, subject to confirmation by the State Senate, he will have considerable authority as state controller.

Perkins' predicament is a result of several public illusions.

He is expected to perform a miracle, and he can't do it.

As evidenced by the voters' diversion of state sales tax money to local governments by constitutional amendment, the public apparently persists in a belief that the State of Michigan is rolling in money and a parallel belief that consolidation of 100 state units into 18 or 20 would automatically save a lot of money.

Perkins, like Governor Sigler knows well that the state government is not blessed with an abundance of dollars. In fact, a deficit of $14,000,000 is clearly forecast for the end of the 1948-49 fiscal year. Only another rise in the post-war inflation, boosting prices still higher, can avert a deficit.

Perkins also has no illusion that he can deliver the miracle of economy.

The state legislature authorizes public services. His department will administer greater efficiency. He does not expect to achieve economy through reduction of legislative appropriation. In this, he is very much a realist.

"Greater value, received for the tax dollar is our chief objective," Perkins explains. "If anything, we probably shall need more money than heretofore. The budget staff has been notably understaffed for years. We should test products which the state buys to make sure we get our money's worth in quality.

"Michigan's administration department is almost an exact duplicate of the principal reform by Stassen when he was governor of Minnesota. The Minnesota department is a model which we may well follow."

The new department takes over some of the duties formerly administered by the state administrative board comprising eight elective state officials, each with his own primary responsibilities it will have five divisions: Budget, purchasing, accounting, building engineering-management, motor transport, and office services.

Purchasing of all state supplies equipment, and printing will be handled by the department. Warrants for disbursement of state funds to buy for goods or services shall be drawn and issued by the auditor general upon the certification by the controller. The auditor general will handle post audit spot checks to determine how departments and institutions are spending money as appropriated by the legislature.

"More for your money" is perhaps the best way to illustrate what Perkins hopes to accomplish. Don't expect any magic of economy through reduction of legislature appropriations.

The magazine Automobile Facts gives these figures to show what the farmer got for his products in 1947 — as compared to 1940 — in terms of automobile purchases.

These costs were based on $950 as the cost of a typical new car in 1940, with the same make car costing $1600 in 1947.

	'40 Car	'47 Car
Hogs (275 lbs.)	64	21
Steers (1000 lbs.)	12½	8½
Lambs (90 lbs.)	130	88
Milk (100 lbs.)	522	343
Eggs (Crates)	176	96

Possibly you do not agree with these figures. But it does seem that with the high prices predicted for meat, milk and eggs for next Fall and Winter, that farm purchasing power will be quite substantial.

Mature your livestock and poultry fast on Hayden's super-rich feeds, and you'll be heading for still better living than you've enjoyed before.

At Hayden's you will find feeds "tailor-made" to fit your needs — supplements, concentrates and complete rations.

Communist Party Using Underground Techniques, Says Hoover Of FBI

By Gene Alleman

(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—General Motors Corporation, a Michigan concern, has the reputation of being the best managed corporation in the world.

And so when GM announced a two-year contract with the CIO United Automobile Workers, granting workers an "annual improvement" of 3 cents a hour and 8 cents an hour tied to cost of living, many Michigan employers paid attention. Here was the pace-setter with a new formula for industrial peace.

In a two-day field trip in southern Michigan recently, we talked with a number of employers about 1948 problems of rising production costs and what their firms were doing to meet them. Invariably the employee attitude on profits was mentioned as a factor. Cost of living has been surging upward with dismaying persistency. While sales remain good, profits are declining. Many retailers are wondering what is ahead.

"I'd like to know the answer to this employee problem," said one employer. "It does not seem possible for the worker to win better wages perpetually without also inflating prices.

"The employee demand for higher wages stimulated, it now appears, by a belief that the average business is rolling in high profits and wage increases can be granted out of profits alone. This is a fallacy, a misconception. I sometimes think the average American is illiterate when it comes to understanding economics."

His petulant remark prompted us to dig into the record.

We find that from January 1941, to December, 1947, industrial wages went up to 84 per cent while the cost of living arose 69.1 per cent.

Dividends to stockholders represented about 35 per cent of corporate earnings in 1947. The remainder — 65 per cent — went to improve products and services through research and better machines, to replace old plant equipment, and to provide additional working capital sorely needed because of higher wages and material cost.

Did you know that 75 per cent of the nation's post-war plant expansion was financed out of current and past earnings? Well, such is the case.

Charles F. Kettering, engineering consultant of GM, believes that the GM "annual wage improvement" could be offset by a 2 per cent annual increase in efficiency. Maybe GM can do it. Surely other firms, less well managed, will be unable to follow suit.

Summer H. Slichter, Harvard economist, points out that collective bargaining with its perennial demand for higher wages have resulted in a continual slow rise of prices.

"With prices rising 2 or 3 per cent a year, who would wish to own savings accounts, government bonds or other securities paying 2 or 3 per cent a year?" he asks.

Is the ultimate effect of this kind of collective bargaining going to be a gradual reduction in the purchasing power of workers' pensions, savings accounts, life insurance and bonds? Is this going to rob us of any incentive to save? Is there no hope for the widow's son?

In England where there is a labor government today, unions have been asked by their own government to heed the following: "It is essential that there should be no further general increase in the level of personal incomes without at least a corresponding increase in the volume of production." (White Paper, Feb. 4, 1948). The same policy could well be adopted over here.

The GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW

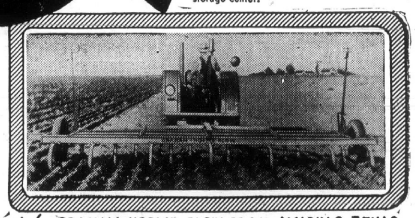
The Revolutionary Plow

Self Sharpening Points • No Side Draft
Extra Light Draft • Nothing to Grease
Plows All Types of Land Without Adjustments
Prevents Erosion by Wind and Water
Cuts Plowing Cost in Half
Doubles Sub-Soil Moisture

BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME

KEEP VEGETATION ON TOP

Nature's own method is to keep vegetation on top. That cuts down evaporation, keeps the soil in place in spite of heavy winds. The Graham-Hoeme Plowing Method with the two-inch chisel, as shown in illustration, permits water to by-pass the top soil into the sub-soil. It's a moisture storage center.



WE HAVE 'EM ON HAND

Manufactured by GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW CO, Inc. AMARILLO, TEXAS

PROVEN FACTS

On the average, enough rain falls on your farm every year to make fine crops. But, after the first few minutes of rain a smooth surface seals itself, causing run-off. It has been scientifically proven that the same field will NOT seal itself when plowed with the Graham-Hoeme All Purpose Plow with a 2-inch chisel furrow every 12 inches. This method by-passes the rainfall through the top soil and keeps a straw mulch on TOP. Upwards of three times the moisture enters the ground.

If the next day is fair and hot, the bare soil would soon be steaming and losing its moisture rapidly. BUT NOT IF THAT GROUND IS COVERED. The Graham-Hoeme Plow leaves vegetation on top to shade and protect, and moisture stays in the soil longer to bridge between rains.

These are not just opinions, but proven facts. A covered corrugated field in a good, brisk rain, will absorb 200 per cent more moisture than a bare field and 60 per cent more than a field with vegetable matter plowed into the surface. To supply this covering for the soil without the expense of artificial cover, and to place the soil in a condition to by-pass the moisture through the top soil is the purpose and achievement of the Graham-Hoeme Plow.

One Dead Fly Now Means Thousand Less Flies Next August

"Every fly you kill right now means thousands less to endanger you and disturb you in August. Now is the time to plan for a fly-free summer," according to LaRue Miller, Environmental Engineer of the Michigan Department of Health.

A housefly beginning its reproductive activities, now, in early spring, may have over five billion descendents by autumn if all its offspring live and reproduce. One pair of flies, mating now, will have become the ancestors, by late summer, of more flies than 1,000 men can swat in the same period.

Flies transmit the germs of typhoid fever, poliomyelitis, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, cholera and certain other diseases.

For the most part flies are born in manure piles, cesspools, outdoor toilets and rotting garbage. They spread disease when they carry filth from these places and from other human and animal refuses and excreta to the food on your dining room table, food being prepared in your kitchen, or food stored in your cupboards. Some flies feed on excreta and refuse, others just walk through it.

The first step in controlling the danger and nuisance of flies is to eliminate their breeding places — the manure pile, rotting vegetable and animal matter, foul garbage cans and dumps, decaying human and animal excreta and refuse, cesspools and unclean chicken coops, pig pens and cow sheds.

Another step is to adequately and tightly screen all buildings where food is stored and prepared, where milk is handled, or where humans live.

The first step in control is to spray inside and outside surfaces of buildings with a 3 per cent solution of DDT and paint screens with a 5 per cent solution of DDT once every six weeks. DDT is no more dangerous than the ordinary orchard spray materials. Do not eat it. Do not get it on food, and if you get it on you, wash it off.

Spray porches, the overhang of the roof, around the garbage can, all outside stables, toilets, milk houses, pet houses, chicken coops, pig pens and the like.

Then swat every fly you see.

Changeable Weather Is Good 'Cold' Weather

Many people are now suffering from head and chest colds, due to the changeable weather, and we'd like to make this suggestion:

At the first sign of a cold, use home remedies. We have many of them in our store that should always be found in your medicine chest. They are remedies that have been "tested and proved."

However, if your cold does not respond to home treatment, call your physician. The common cold should not be treated lightly. Statistics show that it keeps more folk away from their work than any other illness.

Kiddies Need Health Tests

NOW IS TIME TO PREPARE YOUNGSTERS FOR KINDERGARTEN, PARENTS TOLD

Preschool children who will enter kindergarten for the first time this fall should be taken to their physician now for a complete health check-up, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

The new school situation will place increased demands on the child's energy and vitality. He should have the best health and morale possible when he starts to school.

An examination now will reveal any physical defects or handicaps so that they may be corrected before school opens. If his teeth require care or if his tonsils or adenoids should be removed, this should be done before the summer polio season. If he requires special physicians' care, the summer will allow time for such treatment. If he needs glasses, it will allow time for him to become used to them. If he has earaches, running ears or tenderness around his ears, treatment now may prevent serious hearing loss. The child should be given booster doses of whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox vaccines now, to bolster protection against these childhood diseases.

Let your child play and rest this summer to build himself up to his best health. Proper food and rest are extremely important. The child needs citrus fruits, eggs, meat, whole grain cereals, milk and vegetables and plenty of solid warm food in summer as well as in winter. Continue his vitamins. He should sleep about 10 hours a night, but he may need more rest in summer than in winter. He should be protected from unnecessary exposure to disease, but his adjustment to school life will be better if he is encouraged to play with other children.

Talk to your child about his school. Keep him free from worry. Show him the safe route to school. Counsel him to obey police officers and safety patrol personnel. Do not let him ride to school any vehicle which he cannot safely handle all the route. Accidents now are a bigger hazard than disease when your child starts to school.

MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
May 11, 1948

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Touborg. Members present were Mr. Touborg, Mr. Spafford, Dr. Helzerman, Mr. Satterthwaite, and Mr. Breitenwischer. Also present as a visitor was Mr. G. W. Spangler.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The matter of the rental of the Presbyterian Church school facilities for classroom purposes for the next school year was discussed with Mr. Faye Whelan and Mr. Kenneth Hall who appeared before the Board for this purpose. Following the discussion, it was moved by Mr. Spafford and seconded by Mr. Breitenwischer that the district stand all expenses involved in making the room available for the next school year. The motion was carried.

Audience was next given to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Hara, Reverend Allen Ramsay, Mr. George E. Green, Mr. Carl Fosbender, Mr. Keith Barron, and Mr. Lester Reed who requested information concerning the consideration which had been given by the Board to the application of Mr. McDowell for the superintendency. Explanation was made by the Board members that full consideration had been given to Mr. McDowell's application but that they also felt obligated to search the State for the best qualified person for the position. This search, it was explained, led to the appointment of Mr. Place of Reed City. General satisfaction with the action of the Board was then expressed by the visitors and it was agreed that the information which had been gained should be circulated among those who had expressed an interest in the matter.

Upon motion made by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Satterthwaite, the bills, as incorporated into the minutes, amounting to $12,218.72 were approved and ordered paid.

It was moved by Mr. Spafford and seconded by Dr. Helzerman that the Resolution pertaining to the sale of bonds, adopted by the Tecumseh Board of Education in regular session on April 12th, copy of which has been forwarded to the Municipal Finance Commission, be amended as follows:

"(1) Paragraph 2 to be changed to read—"IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED that bonds of said school district be issued in accordance with the vote of the electors, for the purpose of erecting and furnishing a new high school building in said district; that said issue consist of 180 bonds of $1,000.00 each, numbered 1 to 180, inclusive, dated July 1, 1948, and payable:

$23,000.00—July 1, 1950
$46,000.00—July 1, 1951
$45,000.00—July 1, 1952
$45,000.00—July 1, 1953

and that said bonds bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding three per cent (3%) per annum, payable semi-annually on July 1st and January 1st of each year, evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds bearing the facsimile signatures of the President or Vice-President and Secretary of the Board of Education, both principal and interest to be payable at the United Savings Bank, Tecumseh, Michigan.

(2) Paragraph 3 to be changed to read—"RESOLVED, FURTHER, that the President or Vice-President and Secretary of the Board of Education sign and execute said bonds on behalf of the School District and cause interest coupons to be affixed to said bonds bearing their facsimile signatures, and that, when so executed, they be delivered to the Treasurer who shall deliver them to the purchaser thereof, on payment of the purchase price in accordance with the bid thereofore submitted.

(3) All issuance and payment dates and signature changes in the bond and coupon forms and in the notice of sale of bonds to be changed to conform with the changes in (1) and (2) above.

(4) The addition to the resolution of a statement to the effect that the first payment of interest on the bonds, due January 1, 1949, be paid from the proceeds of the bonds.

AYES: Members, Mr. Spafford, Dr. Helzerman, Mr. Satterthwaite, Mr. Breitenwischer.

NAYS: Members, None."

The question of the advisability of the immediate purchase of the Brady property on Maumee Street was next discussed. It was agreed that this step appeared advisable to permit the most advantageous location of the new building and it was then moved by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Satterthwaite that the property be purchased at the price previously stipulated by Mr. Brady. The motion was carried.

It was moved by Mr. Breitenwischer and seconded by Dr. Helzerman that Mr. Zeigler be engaged to investigate, immediately, the possibility of an easement for sewer and water for the new building to Shawnee Street. The motion was carried.

A motion was made by Mr. Satterthwaite and seconded by Mr. Spafford that the possibility of a purchase of a right-of-way for pedestrians from Shawnee Street to the new building be investigated. The motion was carried.

A motion was made by Mr. Spafford and seconded by Mr. Satterthwaite that bids be requested for the following maintenance projects recommended by the superintendent.

The following Resolution was next presented and upon motion made by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Spafford adopted:

RESOLVED that the Superintendent of Schools be and hereby is authorized to make proper application to the Department of Public Instruction and the Veterans' Administration for the negotiation of a contract and the establishment of a Veterans' training program in Agriculture.

It was moved by Dr. Helzerman and seconded by Mr. Satterthwaite that Mr. Darwin C. Smith be employed as grade school instructor and supervisor for the next school year. The motion was carried.

State Department Of Health O.K. Fishing As A Benefit To Mankind

The Michigan Department of Health today came forth with at least five good reasons for going fishing. The season opens in this area on Friday.

"Fishing, with its anticipation, enthusiasm, fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and good companionship can help a man live happily and work well.

"A man needs a hobby. He needs pleasure. He needs relaxation and he needs to be out of doors. And then, too, the fish are good for him," the Department said.

The Department enjoined everyone who enjoys the sport to get out on the opening day or week end, but it also added some advice.

Check your boat to be sure it is solid and will not leak and that its motor is in safe working order. Do not overload it with gear or people. Don't stand up in it or change places while on the water. If you fish at night be sure you know the water on which you are fishing. Don't go out when a storm threatens or waves are high. If you can't swim to shore, you might take along a life preserver.

Watch out for sunburn and sunstroke. Wear a hat, long sleeves and long trousers. The sun's rays, reflected from the water, are doubly potent so take along some sunburn lotion. Don't overdo and don't get over-excited.

Take along an insect repellant.

Treat fish hook wounds, blisters and other injuries at once. A first aid kit is well worth the bother.

Don't lean way out of your boat. It is better to lose rod, reel and fish than your life.

If you are doing any drinking, do it with your fish dinner rather than when you are enroute to the lake or on the lake.

If you catch any fish, eat them. With their proteins, fat, calcium, iron and vitamins including A, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, to say nothing of their flavor, they're good for you.

Driving Tests For Cars Urged

PROGRAM, STATE-WIDE, HOWEVER, WOULD BE COSTLY—EXCEPT IN SAVING LIVES

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

Lansing—Maybe YOUR automobile is in good mechanical condition.

But how about the "other driver" — the fellow who is driving the automobile you meet on the road?

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr. believes Michigan could save both money and lives by requiring the other driver to keep his car in safe driving condition. By this Alger means the following: brakes should work; headlights should light up the road; tires should have some tread; the windshield wiper should function.

Aside from the initial investment in testing equipment, the cost of periodic automobile inspections would be made self-supporting through a modest fee—50 cents every six months. "It should be worth 50 cents to know that the other automobile on the highway is in good running order," said Alger. "And its' worth something to know your own car is able to stop at a reasonable distance in an emergency.

What is the highway traffic problem in Michigan?

State police report that traffic accidents climbed to a new high in 1947. The accident total climbed 25 per cent over 1946. Not so many people were killed. Property damage was up 29 per cent.

All in all, the highway toll ran into many millions of dollars in property damage and hospital bills, not to mention the tragic snuffing out of human lives and the suffering of survivors.

All these facts were reviewed recently by a group of Michigan newspaper editors. The editors met to study ways to arouse the public to the need for better law enforcement, a high school driver education, and periodic vehicle inspection. The legislature in 1947 raised the age of drivers from 14 to 16.

As shown by a reduction of highway deaths in 1947, much progress has already been made in Michigan. But there is still much left to do, in the opinion of Secretary of State Alger and the newspaper editors' committee.

"It is significant to note that New Jersey cut highway deaths 30 per cent in one year by requiring the 'other driver' to keep his car in safe condition," said Alger. "New automobiles are potentially more dangerous than ever before. They run faster. My assistant, Charles Creedon, went to New Jersey and investigated the system there. He reported that motorists were well pleased. The inspections serve as a double check for their safety."

A uniform code of Michigan traffic laws is now under consideration by the state legislature for the 1949 general session at Lansing. Centralized licensing of drivers has also been proposed. Plates, licenses and mechanical inspections would be handled at one location under direct supervision of the State of Michigan through the Secretary of State's office.

One formidable barrier to periodic mechanical inspection is the initial heavy investment in equipment to check the automobiles. A substantial appropriation of state money would be needed, and the State of Michigan faces a deficit in the new fiscal year.

And yet a rise in the cost of highway accidents, as shown by the 1947 toll, is costing someone—the other driver now and then—far more in the aggregate than the amount required to buy the inspection equipment.

Here is another problem that affects everybody.

Are the savings worth the cost?

He worked for the Clinton Local from 1914 to 1925 when he went to Blissfield, where he was employed by John Beery, publisher of The Blissfield Advance. Returning to Clinton after the death of his wife, he later went to Metamora where he was co-owner and publisher of The Metamora Record. In 1942 he went back to Blissfield and after leaving the employ of The Herald returned there, where he was employed at the Advance until the time of his death. He was a member of the F. E. Pieper post of the American Legion in Clinton.

400 Musicians To Take Part In Band Meet

PROGRAM FOR TECUMSEH'S JULY 5TH CELEBRATION IS RAPIDLY TAKING SHAPE

In all probability, some 400 musicians will participate in Tecumseh's big Fourth of July Celebration and Homecoming, to be staged on Monday, July 5, Wade L. Jones, general chairman, said today.

"We already have definite acceptances from eight bands, including Tecumseh," Mr. Jones said. There will be Clinton, Sand Creek, Morenci, Hudson, Blissfield and Lyons and Metamora, Ohio. There is also a possibility that one or two more bands will sign up.

The program calls for each band to play a 20-minute concert, starting at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 2 p.m. At that time the bands will be massed for a parade and concert.

During the day there will be races and contests of various kinds, including the capture of a greased pig and a husband calling contest.

"We will be offering some fine prizes in all of the contests and as a word to the ladies, I'd suggest that they get their voices in shape for the husband calling event," Jones said. "Mrs. Bert Osterhout and C. O. Butler are chairmen of this contest and entrants should contact them."

In mid-afternoon, there will be a radio balloon ascension from Elliott park. Wm. Henderson, balloonist from Fayette, O. will ride the gas bag to a height of 5,000 feet before making a triple parachute drop.

"It's going to be a fun-packed day for both young and old," Jones said of the celebration. "There will be entertainment of all kinds, contests for children and grown-ups, with something doing every minute. I doubt if a more complete day of entertainment ever has been offered by any community in southern Michigan."

There is considerable interest in the 4-H Club plowing contest, to be staged on land opposite the Grange Hall on Milwaukee road. Winner and runner up in this contest will be eligible in district and state contests, it was said. Fay Whelan is general chairman of this part of the program and he already is receiving entries.

"It's been a long time since anyone has attempted to catch a greased pig and, with the price of meat where it is today, somebody is going to make themselves a good day's wages when he catches the pig that will be released here," Jones said. W. L. Becker is chairman of this event.

Chicago boulevard will be closed to traffic in the downtown section and already there are dozens of concession spaces ordered. Jones declared that persons desiring concession space, and who have not already arranged for it, should do so at once.

The day will be climaxed with the shooting of $1,000 worth of fireworks, probably about 10 p.m. This part of the program will take place at Recreation Center, and bleacher seats will be arranged.

Presbyterians Planning Holy Communion Service

On Sunday, June 27, at the morning service the sacrament of holy communion will be administered in the Presbyterian church. The last quarterly communion was held during Holy Week on the evening of Maundy Thursday. All members of the church are invited and urged to be present for this service of consecration. The communion, caught up out of the noisy communion meditation, the story of a and handmade tumult of life standing before the majesty of the Eternal, will be based on the sixth chapter of Isaiah.

In the afternoon the pastor and members of the church session will visit the homes of the shut-ins of the parish to administer the sacrament.

5 Model Houses Open To Public

WILL BE SHOWN STARTING THIS AFTERNOON AND CONTINUING THROUGH SUNDAY

Five new model houses, one of them completely furnished, will be shown to the public starting this afternoon, the inspection continuing through Sunday, Robert H. Moore of the R. S. Moore & Son Co., announced today. The new houses are located in the Herrick Park Subdivision, East Brown street, where 179 new dwellings are to be built this year and next. An advertisement explaining the showing will be found in another page of this newspaper.

Herrick Park is Tecumseh's newest subdivision, the site having been purchased by Tecumseh Products Co., R. W. Herrick, president, making the announcement in late February. Every qualifying Products employee is given a lot in the park and in addition $200 with which to build a new house. The subdivision is now being developed, streets are being built and water and sewer mains laid.

Houses such as are being shown, ranging in price from $6,300 to $8,650 can be constructed in 30 days after teh purchaser chooses his model. The size of the house also can be expanded at additional cost. The monthly payment under a financing program is in the $42 range and the construction is subject to FHA or GI approval.

"We will have the houses open for inspection between 4 and 9 p.m., daily," Mr. Moore said, "to enable prospective purchasers to see them and to make their decisions. We will have representatives on the job to explain the program so that when the inspection is over we can begin immediately with future construction."

The houses have a full basement with laundry tubs and electric hot water heater, a coal burning furnace, complete plumbing, recessed bath tub, built in kitchen cupboards, linoleum on the floor of the bath and kitchen, and the structure is completely insulated.

Valuation Of Property Here Is Up $631,000

15-MILL TAX RATE WILL RETURN VILLAGE $53,259; TAXES ARE DUE IN JULY

The valuation of the Village of Tecumseh, as established by the Board of Review, in session last week, is well over a half-million dollars greater than it was a year ago and, as a result the maximum 15-mill tax rate this year will yield the local treasury $53,259. The assessed valuation figures were reported to the council, in session on Monday evening, and that body immediately established the 15-mill rate and ordered the treasurer to begin the collection of taxes next month.

Tecumseh this year has a total valuation of $3,550,600, of which amount $2,815,700 is real estate and $734,900 personal property. A year ago, real estate values were set at $2,422,200 and personal at $496,900, for a total value of $2,919,100. The assessed value, therefore, this year is $631,500 higher than it was a year ago, representing a $393,500 gain in real estate and a gain of $238,000 in personal property.

The 15-mill rate this year will be divided as follows: 3 mills for the general fund or $10,651.80; 2 mills for the highway fund or $7,101.20; 4 mills for the water fund and 4 mills for the sewer fund, giving each fund $14,202.40; 1½ mills for the cemetery fund or $5,325.90; one-half mill for the hospital fund or $1,775.30. The latter amount is used for the retirement of outstanding bonds and the payment of interest.

The 15-mill rate on the assessed value in 1947 returned the treasury $42,786.50, about $9,472 less than the total tax this year.

The council also considered several other matters at its Monday session. It approved the building of sidewalks on North Union street north of Brown street, the village to bear one-fourth of the expense or about $1,000. It also decreed that in the future, all water and sewer improvements in subdivisions developed in the village would be paid for on the formula of one-sixth to the village and five-sixths by the subdivider.

E. M. Campbell was reappointed as a member of the Tecumseh Hospital board for a three year term.

To provide police with an office, the council approved the remodeling of the north side of the council building and changes in the location of the present public rest room.

Reports of committees and department heads were read and placed on file.

"BACKWARD AMERICA—BUNK!

All the proponents of socialism communism and the other what have-you isms argue that their systems offer the "common man" greater security and material benefits. As Al Smith used to say let's look at the record.

England has gone in for socialism in a big way. And what has happened? Once a great coal exporting nation, she can now hardly produce enough for her own needs. Her electric power industry has gone downhill and rates are higher than under private ownership. Her whole socialized economy is as shaky as a tree in a storm.

Russia, of course, has gone whole hog in its version of a "people's government," to own or control all productive activity, and only a miserable minimum of consumer goods is produced. Her retail stores—all of which belong to the state—are stocked with only a few necessities and even these are strictly rationed. Prices, measured by average earning power, are far higher than in this country.

"Backward America," on the other hand, still clings to representative government and a capitalist economy. The "tragic" results of this are seen on every hand—the most efficient industries on earth, the highest standards of living in the world in spite of inflation, more leisure and opportunity for all, retail stores groaning with every kind of commodity and a competitive system which has to please the people or go out of business—no "take it or leave it" system.

The socialists have a sad story it just doesn't make sense. And yet they are working here to have government monopolies supplant private enterprise. Will we fall for it?

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of hamburger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that hamburger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the husbands took their wives on at a game of darts, and later they played "Indications." The party broke up around ten, with the boys agreeing that it was mighty successful.

From where I sit, it's this companionship among young couples today, and their moderation in a sensible beverage like beer, that's won the younger generation such a wholesome reputation.

YES sir, there's a championship caliber all through that Buick of yours.

It's caliber that calls for mighty little "conditioning"—if the attention it gets adds up to really knowing and understanding care.

For instance, these Fireball cylinders will keep on packing all the wallop they should, if you let us compression-check them in the Buick way. Steering will stay easy and light, tire wear will stay at the minimum, if you keep your wheels lined up on our special tracking gauges.

And when wear does take its inescapable toll, we have the parts—Buick-engineered for their job—that restore factory-new standards of performance.

Even our tools are specially designed to do a typical Buick job—and for the personal, interested, specialized attention that tops off genuine Buick care, you simply can't beat the Buick specialists in our shop.

Yes, give your champ real Buick care—Buick know-how, Buick parts, Buick interest in keeping your car at its peak. Costs no more than ordinary attentions—but what a whale of a difference it makes!

Miss Virginia Hubbard Weds Ervin Schilling

Sunday afternoon, June 20, in St. Peter's Episcopal church Miss Virginia Dorothy Hubbard exchanged her nuptial vows with Ervin A. Schilling, before the altar decorated with flowers and burning tapers in candelabra. The rector, the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, read the double ring service at 4 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Lynn Hubbard of Tecumseh and Mr. Schilling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Schilling of Hudson.

As Mrs. Glenn Driscoll played a program of organ music the guests were seated by Richard Hubbard, brother of the bride, and Norman Kemp. The family pews were marked with white gladioli and white satin ribbons.

To the strains of the wedding march the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was made of swiss organdy, the tight bodice featuring a shoulder ruffle and long full sleeves. The peplum on the full skirt ended in points at the hem. Her fingertip veil of net was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and ribbon. Amazon lilies and stephanotis made the cascade bouquet carried by the bride.

As her sister's matron of honor Mrs. Norman B. Kemp was gowned in green organdy of a style similar to that of the bride's, only with short puffed sleeves. She wore a green halo in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations centered with pink rosebuds surrounded by white daises on yellow maline. The bridesmaids Miss Dorothy Bowen and Miss Naomi Schilling, sister of the groom, wore yellow and pink, respectively, with matching halos in their hair. They carried colonial bouquets of light blue carnations centered with pink rosebuds and surrounded by blue delphiniums on blue maline.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hubbard wore a green flowered dress with white accessories. The groom's mother chose a black and white satin ribbon print with black and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and daisies. The two grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Claude Hubbard of Clinton and Mrs. A. J. Roberts of Deerfield, were corsages of pink carnations and gypsophila.

After the ceremony a reception was held for some 75 guests in the parish house. The linen-covered table was centered with garden flowers and candles. The four-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, was topped with a pink and white nosegay and surrounded by a garland of daisies. Mrs. Kemp cut the cake and others who assisted with the serving were Mrs. Russell Thurtle, sr., Mrs. B. A. Everlove, Mrs. Lowell Edwards, Miss Margaret Baird of Clinton, and Marilyn Schilling of Hudson. Miss Margaret Schilling was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left on a short motor trip the bride was wearing blue print sheer with black accessories. They are at home in their apartment at 315 North Union St., Tecumseh.

The bride is a graduate of Macon high school, attended Michigan State College and is employed at the A & P Super Market. The groom, a graduate of Hudson high school, spent two years in the Army Air Corp and is now employed at the Hardy Manufacturing Company in Hudson.

Britton Couple Married At Saturday Ceremony

Saturday evening in the Christian Congregational church at Britton Miss Wilma Jean Daykin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Daykin became the bride of Jack Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett. The vows were spoken before the altar banked with baskets of mock orange blossoms, peonies and burning tapers in candelabra. The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Gerald Hallauer at 8 o'clock and the prayers were given by the Rev. B. O. Bashore of Tecumseh.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls, the long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt fell into a court train and her fingertip veil of illusion, edged in lace, was caught to a crown of lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias. The bride's bouquet of white roses and carnations was centered with a lavender orchid. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Ruth Eyler, her sister's matron of honor, wore an orchid gown with matching headdress. The bridesmaid, Miss Lela Howard cousin of the bride, wore green with matching headdress. Both carried bouquets of roses and daisies in contrasting colors to their dresses. The ring bearer, Gary Abner, wore a white suit, and the little flower girls, Nancy Brown and Brenda Bughee wearing floor length pink ruffled dresses strewed rose petals in the path of the bride.

Douglas Daykin, brother of the bride, assisted as best man and the ushers were Vern Eyler, Richard Barrett, Harry Craig and Donald Murphy.

Miss Rosemary Gilmore played organ nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Betty Joyce Miller when she sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly."

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors the five-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white and pink roses was served by Mrs. Ida Sanderson of Ypsilanti. The refreshments were prepared by Mrs. Florence Gripton and her committee and served by Joan Clark, Jackie Pegg, Ardith Gripton, Joyce Mikesell, Phyllis Kennie and Marlou Gilmer.

The bride and groom graduated from Britton high school in the class of 1944. Mr. Barrett is engaged in farming with his father and Mrs. Barrett is employed in the office of Bue's Super Service in Tecumseh.

Guests were present from Jackson, Palmyra, Monroe, Tecumseh, Britton, Adrian, Milan, Temperance, Detroit, Dundee, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Blissfield, Deerfield, Toledo, West Unity, Montpelier and Sylvania, Ohio.

Miss Vivian M. Clark Bride Of S. J. Hamilton

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Peter's Episcopal church Miss Vivian Mae Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, spoke her nuptial vows with Samuel James Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, before the altar decorated with hampers of peonies, greenery, lilies and candelabra. The Rev. Allan L. Ramsay officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white satin gown with a hooped skirt, the bodice featuring a net yoke and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil was fingertip and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

As her sister's matron of honor Mrs. Russell Cheever wore a pink taffeta gown, styled with tight bodice and full skirt, and long matching gloves. She carried a crescent arm bouquet of light pink snapdragons centered with lily pons and roses, and matching halo as a headdress. The bridesmaids Miss Jeanette Monaghan of Ann Arbor, Miss Isabel Hamilton, sister of the groom, and Barbara Harper of Adrian, cousin of the bride, wore blue, green and yellow gowns, respectively, identical with the matron of honor, with long gloves to match. They carried crescent arm bouquets of sweetpeas and roses, and matching halos in their hair. Little Sandra Dunny, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta gown and carried an arm bouquet of sweetpeas and roses.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Glenn Driscoll accompanied Mrs. William Clark, an aunt of the bride, when she sang "Because" and "At Dawning." The guests were seated by Lee Clark, brother of the bride, John Hamilton, brother of the groom and Russell Cheever, brother-in-law of the bride. Roy Hamilton served his brother as best man.

Some 150 guests from Detroit, Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Jackson, Adrian, Britton, Toledo and Toronto, Canada, were served at the reception held in the parish house after the ceremony. Miss Joyce Service cut the four-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature corsage surrounded by rosebuds. Others assisting with the serving were Miss Elsie Albinson, Miss Esther Groot and Mrs. Lynn Vanzet. Mrs. Raymond Hunter had charge of the guest book.

Milan Girl Is Bride Of Donald F. Purkey

Palms and burning tapers in candelabra banked the altar of the First Presbyterian church, Sunday, for the wedding of Miss Bonnie Lou Shafer, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Shafer of Milan, and Donald F. Purkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leno L. Purkey of Tecumseh. The couple exchanged their vows before an arch of pink and white peonies centered with a white bell. The Rev. Donald C. Wilson read the double ring service at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Herbert Frey of Milan played a program of organ music as the guests were being seated by the ushers, Dean Hamilton, Richard Purkey, brother of the bridegroom and Jerry Shafer, brother of the bride. Jay Randol of Kendallville, Ind., was best man. Mr. Frey sang "Because" and "Always" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" after the vows were spoken.

Gowned in white georgette over a slipper satin skirt, the bride entered the church on the arm of her grandfather, who gave her in marriage. The fitted bodice had self-covered buttons from the round neckline to the waist and matching buttons on the bishop sleeves. The ruffled apron-effect front came to a bustle in the back of the skirt, which terminated in a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a garland of flowers and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses centered with gardenias.

Preceding the bride were the two bridesmaids, Miss Janice Lash of Milan and Miss Lois Purkey, sister of the bridegroom, gowned in orchid net, the maid of honor, Miss Juanita Kantz of Milan, who wore chartreuse, and the little flower girl, Carol Anderson of Milan, who scattered rose petals, dressed in a yellow ballerina dress. All of the attendants' gowns were ballerina length and all wore small matching net caps, short white silk gloves and white satin slippers. They carried baskets of white asters, carnations and yellow iris.

For her granddaughter's wedding Mrs. Shafer wore a two-piece navy crepe dress with white accessories. Mrs. Purkey chose black print with white accessories. Both had corsages of calla lillies, gladioli and roses.

At the reception in the church parlors the bride's table was decorated with two shadow centerpieces, floating candle lilies and flowers. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Some 115 guests from Toledo, Sylvania, Milan, Ridgeway, Tecumseh, Detroit, Angola and Kendallville, Ind., and Ypsilanti, were served by members of the Women's Association.

The bride, a graduate of Milan high school, has worked as a receptionist since graduation. The groom graduated from Tecumseh high school and is employed by his father. After serving a year in the Navy he was discharged in 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Leno Purkey entertained 20 guests in their home Friday evening at the rehearsal dinner.

Miss Janet Frost And Roderick Welch Wed

The lawn of the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Frost was the scene of a lovely wedding Friday afternoon, when their daughter, Janet, became the bride of Roderick Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welch of Tecumseh. Dr. Norman MacNaughton read the double ring service at 2 o'clock amidst the natural setting emphasized by many shades of peonies.

"Serenade" was played by a wire recording as were "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" which were sung by Jack Tomneberger, who is now in California.

The bride was preceded by her bridesmaid, Miss Ann Kuder of Saline, a niece of the groom, who wore a blue gown with drop shoulders and carried a bouquet of picardy gladiolus and gypsophila. As her sister's honor maid, Esther May Frost wore an aqua gown styled with an eyelet bodice and net skirt. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolus and gypsophila.

On the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely wearing a white satin gown styled with long sleeves and sweetheart neckline, the bodice back closed with tiny self-covered buttons. The fingertip veil of lace was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus, gypsophila and aquilegias.

After the ceremony a reception was held for some 70 guests. Marian Murphy cut the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom. Others assisting with the serving were Mary Lou Dinse, Marie Phillips, Mrs. Rose Service and Mrs. Carl Glancy.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh high school class of 1948 and is employed at Baldwin's Hardware store. The groom attended Tecumseh schools and is an employee of the Tecumseh Products Company. The couple will reside in their apartment at 206 South Pearl Street, Tecumseh.

Howdy Folks: A guy was after a job as a cop in the city. The captain was asking him some questions:

"If you were driving down the highway and saw that you were being chased by a gang of crooks doing 60 miles an hour, what would you do?"

"70," says the cop-to-be.

Kitty: "Horse or egg," darling."

Somebody at the station told me his girl friend wanted either a diamond wrist watch or a mink coat for her birthday. I asked him what he finally got. "Another girl friend," he said.

Your car will run like a racehorse, purr like a kitben, and start like a flash when we take care of it for you. Bring it in today for speedy one-stop service.

5 reasons why a telephone rate increase is necessary

Since 1941 our cost of furnishing telephone service has increased over 128% due mainly to these reasons:

1. 82% more workers added
2. 69.3% increase in average monthly wage
3. 35% average increase in cost of telephone instruments
4. Over 125% increase in cost of cable
5. Over 90% increase in cost of telephone poles

True, our income has increased through expansion of service—and we are making every effort to serve everyone as quickly as possible. But the income from new telephones does not meet the cost of furnishing service. This is due to the fact that the majority of Michigan Associated Telephone exchanges are furnishing service at rates which haven't changed in 20 years.

Therefore, in order to operate on a sound financial basis, we must seek a rate adjustment to keep pace with the increased cost of operation.

This Jack Horner isn't a first-grader who doesn't know any better. Grade school children have better safety records than adults. No—this Jack Horner is you.

Three out of every four pedestrians killed are breaking a rule—jaywalking—crossing in midblock—disregarding a traffic signal. What a tragic waste of 9,000 lives a year!

Next time you cross the street, wait for that green light! Cross only at crosswalks; don't rush out from behind parked cars. Where there are no signals, look both ways before crossing. Spend an extra second and stay alive!

We'd Like To Say "THANK YOU"

For Your Excellent Reception of the NEW FORD for '49

In the 20 years that we have been showing new model Ford Motor cars in Tecumseh, never has the reception of a new car been greater than it has this year when we presented the New Ford for '49. Beginning on Friday and over the week-end, hundreds of local residents visited our show rooms to see the revolutionary new Ford and, let us say, we heard nothing but praise for the new car.

We have scores and scores of orders on our books for new Fords. All of you know that, in the past year, we have received from the manufacturer very few cars. Consequently, our delivery of cars in the past year did not keep pace with the orders we received. We are, therefore, like most other car dealers, far behind on deliveries.

We have and will continue to make delivery of new cars in the order that "actual orders" for new cars were received by us. We do not have so-called "lists". We do not accept "bribes" or "under the table" offers for new cars. We know that it would be possible for us to make literally thousands of dollars if we would adopt such a practice but we do not believe in doing business in that way. We know that if we are to "hold the line" on prices that we also must hold to the line on deliveries. We believe that such a practice is only fair to our customers.

To us, the price of a new Ford car is established at the factory. When you buy a car from us you pay the established price. YOU DO NOT PAY A PENNY MORE, and no one need expect to get a new car "out of turn" by offering to pay us above the established price.

To you who have been waiting for months and months for a new car, we say, "Be patient." If Ford production is stepped up and strikes and shortages do not plague the company, we should receive a larger quota of cars and, if we do, we can, of course, speed up our delivery. We are just as anxious to make car deliveries as prospective purchasers are to receive them.

We'd like to say thank you for your excellent reception of the New Ford for '49. If you would like a new car, come in and give us your order. We promise you that we will make delivery to you when your turn for delivery comes but, what the future holds in the way of production will, we say again, largely depend upon uninterrupted operation of the factory.

Thousands To Attend Homecoming July 5

Balloon Ascension, Fireworks 12 Bands Features Of The Day

With a balloon ascension, $1,000 worth of fireworks and a dozen bands on parade and in a massed concert as top-flight attractions, Tecumseh was preparing today to entertain 10,000 persons at its Fourth of July Celebration and Homecoming next Monday, July 5.

"We have advertised that there will be fun, all day long, and there is no doubt about it," was the way that Wade L. Jones, chairman of the program committee, summed up the entertainment schedule. "There will be bands on parade and in concert from 10 a.m., until 4 p.m., when the balloon goes up, and in the evening the finest display of fireworks in Southern Michigan."

Streets in the downtown area will be closed to traffic and all of the band parades, concerts, contests, races and concessions will be on Chicago boulevard. The balloon, piloted by William Henderson of Fayette, O., who holds the world's record for consecutive drops from lighter-than-air craft, will take off from Elliott Park. Mr. Henderson will make a triple parachute drop from a height of 5,000 feet. It will be the first balloon ascension in this section of the state in at least 10 years.

"Scores of persons are inquiring about the balloon," Mr. Jones said. "There are hundreds of children, and grown-ups, too, who have never seen a balloon. The airplane is common, but the balloon is not. And then, a triple parachute drop is out of the ordinary, too."

Another feature will be the appearance of the Tecumseh Products Company orchestra, under the direction of Wm. Damon. This organization is in heavy demand over the mid-west, and it will play a concert at the main downtown intersection from 7 to 9 p.m. There will be free street dancing for those who desire.

The contests and races are scheduled to begin at 2 p.m., on Chicago boulevard, with entrants reporting at 1 p.m., at the Chamber of Commerce, offices. These events are planned:

Bean and Spoon race, boys and girls to 12 years. First prize, boys, bathing trunks, Palmans; second, baseball, Baldwin Hdwe. First prize, girls, locket, Mix & Raymond; second, $1 food order, Kerby's.

Greased pig. Anyone may enter and the prize will be the pig.

"With pork demanding the price that it does, somebody will get a grand prize if he or she is able to catch the pig," Jones said.

Concessions that will be located on the downtown boulevard will be in operation throughout the day and evening.

The fireworks display, at Recreation Center, will begin at dusk and it will take about two hours to explode the $1,000 stock. Licensed pyrotechnicians from the factory will arrive here on Sunday to prepare the display.

"The fireworks will be exploded in the northeast corner of the field," Jones said, and he warned that pedestrians should stay away from that area. "There will be bleacher seats in the park for those who desire them and of course there will be standing room in the park and around it.

"I have seen schedules of fireworks displays, but never have I ever seen one as elaborate as the one we have here. The rockets will be seen for miles around, and the ground pieces are of the latest design," the chairman said.

There is considerable interest in the plowing contest, to be held in the morning at 10 a.m. This will be on a site opposite the Grange Hall, under 4-H Club supervision.

Leon Mix, chairman of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that stores and other places of business would be closed throughout the holiday. He said, too, that many of the stores that close on Thursday during the summer would remain open on Thursday next week, because of the Monday holiday.

3,600 Gallons Of Gas Spilled In Accident

The Tecumseh fire department was summoned at 4 a.m. Sunday, when a trailer loaded with 3600 gallons of gasoline overturned on M-50 a mile north of the Sand Lake road. The gasoline had spilled out and the department flushed it with water so that no fire resulted.

The tank truck and trailer were being driven by an Ohio man when the trailer hitch broke and the trailer overturned. State police of the Clinton post investigated the accident.

Park Lights Are Dedicated

CROWD OF 500 SEE FIRST "UNDER THE LIGHTS" SOFTBALL GAME OF SEASON

A crowd of some 500 spectators witnessed the dedication of some 30 new floodlights, recently installed at the west end of Recreation Center, Friday. Marvin Watkins, village president, pitched the first ball for the Tecumseh Products-Manchester Double A Products softball game, the first official game under the new lights, with the local team coming out on top 3-2.

An added attraction for the softball fans was the broadcasting of the Louis-Walcott fight over a loud speaker while the game was being played. Earlier in the evening the Ford Motor Company of Manchester defeated the Manchester Merchants by a score of 7-2.

Before any more games can be played the lights must be adjusted and the softball diamond improved.

In a few well chosen remarks, Zeigler expressed the club's appreciation to Mr. Berkhof for the many acts of "service above self" performed by him during his 13-year membership. Berkhof replied briefly, declaring that his membership in the club here will be cherished as a fond memory.

Players Group To Stage Show

FIRST, "KISS AND TELL," A COMEDY, TO BE PRESENTED NEXT WEDNESDAY EVE

Stage shows, so popular with audiences in Lenawee county in yesteryear, are being returned this season by the Lenawee Players, a group of Catholic University students who have banded together for the staging of six plays during the summer months. A barn on M-52, seven miles southwest of here, has been remodeled into a theatre and a audience of 250 can be accommodated.

The first show, "Kiss and Tell," a comedy, will be presented next Wednesday evening, July 7, and each evening thereafter through Sunday. On the following Wednesday and for five nights another play, "Night Must Fall," a drama, will be staged. Four other plays will be presented during the season.

Vesta Hogan of Washington, D. C., plays the leading role in the opening play. Miss Hogan leaves the cast after the Sunday show to join her father, who is a colonel in the Army, stationed in Japan.

All of the 14 members of the Players Club either have studied drama at Catholic University or have been on the legitimate stage. The first play will be directed by Dorothy Chernuck, drama director of Trinity College, Washington.

"It's a lot of fun, preparing 'The Barn' for the plays, and its a lot of fun rehearsing for the shows, and we do hope that the people of Lenawee county will support us in this new venture," was the way one of the cast summed up the enterprise. "We realize that while such programs are very popular in the East, they have not as yet been introduced in the mid-west."

The curtain is at 8:30 each show night.

Sane Driving Urged Over 4th

"SAVE A LIFE, IT MAY BE YOUR OWN," IS SLOGAN ADOPTED BY AUTHORITIES

"Think thrice about the Fourth," the Michigan Department of Health forewarned Michigan residents and visitors today.

"Think especially about the dangers of heavy traffic, of drowning, and of falls, but give a thought to other hazards which can spoil your holiday."

Fourth of July week end accidents took 49 lives in Michigan last year. Holiday over-exertion and over-excitement doubtless took the other lives.

Automobile traffic took 22 lives; drowning and boating, 14 lives; and falls, 3 lives. Burns, suffocation, firearms, electrocution, gas poisoning, farming and trains accounted for the other accidental deaths on the three-day week end.

The fatal Fourth is with us again. Most holiday accidents are preventable; carelessness is their cause. Be a little wary to keep your week end merry.

With another big Fourth of July week end approaching, let's not observe it with an avalanche of accidents, said Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. He urged all motorists to drive carefully during this period when traffic volumes probably will reach one of the highest peaks we have known. "Take it easy and save a life, maybe your own," he appealed.

"The tendency of many motorists", he said, "is to spend the short holiday in places far distant from their homes". In order to be first at his favorite fishing hole, lake or resort area, the motorist has a tendency to drive at break-neck speed to reach his destination, thus dangering himself, the occupants of his car and other motorists.

Last year 44.7 per cent of all fatal accidents in the United States were attributed to excessive speed.

To make the most of the holiday many motorists remain at their playgrounds as long as possible and thus must drive home during the night. Such drivers would do well to bear in mind that two-thirds of all fatal accidents happen after sundown. In Michigan, 50 per cent of the traffic fatalities of the 1947 Fourth of July week end occurred on the last day of the holiday.

Let's make this Fourth of July a glorious holiday by being careful drivers thus helping cut down the accident toll on Michigan highways.

A COAL STRIKE COST

Just what did the last coal strike cost this country, its people, and the world? Here is a partial answer.

Nearly 50,000,000 tons of badly needed coal were not mined. Exports needed to carry out our foreign policy had to be drastically curtailed. Thousands of automobiles were not built for lack of steel. And thousands of coal cars, needed for next winter's peak movement, could not be manufactured.

The miners lost more than $100,000,000 in wages. Their welfare and pension fund lost about $5,000,000. And there is no way to estimate the millions lost to workers in the industries which had to cut down operations because of lack of coal.

The country's stockpiles of coal are sadly inadequate. They cannot be rapidly replenished—supply and current demand are in close balance, and our exports must be resumed if the European Aid Program is to have a chance of success in the fight to keep Communism from dictating to the world.

All that happened because one man obviously considers his organization superior to the welfare of the United States and its domestic and international policies during a period of grave crisis. He has it in his power to bring to an almost immediate stop the basic industries of the country, and to throw armies of workers into unemployment. He can decide whether or not the American people shall or shall not have coal to heat their homes. Can any country long allow any man such great and menacing authority?

Explanation

The reason fertilizer makes things grow is because they can't stand the smell—they have to come up for air.—U. S. S. Southampton Deeps.

DEFEAT SUMMER HEAT WITH INSULATION

Is the upstairs of your home warm and stuffy—is it difficult to sleep comfortably in your bedrooms these hot, humid nights?

If your answer is yes, then you should insulate your house and reduce the temperature in these rooms as much as 10 to 15 degrees. Insulation shuts out the hot summer sun, and keeps your entire house from getting "overheated" even on summer days.

For "the proof of the pudding" we invite you to go into a home that is insulated, right here in Tecumseh, and see and feel the difference. That's the best way to convince yourself that your home should be insulated, too.

An Important Statement to Home Owners
Who Do Not Now Have Combination Windows and Doors

Here's Why Weather-Seal
Leads In Window Engineering And Research

Fourteen years ago, Weather-Seal established the first scientific window research laboratory. We built windows of many types. Received permission to make dozens of complete home installations. Took draft tests, smoke tests, dirt checks. Designed, redesigned and perfected the Weather-Seal interlock construction which has never been equalled for permanent, tight fit and ease of operation.

We still have test windows of wood and other materials weathering on the east coast of Michigan. In several industrial communities with sulphur and other destructible chemicals in the air. In the salt heavy air of the Florida coast. In industrial laboratories Weather-Seal and competitive windows are undergoing severe accelerated weather and weathering tests . . . and tests of ease of operation.

In every test Weather-Seal windows and doors of California Coastal Redwood are far superior. That's why we can and do guarantee, in writing, every Weather-Seal installation for a lifetime.

Harold A. Etling
President

Weather-Seal windows and doors are built of age-old California Coastal Redwood . . . will not warp, rot or shrink . . . stays beautiful with little care.

With Weather-Seal, you change winter panes to summer screens in a jiffy. A few turns of an exclusive screw fastening and windows and screens come out easily.

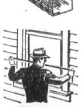
Let it rain . . . let it pour! You'll always be sure of draft-free, rainproof ventilation the year around. You'll know the real meaning of finger-tip weather control.



Weather-Seal combination windows are custom-built to the dimensions of your particular home . . . are tailor-made to fit and stay fitted, for a lifetime.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Pampered Farmers

If the folks in our town were less tolerant, they'd be really burned up over that nationally circulated article on "pampered farmers," describing them as living off the fat of the land.

From where I sit the farmer is anything but "pampered." If he's better off today than twenty years ago it's because he's worked hard to improve the quality and quantity of his production.

Take Bert Childers, for example. Bert is up at four in the morning, to get the milking finished—and ploughing or harvesting, depending on the season, until sundown. In the evening he finally relaxes with the missus over a moderate glass of beer.

And the farmer today's not only temperate in his habits, like Bert's evening glass of beer . . . but tolerant in his opinions. So he'll probably say of that article, "somebody got the facts wrong," and just let it go at that.

Joe Marsh

State Department Warns Of False Gas Tax Refunds

F. M. Alger, Jr., secretary of state, was advised today that Dr. C. T. Lewerenz of Chicago, who was charged by the department with making a false application for refund of gasoline tax was fined $400 and costs of $100 by Judge E. A. Westin in circuit court at St. Joseph, Michigan on June 21.

Lewerenz, who owns a farm near St. Joseph, was accused by the gasoline tax division of the department of state of using the gasoline for highway purposes instead of for farm work as he had claimed in an application for refund of tax.

Routine investigation of the Lewerenz claim by E. J. Dickerson, department of state field investigator disclosed information leading to the conviction.

The department of state, after investigation of claims, refunds approximately $3,000,000 of highway funds annually, 70 percent of which is for gasoline used on farms. To protect state highway funds Mr. Alger has insisted on a thorough checking of claims. In 1947 this activity resulted in a saving to the state of more than $300,000.

Rear Engine Tractor Is On Display Here

A new type of farm tractor that may prove to be the final threat to horses on the farm is now on display at Partridge Implement Co., local Allis-Chalmers dealer. Mel G. Partridge, owner, predicts it will replace that last team of horses on many farms by serving as a chore tractor, and that it will fill complete power needs on many other farms.

The new Allis-Chalmers model differs from previous tractor design in that it has a rear-mounted engine with implements attached in front within unobstructed view of the operator. Moving the engine to the rear keeps the front of the tractor clear for mounted implements, any of which can be attached or detached in five minutes. Even the plow is front-mounted.

Mr. Partridge points out that many farms keep one last team of horses for a few seasonal jobs, such as corn planting or hauling. Although such tasks are few and far between, the horses "eat their heads off" all year long, and at present feed prices, "that ain't hay." The new tractor, he says, will do such work on 2 or 3 quarts of fuel an hour — and eats only when it works. The owner just presses the starter button, with no currying, harnessing or hitching up.

One feature of special interest for close work such as cultivating vegetables, plowing out the corners or chore jobs is a special ¾ mile per hour low gear. The four speeds forward range up to 6.9 miles per hour.

Wheel treads can be adjusted to fit any row spacing.

The tractor serves as a portable power unit on belt-operated machines like water pumps, elevators, feed grinders and feed mixers. The company's slogan for the tractor is: "For some jobs on all farms and all jobs on some farms."

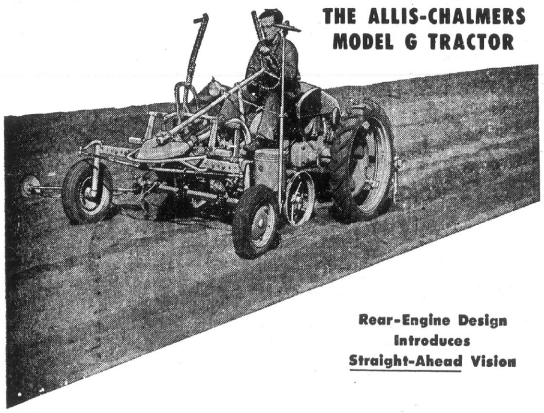
THE ALLIS-CHALMERS MODEL G TRACTOR



Rear-Engine Design Introduces Straight-Ahead Vision

NOW you can see it . . . a tractor that leaves your forward vision clear. Here is the first major development in tractor design since rubber tires replaced steel wheels.

It's not just another size tractor, but a new idea in farm power — a new system of motorized farm tools. Plants up to 25 acres of corn, sorghums or soybeans per day with 2-row drill planter; handles one 12-inch, front-mounted moldboard plow and 5-foot mower. Operates on 2 to 3 quarts of fuel per hour. Starter, lights and full size rubber tires are standard equipment.

Bids Sought For New School

BOARD OF EDUCATION FIXES AUGUST 5 AS FINAL DATE FOR RECEPTION

The Tecumseh board of education this week authorized the advertising for bids for the construction of a new $400,000 high school here and August 5 was fixed as the final date for the reception of such proposals. If the board's program is carried out as planned, work on the new building will be started in September and the structure completed and ready for occupancy in September of 1949.

Construction of the new school was authorized two months ago by voters in a special election when they approved a bond issue sufficient to provide for payment after an $80,000 sinking fund and a gift of $145,000 had been taken into consideration.

The $145,000 gift to the district was announced last February 2? by Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Company, at a "T" day banquet. Mr. Herrick said that his company and Messrs. F. K. Smith, Jens Tomborg and C. M. Brown would contribute the sum to the district on condition that the voters approve a bond issue sufficient to put the district out of debt in five years, and that construction of the new building be started this year. The approval from the voter was overwhelming.

Earl H. Place, superintendent here who succeeds W. L. Berkhof, said today that the board's building program was proceeding normally. Mr. Place arrived in Tecumseh last week and with his family is occupying a house adjoining the new school's site on N. Maumee street. The house was purchased by the district.

Mr. Berkhof and his family are enjoying a week's vacation at Muskegon. About July 15 they will move to Mt. Clemens where he becomes superintendent of the public schools of that city.

Hospital Uses New Power Unit

AUXILIARY ELECTRICAL UNIT MAKES INSTITUTION SELF-SUFFICIENT IN EMERGENCY

Miss Gertrude Spaulding, superintendent of Tecumseh Hospital, today was loud in her praise of a new auxiliary electrical unit, installed at the hospital ten days and which, she declared, was responsible in saving the lives of two 2-pound babies in incubators there on June 27. It was in the morning of that day that Consumers Power circuits were interrupted here for five hours, starting at 4 a.m., and for that period of time the auxiliary unit at the hospital furnished the needed current for lighting and heating.

The Auxiliary power unit is fully automatic and "cuts" in on the hospital lines when the regular current "cuts out," so that there is no interruption in service. It is so arranged heat to incubators and sterilizers continues and likewise all needed emergency lighting is available in operating and emergency rooms.

The decision to install the auxiliary power unit was reached after last winters' sleet storm when ice-coated lines caused long interruptions in both lights and power. The hospital board decided at that time that the hospital should be self-sufficient insofar as electricity in an emergency was concerned. Steps immediately were taken to purchase the necessary equipment and installation was completed only the day before the power break, June 27.

The temporary unit is powered with gasoline motors and is capable of furnishing current for an indefinite period. It will be used, it was explained, only in the event of an emergency. Its cost was about $2,500.

"We had two 2-pound babies in incubators when the power went off 10 days ago, and the auxiliary unit cut in immediately and there was absolutely no interruption in the heat," Miss Spaulding said. When the Consumer service was restored at about 9 a.m., the auxiliary unit "cut out" and acted only as a stand-by.

NO NEW BABIES AT HOSPITAL ON JULY

No new babies arrived at Tecumseh Hospital on July 4 but two youngsters, both of them boys, came near to birthday anniversaries on Independence Day except for the fact that one of them arrived on the 3rd, the other on the 5th.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Bourns of Tipton on the fifth and on the third a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Puruker, Tecumseh.

Funeral Services Held For I. E. Houpt, Britto

The funeral service for Isaiah Everett Houpt, 62, of Britton, who died Thursday morning, was held at the Niblack Funeral Home Saturday afternoon. The Rev. E. H. DuBois officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

The body of Mr. Houpt was found Thursday morning about 8 o'clock in his home with a bullet from a 22 caliber rifle in the right side of his head. Coroner Earl Little of Monroe ruled the death suicide.

Mr. Houpt lived alone in his home four miles east of Britton, where he moved 35 years ago from Williamsport, Indiana. His wife died in 1937. He was a member of the Bethel Tabernacle of Britton.

Surviving are a son Russell of Dundee, two brothers Rufus and Arby, both of Williamspcrt, and five grandchildren.

Plowing Meet Winners Named

TECUMSEH AND HOLLOWAY BOYS WIN RECOGNITION AT CONTEST, MONDAY

Top honors in the 4-H Club's junior and senior plowing contest, a feature sponsored here on Monday as a part of Tecumseh's Fourth of July Homecoming Celebration, went to Lawrence Young, of Tecumseh, and Charles Mitchell of Holloway. Young won, also, the silver loving cup, presented by the farm equipment dealers, for having the highest score in either the junior or senior class.

Young, with a score of 91.3 out of a possible 100, was an easy victor in the junior classification for boys 14 years old or younger. His nearest competitor was Donald Bush of Tecumseh with an 87.2 score and DeWayne Schermerhorn of Manitou Beach was third.

In the senior group, for boys over 14, Charles Mitchell of Holloway won first with a score of 88.6. Bill Weltenhagen of Adrian Rt. 4 won second and Russell Vershum of Britton placed third.

As a result of their high scores, Young, Bush and Mitchell will participate in the state contest to be held at Michigan State College, East Lansing, August 31.

The boys were judged on workmanship, mechanical efficiency and operating efficiency. It was considered that Young did the best all-round job to win the highest rating.

The contest was staged on a site opposite the Grange Hall. Other contestants in the junior class were Fred Long, and Lowell Bush, Tecumseh, Charles Bishop, Ridgeway, Danny Gilleyian, Clinton, and Gerald Wilson, Clayton. In the senior class, others were Richard Weiss, Adrian, Rt. 2, Jerry Eaton, Tecumseh, and James Brooks, Adrian Rt. 3. Cash awards given as prizes were contributed by Tecumseh implement dealers.

Judges for the contest were Felix Witt, Jasper, Harold Mapes, Manitou Beach, president of the Lenawee County Farm Bureau, Clarence Kleindinst, Ogden, Blair Woodman, Hillsdale, and Paul Schleneener, Michigan State College.

Summer Swim Program Opens Next Monday

Tecumseh's six-week summer swimming program, under the direction of the board of the Recreation Center, will get under way Monday July, 12, continuing to August 20. The Misses Louise and Dorothy Bowen will be in charge and all activities will be at "The Pit," operated by Luigi Gallo. Cost of the program is being underwritten by the Center.

There will be classes for beginners, intermediates and swimmers and instruction will be given for junior and senior life-saving awards. Persons over the age of 12 who are interested in this work should register on the opening day.

Following general registration on Monday, this schedule will be observed throughout the summer:

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m., to 11:15 a.m., junior and senior lifesaving instructions.

Tuesdays and Thursdays, same hours, intermediates.

"Industrial Evangelist"

Florida Industrialist To Speak At Friends Church

Kenneth S. Keyes, of Miami Florida, widely-known Christian businessman, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Tecumseh Friends Church on Sunday, July 11 at 7:30 o'clock, to which the public is invited. His subject will be, "In Partnership With God."

Mr. Keyes was born in Morenci, Michigan, is now president of the Keyes Company, the largest real estate organization in Miami and one of the largest firms of its kind in the United States.

In recent years he has traveled more than 100,000 miles at his own expense speaking to church congregations, men's clubs and other groups on the subject of steward-hip of time, energy, ability and possessions, having his own four-passenger airplane to facilitate his travels.

He is author of a number of pamphlets on stewardship, among them being, "In Partnership with God", "Your Tax and Your Tithe", "Guide-Posts to Stewardship"", and others. More than a million copies of these folders have been distributed throughout the country.

He is an elder of the Shenandoah Presbyterian Church of Miami, and a member of General Assembly's Committee on Stewardship of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

Keyes is vice-president of the National Institute of Real Estate management and has served as president of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers; president of the Florida Association of Real Estate Boards; vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; and vice-president of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.

Keyes is also president of the corporation which owns the 500-room Hotel Everglades in Miami, a large insurance agency, the Florida Lime and Avocado Grower's Cooeprative, and other extensive real estate, hotel and grove interests.

Keyes believes firmly in sharing the profits in the companies under his control. He puts aside at least one-tenth of these profits for Christian work and shares the balance on a liberal basis with his employees. He is convinced that the application of these twin principles has had much to do with his success.

He appears in Perry Hayden's color film, "God Is My Landlord," and one of his reasons for coming is to see this film following the service.

A free will offering will be taken to go to the building fund for the new addition being added to the church at the present time.

Hospital Seeks 60 Bed Addition

DR. RALPH HELZERMAN CHIEF OF STAFF APPEARS BEFORE VILLAGE COUNCIL

Need for a 100-bed hospital in Tecumseh was pictured to the council on Tuesday evening by Dr. Ralph Helzerman, chief of the Tecumseh Hospital staff, when he urged that body to take immediate steps for a building program to be launched this fall at a cost of probably $100,000.

"Plans for the new addition will be drafted at once," Dr. Helzerman said Wednesday, "and we hope to have them within a month for the consideration of the hospital board and the council."

Financing the proposed addition, Dr. Helzerman said, might be possible through the issuance of bonds, non-interest bearing for a five-year period. This would enable the retirement of bonds now being issued for the building of a new $400,000 high school before the hospital bonds became payable or before any interest on them would be paid. He is of the opinion that such bonds could be sold locally.

Tecumseh Hospital was built 10 years ago and has been enlarged once since that time. At present there are 34 beds and under crowded conditions 42 patients can be accommodated. The institution is far too small to meet the needs of the community at the present time, and the demands being made on the hospital are ever increasing, the chief of staff declared.

The council took the expansion program under advisement, awaiting the drafting of the building plans.

Robert Rowland, state plumbing inspector, appeared before the council and explained the state plumbing code. The contract and bonds of Roy C. Carr Excavating Co., which firm is doing work in Herrick Park, were approved. Reports of the police and fire department were read and placed on file and a $4,000 transfer of funds from the sewer to the water fund was authorized.

Tecumseh Says 'Thank You' To Jones, Harris

Officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce, which organization staged Tecumseh's Fourth of July and Homecoming Celebration, Monday, have heard nothing but praise and commendation from residents and visitors for the fun-packed program that brought some 25,000 people to this village during the day and evening. It was by far the largest crowd-attracting event ever staged here, not excepting the town's 100th anniversary celebration in 1925.

Police records show that there was not a single arrest during the day. There was no boisterousness no abuse of the use of liquor or beer. The streets were packed with automobiles and pedestrians, and parking space was at a premium many blocks from the downtown area. But there was not one serious accident.

There have been many who have requested that the celebration be made an annual affair—and perhaps it will be—depending upon a decision of the Chamber's board of directors.

For the success of the program, first honors go to Wade L. Jones, a member of the Chamber's board of directors and who acted as general chairman of the celebration. Mr. Jones is a tireless worker with a world of experience in such enterprises. He gave unsparingly of his time and efforts for many weeks to assure a day of fun for those who attended.

Second honors go to Ronald E. Harris, secretary of the Chamber. While Mr. Harris is a comparatively new resident of Tecumseh, he served willingly and graciously as Mr. Jones' first assistant.

Of course, there were dozens of others who cooperated with the two "head" men and who, as a result of such cooperation, made it possible for them to "put over" the day. But, to give credit where credit is due, Tecumseh owes a vote of thanks to Messrs. Jones and Harris.

Rotary Accepts Exchange Challenge For Golf Meet

The Tecumseh Rotary Club accepted the challenge of the Tecumseh Exchange Club for a golf match, the time and place to be designated later, and a committee named to arrange for the event when Rotary met in regular session at Brees House, Tuesday evening. The committee is made up of Frank Purcell, John Ziegler and LeRoy Titley.

Earl H. Place, new superintendent of schools here, was accepted in membership. Mr. Place moved here July 1 from Reed City where he was a Rotarian and president-elect of the group in that city.

The Rev. Potter Sabin of Chicago was a guest of L. W. Larsen at the meeting and Robert C. Meier was a guest of John R. Thompson.

Break Ground Thursday For New Kroger Store

Ground will be broken here next Thursday morning at 9:30 for the new $125,000 Kroger super-market on East Chicago Boulevard, Burdette Kizer, district manager of the company, said today. Officials from Toledo will be present for the ceremony, it was said.

The new building, which will be larger in size than the super-market recently opened by the company in Adrian, will be built by Hubert VanCamp and leased to the company. Construction will get under way immediately and it is hoped to have the store in operation by mid-October.

Announcement of the company's expansion plans was made by Carl Fuller, Toledo district manager of the firm, at a dinner meeting of company officials and store personnel at Brees House, about a month ago.

County Escapes Traffic Deaths

550 KILLED IN NATION OVER FOURTH; 39 DEAD IN MICHIGAN ALONE

While the nation and the state of Michigan piled up a heavy death toll over the Fourth of July holiday, Lenawee county, despite a record-high in motor travel, escaped without a fatality. In the nation, 550 persons were killed and in Michigan the death toll stood at 39.

Probably the most serious mishap occurred at 3:25 Monday at Walter Hayes State Park, Wamplers Lake, when Mrs. Elwood Kuney, 42, of Cadmus, suffered a crushed chest when she was run over by a car driven by E. J. Oldenburg of Detroit. She was removed to Tecumseh Hospital where it was said her condition was serious.

The accident happened as Mrs. Kuney and one of her children were sitting on the grass in the park. Oldenburg did not see the woman as he backed his car. She pushed the child out of the way to safety.

Catherine LeLonde, 13, Detroit, was brought to Tecumseh Hospital on Sunday suffering first degree burns to one of her hands. She was injured when a firecracker exploded as she held it in her fingers. The accident happened at Wamplers Lake.

Tecumseh, despite a 25,000 crowd for its homecoming, escaped without an accident. Edwin Kerr, 17, son of Earl Kerr, of Holloway, was removed to Tecumseh Hospital Monday evening at 11:15, suffering from exhaustion. It was said that his condition was not serious and he was released on Wednesday.

Over $800 Realized For Marda Jean Duncan

Tecumseh residents once again proved their generosity when the Presbyterian Women's Association, headed by Mrs. Fay Whelan, sponsored an ice cream, cake and pie booth at the Homecoming Celebration last Monday, the proceeds going into a fund for Marda Jean Duncan, a patient at the Milton H. Berry Foundatio School in Cincinnati. The Association had the complete cooperation of the Baptist, Friends, Grace Ev. Lutheran, Methodist, St. Elizabeth Catholic and St. Peter's Episcopal churches.

"Over $800 in sales and gifts was realized," Mrs. Ray Sluyter, a member of the sponsoring organization, said, "and gifts are still coming in. "It again proves just what can be done when everyone works together," Mrs. Sluyter said in praising those who contributed so generously. Mrs. Whelan also expressed her appreciation to those who assisted in any way in making the sale a success. Oe cake, baked by Mrs. Ted Goist, and decorated with white icing and a large Cag. complete with the forty-eight stars brought $44.65. Each person who donated a cash gift or baked goods was asked to write a note to Marda Jean on the "round robin" letter, which has been mailed to her at the Foundation. Miss Duncan's condition continues to improve. She will be there for several weeks yet after which she will return to her home here.

An all-time record shattering crowd, estimated to have totaled between 20,000 and 25,000, attended Tecumseh's Fourth of July and Homecoming Celebration, Monday. Previous forecasts of a 10,000 crowd, by the Chamber of Commerce, were realized during the late afternoon before the balloon ascension. The increase came in the evening when more than 15,000 persons jammed Recreation Center and adjoining streets to witness the $1,000 fireworks display, one of the largest of its kind ever to be seen in southern Michigan.

"We had hoped to attract 10,000 persons here Monday and our dreams were realized by 6 p.m., for the balloon ascension," Wade L. Jones, general chairman, said. However, as the evening wore on, other thousands joined in the merrymaking and attended the fireworks display. I believe that I am safe in saying that it was Tecumseh's largest crowd in its history, even larger than when we observed our centennial in 1925."

Highlights of the day incnded the triple parachute drop from a radio balloon by William Henderson of Fayette, O., and the fireworks display at night. Several persons are known to have driven 100 miles or more for the balloon feature. This was scheduled for 5:30 p.m., but was delayed until 7:40 because of a strong southwest wind.

Elliott Park, where the balloon was inflated, was thronged with spectators as were adjoining streets. They waited patiently for more than two hours to witness the flight. At 7:40, as the wind subsided, Henderson gave the signal to cut the ropes and, as the big bag rose rapidly, a hole was torn in the silk near the top as it caught on a tree branch. Leaking gas, the balloon rose to a height of nearly 2,000 feet before the aerialist began his triple parachute drop. He landed safely on the VanVleet farm, about three and a half miles north and east of here, but the balloon, because of the tear, beat Henderson to the earth. Many who witnessd the drop, declared it to have been one of the most perfect they had ever seen.

Tecumseh was in gala attire for the celebration and business was completely suspended as its residents "took a day off" to join in the activities. Chicago boulevard from Union to Maumee street, was closed to traffic and in the downtown area more than a score of concessions were operating in the street, while a ferric wheel, and other rides did a "land office business." The John McGee shows, which were in Adrian on Sunday, moved into Tecumseh early Monday and remained throughout the day and evening.

Another feature of the celebration was the appearance of eight high school bands in concerts, marches and a massed concert. The Tecumseh Products Orchestra also furnished music in the evening from a platform in front of the United Savings bank. This group is under the direction of Wm. Damoh.

The eight bands were from Clinton, Blissfield, Hudson, Sand Creek, Morenci, Lyons and Manmora O., and Tecumseh. This part of the program was under the

LET'S BLOW OUR HORN

The Saturday Evening Post recently devoted a lead editorial to an interesting example of the inefficiency of socialism. Fares for commercial plane flights across the Atlantic recently went up $25. The American airlines involved had been showing a profit on their overseas business, and they didn't want to raise the rate. However the British and French lines which are government-owned monopolies, had been taking heavy losses and they insisted on the boost. Inasmuch as the American systems' right to fly to foreign nations rests on agreements which could be abrogated, there was nothing they could do but go along and charge the higher tariff.

Commenting on this, the Post suggests that the America plane tickets carry a legend such as: "This ticket would have cost $25 less if Socialism were working the way Socialists say it is." It then goes on to make this observation: "Never do these apostles of anti-free enterprise explain just when and where Socialist economies have delivered the goods. They content themselves with pointing out that a 'planned society' ought to deliver the goods because it's a planned society. What's the matter with asking for details of how they do it, and what's the matter with blowing our own horn just softly, when we do it?"

This matter of the airplane fares isn't an isolated example. As soon as Britains' Labor government took over the power industry the rates were raised. Everyone knows of the doldrums her coal industry has been in. And even those businesses which are theoretically free in England are so bedevilled with red-tape, regulations, rationing schemes, and so on, that they are in a pitifully low state of efficiency.

News reports say that the labor government seems to be slowing up in further nationalization of industry. Plans for taking over the iron and steel industries have been sidestepped by leaders. Perhaps some of the hard facts of life are coming home with impact to the socialists.

The countries which have gone whole hog, and fallen for the Communist line, are in far worse shape still. At best, their people —save for the ruling class, which never lacks the luxuries—live on a subsistence basis.

In the meantime, the United States struggles along with much-abused free enterprise, and puts up with an unrivaled standard of living, more individual freedom than any other nation has ever known, and a government which, for all its shortcomings, is answerable to the people.

Michigan Mirror
Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

CHARLEVOIX—This is a weird story of a man, an idea, and a Michigan island.

The man was Jesse James Strang, self-anointed prophet of a dissident Mormon sect.

The idea: God had chosen Strang to be king.

The island: Big Beaver, three hours from Charlevoix by mail boat, largest of all isles in Lake Michigan.

The time: Just 100 years ago—1848.

All these things were recalled by Michigan newspaper editors last week-end, as they met at Charlevoix for a traditional summer meeting under auspices of the Michigan Press Association.

Strang, the man of this story, was a superb opportunist. When the founder of Mormonism, Joseph Smith, was assassinated by a mob at Carthage, Illinois, Strang promptly produced a letter. The letter was said to have been written by Smith prior to his death. Smith named Strang as his successor.

The Mormon committee of 12 judged the letter to be a fraud. Strang then led his followers to a place near Burlington, Wisconsin, and there revealed the location of long lost ancient Biblical records. By Strang's translation, a "mighty prophet" was to arrive. The conclusion was plain. Strang was their man.

Harrassed by disbelievers, Strang transferred his colony to Big Beaver Island, then inhabited by a few sturdy, fighting Irish fishermen and some Indians. There on beautiful Paradise bay, across from Whiskey point, Strang founded the town of St. James. In July, 1849, he was crowned "king".

Next on the scene came an attractive school teacher, Elvira Eliza Field, from Eaton Rapids and Charlotte. In Wisconsin, Strang had denounced polygamy. He changed his mind when he beheld Elvira. She became his second wife, posing as his secretary. When tongues wagged, Strang revealed the divine blessing of polygamy. He then took on three other wives: Betsy McNutt and Sarah and Phoebe Wright. They all slept under the same roof.

Strang became a leader in the Michigan state legislature. The kingdom at St. James grew to number 2,608 inhabitants by 1854 census.

The Mormon kingdom came to a tragic ending in June, 1856. Strang was fatally wounded by two of his own followers in the presence of the captain of the U. S. Michigan, a government boat. Irish fishermen from Mackinac and St. Helena joined those at Big Beaver. Together they drove the Mormons from their island haven.

Today, the sole remaining landmark of this colorful epoch at St. James is the Old Mormon Printing House, erected in 1850. There the first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids was printed on April 1, 1856. The final issue of the "Northern Islander" recorded the story of Strang's assassination.

The Old Mormon Printing House is now marked by a historical plaque sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Historical Commission. The dedication ceremony took place Sunday, June 27, at the quiet village of St. James.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Hospitality Isn't "Cracked"!

Ever since January, Will Dudley planned to give his living room that "new look"—planned to carefully refinish the woodwork and replaster the walls.

Every time Will got out the putty to start filling in the cracks, a neighbor stopped by to pass the time of day — and first thing you knew, there was a group of us helping Will do the job up right. After Will called a halt to the evening's work, we'd sit around the fire enjoying a friendly argument and a sparkling glass of mellow beer.

So Will's living room doesn't look like it did a year ago—but it's by far the most "livable" living room I know: A place you can always drop in for good talk, good beer, and a warm welcome.

From where I sit, so long as Will puts that atmosphere of hospitality and good fellowship ahead of everything else, we'll all be happy to help Will change the looks of his living room any time he wants.

Previous Record Shattered By Monday's Homecoming Crowd

supervision of Clair Camburn, director of the Tecumseh band, in a drum majorettes twirling contest, Miss Bradstrum of Blissfield won first honors, Miss Leffingwell of Hudson, second, and Miss Emerson of Morenci, third. Prizes of $5, $6, and $3 were given.

Catching the greased pig, a form of sport that is age-old but which has been nearly forgotten in many sections of the country, furnished amusement for several minutes on Monday when a well-greased porker was released in the down town section. There was a mad scramble by a score of youths in an effort to catch the animal, which, incidentally, was the prize. The pig was captured by Ned Swift and Tom O'Hara and how they intended to divide the porker the judges did not know.

"It was a fine pig", was what "Red" Becker, who had charge of the contest, declared. "It was just the right size, and the grease that covered its body was of the good axle variety." Properly fed and cared for, the pig would be worth $150 or more by late fall, it was said.

In the other contests during the afternoon, there were many first and second prize winners. Mrs. Elizabeth Simko of Detroit, came out first in the husband-calling contest with Mrs. Harold Ritter of Flat Rock, second.

The girls' potato race was won by Shirley Bailey with Carol La Baron second. The boys' potato race was won by Barry Freckelton with Lowell Perin, second; girls' sack race, Judy Whiting, first, Dorothy Bailey, second; boys' sack race, Carl Freckelton, first, Ross Hadley, second.

In the boys' three legged race, Russell McKenzie and Elbert Hart won first prize and Val Spangler and Jim Hartzel, second, Irene Rogers won the thin woman's race and Irene Csorkasy, second. Weights were up to 125 pounds.

A fishing rod of $7.50 value, first prize in the fat men's race, went begging when the judges were unable to discover any contestants.

In the honeymoon race, Mr. and Mrs. Howath won first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rogers, second. Carl Leonard won the bean and spoon race for boys, with Ross Hadley, second.

The fireworks display beginning at 9:45 at Recreation Center proved to be the greatest crowd-attracting feature on the day-long program. Before 8 o'clock the crowd started to gather at the Center and by 9:30 there was not even standing room in the field or on the banks of the natural amphitheatre. Other thousands of persons sought points of vantage blocks distant and still others, realizing that the wide-open spaces would afford a good place from which to see the aerial displays, parked their cars on country roads some of them two and three miles away.

The fireworks display was under the supervision of a licensed pyro technician from the Illinois Fireworks Co. It was 11 o'clock when this program ended.

The celebration was staged by the Chamber of Commerce and committees from that organization were in charge of the program. Mr. Jones, the general chairman, today expressed appreciation to all of those who assisted in any way in making the observance a success. "I will not attempt to mention names because there were so many who served," he said. "I do, however, want to say thank you to everybody who helped. They all did a grand job."

Many requests have been received by the Chamber to make the celebration an annual affair. This will be considered at a subsequent meeting of the board.

Labor Demand Is Still Slow

SURPLUS OF MALE WORKERS, HOWEVER, IS BELIEVED GRADUALLY DIMINISHING

While the number of male workers unemployed in Lenawee county is more than sufficient to meet the demand, the surplus of such workers which has been evident in recent months is believed gradually diminishing, according to a report issued by Clifford J. Rice, branch manager of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, Adrian.

While the latest compensation report is for June, Mr. Rice points out that compensation claims are reflecting a decrease in unemployment. During the last week of March, he said, 906 unemployment claims were processed as compared with 510 such claims in the last week of May.

Rice's June report indicates that there are 886 persons listed in his office who are seeking employment and he says that in all probability that there is an equal number available who have not registered with his office. There are 141 men and women under 21 years of age seeking work, 371 between the ages of 21 and 34, 138 between the ages of 35 and 45 and 236 over the age of 45. Most of the unemployed are in the semi-skilled or unskilled classifications.

"Hiring planned by 16 major industrial employers in the county calls for 570 more workers by September." Rice's report says. "Approximately 120 of the additional workers, it is expected, will be women.

"During May, the local MUCC office received job orders for 418 workers. Slightly more than 100 of the job openings were canceled during the month, however, when the large automobile plant shutdowns outside the area caused local slow-ups. A total of 90 workers were placed in seasonal agricultural jobs, and employers hired 209 urban workers through the local office during May," his report concludes.

SUMMER RECESS

There will be no W. C. T. U. meetings during the months of July and August.

NEED A VACATION? IT'S ALL IN YOUR HEAD!

A Good Vacation Must Be Enjoyed

"Vacation is an attitude of mind," the Michigan Department of Health indicated today when it issued: Ten ways to get the most out of your Vacation

Whether you go away or stay at home — get the vacation attitude of mind, relax, and enjoy yourself, your family and your friends.

If you are going away — choose the place that will give you the greatest change and pleasure.

If you are staying at home — vary your usual routine and do things in a vacation way.

Spend time out of doors and in the sunshine. Get a coat of tan, but gradually to avoid painful sunburn.

Suit your activities to your age and don't overdo.

Eat regularly and moderately and enjoy the summer's fresh vegetables and fruits.

Sleep eight hours or longer; it does wonders for your capacity to enjoy yourself.

Better bathe at approved and guarded beaches. At least, don't swim alone or dive into strange waters.

Give prompt attention to even minor injuries, insect bites and ivy poisoning. Be careful, so that no accident will mar your restful, happy holiday.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

At a pre-nuptial party of attractive arrangements, Miss Ruth Schneider was complimented when Miss Marjorie VanWinkle entertained last evening in her home on East Logan street. Bridge was the diversion and the prizes awarded were presented to Miss Schneider who also received many lovely bathroom gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. L. W. Larsen and Mrs. Peter McGee will further compliment Miss Schneider. Mrs. Robert H. Moore and Mrs. Charles O. Butler entertained at a kitchen shower recently in the Butler home for the bride-elect.

WESTMINSTER GUILD

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening, July 12, at the home of Mrs. Albert Jahn. A pot-luck supper will be served at 6:30. Mrs. Ted Lafrinty is in charge of transportation.

Black, Sigler Fued Continues

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS THE "PECK'S BAD BOY" OF MICHIGAN ADMINISTRATION

By Gene Alleman
(Special To The Herald)

Lansing—"Gene" Black, Michigan's scrapping attorney general, has become the "Peck's bad boy" of the Kim Sigler administration.

The man whom Sigler once insisted was a "must" for cabinet is now his No. 1 prickly thorn.

Because the Republican delegation at the Republican national convention stuck to Vandenberg in the second ballot, hoping to elevate Michigan's national statesman from the United States Senate to the White House, Black is now assailing Sigler for Michigan's "most distasteful political position".

Black says he has been a Dewey booster for years. Recently he sounded a call for a "new and resolute Republican candidate for governor to oppose Governor Sigler".

The Port Huron attorney, who commutes daily between the state capitol and his home in Port Huron, has not indicated whom he would favor for Republican leadership.

Lieut. Governor Eugene C. Keyes, in the meanwhile, is circulating petitions for both governor and lieutenant governor. He says he won't make up his mind until the July 20 deadline for nominating petitions.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake of Stanton is unhappy over the Philadelphia outcome. He also differed recently with Governor Sigler over the proposed constitutional reforms. Asked about his intention of running for governor, Brake told a Lansing newspaper reporter: "I have no intention of running. But I wouldn't tie myself up with any flat prediction about being, or not being, a candidate for any office at this time."

To all these rumors Governor Sigler is unperturbed.

"The people elect the lieutenant governor," he said, following his return from Philadelphia. "If they elect Keyes I'll try to get along with him as well as any human being.

"My big problem is that a part of the Administrative board wants to be governor and use every means to advance their own political ambitions."

Sigler said he thought Black should "spend more time helping to get things done than in popping off to anyone who would listen."

One thing is sure: "Gene" Black doesn't give a whoop what happens to him politically. He finds life at the state capitol very distasteful. Following the 1946 election he sought to get an expense account for room and board at Lansing, maintaining that such was due him under an ancient statute.

When Auditor General Marl Aten refused to honor the claim, he promptly began the daily trek via a state-owned automobile from Port Huron to Lansing. His 1947 legal practice at Port Huron was lucrative.

He feuded with Lansing newspaper correspondents over release of public information and was spanked publicly by Governor Sigler.

He recently charged that Michigan automobile dealers were in cahoots with the state Republican command, contributing huge sums of money for the 1948 campaign. All of this has been irritating to the Republican state central committee and to Governor Sigler. It is quite unorthodox for the attorney general of a reform administration to hint boldly of finagling in high places. Black has done just that.

Governor Sigler told Associated Press managing editors at Higgins Lake that he refuses "to bring himself down" to the level of his feuding colleague, Mr. Black.

"Mr. Black is a nice fellow personally," said Sigler. "But he has a peculiar complex. He has swung in many directions.

"I do not feel the same way Black does. Should I criticize him publicly?"

POST-NUPTIAL PARTY

The Misses Martha Hewlett and Gloria Underwood entertained in the Hewlett home Tuesday evening at a post-nuptial party for Mrs. Vernon Irelan, the former Jeannine Clark. Bouquets of flowers were placed throughout the home. Cards were the diversion and the prizes awarded were presented to the honored guest. Mrs. Irelan received many lovely miscellaneous gifts, after which light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Too Early For Milk

A couple of tourists called at a Maine farm house of an early morning recently. "We were wondering," spoke up the lady, "if we could get a glass of fresh milk?"

"Now that's too bad," sympathized the housewife, "but you see we live quite a ways from the city, and the milkman hasn't got here yet!"

FALL STYLES HAVE QUIETER NEW LOOK

The New Look for early fall clothes will still be new, but more restrained — with slimmed down skirts and quieter lines. Suits will be more important than ever this fall, according to fashion expert Marian Corey. Writing in a current issue of McCall's about what to expect next in women's styles, she predicts a leading role for the slim silhouette on the low flounce:

"More moderate clothes are the next thing. The new look is setting down into quieter lines. It still looks new, but it doesn't startle. By fall a good many of the flared skirts will have slimmed down. Two yards and a half around or a bit more or less, is preferred by many people.

"Still seen occasionally are the die-hard girls with knee-high skirts, their shoulders so broad and so heavily padded that they look top-heavy. Add a half a bushel of hair and a tiny hat, and you have the Vanishing American. She is, of course, limping along on five-inch heels. Goodby, too, to the girls who went overboard for everything exaggerated. The outrageously voluminous skirt, down to the ankles. The little jacket resting on wide spreading hips. The heavy head-size hat. The flat sole ballet-slipper.

Skirts for fall remain long. About twelve inches from the floor. Increase that to thirteen, if it suits you. Shoulders will still be padded his fall, but they will be padded lightly. No more of those fat triangular pillows.

"More to-do about suits for fall than ever, and more suits per person. Where you had one new suit before, you will want two now. Bottle green is the much talked about new suit color. The best suit for the end of summer and the beginning of fall is still the black faille. Tailored ones have a slight edge on dressy ones, and you soften them up with dressy blouses and pretty hats.

"Tiers are running around many of the early fall dresses. All kinds of tiers — flared, flat, split, draped. Always posed on very slim skirts. Among candidates for the silhouette of fall is a dark horse that has been getting off to a slow start. When fall arrives, it will have arrived, too. It is a slim silhouette with a low placed flounce."

Tecumseh F. F. A.

The Tecumseh F. F. A. softball team defeated the Blissfield F. F. A. team 25 to 5 on July 1. James Dick was the winning pitcher. Doug Tate, Wesley Whelan and Gilbert Ives shared the batting honors. The Tecumseh team has won three games while losing none. The next game is with Adrian.

The next monthly meeting will be held at the high school on July 14. One of our F. F. A. gilts, kept by Wesley Whelan, farrowed eleven pigs, keeping eight. This sow is a registered Duroc and we are trying to encourage members to raise registered stock.

A small boy had attended a lecture given by an eminent and delightful woman speaker, who had been introduced in a few sentences, to the audiences by a local woman.

Washtenaw Has Building Code

COVERS NOT ONLY NEW CONSTRUCTION BUT ALTERATIONS AND REMODELING

Nine recent fires have caused $25,000 worth of damage to houses in Washtenaw county. These fires were caused by poor construction, mostly of chimneys. In nearly every township, there are the charred remains of someone's home which has burned to the ground.

Olen Wanty, Washtenaw county building inspector says: "We hope to be able to avoid fires such as the nine mentioned by strict observance of the new code which provides minimum standards of safety and inspection of both the plans and the completed dwelling in the 14 townships covered by the code.

Many township residents are unaware that the code, as drawn up by the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, covers not only new houses, but all alterations, reshingling, residing, and enlargement, repairs and changes of use or occupancy in existing dwellings. The building code applies to one and two-family dwellings.

That persons building a new home in the townships must obtain a permit from the County Health Department to install water supply and sewage disposal facilities prior to applying for the building permit itself.

Present requirements are that individuals bring to the building inspector's office a copy of this permit, plus a set of plans which must remain on file in the office a site map showing the exact location of the house, well and septic tank, and a description of the soil on which the dwelling is to be put up.

The sanitary engineer of the County Health Department, where the sewer and water permit is obtained, is at his office at 720 E. Michigan avenue, Ypsilanti.

The Inspector also pointed out Catherine street on Wednesday afternoons and Saturday mornings. The building inspector is at his office at 415 W. Washington street, on the same two days.

The county building code covers fourteen townships. There are Lyndon, Sylvan, Sharon, Manchester, Dexter, Lima, Freedom, Bridgewater, Webster, Saline, York, Augusta, Superior and Salem.

SHEER TRAVEL MAGIC

THIS is the Buick America's car buyers are buzzing about. This is the one with travel magic flowing all through it.

This is the ROADMASTER with Dynaflow Drive*—where Main Street's dense traffic, the inviting open road and the long, stretching hills are bossed with equal ease by a toe-touch.

Here you let your left foot idle comfortably wherever you wish—there's no clutch pedal to push, ever.

Here your mind's free completely of remembering when to shift—no gears ever shift anywhere in the car.

Here, you glide over ground and grades in swift and utter smoothness as constant and unbroken as Niagara's flow.

For here you have the only passenger car in America where liquid replaces both the usual clutch and the low-second-high gear sequence of conventional transmissions.

Here you sit in blissful ease while the power plant itself meets and masters the thousand and one situations that come up in travel.

Gentle grades, steep hills, long straightaways, stop streets—once your lever's set, you simply step on the gas—and take them all in liquid-smooth luxury!

Does all this sound fabulous? It is.

So fabulous that folks are signing up in droves for the '48 fashion plate with this new-wonder drive.

So to take command of this traveler-touched-with-magic, come see us quickly and get your order in.

We'll take it in sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

An Open Letter
To Motorists In This Area

The 'boys who write' and others too, are having a field day picking on automobile dealers. With us, for some years back, it has been something to think about and plan a shelter against the brickbats.

When there was very little to sell but service and parts we featured 'Good Service and a Square deal.' It built us a customer following that is often too numerous to handle.

So we came into the postwar car period. What a situation! . . . We took orders — admitting those without trades as well as those with them—

We turned our back on all extra inducements offered—

We gave liberal allowances on the trade-in cars; we sold the used cars at moderate prices—

We left it to the buyer to decide what, if any, accessories he wanted on his new car—

If we offered a man a green one and he said he'd like to wait for a red one, we said 'OK.'

There has been a rumble in the air of people saying '—There'll Come a DAY!' Even if the people do forget — this well be, as now, a place for 'Good Service and a Square Deal'.

Burns Fatal To 8-Year-Old Boy

ROBERT HAROLD FOLK SUCCUMBS IN TECUMSEH HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Robert Harold Folk, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Folk of 107 South Wyandotte Street, died in Tecumseh hospital at 4:15 p.m. Saturday, from severe burns received last Thursday afternoon.

Bobby, who was playing alone in his father's work shop behind their residence, came screaming from the shop with his clothing in flames. He ran around the yard until his father caught him and with Mrs. Folk extinguished the flames. Both parents suffered burns on their hands and arms.

Bobby was rushed to Tecumseh hospital where it was said that 90 per cent of his body was covered with third degree burns. The cause of the fire is unknown.

He was a member of the St. Elizabeth Catholic church. Surviving are his parents, two sisters, Barbara Ann and Mary Ellen; Jay J. Tressler of Tecumseh, P. F. Folk of Eldon, Missouri, and Mrs. Maurice Deatrick of Otley, Iowa, and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

The rosary was said Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Collins Funeral Home and the funeral service was held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in St. Elizabeth church, the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins officiating. Burial was in St. Dominic cemetery in Clinton. The bearers were James Gruber, John Forgacs, James Breitenwischer, Thomas Limes, Francis Graham and Calvin Pask. Friends and relatives attended from Detroit, Toledo, Farmington, Redford, Holloway and Tecumseh.

Speed Kills Police Warn

NO CAR IS SAFER THAN ITS DRIVER, AND SMOOTH RUNNING AUTOS FOOL YOU

"Speed kills — take it easy!" This is the traffic safety theme to be stressed during the month of July by police agencies of Michigan, according to Sergeant C. M. Miller, commanding officer of the Clinton post of the Michigan State Police. The campaign is part of a year-round traffic education program sponsored by the National Safety Council under the title of "Operation Safety."

"Modern, smooth running cars give a delusion of safety when running at high speeds," Sergeant Miller said. "No car, however, is safer than its driver, and the records show that speed is a factor in accidents more often than any other violation. Speed is likewise a contributing cause in two out of every five traffic deaths."

Contrary to general belief, Michigan does have a speed law that applies to the open highway, Sergeant Miller points out.

"Unless a zone is posted with signs, the law does not designate any specific speed limits outside of business and residential districts," the officer said. "But it does provide that driving too fast for conditions is a violation. By conditions is meant such considerations as the weather, volume and rate of flow of traffic, conditions of highway, and whether it is day or night.

"Under certain circumstances, you can speed at five to 10 miles an hour as well as at 50 or 60. And when you're going 60 and hit a solid obstruction it is just like driving off a 10-story building."

Although the accident record is not increasing porportionately with the increase in traffic, nevertheless it is at a new peak and growing, Miller stated. Last year 1,441 persons were killed and 39,639 injured in 127,619 traffic accidents in Michigan.

"There just aren't enough policemen to control the situation," Miller said. "If we are to reduce accidents, drivers must police themselves by being conscientious in the operation of their cars. They must also be alert for the unexpected, especially carelessness or recklessness on the part of the other driver. And remember, you can't dispute the record, speed kills. So take it easy, what's the hurry?"

The golf meets will be held every Monday evening through July and August, with the exception of July 19 and August 16, when regular dinner meeting will be held at Brees House.

Club members, including those who don't play golf, meet at Beach's Service Station at 5 o'clock every Monday, where transportation to the lake is available.

Regular meetings will be resumed September 13.

Wives Urged To Preserve Foods

CANNING OR FREEZING VEGETABLES, FRUITS WILL HELP CUT LIVING COSTS

"Canning or freezing seasonal fruits and vegetables this summer will help you lop great amounts off your winter food budget and still serve colorful, vitamin filled meals," Alice Smith, chief nutritionist of the State Department of Health, told Michigan housewives today.

"Observe National Food Preservation Week, July 19-24, by planning what foods you need to can, freeze, dry and store to meet the winter requirements," she urged.

When planning to preserve fruits and vegetables, remember that you should:

1. Choose only foods in tip-top condition.
2. Wash them thoroughly.
3. Can or freeze them immediately to keep their freshness.
4. Follow up-to-date processing directions, exactly, to prevent loss from spoilage.

Two things, bacteria and molds cause foods to spoil. Careful following of approved food processing will prevent food spoilage. Fruits and tomatoes may be processed by cooking them in cans in a boiling water bath or in a pressure cooker. Vegetables must be processed in a pressure cooker to be sure they are safe to eat.

Nearly all fruits and vegetables, except tomatoes, can be frozen successfully. To prepare vegetables for freezing: wash, cut in size for serving, blanch in boiling water or steam, cool immediately in cold water, drain, pack in containers. Fruits are prepared as for serving, mixed with sugar and packed in containers, or they may be put in containers and covered with syrup. Both fruits and vegetables should be frozen immediately after they are packed and kept frozen until they are to be used. Thaw fruits in the containers in which they were frozen. Serve immediately. Never refreeze thawed food.

Pamphlets containing detailed information on canning, freezing, drying, and storing foods may be obtained from Michigan State College, East Lansing, or from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Ground Breaking Ceremony

Ground was broken last week Thursday morning for Tecumseh's new $125,000 Kroger super-market on East Chicago boulevard, just east of Ottawa street. The building is being erected by Hubert VanCamp, who purchased the property, and is leased to Kroger's. It is hoped to have the store in operation in October.

In the picture above, which was taken on the site, are, reading from left to right, Leonard Thompson, general district manager of Kroger's, Burdette Kizer, district manager, Sam Myers and Lee Shutt, real estate department of the grocery chain, Ray W. Herrick, president, Tecumseh Products Co., Carl Fuller, branch manager, Kroger's, Harvey Wilson, local store manager, Earl L. Wickwire and Ronald E. Harris, president and secretary, respectively, of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Herrick turned the first shovel of ground for the new construction, declaring that it marked another step in Tecumseh's forward progress.

Township Asks Sidewalk Bids

RESIDENTS OF SO-CALLED QUAKER OATS SUBDIVISION WILL GET IMPROVEMENTS

Tecumseh township, through its supervisor, LeRoy Titley, this week advertised for bids for the building of sidewalks in the so-called Quaker Oats Subdivision, a development of some 60 houses south of the corporation. The area was developed a year ago but is without sidewalks.

The new walks will be built from the south village limits on Union street, south to Russell Road on both sides of the street. A walk also will be built on the north side of Russell Road, from a point about 350 feet west of Evans street, west to Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad tracks. The project is expected to cost about $5,000 or less.

Mr. Titley said that as quickly as bids can be received, opened and approved, the township will award the construction contract and that the new walks will be built and in readiness for use this fall.

Sees Russia As Godless Nation

ROTARY SPEAKER PICTURES STALIN AS EX-BANK ROBBER RULING WITH IRON HAND

Picturing Premier Stalin of Russia as an ex-bank robber, surrounded by henchmen who rule with an iron hand, Peter Varonoff, son of a Baptist minister who spent many years until recently behind the "Iron Curtain," told Rotarians Tuesday evening that the communist-dominated nation is God-less and that every effort must be made on the part of free nations to check the spread of the Red doctrine. The program followed a dinner at Brees House.

Mr. Varonoff declared that there are only four million communists in Russia but he pointed out that they are so powerful in government, so ruthless in the enforcement of their orders that the remaining millions fear for their lives. The theft of a screwdriver from a government-controlled factory means a long prison term, he said, and to oppose the will of the dictators invites death or a prison term in Siberia.

"You must remember," he said, "that Hitler, before he met defeat, brought 15 nations under his control. Stalin already dominates 14 nations and if Greece succumbs to communism he will have equaled Hitler's power."

Communism is not Russian-born, Varonoff declared, but rather Russia was the first nation to be so dominated. Stalin, he declared, is the son of a shoe cobbler, and in his early years studied for the priesthood, left school at the age of 15, renounced his religion and resorted to bank robbery. Russia, under his control, knows no god, recognizes no religion.

Communism, he said, thrives on unrest, dissatisfaction, ignorance and half-truths.

Varonoff warned that if the Red peril is to be checked it must be done by Christian teaching. He declared that millions in Russia despise the communist rule, but are unable to free themselves from its bondage.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Tecumseh Friends church will conduct its annual daily vacation Bible school beginning Monday, July 19 and continuing to July 30. Solicitors Are On Down-Grade

OUT-OF-TOWN ORGANIZATIONS FINDING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS FUNCTIONING

There is a definite downward trend in the number of organizations seeking to solicit funds for this or that purpose—most of them from outside Tecumseh—Ronald E. Harris, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here, said today. Few requests for permits to solicit have been received in the past month, he said, and all such requests have been handled promptly by the Chamber's committee.

"Persons who desire to solicit funds from merchants here should first obtain a permit from the Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Harris pointed out. "Of course, we can not stop solicitation, but members of the Chamber always ask the solicitor for his permit and in instances where no such permit can be shown the member may be assured of this: Either such a permit has been denied by the Chamber's committee, or the solicitor has not requested one. In either case, the Chamber member usually informs his visitor that such a permit is needed, and in instances where the permit is lacking a contribution is generally denied."

Harris pointed out that professional organizations from outside Tecumseh learn rapidly that the Chamber is functioning here, and for that reason they often think twice before they send a crew here to seek funds.

"No worthy organization is denied the right to solicit," Harris said. "The Chamber's committee is a secret one, and it acts individually on each request for a permit. In all instances, I would say that the committee has been very fair, and in instances where permits were denied the committee reasoned that Tecumseh's money should not be taken out of town for the purpose requested.

Harris urged Chamber members to request a permit from all solicitors. "It is only in that way we can make the Chamber function for its members," he said "and in many instances, members have been saved far more than their dues in such a manner."

Mrs. Franc A. Mickel, Macon Resident, Dies

Mrs. Franc Adele Mickel, 86, died Monday at 4:30 a.m. in her home at Macon, where she had been in failing health for several years.

Mrs. Mickel was a lifelong resident of Macon where she had been born February 23, 1862, to the late Richard and Ellen Howell Richart. She was the wife of Charles B. Mickel, who preceded her in death in October 1933. A graduate of Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilantl, she taught schools in different places for 25 years.

A member of the Macon churches, Mrs. Mickel acted as organist for many years and was very active in all church affairs. She was a past president of the Ladies Aid Society and the Macon Women's Club, and was secretary and treasurer of the Macon Lady Macabees. For many years she was the local correspondent for the Adrian Telegram and The Clinton Local.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Macon Methodist church with the Dr. F. H. Littell officiating. Burial was in the Macon cemetery. The bearers were John Howell, Joe Sheward, Raynor Scudder, Clayton Bigelow, Ray Smith and Clare Camburn. Friends and relatives attended from Battle Creek, Detroit, Macon, Clinton, Tecumseh, Saline and Macon.

His brother Charles E. DeVol, Ph. D., is at the head of a large and growing Friends Mission at Lubo, China, which lies about twenty-five miles north of Nanking.

Since being repatriated following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dr. DeVol has been serving a large rural area in central Ohio as physician and surgeon. He is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons. This will probably be DeVol's last visit to Tecumseh prior to sailing for China.

Five Are Hurt In Auto Mishap

DRIVER LOSES CONTROL OF CAR ON IRON CREEK ROAD; TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Four persons were treated at Tecumseh hospital Sunday at 12:30 p.m. after a car driven by Orie A. Hand, 53, of Lincoln Park, struck a bridge over Iron Creek two miles north of U. S. 112.

Mr. Hand received severe lacerations on the right wrist; Donald VanEtten 12, of Manchester, head lacerations; Mrs. Mary VanEtten, 38, of Manchester, suffered a lacerated right shoulder and head injuries, and Annabelle Hand, 16, minor head lacerations. William VanEtten, 14, of Manchester, was taken to the University hospital in Ann Arbor with a fractured left leg.

The driver, going south, turned to avoid hitting a hole in the road and lost control of the car. State police of the Clinton post investigated the accident.

Another mishap occurred Sunday on M-52 north of Clinton when an automobile driven by Miss Vivian Moats of Clinton slowed down to turn right of the highway and was struck in the rear by a car driven by John Lennon of Toledo. Clinton state police gave Lennon a summons for failing to have his car under control. Miss Moats received a summons for having no operator's license on her person.

House For Sale

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW CLUBHOUSE NECESSITATES REMOVAL OF DWELLING

If you are in the market for a house, and would like to buy one cheap, you'd better contact Robert H. Moore, chairman of the building committee of the Tecumseh Country Club.

Mr. Moore's problem is to dispose of the 12-room house on the former Roberts farm, Milwaukee Road, so that construction of the new clubhouse can be started August 1. The farm has been purchased by the club.

The dwelling is about 40 by 10 in size, two stories, frame construction. The new clubhouse will be of cement, brick and steel and must be ready for occupancy in October.

"Whoever buys the house must agree to move it or tear it down and remove the lumber by August 1," Mr. Moore said. "We intend to accept the first reasonable offer, and it need not be too high. Its an opportunity for someone to buy a lot of building material very cheap."

SOFTBALL TOURNEY

Harry Wagner, county commissioner of the department of recreation, has announced a softball tournament for Classes A, B and C, to be held August 14-22 in Adrian. The tourney is open to teams in all classes, and there is a registration fee of $3. Registration must be made with Mr. Wagner at the city hall in Adrian.

Two Reelected To School Board

SATTERTHWAITE, SPAFFORD UNOPPOSED IN ELECTION; TOUBORG AGAIN PRESIDENT

Perry C. Satterthwaite and Jerry Spafford were reelected to the Tecumseh board of education in a light election held here on Monday. Only 24 votes were cast during the seven hours that the polls were open at the council building, and Mr. Spafford received 22 votes, Mr. Satterthwaite 24.

In an organization meeting on Monday evening, Jens Touborg was reelected president, Mr. Spafford, vice president, Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary, and Mr. Satterthwaite, treasurer. Paul Breitenwischer is the fifth member of the board.

The annual meeting of the voters of the district was held at the high school on Monday evening. Only three electors were in attendance.

The annual audit of Edward C. Boss, certified public accountant of Detroit, showed that the district had annual receipts during the year of $189,402.43 and that the total expenditures amounted to $175,813.37, leaving a balance of $13,589.16. Mr. Boss complimented the board on the excellent conditions of its books.

In a breakdown of costs, the report showed that instructional expenses amounted to $90,785.69, plant operation totaled $18,181.84, maintenance, $6,075.19 and expenditures in the building and site fund, $42,315.95.

W. L. Berkhof, who retired July 1 as superintendent to go to a similar position at Mt. Clemens, submitted a lengthy report on school operations during the year past. He declared that it would be necessary during the coming school year to utilize rooms in the Presbyterian and Baptist churches for school purposes for elementary grades, pending construction of the new $400,000 high school. Last year, classes met in St. Peter's parish house and in the library and Mr. Berkhof said the classes again would have to meet there this coming year.

He praised the foresight of the voters in approving an expansion program through the construction of the new school, pointing out that the town's population is fast increasing and that facilities now available are far from sufficient.

Berkhof also listed among the school's accomplishments during the last year the driver training course for high school students, and the cooperative on-the-job training program, with local firms assisting. Both of these programs, he said, were very beneficial.

The retiring superintendent expressed his appreciation to the board, the teachers and the public generally for the many kindnesses received by him during the 13 years that he served Tecumseh as superintendent.

Earl H. Place of Reed City, succeeds Mr. Berkhof as the head of the school system here. Mr. Place is now on the job, and attended the annual meeting.

Fay Whelan submitted a report from the Tecumseh Recreation Center showing total receipts during the year of $6,560.11 and expenditures of $5,320. The Center now has a balance of $1,239.15. The largest receipts during the year came from the sale of admissions to football games, this total being $2,195.90.

The report of Miss Ruth Harding, librarian, showed that there were 914 readers with cards during the year at the library and that 12,054 books and other periodicals were loaned. She also pointed out that the library was used for study hour periods during the summer by the Child Study Club and that this year 479 children attended, an increase of about 125 over 1947.

The public schools will reopen for enrollment on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 2 and 3. A pre-school meeting for faculty members and the superintendent and principal will be held September 7-8.

NEW BOOKS ARRIVE AT LOCAL LIBRARY

Miss Ruth Harding, librarian, has announced that some new books which will be of interest to flower lovers have arrived at the public library. They are: "Ruths For Beauty," Mueller; "The African Violet," Wilson; "Roses For Every Garden," Allen; "The Complete Book of Flower Arrangement," Rockwell and Grayson.

Other new books include: "Cry, The Beloved Country," Paton; "Pilgrim's Inn," Goudge, author of "Green Dolphin Street," "The Proud Way," Seifert; "Michigan," Quife and Glazer; "Paul," Goodspeed; "Modern Chemists and their Work," Borth; "Government and Liberty," William Beard.

NO EASY WAY

The impact of more than a decade of uncontrolled bureaucracy and government spending is being felt in every corner of the land. The inflationary results of a $250,000,000,000 public debt is coming home to roost. Measured by the "normal" years of 1939-41 we are living in the midst of abundance, yet people complain about shortages. In 1939-41 for example, the per capita consumption of meat was about 138 pounds. Per capita consumption this year will be about 144 pounds. Paradoxically, in 1939 there was no thought of shortage, while early in 1948, some of the "experts" predicted a meat famine by the first of May.

Of course there has been no famine. The difference between 1939 and 1941 is primarily in the supply of money in people's pockets and bank accounts, resulting from the dramatic rise in the public debt. This money has created an insatiable demand. There is nothing wrong with the meat industry or any other industry. They are striving to increase production to meet the demand and they are doing amazingly well. Moreover, competition in the free market is holding prices to the practical minimum, which is all that is possible. In these critical days extremists who look for an easy way where there is no easy way, are a menace. They are the ones who advocate peacetime price control and rationing, greater public spending and more and more government dictation — the same medicine that has brought socialism and collapse to the nations of Europe.

Now as never before faith in our free market capitalistic system is needed. It is the only system that has proven its ability to produce the goods on a basis of supply and demand.

Mary had a little Lamb, And as they went to school; They walked to the LEFT- Instead of the right, For that's the SAFETY RULE.

Even Mary's lamb can learn that easy safety rule! Best rule of all—for school children and everyone else—is: Don't walk on the highway. But if you must, then walk to the left, facing oncoming cars. Your chances of avoiding accident are three times better when you observe this rule.

Use special care at night and when roads are slippery. Even at moderate driving speeds, motorists often can't see pedestrians in time to stop. At 40 miles an hour, a safe stopping distance may be as much as 164 feet—much more at higher speeds.

When you walk on the highway, your life is your lookout. So—look out!

Communist Party Using Underground Techniques, Says Hoover of F.B.I.

Communism is eating at the hearts of many Americans today. They fear the advances it is making in the world. They are concerned for the future of their children. But our democracy armed with a growing knowledge of Communism's deceit and treachery, has it on the run. Not only are the Reds ready to go underground, but they have already partly done so, writes J. Edgar Hoover, in Redbook Magazine for June, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation exposes some of the workings of the Party:

"Hitler borrowed 'the big lie' from the Communists. This is the strategy of telling a big-enough lie often enough to entice followers and hoodwink truth. The first lesson every Communist must learn is this simple one of deceit.

"The great god of Communism is Lenin, the leader of the Russian Revolution. He taught that '. . . Revolutionaries who are unable to combine illegal forms of struggle with every form of legal struggle are very poor revolutionaries.' A Communist, though openly claiming that the Communist Party is a legal organization, will rarely admit his Party membership. He hides behind fictitious names, innocent-looking fronts, stealthily masquerading his activities. As the American public's distaste for Communism mounts, Party leaders become increasingly reluctant to meet openly or to keep records of Party membership.

"In fact, the Party went underground for a short period last November. Someone erroneously informed Party headquarters that the Federal Government was about to declare the Party illegal and to make a series of mass raids. For th next thirty days pandemonium reigned. Party records were either destroyed or removed and hidden. Party leaders went into hiding. New edicts decredit that names of Party members would not appear on membership cards. Only club membership secretaries were to know the true identities of Party members, and then the records were to be kept in code.

"The hypocritical gyrations of Party members holding offices in labor unions is typical of Communist technique. The Taft-Hartley Labor Law contains a provision requiring officers in labor unions to sign a non-Communist affidavit. Communist leaders secretly recommended two ways to get around this. They advise the Party members either to withdraw from the Party long enough to sign the affidavit and then rejoin, or to withdraw from the Party and continue all Communist activities without rejoining. In those cases where the union officer is also an officer in a Communist club, the Party recommends that he resign his union office and continue his Communist activities as a rank-and-file member.

"The real work of the Party is conducted by stealth. Hypocrisy is a mental habit with Communists because they know that the patriotic citizens want no part of their program, which is based upon hate and the eventual overthrow of our Constitutional republic. Long ago in America they adopted the line that they were the Party of our early patriots, Jefferson, Paine and Lincoln.

"The American Communists are interested in only one thing — the establishment of a Soviet United States of America. They have never deviated from the line laid down in Moscow. They are continuously trying to secure a foothold in legitimate progressive organizations, or to form others for high-sounding names for use in propaganda leaflets and pressure letters. In some instances the Party has specifically assigned members to tasks to secure information for the Party. During the war a secretary 'planted' in the office of a high Government official surreptitiously copied certain documents, which were delivered to the Party contact.

"American Communists are not real Americans. Communism's greatest appeal is to some of the foreign-born and their offspring, although their propaganda does not flourish among the great majority of foreign-born. We recently reviewed the origins of 5,395 of the leading members of the Communist Party. The results were most interesting. Only 441 were Negroes, but of the remaining 4,984, 4,555 or 91.4% were either of foreign birth, married to persons of foreign birth or born of foreign parents, while 56.5% of the 4,984 traced their origins either from Russia or her satellite countries. The fact that only 441 Negroes were found in this select group is strong evidence that the American Negro is not being hoodwinked by these false messiahs.

"If I could have a heart-to-heart talk with every American, I would tell them that truth is the best defense against Communism. I would urge citizens to learn all they could about Communists and their ways, and finally I would tell them that if they went to church and gave serious attention to the preaching of their minister as often as the Communists goes to the meetings of his cells, the first round of the battle in America would be won. Finally, I would tell them that the Communist way of life is alien to the American way of life, and the final line of defense is to make our democracy so strong and so workable that the Communist can never compete with it reality."

CALLING ALL SOURDOUGHS . . . In California the yolstile inhabitants of the state were all excited about the celebration marking the centennial of James Marshall's discovery of a gold nugget in the tailrace of Sutter's sawmill near Coloma. Here, L. W. Loomis, in charge of mining exhibits at the Coloma centennial, pans gold near site of Sutter's mill. He is aided (like no prospector was aided in 1848) by Delmira Ferriera (left) and Jean Oviela, centennial girl of El Dorado county.

What To Do To Get MORE SUMMER EGGS
"It's Easier To Keep Up Than To Catch Up"
With the coming of warm weather, many layers slow down. There's a let-down in feed intake and a loss in body weight. Then come early molts, delaying production.
What to do about it? Hayden's suggest: (1) Keep the flock cool with good cross ventilation and fresh drinking water. (2) Eradicate lice and mites. (3) Give the flock damp mashes of Hayden's 32% Poultry Balancer and ground grains.
A mix made with Hayden's 32% Poultry Balancer affords 33 elements for making eggs and maintaining body weight. It will help keep those birds producing right through the period of higher egg prices — July 15 through October.

Non-Partisan News Letter

By Gene Alleman
(Special to The Herald)

LUCERNE—For a quiet restful week end, away from the state capital, what we need is a place of our own up in the North Country," I said, pulling out a state highway map.

The Missus took a look.

"See this patch of green," I pointed to the point: "It stretches from Kalkaska to Harrisville. It blankets the AuSable State Forest to the west and the Huron National Forest to the east. Here the North begins.

"Right in the center of this green, east to west, is the town of Lucerne. And just to the north is the AuSable river, famous for trout. Pines and hardwood. Lots of fresh air. No dust. No automobile traffic. Solitude day and night. Yes, that's the spot for us."

And so we signed a land lease with the Consumers Power Company which owns much of the river west from its Mio hydro-electric plant. That was four years ago.

Our war-time cabin fund had financed purchase in 1947 of a mobile cabin-on-wheels, a snug 19-foot house trailer. Since we spent occasional week ends there, it had seemed a shame to fence in the 10 acres and to put up signs.

From the high bank is a commanding view of a scenic river bend. Three springs provide cold water in great abundance.

Verily, a dream place for a quiet week end.

We arrived late Friday in great anticipation.

Thirty minutes later an automobile from Pontiac pulled up to a birch grove west of the high banks. A tent soon appeared, and with it two men, a woman, boy and a dog.

Four more kindred souls seeking peace in the North Country, I surmised. So I invited them to stay.

Saturday morning, after I finished cleaning up the rubbish left by deer hunters the winter before, two fly fishermen appeared in an ancient car. Where glass windows had once been, fly rods stuck out. Parking the car carelessly at an angle, the men descended the bank carrying a basket filled with bottled beer and there camped for the day.

By twilight the parade of automobiles, bringing more fishermen and sight-seers had worn a deep rut in the road by the trailer. The missus closed the trailer window. "Too much dust," she said.

I'm not sure I heard her. The campers' dog was howling for food. And someone had left a car radio going full blast.

Then the fishermen with "rubber doughnuts" appeared. Laden down with creel and equipment, they descended the bank to the AuSable amid farewells of their families. Straddled inside the "doughnuts" they would float down to the Red Oak bridge, two miles downstream. Our guests explained they "always" pushed off from this spot.

Other tourists arrived with canoes or boats.

"Where can I put this boat in the river?" was the usual query.

Like a traffic cop presiding over a busy street I volunteered detailed instructions to each guest. "Drive down the trail to the first bend. Park your car there. Carry the canoe down the footpath to the river's edge. A swell place."

Across the river, down at the bend, two men were putting up a cabin. They had engaged the Indian Trail lodge on Kellogg road to furnish lumber. The easiest way to deliver it was by boat, ferrying the supplies across the stream from our camp, and all with automobile horn signals and put-putting of an outboard motor.

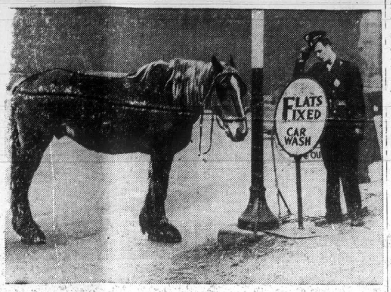
Our Sunday guests included a fellow who took possesson of a deep trout hole near the springs outlet. Well, by actual count, more than 60 persons — men, women, children and pets — swarmed over our leased land in one week end. Fly rods to the left. Canoes to the right.

It suddenly dawned on us that a lot of other folks had traveled to the spacious North Country, too, in quest of solitude and relaxation. It also dawned on us that we were vastly outumbered — a good 30 to 1 — as to enjoyment of this popular AuSable camping and fishing spot. The place fairly shouted: "Don't fence me in!"

Well, we don't intend to.

Who are we to dispossess so many people of their pleasure?

Anyhow, We're too tired!



NOW WHERE DID YOU COME FROM? . . . Steeped in perplexity, Patrolman Paul Nydes puzzles the problem of what to do with the horse which he found hitched to a "flats fixed, car wash" sign in downtown Pittsburgh. It later developed that the nag belonged to a junk man who had been hurt in a collision with a street car and taken to a hospital. A benevolent bystander had tied the horse to a pole to keep him out of harm's way.

HOWDY FOLKS: The miserable man was sitting on the park bench, feelin' mighty low. A passerby stopped and asked him why he looked so unhappy. "My wife left me yesterday morning," said the melancholy one.

"My that's bad," said the passerby. "Is that why you're unhappy?" "No, was the answer, "she came home last night!"

Husband: "My dear, a great physician says women require more sleep than men do."

Wife: "Oh?"

Husband: "Yes, my dear, so perhaps you had best not wait up for me tonight!"

Joe told Pete one day that he read an article about some machine that could tell, whether or not a man was telling the truth.

"Machine the dickens," Pete said, "I married one!"

Jiggs asked the boss for a week off so he could get married. "Jiggs you just got back from a two-week's vacation, why didn't you get married then?"

Divided Roads Add To Safety

FOUR TIMES SAFER THAN FOUR-LANE UNDIVIDED HIGHWAY, SURVEY SHOWS

Lansing—A recent study of more than 22,000 accidents on rural highways in Michigan shows clearly that divided lane roads are four times safer to drive than four-lane undivided highways and three times safer than three-lane undivided highways, according to "Highway Needs in Michigan", an engineering analysis of road conditions published by the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

The divided highway has an even more clear-cut advantage over other multi-lane roadways: it almost completely eliminates head-on collisions, the most deadly kind of accidents, according to the report.

The rate for these killer crashes on divided highways in Michigan is 1/13th and 1/14th respectively of the rates on three and four-lane undivided highways. The reason for the marked difference is of course that vehicles coming from opposite directions are physically separated except at intersections. Head-on collisions are virtually "designed out" of the road.

Standards for Michigan highways recommended by the Federation's Highway Study Committee call for the replacement of inadequate two-lane roads with four-lane divided roads. The reasons for eliminating the extension of the two lanes to three-and-four-lane roads is that the extra cost is moderate in comparison to the additional safety and capacity which the divided roadway provides.

Findings in Michigan as to the relative accident-producing characteristics of divided and undivided multi-lane highways are borne out by reported experience in other states. Accident records for a New Jersey trunkline which was converted from a four-lane undivided to a four-lane divided show, for example, that the change in roadway type resulted in a 40 per cent reduction in total accidents and 83 percent reduction in fatal accidents.

Ragweed Pollen Survey Gets Under Way Today

The eighth annual ragweed pollen survey of the Michigan Department of Health will get underway in 53 cities of the state on July 15 and continue until killing frost.

The survey, planned to provide hay fever sufferers with information on pollen concentration, is being conducted in more stations and over a longer period of time than any previous survey. The increased service is possible through the participation of local hospitals and laboratories and local health departments in the survey work.

A new plan of operation is expected to make pollen counts for each area available on a day to day basis from the local health officers. General information will be compiled by the Michigan Department of Health.

Stations at which pollen will be collected this year include these new stations: Bay City (North Shore), Boyne City, Eloise, Fremont, Hart, Hastings, Holland, Kalamazoo, Midland, Mt. Clemens, Owosso and Pinconning.

Other stations will be located in Alpena, Battle Creek, Bay City, Cadillac, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Crystal Falls, Eagle Harbor, Escanaba, Frankfort, Gaylord, Gladwin, Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Grayling, Harbor Beach, Hillsdale, Houghton, Ironwood, Jackson, Lansing, Ludington, Mackinac Island, Mackinaw City, Manistee, Manistique, Marquette, Menominee, Mt. Pleasant, Munising, Muskegon, Newberry, Ontonogan, Petoskey, Port Huron, Powers, Saginaw, St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, South Haven and Traverse City.

Copies of the new 1947 survey report and pollen map showing areas of greatest and least pollen concentration, in the state, are available without charge from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

U. S. S. SALT LAKE CITY'S LAST MANEUVER...Veteran of World War II and the Bikini atom tests, the U. S. cruiser Salt Lake City has been sent to the bottom by the shells and torpedoes of its own navy. The vessel weathered more than four hours of bombardment from planes and ships before the death blow came—two submarine torpedoes. It slowly turned on its side and slid beneath the waves of the deep Pacific. Twenty-five warships and nearly 400 planes operating from carriers of the first task fleet took part in the assault, the first such test since the 1920s. Believed still to be radioactive from the Bikini tests of the atom bomb, the cruiser was unusable for scrap and for that reason was destroyed.

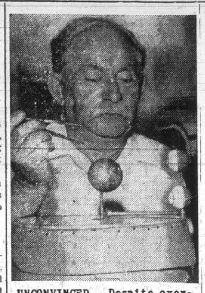
Born, July 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan, a daughter. Both were discharged July 13.

MY LOVE HAS A HEART OF STONE . . . Unrequited love shouldn't happen to a dog—but it does. "Bing," for instance, collie owned by Jerry Yorio of New York, makes daily visits to a three and one-half foot statue of a retriever which was placed at the entrance of a statuary studio in the neighborhood recently. "Bing" apparently carries a flaming torch for his stony light of love, but doesn't even get a tail wag in return.



UNCONVINCED... Despite overwhelming scientific opinion to the contrary, Adolph Grauer of Miami, Fla., believes the moon does not rotate on its axis as it revolves around the earth. He made this device--a lunetarium--to prove his point.

Born, July 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McKinney, a son. They returned to their home July 13.

TREATMENT CENTER OFFERS NEW SERVICE

The Michigan Rapid Treatment Center for venereal disease at Ann Arbor, which has treated 10,000 venereal disease patients referred from practicing physicians and clinics during the past four years is now offering an additional service.

The Center, operated by the Michigan Department of Health in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service, now provides a consultation service of special benefit to physicians and patients in isolated or rural areas of the state. Any practicing physician in the state may send his patient to the Center for diagnosis of syphilis or the stage of syphilis, and for recommendations for treatment. The patient will then be returned to the physician for necessary treatment.

Advantages of the new service are: It affords consultation not otherwise available in many sections of the state. It will make it possible for more infected people to be diagnosed and will provide more complete individual diagnosis. It will allow the patient to be treated by his own physician in his home locality.

The Rapid Treatment Center, which is now admitting about 200 patients a month for treatment, has a medical officer in charge and, normally, three resident physicians. The consultation service will afford the benefit of their specialized knowledge to a greater share of the state's population.

Home Repairs On Up-Grade

ABOUT A MILLION AND THREE QUARTERS TO BE SPENT IN LENAWEE THIS YEAR

An estimated $1,760,000 will be spent in repairing and modernizing non-farm homes in Lenawee county during 1948, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

That sum will be expended largely on painting, repairs to heating equipment, new roofs and plumbing, the report disclosed. "Greater availability of building materials will make possible a record amount of home improvement throughout the nation this year," declared Malcolm Schweiker, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

About 30 of every 100 homes in Michigan will be painted, either inside or out, during 1948 and 11 will have heating equipment overhauled or replaced, according to the report. Nine will be reroofed and eight will have plumbing repaired, bathrooms tiled or showers installed, the report revealed.

"To meet demands for materials for both new homes and home repairs, production has been stepped up in practically every type of material," said Mr. Schweiker. The output of ceramic tile for bathrooms and kitchens, for instance, is now at the highest rate in history, government reports show."

Throughout the nation between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 will be spent this year on home repair, according to the Tile Council report. This is believed the largest amount ever expended for such work.

More Than Half Of State Free Of Rag Weed Pollen

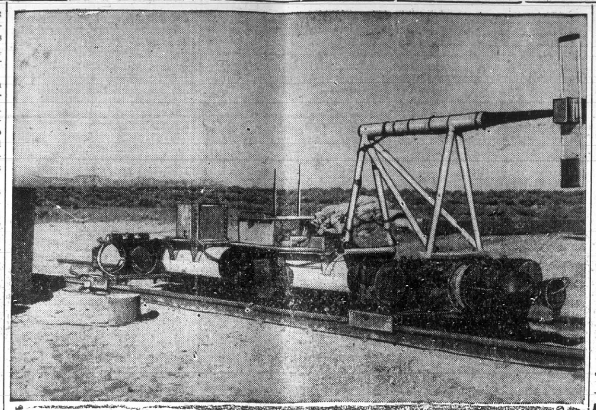
More than half of the state of Michigan may offer relief to victims of hay fever, according to results of the ragweed pollen survey conducted by the Michigan Department of Health during the 1547 ragweed season.

The upper third of the Lower Peninsula and all the Upper Peninsula were comparatively free of ragweed pollen in the 1947 season despite the fact that favorable weed growing conditions resulted in greater concentration of pollen than has occurred in any of the seven years that the pollen survey has been conducted.

Five areas of the state were practically free of pollen; that is they had total seasonal pollen counts of 1,000 or less. They are: St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, Cheboygan, Charlevoix and Rogers City. Eight others with seasonal counts of less than 1,500 were comparatively free. They were: Houghton, Mackinac Island, Alpena, Petoskey, Isle Royale, Manistique, Traverse City and Munising. Other areas with seasonal counts under 2,000 were Grayling, Baldwin, Marquette, Mackinaw City and Gaylord.

Areas in the state with greatest total pollen counts were Hillsdale with a total seasonal count of 32,383; South Haven, 26,866; Benton Harbor, 22,334; Coldwater, 22,070; Lansing, 20,932; Grand Rapids, 20,198; Jackson, 19,662; Grand Haven, 15,567; Detroit, 14,702; Saginaw, 13,869; Bay City, 12,731.

Jackson and Lansing had the longest ragweed hay fever season with significant counts on 32 days. Others with long seasons were Grand Rapids, Hillsdale and Flint with 31 days; Saginaw, 29 days; Benton Harbor, Detroit and Grand Haven, 28 days; Coldwater, 27 days; and Bay City, 22 days.



SUPERSONIC SLED . . . This is the rocket-propelled land vehicle which army air forces, in cooperation with Northrop Aircraft company, have developed to make outdoor "wind tunnel" tests at supersonic speeds. It slides along a 2,000-foot stretch of railroad track near Muroc air base on the California desert. Propelled by five rockets, it has attained speeds of 1,019 miles an hour.

Make Sure of the Foundations
No building can endure if it doesn't stand on a solid foundation. Neither can great character be built on a flimsy foundation. A small structure — may for a while get along without bed rock — but a great temple must rest on a secure foundation or it will collapse. The Rock of Ages has been the foundation throughout the centuries on which great lives were built. Join your friends in the church of your faith, Sunday.

THE PIONEER ROLLS AGAIN . . . The 16-ton Pioneer, which blazed the original railway trail westward as the first locomotive to run out of Chicago in 1848, is on the move again, this time on steel casters. Focal point of the Chicago and North Western railway system's centennial celebration, the historic engine was taken from the Museum of Science and Industry to the railroad shops where it was repaired and repainted before being put on display. The Pioneer is a far cry from today's locomotive giants.

MICHIGAN DIVORCES ON THE DOWN GRADE

Michigan's nine year upsurge in divorces apparently has stopped, according to figures released today by the Michigan Department of Health.

Divorces in the state dropped from 29,158 in 1946 to 21,385 in 1947, but still one divorce was recorded for every three marriages.

While Michigan's 26 per cent decrease in divorces was the same as that for the nation, the state's 1947 rate of six divorces for every 1,000 population is, nevertheless, double the national average of three divorces per 1,000 population.

Both in Michigan and the nation as a whole saw a ten per cent decline in marriages in 1947. Michigan marriages declined from their all time 1946 peak of 78,838 to 71,319 in 1947.

Who Do Not Now Have Combination Windows and Doors

Here's Why Weather-Seal
Uses Only California Coastal Redwood

Nearly 2000 years ago, when Christianity was born, there was started on the other side of the world a virgin stand of sturdy timber . . . destined to become the world's most magnificent trees.

Neither weather, blight nor insects could conquer its great resistance. In 1769, when the Spanish Padres first glimpsed these giant trees, standing 250 feet toward the sky and 8 to 16 feet in diameter, they named them Redwood, because of their color.

Weather-Seal uses only California Coastal Redwood. It is tough and strong, world famous for low shrinkage and high resistance to decay . . . seems to be "eternal" in its wonderful health and strength. After fourteen years of research, in all types of material both wood and metal, we have found nothing to equal it for beauty and permanent, satisfactory performance. That's why we guarantee Weather-Seal doors and windows, in writing, for a lifetime.

Harold A. Elling
President

Weather-Seal weather comfort is guaranteed for life. Our written guarantee covering workmanship and material accompanies each job.

With Weather-Seal, you change winter panes to summer screens in a jiffy. A few turns of an exclusive screw fastening and windows and screens come out easily.

Let it rain . . . let it pour! You'll always be sure of draft-free, rainproof ventilation the year around. You'll know the real meaning of finger-tip weather control.

Weather-Seal combination windows are custom-built to the dimensions of your particular home . . . are tailor-made to fit and stay fitted, for a lifetime.

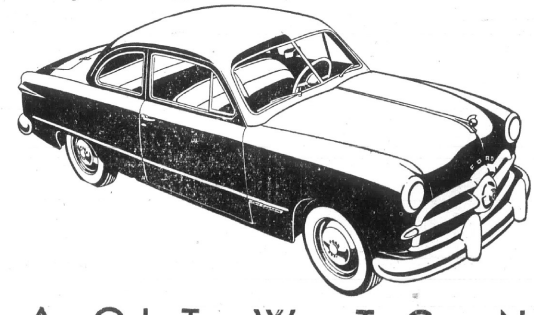
New Ford in your future



There Are Only Two Ways To Get a New Car

1. Place our order and wait your turn and pay no bonuses or premiums.

2. Go to a used car or black market operator and pay his price. '49 Fords on the black market are bringing from $3,400 to $3,700. We wouldn't sell one for $5,000, but its pretty hard to turn down.

If you were us, would you?

Our advice to you is to place your order for a new car and take the best possible care of your old car to keep its resale value high. Used cars, regardless of year or model, will be high priced for some time to come.

Will Dedicate Boysville Soon

NEW CATHOLIC INSTITUTION, PATTERNED AFTER BOYS TOWN, TO OPEN IN OCTOBER

Boysville is rapidly becoming a reality in the village of Macon. Patterned after the famous Boystown in Nebraska, it is located on a 130-acre site purchased by the five Michigan Roman Catholic dioceses from the Ford Motor Co., last year. Buildings to house the some 70 boys have been moved to Macon and construction of the trade school and home is being completed. A dedication of the school is being planned for October.

Brother Ephram, Provincial of the Brothers of Holy Cross, has appointed the faculty members, all Notre Dame graduates.

Boysville director will be Brother Patrick Cain, who taught from 1926 to 1929 at Sacred Heart Juniorate, at Waterown, Wis., was English professor of Notre Dame from 1943 to 1947 and English professor and rector of Holy Cross Hall, St. Edwards University, Austin, Texas, from 1946 to 1948. He was also rector of Brownson Hall, Notre Dame.

Brother Carloss Dolan, named assistant director, received his M. S. degree in social work in 1946 at Notre Dame. It is believed this training will be invaluable giving hm special ability to deal with social problems of the boys. The majority of the pupils at Boysville will come from broken homes. Brother Dolan has been at Reitz Memorial high school in Evansville, Ind.

Brother Alexander Buckley will come from Gibault School, Terre Haute, Ind., where he has been since 1946, and will serve as athletic director at Boysville. He graduated from Notre Dame in 1931.

Boysville prefect will be Brother Rene Lenhard, who is being transferred from the St. Charles Boys' Home, Milwaukee, Wis. Brother Lenhard has also served in Spokane and New York.

More Hurt, Fewer Killed In Highway Accidents

The traffic toll on Michigan highways during the month of May included 116 persons killed and 3,477 injured in 11,061 accidents, according to the monthly statistical report of the Michigan State Police.

Compared with May of last year, there were eight fewer deaths, a nine per cent increase in injuries and a six per cent increase in accidents. These figures follow the trend in recent months.

About one-third of the fatal accidents involved speeding violations and one out of six drivers "had been drinking." Other frequent violations resulting in deaths were improper passing, driving on the wrong side of the road, disregard of traffic signs and signals, and unlawful turning.

State To Renew War Against TB

MOBILE X-RAY UNITS WILL VISIT COUNTY FAIRS IN CLUDING LENAWEE

In the state-wide tuberculosis case-finding program, mobile chest x-ray units of the Michigan Department of Health will visit 29 county and state fairs and festivals during this summer and early fall, the Department announced today.

The five units of the Department will x-ray without charge the chests of all persons over 14 years of age who appear at the Michigan Department of Health booths or trailers at the fairs.

Last year the fair surveys which x-rayed 43,691 persons revealed 418 cases of active or healed tuberculosis which, otherwise might not have been found until they were advanced and treatment difficult, and until others had been infected.

People are beginning to realize that presumably healthy persons who have no symptoms of disease may have and spread tuberculosis.

Even greater success of the case-finding programs will result from knowledge of these general principles: Tuberculosis is preventable, curable and not inherited. It is a communicable disease and contracted from another case. It is caused by a germ which usually attacks the lungs, but may attack other parts of the body. Tuberculosis is spread from infected persons in several ways, such as nose and throat discharges coughing and spitting, discharges, coughing and spitting, articles soiled by an infected person. The infection is usually the result of continued contact with an active case; therefore, it is a "family disease". The disease, without symptoms in its early stages, occurs in all walks of life. Coughing and loss of weight are symptoms of advanced cases, but some advanced cases have no apparent symptoms.

NATIONAL GUARD EXCEEDS NEW STRENGTH CEILING

With the greatest strength in its history as a result of the recent rush of recruits, the Michigan National Guard settled down this week to intensive preparations for its field training encampment scheduled to be held in August at Camp Grayling.

More than 2,500 recruits joined the Guard in the 10-day period preceding the signing of the draft act. Total strength of the Guard as of June 26 was 8,748 officers and men. Of this number 7,959 were in army units and 789 in air units.

General recruiting for army units, except for key specialists has been discontinued since they are already over the 7,209 ceiling imposed by the National Guard under budget restrictions. Air units, however are continuing to recruit up to their authorized 1949 ceiling of 1,275.

Club Project Is Under Way

CONSTRUCTION OF 9-HOLE GOLF COURSE STARTED; CLUB-HOUSE PLANS IN MAKING

Construction of a 9-hole golf course at Tecumseh's new Country Club, located on Milwaukee Road just east of the Tecumseh Grange Hall, is now under way, Frank Purcell, president of the organization, announced today. The course is being designed by Frank Sprogell of Detroit, and it is planned to have the work done and the greens seeded in September.

Mr. Purcell also announced that Leo Bishop of Toledo, formerly associated with the Inverness Club there and recently with the Ilgenfritz Nurseries, Monroe, had be retained as pro and greens-keeper at the club. Mr. Bishop is now on the job, supervising the construction of the course.

The old farm house, located on the site where the new clubhouse is to be built, has been sold and is being torn down and the lumber removed. Construction of the new house, which will be built of brick, steel and cement, will be started about the first of next month, and completed, it is hoped, by mid-October. Architects drawings of the house are now being made, and will be ready to submit to contractors for bids within the next two weeks.

Purcell said that the required $125,000 to build the clubhouse and construct the course already had been subscribed. Membership in the club has been fixed at 125.

Plans for the new clubhouse call for a main lounge about 40 by 70 feet, with a large fireplace. Wings on each end will house the kitchen, utility rooms, bedrooms, etc.

It also is planned to build a swimming pool on the site, but this project probably will not be started until next spring. Later another 9-hole golf course will be developed, as well as tennis and shuffle board courts.

Work Is Rushed On Park Program

PLANS CALL FOR COMPLETION OF 50 HOUSES IN HERRICK PARK THIS FALL

Completed construction of at least 50 new houses in Herrick Park Subdivision this fall is the program that is being followed at this time, Robert H. Moore of the R. S. Moore & Son Co., announced today. At the present time, five houses have been finished on Outer Drive, four more are in the course of construction and excavation work is now in progress for 29 more.

The new subdivision, a site of farm land purchased from the Ford Motor Company, was started about 10 weeks ago and, when it is developed, some 180 houses will be built there at a cost of well over $1,500,000. The site was purchased by Tecumseh Products Co., and Ray W. Herrick, president, has announced that employees of the company building there will be given a lot and $200 to aid them with their program.

Work of building sewers in the Park will be completed in about a week, Mr. Moore said, and the contract for the laying of water mains calls for completion by September 1. Power lines will be installed in another week and streets will be graded in September when walks will be laid, trees planted and other improvements made. The village council, Monday evening, awarded a contract to Wm. A. Dalee, Inc., of Detroit, for the purchase of pump and switches for a new sewage lift station at a cost of $1,475. The total cost of the station, it was said, will be between $10,000 and $15,000.

Three steam shovels are now at work excavating for the sewers in the park, and as soon as this work is done trenches will be dug for the water mains.

New Officers Named By The Exchange Club

Leon P. Williamson was named president of the Tecumseh Exchange Club at the dinner meeting held at Brees House, Monday evening. Other officers are: vice president, Earl Lindsley, secretary, Kenton Hunt; treasurer, Russell Garno. Three members were elected to the board of control for two year terms. They are Rhae Henkel, Paul Clauda and Dwight Hodges. Board members already in office who will serve another year are Clarence Beach, Ken Hall and Albert Musch.

The August meeting will be coordinated with the annual Exchange Club golf tournament to be held at the Plymouth Country Club, the date to be announced later.

Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Mansfield of 501 East Pottawatamie street observed their Golden Wedding anniversary, Wednesday, July 21.

Mr. Mansfield and Melvina Middaugh, both of Saline, were married July 21, 1898, by the Rev. Francis E. Dodds, then pastor of the Saline M. E. church. They lived in Saline for a few years, later moving to Macon where they made their home until they moved to Tecumseh about 15 years ago. Mr. Mansfield has worked for the village most of this time and now holds the position of assistant engineer.

They are the parents of five children, three of whom are living, Mrs. W. B. Shavalier of Tecumseh, Clifford Mansfield of Ann Arbor and Lavern T. of Clinton. Two daughters, Mae and Luella, died in infancy. They also have three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield are members of the Macon Methodist church.

On Sunday, July 18, a family gathering was held in their home. On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield left on a belated honeymoon to northern Michigan.

Local Boys Enjoying Stay At Summer Camp

Camp North Woods, near Pellston, Mich., operated by James McDowell and David Dick, members of the Tecumseh high school faculty, is proving a popular place this summer for several local boys, according to a letter received by The Herald this week from Mr. McDowell.

Bob Marsh, Gary Marsh, Tommy Rohweder, Bruce McDowell, Jack Colson, Jim Colson and Doug Dick Dowell were among the local lads at the camp when it opened. Bob and Tommy have been working especially hard on their sharp-shooter bars in riflery and Bruce and Gary on swimming. David Wood of Saginaw is water front director at the camp and the youngsters are seeking their regular Red Cross awards.

Lewis Whiting of Alma has taken over the nature study program and is also assisting on the rifle range. Sailing races have been quite popular and diving classes have been organized and awards will be made for proficiency in all athletic fields of endeavor.

Tom Baldwin, Skipper O'Neill, J. J. Walper, Jackie Purcell and Kirk Smith entered camp yesterday.

The senior canoe trip down the Au Sable from Grayling to Mio will leave the camp on July 28 and will be on the river for about three days.

All boys went on an over night trip to Mackinaw City and Wilderness State Park last week end.

Rex Snellenberger, W. Kilbuck street, suffered a broken right leg below the knee, when he fell from a tree that was being cut down on North Pearl street, Tuesday morning. He was removed to Tecumseh Hospital and later to his home. Mr. Snellenberger is employed by the Village of Tecumseh.

Mishaps Heavy On Rural Roads

Lansing—Accidents on rural roads are lethal according to "Highway Needs in Michigan," the recently published engineering analysis of deficiencies on Michigan highways, roads and streets.

"Rural roads, carrying 48 per cent of the total traffic, accounted for only 15 percent of the accidents in 1946, but because of the higher speeds, rural accidents were relatively more severe; 63 percent of the fatalities occurred on rural roads," according to the report which was sponsored by the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

"Indications that accidents on highways are returning to their pre-war peaks were shown in the high toll of deaths and personal injuries suffered during the Fourth of July week end," declared Harry A. Ward, President of the Federation.

"If driving continues to increase during the next 10 years as our experts predict it will, and traffic accidents keep pace, then we'll see more than 15,000 people killed, 300,0000 injured and it will cost us about $100,000,000.

"These estimates are based on Michigan's experience during the decade from 1937 to 1946, as revealed in 'Highway Needs in Michigan,' and during three of those years vehicle mileage was reduced due to gasoline rationing," said Ward.

Ward called for some serious thinking about this problem on the part of safe driving educators, law enforcement agencies and highway engineers. He pointed out that the Michigan Good Roads Federation has already taken the first step by sponsoring its analysis of the deficiencies on our roads and streets.

"Meeting these needs will go a long way toward eliminating road conditions responsible for some of the deaths, injuries and property loss," said Ward.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS ABOUT LENAWEE PLAYERS

The story of the Lenawee Players, a group of professional actors and actresses who are operating a summer play program at "The Barn" on M-52, five miles north of Adrian, was told to members of the Rotary Club here Tuesday evening by John O'Conner, following dinner at Brees House.

The players stage a legitimate show each week, starting on Wednesday evening with performances each evening through Sunday. "The return of the legitimate stage show in the east is very popular," Mr. O'Conner said, "and we believe that it will have a similar reception in Michigan."

The public is welcome to attend the plays at The Barn, and of course there is an admission charge. This week, the Players are presenting a comedy.

AN ITEM IN THE NEWS

A short time ago an item appeared in the news which, while it didn't make banner heads, is an example of the kind of arduous progress that serves us all.

Last year, the item said, the death rate from tuberculosis dropped to a new low throughout the nation. For the first time in our history, the number of fatalities from this cause was under 50,000.

That wasn't the result of chance. It was, instead, the result of decades of hard and often unrewarding work by doctors and other scientists. A long list of factors had part in the achievement—better preventive medicine, infinitely improved methods of treatment for the afflicted, a generally highter standard of living, and so on.

Every major advance in medicine, save for rare instances where some revolutionary drug is discovered, is made much in this way. And the United States, with its system of medicine, unhampered by bureaucratic domination, has been a leader in conquering disease—a fact which has been proven in survey after survey. By contrast, medicine has generally been backward in the nations where it is controlled by the state—the standards of treatment have gone down while the cost, as in the case of govern mental activity, has gone up.

We in the United States are leading longer, healthier lives. Diseases which were almost sure killers not so many years ago now offer little danger. A system of voluntary prepaid medical care has been built up which brings the cost of treatment and hospitalization within the easy reach of the majority of people. There are achievements of free medicine which must not be forgotten.

HUMPTY-DUMPTY

hit a stone wall,
After too many drinks from the keg;
His car took fire - made a funeral pyre,
And now he's just a fried egg!

Funny? No!—Humpty Dumpty's kind of death is only stupid—and criminal.

Look at the facts: Drinking drivers cause one out of every five highway deaths. When innocent victims perish, too, that's manslaughter! It must be dealt with by strict laws, strictly enforced.

Even one or two drinks slow reactions, impair judgment, increase accident chances three to four times.

Drinking and driving just don't mix. If you drive, don't drink. If you drink, don't drive.

Ruth McLain Bride Of J. Shelby Strange

Ruth McLain of Ann Arbor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor E. McLain of Hudson and the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary McLain of Tecumseh, became the bride of J. Shelby Strange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strange of Glen Forks, Ky., at an afternoon ceremony, Saturday at Grace Bible church in Ann Arbor. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold DeVreis.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza over taffeta, styled with a long fitted bodice with a yoke of lace, long full sleeves and full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was gathered on a halo of lace and she carried a nosegay of white roses and baby breath.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Jule Blackburn, jr., of Kernersville, N. C., was the only attendant. She wore yellow organza and carried a nosegay of yellow daisies and blue delphiniums with a halo of daisies in her hair.

The best man was Willard Strange of Ann Arbor, the groom's brother, and the ushers were Willie Ray Strange, brother of the groom, and Edward Melton.

The bride's mother wore peach print bemberg with white accessories and a corsage of pale pink carnations. The groom's mother wore black and white rayon print with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations as did the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary McLain.

A reception was held at Fellowship Hall after the ceremony. Mrs. Edward Melton of Ann Arbor cut the cake, assisted by Ethel Odell, and punch was served by Maureen McLain of Tecumseh, a cousin of the bride and Virginia Meredith of Ann Arbor.

Guests were present from New York, Kernersville, N. C., Glen Fogks and Louisville, Ky., Anderson, Ind., Detroit, Hudson, Adrian, Tecumseh and Ann Arbor.

The bride is employed by the University hospital in Ann Arbor and the groom works at the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., at Willow Run. After a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will be at home on Kimberley Road in Ann Arbor.

SAUGATUCK—Here on Michigan's West Dutch coast, just 12 miles south of tulip-famous Holland, is the artist summer capital of the Middle West.

As you approach the village by automobile on US-31, an illuminated sign welcomes you.

Landscape paintings are on display at village shops. At the Saugatuck Village Hall, whose architectural lines remind you of New England, you are invited to view an exhibit of paintings 2 to 5 p.m. daily. An artists' ball is held in August.

And yet, apparent as it is that Saugatuck is proud of its artists, the artists themselves are not all happy about Saugatuck's growing prosperity as a summer recreational center.

Garish electric signs tempt tourists to imbibe at cocktail bars. The blare of orchestra music is in the air. Sale of liquor is abnormally brisk at Saugatuck and Douglas. Like the phenomenon noted by a protesting minister at Rose City, popular first stop for northbound hunters and fishermen, Saugatuck is a satisfactory place for city people to unlax and unbend.

Vacationers, some of whom arrive in luxurious cruisers, are inclined to imbibe freely. The artists' atmosphere of Bohemian informality lends itself well to laxness of behavior. Sport clothes are the vogue. Mother does not need to dress up. She borrows daughter's blue jeans and joins her offspring in the sidewalk parade. The jeans seem to fit mama more than they should. Daughter rolls up her jeans to the knees. Father's attire would do justice to Bing Crosby in Hollywood. Just about everything goes.

At night the crowds throng the cocktail bars and the Pavilion where dancing and motion pictures are featured. On the sidewalk if the weather permits, M. Hasselbar, mass production artist, puts on a circus-like act under bright lights. Using a variety of brushes, he rapidly daubs colors upon a canvas.

A sign says: "Direct from artist to you."

Hasselbar a newcomer to Saugatuck, employs unorthodox and unapproved methods of mass production. He is a Henry Ford on a small scale, turning out canvases quickly to fit the consumer's purse.

Contrasted to Hasselbar, who winters at Miami and who arrived at Saugatuck last summer for the first time, is Carl Hoermann, distinguished among all American artists in the field of dune and desert paintings. Hoermann and his attractive wife, Gibson-girlish in her wholesome charm, reside at the hillside "Chalet Studio". They have a desert studio home, Rancho Mirage, at Riverside, California, not far from Palm Springs.

Hoermann travels to the dunes at 6 a.m. or 6 p.m. preferring the lights and shadows at that time in order to catch the mood of nature and transfer it to a working sketch. He has disdain for those who paint from imagination and who will duplicate composition. "House painters", he retorts.

The varying hues of lights and shadows, ranging from green, blue, purple to golden brown, make the Hoermann canvas a thing of joy.

The Chicago Art Institute sponsors a summer school of painting at old Fish-Town along an abandoned channel of the Kalamazoo River near Lake Michigan. Oxbow Inn, where the students go for their meals, is an ancient, weather-beaten frame building, forlorn for lack of paint. The "museum" where students exhibit their creations, is simplicity itself. Nothing fancy about Oxbow. Utility is first.

More than 100 years ago the town boasted of three lumber mills, two hotels and several general stores. Lots were at a premium. A total of 672 sailing boats entered the harbor in 1870. Today a drifting sand dune marks Singapore. The town is lost, buried.

Saugatuck is unique because of its artists' colony.

But if certain trends continue, artists are fearful it will become a tourist night-life spot like Greenwich Village in New York City.

Destruction Of Ivy Weed Urged

NO PERSON IS IMMUNE TO THE POISON OF THE PLANT, HEALTH UNIT SAYS

Eradication of poisin ivy is the problem of everyone in Michigan: the plant grows everywhere in the state, and no person is immune to its poisoning, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

The best and only permanent protection against the poisoning is the total destruction of the plant wherever it exists. This can be accomplished only by cooperation of all municipalities, parks, playgrounds, golf courses, highway and road departments and individual landowners. All that is required is simply spraying the foliage of the plants with an "ammate" or 2,4-D solution.

Poison ivy is especially an enemy of little children who cannot recognize the three-leafed plant, whose legs are bare and whose skin is particularly susceptible to its poison. But adults and children old enough to recognize the plant may accidentally come in contact with it in their play, picnicing, golfing, hiking, or riding. Then, too, the poison of the plant, a nonvolatile oil, can be carried by fire smoke, on soil and dust, on the fur of domestic animals, on clothing, on garden tools, or on wood for the fireplace or furnace.

Anyone woh thinks he has been exposed to the poison should scrub thoroughly with strong soap and water. First symptoms of the poison are an itching sensation followed by tiny itching blisters. If blisters appear, the victim should immediately see his physician. The physician can give a "shot" which will usually prevent or modify the poisoning. Ivy poisoning is always unpleasant, and it can cause serious illness which requires hospitalization.

To destroy the plant the Department of Health says one can use any hand or machine spray equipment with three-quarters of a pound of "ammate"—ammonium sulfamate—to a gallon of water for each square rod of dense growth. One ounce of 2,4-D acid in eight gallons of water is also effective. The killing action does not take place at once. "Ammate" kills the plant in five or ten days; 2,4-D, in about three weeks. The 2,4-D spray should be repeated in three weeks if the plants are still green. Spraying should be repeated each spring until plase no longer appear.

The sprays will kill all broad-leafed plants so care should be used to keep the sprays, even their mist, from valuable cultivated plants. The sprays do not poison animals, and they do not poison man or irritate his skin.

When is a Telephone Like a Market Basket?

ANSWER

When the COST of Providing Telephone Service is Compared with the COST of Filling the Market Basket

Every time a Michigan housewife goes to market, she faces this bitter fact: The cost of filling her market basket has sharply increased.

Reliable figures* show that the over-all cost of living has increased 70% since 1941. The cost of almost everything has risen tremendously . . . that is, almost everything except telephone service. The majority of exchanges served by Michigan Associated Telephone Company have not had a change in rates in 20 years. Yet our cost of furnishing service has increased over 128% since 1941!

Is it any wonder then that we cannot operate on a sound financial basis necessary for service improvement and expansion? We know you will readily understand why we are seeking an adjustment in telephone service rates.

Miss Ruth Schneider Weds William J. Kiefer

In the historical St. Peter's Episcopal church Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, during an impressive single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Allan L. Ramsay, Miss Ruth Carroll Schneider, daughter of Mrs. Karl Marion Schneider, became the bride of William Joseph Kiefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ray Kiefer of Rockford, Illinois. The vows were exchanged before the altar decorated with burning tapers in candelabra, hampers of white gladioli and white asters.

Wesley Kesler of Louisville, Ky., Jon Young of Lansing, Richard Hammel of Tecumseh and Joe Cravens of Toledo seated the guests while Jack Tonneberger played a program of organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Karl Rankin Schneider, chose white nylon illusion for her bridal gown. The Chantilly lace bodice was appliqued on a yoke of illusion and the long sleeves ended in points over her hands. The circular peplum of the same lace over the full illusion skirt ended in a long circular train. Her bouquet was of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath.

Irene Birkeland of Stockholm, Sweden, was maid of honor wearing a delphinium blue gown of crepe romain with a circular peplum of lace. Her net hat and mitts were of matching rose and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, white delphinium and baby breath.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Peter McGee of Detroit and Barbara Kerby and Marjorie Van Winkle of Tecumseh. They wore rose crepe gowns identical in style to that of the honor maid's. Their net hats and mitts were blue and they carried rubrum lilies with blue delphinium and baby breath.

Mrs. Schneider chose an aqua chiffon dress with rose accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of tuberous begonias. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of shell pink with matching accessories and a corsage of pink tuberous begonias.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Bauer Manor at Evans Lake for 150 guests. The five-tiered wedding cake was topped with gardenias and tea roses Mrs. Louis Schneider and Mrs. H. H. Hammel poured while Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. C. O. Butler, Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, Mrs. H. H. Hanna and Mrs. M. R. Blanden served as hostesses.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kiefer of Rockford, Ill., parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tucker of Rockford, Mr. and Mrs. John Kiefer, of Detroit and daughter, Janet, groom's aunt, uncle and cousin; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rankin, of Shelby, bride's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Jones, Canton, Ohio, bride's great-aunt and uncle; Miss Carroll Rankin, of Shelby, bride's aunt; Jon L. Young of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Newman Gamble of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowen of Grosse Pointe Park, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vertovec of Elmhurst, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cravens of Toledo, Miss Irene Birkeland of Stockholm, Sweden, Wesley Kessler of Louisville, Ky., William Buckley of Wichita, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. John Larsen, and daughter, Lenore of Jackson, and Mrs. Mary Reh, of Adrian, great aunt.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1945 and received her degree from the University of Illinois in 1948. She is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

The bridegroom graduated from the University of Illinois in 1947 and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Now employed in the National Lock Company in Rockford, during the war he served four years as a national observer with the field artillery. He was a first lieutenant in the Third Army of General Patton and was decorated with the bronze and silver stars in combat citations.

Upon their return from a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 735 Joslin St., Rockford. For her going away costume the bride wore a faille suit with valanciago accessories and a corsage of yellow and bronze roses.

Go To Church On Sunday

Our Greatest Resource

In the boys and girls of today lie the solution of tomorrow's problems. A trite, more or less meaningless statement, you say? Far from it—it is the most meaningful, vital fact we know of. Just as we give them the benefits of the best education, so let us give them the great heritage of religion. For it is on great religious faith that great character is built . . . it is on such a foundation that a helpful, useful conception of life is built. Join your friends in the church of your faith Sunday.

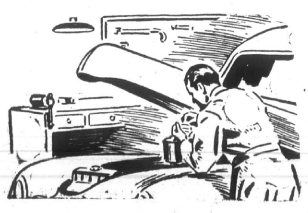
Your Doctor & Your Garageman Are Mighty Important

A Bad Diagnosis Can Be Costly

Confidence Is Necessary

When you consult your physician about an illness you choose him because you have confidence in his ability to diagnose your case and after he prescribes you follow his instructions, implicitely.

We like to think of our business as "professional" and to look at the cars that we service as "patients" who are ill and in need of our care. We liken our garage to a "hospital" — and our mechanics, who specialize in this or that particular field, as the "doctors" who will diagnose, prescribe and, if necessary "operate" on your automobile.



We Appreciate The Confidence Our Customers Have In Us

Every day we see new customers in our garage and many of them tell us that they have been sent to us by "a friend who recommended our service." We appreciate such confidence, and we strive constantly to merit it. That is one of the big reasons why we recently installed new, ultramodern equipment—machines and tools that save your time and ours and, consequently, reduce service costs.

20 Candidates In County Race

NAMES WILL BE PLACED ON PRIMARY ELECTION BALLOTS OF SEPTEMBER 14

Petitions have been filed at the county clerk's office at the court house in Adrian by twenty candidates who are seeking election to county offices. Their names will be placed on the primary ballots September 14. Thirteen have filed on the Republican ticket, six on the Democrat and one non-partisan, with eleven of those candidates now in office.

Probate Judge Maurice E. Tripp will be unopposed for re-election on the non-partisan ticket. Leonard Warner, register of deeds, and Walter E. Frazier, county surveyor, both Republicans, are also unopposed.

John C. Truesdale of Tecumseh, a Democrat, and Wade Willett, undersheriff, and Lt. Robert C. Sites of the Adrian city police department, both Republicans, will oppose Republican Elmer W. Bringman as sheriff. Bringman holds that office now.

Franklin L. Lennox of Adrian will oppose two incumbents to the office of coroner on the Republican ticket. The Republican incumbents are Edward M. Braun and Paul E. Mott.

Candidates for other offices will be unopposed in the primary election. The November election races will list the following opponents.

County Clerk Robert B. King, the incumbent, will be opposed by George A. Patterson, Democrat, of Weston.

The incumbent treasurer, Harry Bradley, will be opposed by Richard G. Hunt, a Democrat, of Route 1, Adrian.

Drain Commissioner Archie Bruce has Francis Snyder, Democrat, of Route, 1, Adrian, as his opponent.

George W. Bean, Democrat of 975 West Maple Avenue will oppose Rex B. Martin, the present prosecuting attorney.

State Representative Rollo Conlin will be opposed by Larey M. Lawrence, Democrat, of 343 East Church Street.

One county office will not be on the ballot in the primary election. Milton C. Porter, county superintendent of schools, was elected in April 1947. He received a large complimentary vote, being unopposed for the office. His four-year term will expire June 30, 1951. However, under the provisions of Senate Bill No. 79 approved last year, county superintendents of schools will be appointed by the county board of education at the completion of present terms.

Judge G. Arthur Rathbun of the 39th judicial district, will not be on the ballot. He also was elected in April 1947 and is serving a six-year term.

JOE BOYER, ADRIAN, NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN ACCIDENT ON TUESDAY

Joe M. Boyer, 39, of 750 Oak street, Adrian, narrowly escaped death at 1:45 Tuesday afternoon when about 15 tons of earth caved in on him while he was working on a sewer excavating project at Herrick Park Subdivision. He was removed to Tecumseh Hospital where his condition is reported as "well as could be expected." He suffered a fractured right arm at the shoulder.

The mishap occurred while Mr. Boyer was working in a 12-foot trench laying sewer tile. The cave-in came so rapidly that he could not escape but men working with him were able to free him from the trench in about five minutes.

Boyer is employed by the Roy L. Carr Excavating Co., Adrian.

MardaGene Duncan And Family Express Thanks To Tecumseh

On Tecumseh's Homecoming Day, July 5, $1000 was donated through a cake sale and by other generous individuals for MardaGene Duncan, a patient at the Milton H. Berry Foundation School in Cincinnati, Ohio. The money was sent to MardaGene along with a letter relating the day's activities. A letter of appreciation from the Duncans follows:

To Our Friends:

On Monday, July 5th, 1948, the people of Tecumseh showed what a group of fine and generous people they are.

If it were possible, we would like to thank each one of you individually, but that is impossible. Therefore, to you who took part in "The Boost for MardaGene" a very sincere "thank you."

While it is a very slow process we truly believe that MardaGene has made remarkable progress at the Berry School. She is now sitting up several hours a day, which is a great improvement over not being up at all. We have also been able to take her for several drives.

It is a wonderful feeling to belong to a community like ours. It is impossible to explain our feelings when we received the check and the description of the day's activities.

So to you all, a very grateful thank you.

MardaGene,
Bernice and Harry Duncan

The Herald joins with all Tecumseh in wishing MardaGene a speedy recovery.

Tecumseh Has Case Of Polio

EIGHT - YEAR - OLD CHARLES SPREEMAN ILL; NO PARALYSIS HAS RESULTED

The third case of infantile paralysis reported in Lenawee county is that of 8-year-old Charles Spreeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman, 740 North Union, Tecumseh. The case was diagnosed at the University hospital in Ann Arbor, Saturday. The attack was mild and no paralysis has developed. Charles was allowed to return home because there are no other children in the family.

Dr. H. C. Huntley, county health director, said that certain precautions should be taken against the disease by parents. Families should try to rid their premises of flies by the use of DDT and to be certain that all the food and fresh fruits have been protected against flies and dirt. He said it is probable that every case of polio is contracted from a person who has recently had the disease or from a carrier.

High Meat Cost Up To Consumer

Chicago—Consumers who complain about high meat prices have themselves in part to blame. A larger part than they realize.

As long as consumer demand outstrips supply as it has done ever since the war, and as long as enough consumers are willing to pay high prices, prices will continue to soar.

This, at least, is one point in a welter of conflicting opinions upon which meat producers and distributors in this big meat-packing center agree.

In the absence of any lessening of demand, most also agree that the only answer to lower prices is increased production. The one bright ray on the production horizon is the predicted bumper corn crop, which is expected to bring feed prices down and so promote production.

Failure of the 1947 corn crop is one factor in current high prices. The livestock coming to market this quarter is the portion that had to be fed at specially high prices because of last year's crop failure. The extra squeeze in this

Mrs. Anna E. Wood, 71, Buried In Brookside

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Collins Funeral Home for Mrs. Anna E. Wood, 71, who died last week Thursday at 9 a.m. in her home in Adrian. Rev. Edward Escolme officiated assisted by Capt. Anderson of Hillsdale. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers were William Irwin of Clayton, Robert J. McCoy, Frank French, Ernest Nelson, David Watson and Perry C. Satterthwaite. Friends and relatives attended from Detroit, Bridgewater, Clinton, Adrian, Clayton, Hillsdale and Tecumseh.

Mrs. Wood had been in failing health for several years. Her husband preceded her in death November 2, 1942. She is survived by her son Herbert Haviland of Adrian, one stepson Wilson Wood of Detroit, seven granddaughters, one grandson, three great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Vacation Bible School To End Sunday Eve

Miss Eva Clausen will deliver the sermon at the regular Sunday morning service at the Tecumseh Friends church, at 10 a.m. Miss Celeste Richardson will have charge of the singing.

The Misses Clausen and Richardson have been conducting a Vacation Bible School for the past two weeks at the Friends church and the closing exercises will be held Sunday evening at 7:30, with all the children taking part. The public is invited to attend.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

The interior of the Tecumseh post office is receiving a new coat of paint, which greatly improves the appearance of the building. The walls are being done in pale green with a darker shade for the woodwork.

PICNIC AT RECREATION

The primary department of the Baptist Church school will have a picnic at the Tecumseh Recreation Center this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:15. Those attending should bring table service, a dish to pass and sandwiches. Ice cream and drink will be furnished.

Friends Church Grows With Tecumseh

Things are happening around the Friends Church in Tecumseh these days. The problem of where to put all the youngsters that are coming to Friends Sunday school became so acute it was decided an addition must be built to the church, and fine progress is being made on this project.

"Save for a Shingle" is the motto of the Sunday school the next few weeks and the boys and girls are really working hard to see how fast they can purchase the 1548 shingles it takes to cover the roof, at eighteen cents each. Miniature shingles are being laid on a miniature roof, complete to the two dormers, made by R. R. VanWinkle, just as fast as they are purchased. To date the small roof is nearly one-half covered.

Some of the older folks agreed to purchase the nails, roofing, cement, ridge roll and copper valleys and flashing and the item of the expense of the roof will very soon be liquidated.

There are some big items yet to meet, such as the wiring of the new part, a heating system, all the inside finishing, and when it is out through behind the platform to join the new church with the old, it will mean redecorating the large room of the church. The plan is to progress only as the finances come in. The outside of the building will be completely finished and the lawn graded, and shrubbery planted before winter, if present plans work out.

The large room added in the basement of the new church was very helpful during Daily Vacation Bible School which just closed. In the new part of the church there will also be three large rooms, one good sized one being on the second floor.

DOES ANYBODY REMEMBER THE DEMOCRAT?

Photostat of Old Paper At Library

A photostatic copy of The Tecumseh Democrat, Volume 1, Number 35, published July 25, 1856, has been presented to the Tecumseh Public Library by C. Tefft Hewitt, a former Tecumseh resident.

Mr. Hewitt is retiring as director of the Hackley Public Library in Muskegon, which position he has held since September 1928. He was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tibbetts Hewitt, July 10, 1878, a few days after their arrival in Tecumseh.

The Democrat is believed to be the first newspaper published in Tecumseh, although no actual records have been found, Miss Ruth Harding, librarian, commented. There is little local news in the paper but it does mention the death of Samuel B. Evans, son of Musgrove Evans, the founder of Tecumseh, which occurred during the Mexican war.

The front page of the six-column, four page newspaper is taken up with a story, very dramatically written, by a Mr. Dickson, a lone survivor from an attack made upon a party of travelers by Mexican bandits (bandits).

Should Michigan forfeit some of her territory to Ohio before becoming a state in the Union or should she object and cause strife? That seemed to be the question in the editorial written on hte subject.

An item, which proves amusing now, reads: Fourth of July—Are our citizens so engrossed in business or speculations that the ever glorious fourth is to pass by unheeded? It is a festival which we think should always be observed.

Subscription rates were $2 a year in advance; after six months $2.50; and if not paid until the expiration of the year, $3. The office of the Democrat was on the second floor of Fargo and Boughton's store.

The original paper is of much value, Miss Harding said, and the library is fortunate in having a copy of it to add to the historical data of the village.

Mother Of Dr. Penman Dies; Burial Friday

Mrs. Margaret Penman, mother of Dr. Wm. J. Penman, Tecumseh, died at 4:30 Wednesday morning at her home in Detroit. She was aged 98 years. Mrs. Penman had been confined to her bed for about three months, but seriously ill only three days.

Mrs. Penman was a life-long resident of Detroit, and the widow of the late William A. Penman, who died in 1921.

Surviving are three children, Miss Anna Penman at home, Mrs. J. B. Pollock, Detroit, and Dr. Penman of Tecumseh. Also, four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon in Detroit with burial in Roselawn cemetery.

Labor Market Is Up Locally

While Michigan's labor market showed another drop during the month of June, Lenawee county's industries reversed the trend and, according to the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, 200 more persons were employed in the county's 16 major industries last month than in May, Clifford J. Rice, branch manager, reported today. Last month's gain brought the total back to the pre-May figure, but was about 400 below the January report.

Although immediate hiring prospects in Lenawee's top industries are dim, long-range expectations call for considerable expansion, Mr. Rice said. Nearly 600 workers will find jobs at these firms by October if present schedules are realized. Most jobs will be found in metal products and machinery plants.

The MUCC survey just completed shows that 731 establishments in Adrian now employ 9,744 workers, including 2,840 women. Of this total, 5,320 are employed in manufacturing plants, and the remaining 4,000 in trade and finance, service and repair, construction, transportation and utilities and non-manufacturing businesses.

During May, the Adrian office paid a total of $40,609 in unemployment compensation benefits. Michigan unemployment checks, totaling 1,449, averaged 20.61 each.

Statewide labor-management disputes led to a brief but sharp drop in the non-farm employment total during May. The state's employed work force on May 15 numbered 74,000 less than in April, but 85% of the reduction represented factory workers on strike who returned to the jobs in early June.

Manufacturing employment experienced a serious setback of 81,000 workers but the decline in actual number of factory jobholders, including workers on strike, was less than 10,000.

While the drop in factory employment was the fourth straight dip, advances in construction, transportation and service industries shot non-manufacturing employment totals to over the million mark for the first time this year.

Britton Farmer Is Hit By Train

CYRUS J. SMITH, 73, SERIOUSLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON WEDNESDAY

Cyrus J. Smith, 73-year-old Britton farmer, was seriously injured at 8 a.m., Wednesday morning, when the tractor on which he was riding was hit by a eastbound Wabash passenger train at a crossing 1½ miles northeast of Britton. Mr. Smith suffered severe head injuries, a fractured left leg, and body bruises. He was removed to Tecumseh Hospital by ambulance.

The accident happened within a stone's throw of Mr. Smith's home. He had just driven out of his yard and was returning to a neighbor a wagon which was attached to the tractor.

FORMER POLICEWOMAN ROTARY CLUB SPEAKER

Some problems of a policewoman were told to members of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, following dinner at Brees House, Tuesday evening, by Miss Ruth Gruber. Miss Gruber is a former member of the Minneapolis police department and now is taking a summer training course in child delinquency at the University of Michigan.

John R. Zeigler, former club president, was presented with a past-president's pin in a brief ceremony. The presentation was made by Rev. B. O. Bashore.

Presbyterians Plan Expansion

$25,000 PROGRAM WILL PROVIDE ORGANIZED RECREATION FOR YOUTH

At a meeting of the congregation, held July 14, the members of the Presbyterian church took action that will lead to the addition of church facilities. Recognizing the need for more adequate space in order to carry on a Christian program for the youth and the families of the church, plans were approved for the development of the church's basement.

On the basis of plans drawn by the consulting architects, Malcomson, Fowler, and Hammond, Inc., of Detroit, the present basement of seven foot depth will be deepened creating a large room suitable for church school classes and organized recreation. At the south end will be a stage and at the north end will be a kitchen. The additional space to be made available will be 3,200 square feet, and will cost about $25,000.

The work of studying the problem and having the preliminary plans drawn was made possible by the foresight and effort of the church's young people when four years ago they undertook to raise the sum of $300 in order to investigate these possibilities. Their wisdom and their gift prompted the temporary building committee, consisting of John Saling, J. W. Spafford, Dr. M. R. Blanden and Donald Nixon, to present the proposal that the church begin to build.

It is the intention of the church that the new room will enable it to serve its membership and the young people of the community not only on Sundays but also during the week. Until now the space has limited this service.

The finance committee under the chairmanship of Dr. M. R. Blanden held its first meeting last Monday evening and is now at work. The building committee, led by Donald T. Nixon, is to meet soon. It is intended that the additional space shall be available within nine months.

Night Clubs Sing The Blues

Printing the results of a national survey, the New York Times says the decline "may be the most serious manifestation to date of a trend that set in 18 months ago."

The slump may carry the amusement business down to its prewar level, the paper said.

The survey disclosed:

Movie box-office sales have fallen off between 7 and 12 per cent in the last year.

Numerous night clubs that never before shut down in warm weather have closed their doors.

Phonograph record sales have dropped an estimated 10 to 35 per cent, forcing the closing of some plant facilities.

Payrolls have been slashed on many movie lots because of reduced margins of profit.

Many radio stars face salary cuts.

"Television has thus become virtually the only major entertainment field—with the possible exception of some concert programs—to show continued growth," the Times said.

The paper said top entertainment executives cited these reasons for the slump:

1. Increased living costs have led to curtailment of luxury good-time spending.

2. Commodities not available in wartime—such as automobiles —now are competing for the consumer dollars.

3. Competition of new amusement fields, such as night baseball.

4. Increased costs of the industry has been unable to pass along in the form of higher prices because of customer resistance.

Brock Pemberton, President of the New York League of Theaters, was quoted as saying the present "financial slump is greater than anything since the prewar depression."

"The people have undoubtedly stopped throwing their money around," he said.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

What makes a free press possible? Private Enterprise! In every country where freedom of the press is lacking, or curbed, you will find a totalitarian government (a dictatorship). Under such a regime, government owns the basic industries. There is no incentive for constant improvement in order to appeal to the buying public. There is no particular reason for telling the public about all manner of products, such as is commonplace in the United States, in order to build business. The people have to take what the government offers and like it—there is no competition.

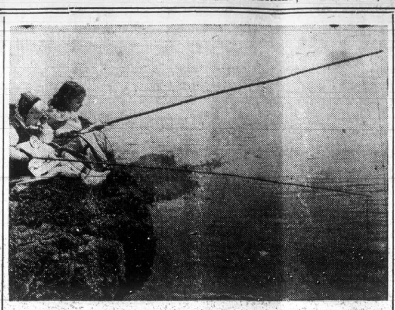
Totalitarian government seeks unbridled power. Under such governments, there can be no free press for two very good reasons. First, government controls all the news and all the newspapers. Second, government-owned industries do not have to advertise. They do not have to win the public's business by superior products and salesmanship.

No country in the world has 12,000 rural daily and weekly newspapers, in addition to the metropolitan press, except the United States. No country in the world has a newspaper in practically every town of a few hundred population. Their income is derived from private enterprise—thousands of competing industries, from the greatest railroad and public utility to the smallest bakery and laundry. They all advertise to popularize their services or products and win public favor and business.

It has often been charged, for political purposes, that advertising controls the American press. This is not so because competition is so varied that no branch of business is powerful enough to dominate the press. Volume and variety in advertising makes possible a free press.

No group of men and women in the United States is more vitally interested in opposing government ownership of business, as a matter of principle, than are newspaper editors. They are the nation's safeguard against the economic teachings of many of our principal colleges and text books which openly espouse the superiority of government operation of business as contrasted with private operation, on the phoney "liberal" philosophy that we have outgrown the days of private endeavor, and that only government is now capable of handling the basic industries of the nation. Such teachings are the opposite of every principle upon which our government was built, and if accepted will lead to the destruction of private enterprise including a free press. When that happens personal liberty itself will be gone.

This is something for editors, industrial leaders and individuals to think about, because the ground is already well prepared to extend government ownership of business (socialism) in our country.



TWO LITTLE OPTIMISTS FROM EUROPE . . . Janice Hermansen, 2, and Emmi Mattersich, 5, of Norway and Austria respectively sit hopefully on a rock near Rye, N. Y., and watch their fishing lines with interest, confident that any day now they might get a bite. They were two of a group of immigrant children who enjoyed a boating party and picnic given them by the Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children relief organization.

"Noah nothing," replied the speaker, "I guess I know a little scripture. Noah built the Ark!"

Lockjaw Warning Is Issued In Michigan

This is the time of year when lockjaw is prevalent, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

The little cut, scrape, scratch or blister which goes almost unnoticed in vacation play or gardening can cause lockjaw just as surely as an automobile accident or pitchfork wounds or gunpowder burns.

Children, especially those who are or will be in rural areas, all farm workers, and horse handlers as well as people in industry who are apt to receive puncture or scraping wounds should be immunized against lockjaw.

The germs which cause lockjaw, or tetanus as it is properly called, commonly live in the bowels of horses, and possibly other farm animals. They are found wherever manure is found, and they may be carried on dust for considerable distances. It does no harm to eat the germs. They cause disease only when they get into a wound which is then closed from air.

Fortunately not many people even among horse handlers get tetanus, but four out of every five who get it, die of the illness.

The Michigan Deparment of Health makes and distributes toxoids which will immunize against lockjaw.

The Department recommends that a child be immunized against tetanus at 6 to 9 months of age, but the immunization can be given at any time. The child should be given booster shots at three years of age, at the time he enters school and at the time of injury. The child of school age or an adult should have a booster shot every five years and at the time of injury.

The Department of Health makes a tetanus anti-toxin which can prevent lockjaw if given at the time of a known injury, even though the injured person has not been immunized against the disease. Either the toxoid or the anti-toxoid may be given by any physician.

TB Now In 8th Place As State Death Factor

Tuberculosis dropped from seventh to eighth place among Michigan's ten leading causes of death in 1947, according to provisional figures released today by the Michigan Department of Health.

The 1947 tuberculosis death rate of 26 per 100,000 population showed considerable decline from the previous five year average of 32.6 per 100,000 population.

Tuberculosis killed twice as many men as women in 1947. Male deaths from tuberculosis numbered 1,100 and female deaths, 543. More than half of the females who died of tuberculosis were under 35 years of age, while 80 per cent of the males who died from the disease were over 35 years of age. The greatest number of women who died from tuberculosis were between 25 and 29 years of age and the greatest number of men, between 55 and 60 years of age. Of the 1,643 deaths from tuberculosis last year, 45 were children under five years of age and of these, 18 were of infants less than one year of age.

To help control tuberculosis, the Michigan Department of Health advises you to:

1. Have an annual chest X-ray.
2. Consult your doctor if you have any symptoms such as a persistent cough, fatigue or loss of weight.

The daughter of a civilian employee at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., had a chronic case of hiccoughs so she was taken for a ride in a plane which zoomed, rolled and snapped in an effort to scare her out of them. The ride didn't cure the girl, but it made her father pretty sick.

He's the luckiest man in the world—he has a wife and a cigarette lighter, and both of them work.

DOSTER — Situated along the shaded shores of Pine Lake, 12 miles north of Kalamazoo and adjacent to this Barry County village, is one of the most unique educational institutions for war veterans in the entire United States.

Here is a veritable "dream spot," the sort of thing a young man overseas might conjure in his imagination but never expect to see.

It is a practical emblem of Michigan's generosity to its sons who served the Nation in World War II.

We refer to the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School, operated by the State of Michigan and administered by the Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo.

We arrived at the Pine Lake school, as it is generally called, just as dinner was being served in the long administration building.

Windows of the dining hall overlook the sky-blue waters of Pine Lake. The scene is that of a summer resort rather than a college campus. In front of the main building is a bathing beach. Boats are tied up to a wood pier. A float with diving board is moored in deep water.

After dinner the veterans lounge about. Some go swimming. It is a twilight time for relaxation. A bus-load of girls from Kalamazoo is due to arrive at 9 p.m. for jukebox dancing and eats.

"And what kind of courses are offered at this bit of paradise?" you ask.

Commander Harry W. Lawson, director, places emphasis upon vocational training—the teaching of useful trades. These include business education, home appliance repair, machine and architectural drafting, machine shop, printing, radio and typewriter repair, and watch and clock repair.

Modern tools are provided for class instruction. The printing department, in which we were personally interested, has a modern typesetting machine and a full line of printing equipment. Kenneth Ross, printing instructor, served in the Canadian Air Force.

We became interested in the story of "Ike" Permelia, a Negro double amputee.

"Ike" served in the Signal Corps for five years. While on combat duty in Germany, he lost both hands. Percy Jones general hospital equipped him with mechanical fingers, and "Ike" became a student at Pine Lake in February.

One of the three Negro veterans out of nearly 180 at Pine Lake, "Ike" is popular with his fellows. He never asks for sympathy, never whimpers. Although he gets $200 a month for life because of his disability, "Ike" wants to live a useful life and do his part. He has plenty of guts.

Travel Notes: A "must" in our trailer kitchen pantry is a Charlevoix discovery, smoked lake fish canned by George LaBlanc, Jr. George distributed samples at the newspaper editors' outing June 25-27. We promptly ordered a case. The product is lake mullet, or sucker to old-timers. The smoked flavor is similar to tuna or salmon.

As you drive north on US-31, leaving Beulah, is a new industry featuring delicious frozen pies—cherry and apple. "Pet-Ritz", on Orchard Hill, is the result of a Beulah cherry pie recipe developed by the mother of Althea Kraker, until recently a co-ed at Michigan State College. Althea earned vacation money selling cherry pies to Beulah tourists. The pies inspired her husband, Petritz, to go into business. Frozen pies, by the truckload, are now delivered to frozen-food dealers and they are really something "out of this world!"

Scenes we witnessed on two succeeding Saturday nights:

Castle Park, exclusive summer colony on Lake Michigan at Holland. A marvelous resort for parents with children and with money. Meals at ivy-green Castle Inn. Trained supervisors for youngsters at beach. Horse-back riding, tennis, golf. Dancing on cement circle high above lake. Sons and mothers, daughters and fathers, all join in "grand march". Everyone is happy.

Lighthouse Park, summer trailer colony on Lake Huron at Port Huron. A miniature "city" run by "Barney" Cook, Canadian-born Irishman. Flowers, lawn. Trailer fee, $4.50 week, netted profit in 1947. Pavilion for dancing. Everyone is happy.

It's a good world, and don't forget it.

FAMILIAR SIGHT . . . You are looking down on a climbing line of steel-helmeted marines as they ascended the gangway into the attack transport USS Bexar before the vessel sailed for Mediterranean waters. Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates, marine corps commandant, said the sending of 1,000 marines to the Mediterranean was strictly "routine."

High Meat Cost Up To Consumer

quarter has been predicted all along.

"How good this year's corn crop is will determine how well we eat in 1949-50," said Frank G. Grimes, president of the Independent Grocers Alliance.

Spokesmen for both producers and distributors caution against trying to fix the blame. As one packer representative puts it, the nation is faced with a situation which irritates some, alarms others, and satisfies practically nobody. Many factors enter into it. The need is for understanding and an effort on everyone's part to improve it.

One thing consumers should understand is the strategic role they play in the setting of meat prices. "If only they would realize that, an adjustment would take place," said Mrs. R. N. Kiefer, Secretary-Manager of the National Association of Retail Grocers.

Unlike prices of less perishable commodities, meat prices are highly sensitive to what the consumer is willing to pay. Meat is one product a retailer must move quickly. As they say in the trade, they either sell it or smell it and when they can smell it, they can't sell it.

What the retailer can get is what the consumer is willing to pay. That, in turn, determines what the retailer can afford to pay the packer or wholesaler. What the packer can get from the retailer, plus the value of the by-products, determines what he can afford to bid for live animals.

HAPPY HOME BUILDERS ENJOY PICNIC AT LAKE

Twenty-eight members and children of the Happy Home Builders class of the Baptist church school enjoyed a picnic at the Walter J. Hayes state park at Wampler's Lake, Monday evening. During the business session Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Becker and Mr. and Mr. Lyle Grigg were named as the committee to make arrangements for the church school summer picnic. The group also voted to purchase a light fixture for the new organ which will be installed in the church soon.

Farm Accidents Very Numerous

CORRECTION OF SAFETY HAZARDS CAN SAVE TIME, MONEY AND LIFE

Michigan farm people can save themselves injury, money, work hours, and possibly their lives, by taking time to correct the safety hazards they know exist on their farms, the Michigan Department of Health advised today in urging participation in a national safety campaign.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is a good motto to adopt for the campaign. Human lives are involved and it may be your wife, your child or yourself. The time to prevent accidents is BEFORE they happen, the Department counselled.

Farm accidents killed one out of five persons who died in occupational pursuits in Michigan last year. Lives can be saved by giving thought now to things which caused the greatest loss of farm lives in the past.

The careless handling of domestic animals on Michigan farms results each year in serious injury or death to many people. Jobs like handling bulls and horses and working around cows require close attention to avoid unnecessary accidents.

Farm machinery is another hazard to the farmer. Each year workers meet death as the result of falls from loaded wagons or trucks, the use of haying equipment which has not been checked and repaired, or the overturning of tractors. Children are killed each year because they begged rides on tractors and played in or around other farm machinery. Corn shredders and like equipment cripple many a sturdy farmer. Broken whippletrees can cause death.

Falls from a ladder, a slip down a hay chute, or stumbling on a unlighted or cluttered barn stairs are involved in a third serious danger to farmers. Safest climbing is done when both hands are free to aid in maintaining balance. Give any job which requires climbing, ample time for completion.

Accident prevention is nothing more than use of foresight and common sense. Think NOW about these and other hazards on your own farm and take time out to correct them. The time you spend can save you money, inconvenience, pain, crippling injury, death or remorse, the State Health Department advised.

There's an open gate
At the end of the road
Through which each must go alone,
And there in a light we cannot see
Our Father claims His own;
Beyond the gate our loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort
In the thought
That a loving God knows best.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER HOLDS OPEN HOUSE . . One of the nice things about living in the United States is that you don't have to join the navy in order to find out what a warship looks like. Sometimes the ships have visiting days and you can go and look as a civilian. For instance, the aircraft carrier Valley Forge, which began its world cruise at San Diego, Calif., on October 9, 1947, stopped off and held open house in New York's North river. Six thousand curious natives visited the ship,

Foundations for Friendliness

So much of the lack of friendliness in this world . . . so much of the misunderstanding between neighbors and between nations . . . come from the fact that we do not know each other. But let us worship together . . . let us work together for the betterment of our homes and community . . . and we begin to understand each other. Today churches of every creed are co-operating in behalf of greater tolerance, greater goodwill and greater understanding. Join your friends in the church of your faith Sunday.

TODAY AND YESTERDAY IN THE AIR...Here is visible evidence of the immense strides taken in aviation since the war. A mammoth Northrop flying wing B-35 bomber scoots past a B-17 bomber, one of the World War II heavyweights. There is a startling contrast in size between today's B-35's, weighing 100 tons and measuring 172 feet from wing tip to wing tip, and the flying fortress, backbone of bombing attacks on Europe. B-35s can fly 10,000 miles non-stop at speeds far in excess of the now obsolete B-17s. U.S. army air force is testing the flying wings for possible widespread use later on. Crew compartments, cargo space and engines all are housed within the wing.

Only Genuine Interlock Construction
Completely Seals Out Dust-Dirt-Drafts

Revolutionary Window Engineering Principle Originated by Weather-Seal

The interlock is the most precise method ever devised for joining together two pieces of wood so that the air tight seal can be broken by a child (for easy changing of screen and window panels)... yet when the seal is established no dirt, dust or draft can get through it.

To achieve this engineering feat, it is necessary for our craftsmen to work California Coastal Redwood with the precision of fine cabinet work.

It has been necessary for us to design, and in many cases build, our own machinery! It is certainly a job only for craftsmen such as the men of Weather-Seal who tailor-make each window for you.

There are three of these Weather-Seal designed interlocks on every full sized window. The seal against dirt and the elements is air tight... and so is your assurance of full value as covered by the written, Weather-Seal guarantee.

Harold A. Etling
President

Weather-Seal windows and doors are built of age-old California Coastal Redwood . . . will not warp, rot or shrink . . . stays beautiful with little care.

With Weather-Seal, you change winter panes to summer screens in a jiffy. A few turns of an exclusive screw fastening and windows and screens come out easily.

Let it rain . . . let it pour! You'll always be sure of draft-free, rainproof ventilation the year around. You'll know the real meaning of finger-tip weather control.

All the rich, lustrous beauty of America's most magnificent wood is permanently yours with Weather-Seal. They'll dress up your home . . . add beauty and style.

Weather-Seal combination windows are custom-built to the dimensions of your particular home . . . are tailor-made to fit and stay fitted, for a lifetime.

20-Mile Speed Zone Is Set Up

COUNCIL ACTS TO MAKE OTTAWA, UNION AND POTTAWATAMIE "SLOW" AREA

Because of the heavy traffic condition on South Ottawa street, between Chicago boulevard and the Tecumseh Products Company's plant, the council in session on Monday evening, ordered a speed restriction of 20 miles an hour in that street and also made it a "through street," with stop signs to be erected at all intersections.

The council also recognized the heavy traffic condition on both Pottawatamie and South Union streets and ordered four-way stop signs installed at the South Union-Pottawatamie intersection.

The signs will be erected within a week, it was said, and police have been ordered to give the areas "special attention," to see to it that the new rulings are rigidly enforced.

The council approved the purchase of 100 new water meters, 53 of them for immediate delivery and another 50 for delivery in six months. The meters are needed for new house installations. The cost in 100 lots is $16.98 each.

Howard Truesdale petitioned the council for a change in the zoning ordinance affecting four lots on Mill street, immediately north of the Top Hat Grill. The lots are now zoned as Residence B property and Mr. Truesdale requests that they be classified as Class A building property. A hearing on the petition for objections will be held September 13 in the council building.

There was little other business before the council except for the hearing of reports by committee chairmen and department heads. Current bills were audited and ordered paid.

ORGANIZATION MEETING TO BE HELD NEXT MONDAY; COMMITTEES NAMED

The Tecumseh Recreation Association football team will begin practicing Sunday, August 15, at 4 p.m. at Recreation Center, it was announced today. S emi-pro games will start in September.

At a meeting of all prospective players to be held at the V. F. W. Club, Monday, August 9, at 7 p.m. the plan will be outlined by officers of the Association. It will be pointed out that because the organization is non-profi, the players will receive no cash for playing but will be covered with ample insurance in case of injuries received during a game which would cause a layoff from work.

The proceeds of the games will be divided equally for two purposes. One share will go to the Association for future expansion into other sports and upkeep of the football team and the other for improvements and additions to the Recreation Center.

The board members and their duties are as follows: Lee Purkey, chairman; Aden Mead, secretary and treasurer; Raymond Guy, chairman of tickets: Clair Macwaring, Robert French and N. L. Morehouse, solicitations; Lee Randall, chairman of facilities committee; Al Bagshaw and N. L. Morehouse, game tickets and season tickets.

At the last meeting of the association, Robert Williamson and Jack Osburn were elected as co-captains for the coming season and were placed on the board. Williamson will contact prospective players and Osburn will arrange the games and publicity.

All those interested in playing semi-pro ball should attend the meeting Monday evening.

30-Year-Old Tecumseh Sign Is Ordered Removed

The illuminated street sign on Chicago boulevard at Evans street, Tecumseh's downtown intersection, soon will be no more, Wade L. Jones, village clerk, said today.

The sign, donated to the village more than 30 years ago by the late P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, and which spells out in foot-high letters, "Tecumseh," has been condemned by the state highway department as a hazard and ordered removed. The removal of the sign, Mr. Jones said, will be within a week, the work to be done by Consumers Power Co.

For several years the repair of the sign has been a problem. The stained glass "windows" are easily broken and are difficult to repair because glass of the type used is scarce.

What disposition will be made of the sign after its removal, Jones did not say.

PRESBYTERIANS REPORT SUCCESS IN DRIVE FOR $25,000 REMODELING FUND

Members of the Presbyterian church are responding readily when solicited for funds for the $25,000 expansion program of the church, it was announced following the second meeting of the finance committee, Monday evening. The committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. M. R. Blanden, said members have been very generous thus far with pledges and outright donations. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Ray Sluyter, Robert Hanna, Kenneth D. Hall, L. D. Tallman, Gordon Keyser and Mrs. Frank K Smith.

Action on the program was taken after the young people of the church had raised $300 to investigate the possibilities of expanding the church facilities. At a recent meeting of the congregation it was decided, on the basis of plans drawn by architects, to deepen the present church basement which will make a room suitable for classes and organized recreation. There will be a stage built at one end of the room and a kitchen at the other. The cost will be approximately $25,000.

The building committee will have their first meeting Monday, August 16. This committee is composed of Don Nixon, chairman, J. W. Spafford, John Saling, M. G. Partridge, Howard Truesdale, Mrs. Edith Cotton Smith, Mrs. Wade Hendershot and Dwight Hodges.

DON'T RUSH! WE'RE JUST QUOTING FROM OUR FILES

Saturday Special, Ground Beef, 2 pounds, 31c

Can you remember when a 24½ pound sack of flour cost 49c, your butcher sold you two pounds of ground beef for 31c and assorted luncheon meats (the kind that you took on a picnic), cost 25c a pound?

Maybe it does seem a long time ago that prices in local markets were that low but, according to advertisements in The Herald in the month of August, 1938, food prices were far, far lower then than they are today.

Scanning some of the food advertisements of 10 years ago reveals these prices:

Ring bologna and frankfurts were going at 17c a pound. Bananas were 5c a pound and apples were selling at 10 pounds for a quarter. A two pound box of brick cheese cost 45c and peanut butter was 10c a pound.

Twenty-five cents a pound was the cost of assorted luncheon meats, a 24½ pound sack of flour cost from 45c to 66c and oleo sold at two pounds for 25c. Red salmon was 21c a can, crackers 16c a pound, the best brands of salad dressing retailed at 37c a quart and toilet tissue sold at six rolls for 25c.

Choice pot roasts cost 19c a pound, picnic hams were 21c and short ribs of beef cost a quarter for two pounds. Butter was 28c a pound, naptha soap was six bars for 23c, fruit cocktail by the can was 16c and early June peas brought 8c a can.

Of course, other prices were different, too. That was before it cost 34 to get your lawn mowed and $10 was considered a good price for a lady's dress-up dress. And it was before World War II, too.

It will be indeed interesting to check the prices in 1958 with the prices of 1948.

He will be the first resident minister the Episcopal church in Clinton has had in many years. Mr. Warner will soon take up residence in the Episcopal rectory there with his wife and two daughters.

Sale Of School Bonds Approved

The Tecumseh School District has been authorized to advertise for bids for the sale of $180,000 worth of bonds, the proceeds, along with a gift of $145,000 from Tecumseh Products Co., and its executives, and money accumulated in a sinking fund, to be used for the immediate construction of a new $400,000 high school here. August 16 has been fixed as the final date for the reception of bids.

The bonds will be retired in this order: $22,000 on July 1, 1949; $23,000 on July 1, 1950; and $45,000 on July 1 of each year, 1951 through 1953.

Bids for the construction of the new building will be received at the office of the superintendent of schools here up to noon today. The bids will be canvassed immediately and it is expected that an announcement will be forthcoming as to the contract award.

It is hoped that actual construction of the building, to be located on North Maumee street, will be started late this month, and that the structure will be completed in time for the opening of school in 1949.

Kindergarten Children Need "Booster Shots"

Take time out now to see that your pre-school child who enters kindergarten this fall has "booster shots" for smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

Close association with many children in the schoolroom and on the playground greatly increases the danger of exposure to communicable diseases, but "booster shots" given now to children who were immunized as infants will protect them from the preventable childhood diseases.

The Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan State Medical Society recommend children's immunization be started by six months of age. "Booster shots" against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and whooping cough should be given at three years of age and again before entering school.

Children who have not been immunized as infants should be given the complete series of immunizations at least a month before school starts. Your family physician can tell you the status of your child's immunization and can give the protection needed.

Former Local Rector Is Speaker at Rotary Club

Declaring that America needs a new mission—something to fuse the country together as did World Wars I and II—the Rev. E. Thomas Rodda, former rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church here, pleaded for a better understanding of both national and international affairs, when he spoke to the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, following dinner at Brees House. The Rev. Mr. Rodda is now located in Louisville, Ky.

Noting the unrest, uncertainty and dissatisfaction not only in the United States but in other countries, Mr. Rodda pointed out that such a condition is ripe for the spread of Communism. Hitler, he said, rode to power under such conditions, as did Mussolini and Tojo.

"I didn't come here to preach you a sermon," Rodda said, "but I do believe that we must recognize the value of human life as does the Almighty. It's time that we wakened up. It may be later than we think."

GIVEN SUMMONS

Harold Elting of Manitou Beach was given a summons for reckless driving when he lost control of his car and struck a truck loaded with steel being driven by a Toledo man, Monday morning. The mishap occurred on M-50 near Tipton as Elting was on his way to work at the Tecumseh Products Co. The Elting car was completely demolished. The truck tipped over and injured the driver, who was treated at Tecumseh hospital. Clinton state police investigated.

Meyers Payroll To Be Doubled

PRODUCTION OF 100 NEW PLANES TO START AT ONCE WITH GOV'T O.K.

An immediate up-swing in production with an ultimate doubling of payroll, was announced today by Meyers Aircraft Company through its president, Al H. Meyers. The company now employs 25 persons.

The reason for the increase in business, Mr. Meyers said, is the government's approval of the new Meyers 145 model ship, the first postwar plane to be built by the company. The initial production schedule calls for the building of 100 to 150 of the planes within the next 12 months. The first five of the planes will go to John Mann, Los Angeles, Calif., Mario Fontana, Iron Mountain, Mich., Woodman Edmonson, Lynchburg, Va., Max Aulik, Orlando, Fla., and Leslie Bowman, Ft. Worth, Texas.

The new Model 145 was produced at a cost of $75,000, Meyers said, and final flight tests were completed July 28. The tests were flown by Jerry W. Davidson, flight engineering agent of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of Park Ridge, Ill. The flight tests took 10 days and the company now holds Type Certificate 807, meaning that the new ship is the 807th type of plane approved by the government since 1926. The ship was under constant supervision of H. E. Core, aircraft factory agent of the CAA of Detroit.

The new model plane is of all-metal construction, has retractable landing gear and landing flaps for high performance. It has a top speed of 165 miles an hour, a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour and a landing speed with flaps of 42 miles an hour. It has a flying range of four hours with gas consumption CAA tests showing 7½ gallons per hour. The ship has the same power as the old Meyers OTW, which had a top speed of 112 miles per hour.

The new ship was designed by Mr. Meyers with the aid of six skilled mechanics, Beaumont Diver, Jack Smith, Owen Conrad, H. Meier, Geo. Tirpak and James Keehl. The plane has been under development for two years and one ship was lost during routine flight tests on August 8. Meyers pointed out that it is not unusual to lose ships during the development stages because of the nature of certain tests that are conducted to prove the design.

The new ship is equipped with a Continental motor, developing 145 horsepower. Arrangements for subcontracting many of the parts necessary to production have been completed, the president said.

"The new 145 model is a great ship," Meyers declared. "Dr. H. H. Hammel recently flew one of the ships to Louisville, Ky., in one hour and 42 minutes."

With the removal of the Stinson Aircraft Co., from Wayne to California, Meyers said that it leaves his company as the only airplane manufacturer in Michigan. He declared that he has had many offers from ambitious Chambers of Commerce to move his plant to the west.

"There is a movement westward for airplane companies," Meyers said, "and they are offering free land and almost everything else. The reason is there will be," he said. First, labor markets are more stable, second, weather is better and, third, the government believes it best for such plants to be located well inland.

Meyers said that there are no plans for the removal of the local factory in the immediate future.

A TIP FROM AUSTRALIA

The restoration of peacetime price and rationing control apparently will be a major campaign issue in the forthcoming presidential election. If it is, the people of this country, whether they realize it or not, will be witnessing a debate over the future pattern of government under which they are to live. Permanent price and rationing control mean inexorable extension of centralized authority and the final adoption of the socialized state, whether it is called that or not.

Aside from the danger to personal liberty and other philosophical considerations, price and rationing control, from a practical standpoint, is a demonstrated failure. In every country where it has been tried it has led to shortages and hardship. When prices are arbitrarily held below the supply-demand levels of the free market, people will not produce. Legitimate distribution channels are disrupted by black markets and the police powers of the state become increasingly brutal if order is maintained. The expanding bureaucracy of OPA and its kangaroo court methods which were nipped in the bud at the end of the war should serve a fair warning of what can be expected if the system is re-established.

American consumers are getting better service at lower relative prices in the light of existing conditions without OPA than they ever did with it. Congressional investigations have shown that retailers' profits margins are less now in the free market than they were in the controlled market of OPA. Moreover there are no shortages of necessities.

America is not the only country that has been faced with the price control issue. Australia recently defeated by a heavy majority vote an attempt by the Central Labor Government to write price control as a permanent power into the Federal Constitution. An observer pointed out that "The Australians do not want permanent centralized Federal Government control of their economic affairs."

CUT YOUR FUEL COSTS AND HAVE MORE MONEY TO SPEND

Hot today, cold tomorrow, is no joke when it comes to uselessly high fuel bills and medical expenses.

You can reduce your fuel costs, and have more money to spend for other things, if you'll insulate your house. Careful records show savings up to 30 per cent in a single year through insulation.

Remember! Your house is cooler in summer, warmer in winter. Rooms heretofore cold, become useable.

Don't put off insulating. Now, during the summer, is the time to do it. You begin reaping the saving through reduced fuel bills this fall and winter.

HATS ARE LARGER

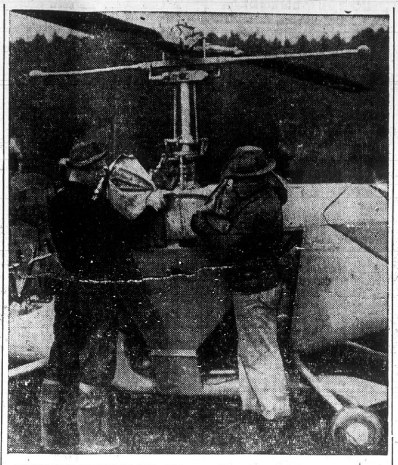
Unabashedly romantic, over 90 per cent of the models shown in the new collections have much veiling and every hat is the complement of the silhouette it tops.

Although no capricious mood is neglected, the models seem to blend with the complete ensemble and produce a composite picture which is utterly feminine.

The chin is the focal point for attention with veils and ribbons tied under it and flowers or feathers tucked in the center of the knot or the bow in the true victorian manner.



PLANTING FORESTS BY AIR . . . Forests are being planted by helicopter now. First job of this kind was undertaken recently by a west coast paper manufacturing company when 2,560 acres of the company's tree farms in Washington and Oregon were seeded from the air with five species of native forest trees.

URGENT DEMAND FOR HOGS

Market Authorities Say:

"Sows that need to be culled should now be on full feed to sell within 30 to 60 days.

"Rush other hogs on full feed for late summer and early fall sale.

"Replace corn with cheaper wheat and oats in the rations.

"Buy any reasonable priced pigs or bred gilts you can handle. There will be urgent demand for pigs if corn prospects continue favorable."

Don't depend too much on pasture.

Midsummer pasture may lack protein as the plants mature. Grass than ran 20% protein in June may contain only 12% in July. Hayden's Pig and Sow Concentrate will make up the deficiency economically.

Miss Rose Mary Frolich Weds Irving Gurtzweiler

Miss Rose Mary Frolich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frolich of Macon, and Irving Gurtzweiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gurtzweiler of Tecumseh, repeated their marriage vows Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the rectory of St. Dominic's Catholic church in Clinton. The Rev. Fr. Francis Juras performed the double ring ceremony before the fireplace decorated with peach gladioli and mums.

For her wedding the bride chose a copen blue crepe suit styled with a ballerina skirt. With this she wore a white open crown picture hat and white lace mitts. Her corsage was a white orchid.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Frolich selected a navy crepe dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Gurtzweiler wore a copen blue crepe dress with white accessories. Each mother wore a corsage of pink roses. The two grandmothers each had a corsage of white and pink carnations.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Brees House to the bridal party and the immediate families. At six o'clock some 150 guests congratulated the couple at a reception in the garden of the Gurtzweiler home. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with three wedding bells and a miniature bride and bridegroom, was cut by Mrs. Louis Meska, sister of the bride. Mrs. Stanley Kasno, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Wheeler, sister of the groom, served the guests. All wore corsages of white carnations.

When the couple left on a two weeks wedding trip to Canada, the new Mrs. Gurtzweiler was wearing a gray gabardine suit with gold accessories and her bridal corsage was pinned to her shoulder.

In 1945 the bride graduated from Ford Macon high school and is now employed by the Ford Motor Company at Manchester. Mr. Gurtzweiler is a graduate of Tecumseh high school, class of 1944, and served two and one-half years in the U. S. Seabees of which one and one-half years was spent in the South Pacific. He is now employed at the Tecumseh Products Company.

Rabies Control Urged By State Health Dept.

To aid in the control of rabies and prevention of hydrophobia, the Michigan Department of Health and the Michigan Department of Agriculture have prepared a pamphlet, "Protect Yourself, Your Family and Your Dog Against Rabies" which is available without charge from the local health departments or the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan.

A total of 163 new cases of rabies and one human death from hydrophobia this year indicate the urgent need for active participation in local rabies control measures.

Local rabies control committees are being organized in several counties of the state; ten counties are under dog quarantine, and five counties require vaccination of dogs before licensing.

Similar protection is needed in all of the 34 southern Michigan counties in the rabies danger area the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

More Tax Money For Good Roads

ROAD REFORM LEGISLATION ALSO IS NECESSARY, FEDERATION HEAD SAYS

Lansing — The Michigan Good Roads Federation is just as insistent upon legislation to provide road reforms as it is upon any increases in motorists' taxes, declared Harry T. Ward, Federation president, in a speech before the Central Detroit Kiwanis Club, Monday, August 2.

"Reclassification of roads and streets, more equitable distribution of road revenues, continued administrative reforms by all road agencies, and some additional local support for local roads are demanded by the Federation," he said.

"Unfortunately not a great deal is heard about the complete program. The recommendations to increase taxes get the headlines as they no doubt should, but at the same time is would be tragic to increase taxes without the reforms, reclassification and redistribution. These measures are somewhat technical and not so [illegible] as the ever growing grasp as the growing cost of living — and highway building."

Evidence is abundant that even with increased gasoline and weight taxes from additional post-war driving and vehicle ownership there are not sufficient funds available for road builders to keep pace with the increased costs of labor and material. These are matters of simple arithmetic, he said.

"Any legislator could convince his constituents that a "yes" vote to increase gasoline taxes is necessary if road agencies are expected to fulfill their road building responsibilities; but what about these other recommendations?" Ward continued.

He pointed out that it would not be to the best interest of the people for the legislators to return to Lansing in either a special or regular session without assurance that their constituents understand completely all the carefully made recommendations of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

Without such understanding, he said, we are liable to see wasted two years of honest-to-goodness hard work carried out by an organization whose only purpose is to provide Michigan with good roads and good road administration.

Almost half of all Navy officers on active duty have risen from enlisted service, Bureau of Naval Personnel statistics show.

New Roosevelt Home For Orphans In Italy

Palermo, Sicily—The Franklin D. Roosevelt Home for training Italian war orphans in maritime trades has been opened formally here.

The home cost $250,000, provided by American Workers. Four labor leaders from the United States were present at the ceremonies.

They are David Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union; Irving Brown and Jay Lovestove of the American Federation of Labor, and Luigi Antonini, president of the Italo-American Labor Council.

The orphans' home was formerly a small naval shipyard. It was renovated with funds provided by the American Federation of Labor, the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, American Relief for Italy and the Italo-American Labor Council.

Mr. Antonini said his organization and ILGWU will provide $25,000 annually for four years for maintenance.

An initial group of 250 orphans will start learning naval mechanics and carpentry.

The institute will be administered by the Foundations for Assistance to War Orphans of Laborers, an Italian organization entrusted with education of war orphans of Italian workers.

Two-Year-Old Bread Fresh And Good, Says U. S.

Chicago—Soldiers now can eat bread two years old. And it will be fresh, the Quartermaster Food and Container Institute say.

The army said the bread was developed as a field ration substitute for hard biscuits (remember?) The bread is canned. The 10-ounce loaves are baked in the cans and sealed after cooling.

Although it was not designed for use after two years, tests have shown the bread fresh after that long, although a little dry. It is made more moist by heating the can in hot water before opening.

The bread has not been included officially in any army ration yet.

New Jet Plane Gets Work Out

CLIMBS AT SPEED OF MILE A MINUTE; SMOOTH, SAFE IN OPERATION

Washington — Two dozen reporters have it first hand about jet fighter smoothness, speed, and maneuverability.

The United States Air Force, demonstrating one phase of its new training program, sent aviation writers from New York and Washington up in a Lockheed TF-80 Shooting Star at Andrews Air Base, Md.

The TF-80 is a two-seat version of this country's first jet figher. It has a seven-foot canopy over the two cock-pit positions.

Tony Levier, chief research test pilot for Lockheed and widely known as an air race and stunt flier, flew the plane.

He lifted the plane off gently at about 105 miles an hour, picked his wheels, gained speed, and then nosed up with a 4,000-feet-a-minute rate of climb, and at times rose at 6,000 feet a minute.

The plane was kept to around 10,000 feet because Oxygen was not being used. Its best performance is at more than twice that altitude.

Once leveled off, Mr. Levier demonstrated maneuverability with a few aileron rolls, in which the plane turns while moving ahead about 400 miles an hour; stall characteristics in which the plane shudders a clear warning that it is losing flying speed, and dive brakes, which pull the jet out of a plunge gently but firmly. Mr. Levier enthused over the plane's gilding characteristics. It descends about one foot for every 15 feet it moves forward, so that from 30,000 feet or so the pilot could glide without power to a landing 80 miles away.

Mr. Levier said that if the engine fails while at high speed near the ground, the plane will coast to an altitude of 7,000 feet, giving the pilot about 25 miles of glide to figure out a landing.

Miss Janice M. Mathias Weds Johnnie A. Selders

Friday evening, July 30, in the Lenawee County Brotherhood Tabernacle at Adrian, Miss Janice Mae Mathias, daughter of Ray O. Mathias of Manitou Beach, exchanged her marriage vows with Johnnie A. Selders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Selders of Route 1, Tecumseh, before an arch entwined with ivy and a background of palms and white gladioli. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Richard Fitch pastor of the church.

The wedding date was also the 30th wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

Miss Arlene Harsh accompanied Mrs. Richard Fitch when she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and as the couple knelt on a white satin pillow "We Promise Thee."

The bride's gown was made by her grandmother, Mrs. Leone Mathias, from silk brought back from Germany by her brother, and lace. The bodice was featured by a high neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The skirt was styled with a peplum and ended in a short train. Her fingertip veil of white tulle fell from a crown of white flowers and she carried a white Bible arranged with a purple orchid and white streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Mable Muck of Addison, wore a pink taffeta gown styled with a sweet heart neckline and short puff sleeves. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Burman of Jackson, Mrs. Harlan Paschal, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Robert Paschal, both of Adrian, were gowned in blue net, yellow taffeta and aqua net respectively. Their bouquets of gladioli were tied with ribbons to match their gowns and each wore a headpiece of net and matching flowers.

Nancy Johns and Jerry Cramer, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings on heart-shaped satin pillows, trimmed with lace. Nancy wore a floor length gown of pink organdy and a matching headdress.

Lowell Selders assisted his brother as best man and the ushers were Harlan Paschal, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Wallace Mathias of Monroe, brother of the bride, and Robert Paschal.

Mrs. Mathias wore an aqua dress with brown accessories and the groom's mother chose a black print dress. Each had a corsage of carnations.

The couple left on a four weeks trip to the west coast and after they return will make their home in Adrian. The bride graduated from Addison high school in 1946 and has been employed at the Addison State Savings Bank. Mr. Selders is an Adrian high school graduate and is employed in carpenter work with his brother.

THROWING NO STONES...This is a transparent example of how attractive living in a farm home can be. The Pine Manor farm home of Milo Miller near Goshen, Ind., has five large picture windows, including this one in the utility room which overlooks the farm yard. Glass is of two-pane construction enclosing dehydrated air space for insulation, eliminating drafts and frosting of window in winter.

Miss Jocelynn Anderson Bride Of Seymour Barritt

Miss Jocelynn Claire Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harold Anderson, and Seymour Cortland Barritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Barritt were united in marriage Thursday morning at 11 o'clock during an impressive double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Charles Ramsay of Jackson in St. Peter's Episcopal church. White asters and white gladioli decorated the altar.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, she was attractive in a white suit with which she wore white accessories. She carried a white prayer book and a spray of Johanna Hill roses.

Mrs. Richard Eggleston of Clinton, the bride's only attendant, wore an aqua suit with white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

Frank Barritt, jr., attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Harold B. Anderson and Ned Rosacrans.

Jack Tonneberger played a program of organ music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Gordon Miller when she sang "Because" and "Ave Maria."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Anderson chose a black and white dress with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Barritt wore navy with a corsage of yellow roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Tecumseh Club. The four-tiered wedding cake was cut by Miss Joyce Zeigler. The hostesses were Mrs. Clyde Barber, Mrs. Russell Thurlby, sr., Mrs. R. K. Anderson and Mrs. Edith Williamson. Miss Barbara Kerby was in charge of the guest book.

Upon their return from a trip to northern Michigan the couple will reside in an apartment at 616 West Chicago Boulevard.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1945. Mr. Barritt graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1940, served three and one-half years in the U. S. Navy and employed as time keeper at the Tecumseh Products Company.

Guests from out of town at the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. Charles Ramsay of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Avon Hart, and Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smith of Detroit; Jon Young of Lansing, Frank Barritt of Tawas City, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Williamson of Kalamazoo, Mrs. P. G. Hanna, Caryl, Paul and Mary of St. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Retter and Kim and Larry of Jackson, Mrs. D. F. Fliter and Dianne of Celina, Ohio, and Phyllis Moats, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eggleston and Mrs. Grace Colson of Clinton.

Go To Church On Sunday

The Church Is For Everyone

You have heard it said often that everyone should attend church regularly. But have you ever stopped to analyze the absolute validity of that statement? The church is the one institution which devotes its entire effort to the building of character — and without men and women of character, the civilization that we love will surely fail. That's why every man and woman who carries responsibility — in the home or in the community — needs the strengthening influence of the church — just as the church needs their support in all its activities. Join your friends in the church of your faith, Sunday.

BAD AXE — Be careful what you say, partner, when you're up in the thumb.

Here in a Michigan five-county region, comprising Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair counties, which is famous for agricultural yields.

The barns are bright red, and the silos gleam. Aluminum roofs tell a story of new prosperity.

Huron county's soil conservation payments, for example, totaled $241,545 this year. Adding $176,000 beet sugar subsidy to Huron's AAA benefits, we noted a $417,000 blessing from Uncle Sam to this one Thumb county.

Huron farmers plowed under 24,517 acres of sweet clover, among a lot of other good soil-building practices, to earn the $241,545 from the federal treasury. Tuscola AAA payments amounted to $204,940.

Favored by good prices, farmers are paying off indebtedness, improving buildings, buying modern appliances for the home, and otherwise getting caught up to city progress. Yes, times have changed on the farm, and the Thumb is Michigan's window case to prove it.

All of this was impressed upon this column's Michigan Marco Polo as we rolled our cabin-on-wheels around the rim of the Thumb on a quickie travel tour.

A dairy farmer came to Sandusky the other day and banked a $1,218 milk check for a month's milk production. Such is not out of the ordinary in Sanilac county which ranks first in Michigan for number of livestock head and milk cows. Which county was second? Huron. Third? Saginaw.

A Huron county bean farmer last year grossed $80,000 when the price of beans skyrocketed following a disastrous wet season elsewhere.

The livestock industry is booming throughout the Thumb. It's a land of beefsteaks and milk.

Lapeer county now out-ranks Kent county as to number of livestock head, although Kent leads with milk cows. Tuscola and St. Clair are also high on the list.

Bay county is next to Montcalm as to early potatoes.

Huron, Tuscola and Saginaw were first, second and third in dry bean yields last year, while better yields are in sight for 1948.

Sanilac's wheat acreage last year was 54,200 with a 21-bushel average per acre. Shiawassee was second in acreage but higher in production. Huron, Saginaw, and Tuscola — other Thumb counties — were high in the column. Wheat prospects in 1948 are rosy.

The Thumb takes second place to southwestern Michigan in poultry — chickens and eggs — but Sanilac county is going to town with turkeys. And so it goes.

When you talk about crops in the Thumb, home pride runs high. It's a prosperous region, bordered to the east and north by Lake Huron's blue waters. When M-25 is finally paved from Port Huron to Bay City, Michigan tourists will have another scenic highway. Lake shore property is booming. Frontage prices are well inflated.

Thumb impression in brief:

Harbor Beach, where Associate Justice Frank Murphy was born, has the only motion picture theatre in Michigan owned and operated by a public school district. The Community Theatre is run by the town board of education. Annual profits, $8,000 to $10,000 go into the school treasury. A new high school building is under way . . . The Harbor Beach Resort Association, membership colony, has a salt water swimming pool.

The Bad Axe Community club has erected a large grindstone, set on a concrete holder, as a memorial to vanishing Grindstone City, up at the tip of the Thumb.

Huron County operates a park at Caseville north of Sebewaing. Pipe-smoking C. W. Chesney, popular with his guests, reports that tourist fees more than pay operating costs. Port Huron's Lighthouse Park is also self-supporting from rentals.

White Rock, along Lake Huron was depicted by land speculators as a prosperous city complete with courthouse, bank, and a magnificent lake harbor. The "phantom city" never materialized.

Whitefish and chicken, all on the same plate! A specialty at Bill Dorney's Blue Water Inn in Caseville.

An Important Statement to Home Owners
Who Do Not Now Have Combination Windows and Doors

Here's Why Weather-Seal Leads in Mechanical Improvements

The precision device pictured here is the result of continuous research over several years. Because of it, Weather-Seal combination windows and screens are easily interchangeable in a matter of seconds.

These engineered fasteners are on the removable panels. Each turn pulls your windows tightly into place or, when changing from glass to screens, actually pushes the panel out toward you.

Thus, Weather-Seal combination window screen and glass panels are easily changed, even by a child.

A giant cannot force dirt, dust or draft through the air-tight seal of the Interlock.

Interlock construction, that wonderful seal between the removable panel and the permanent frame is another engineering first perfected by Weather-Seal. In our research laboratories, the largest and most efficient in the industry, a large staff is constantly at work making Weather-Seal combination doors and windows work easier, better, for you. The skill and efficiency of these men is a big reason why we guarantee Weather-Seal for life...in writing.

Harold A. Etling
President

Weather-Seal weather comfort is guaranteed for life. Our written guarantee covering workmanship and material accompanies each job.

Weather-Seal windows and doors are built of age-old California Coastal Redwood . . . will not warp, rot or shrink . . . stays beautiful with little care.

Let it rain . . . let it pour! You'll always be sure of draft-free, rainproof ventilation the year around. You'll know the real meaning of finger-tip weather control.

Weather-Seal combination windows are custom-built to the dimensions of your particular home . . . are tailor-made to fit and stay fitted, for a lifetime.

HOWDY FOLKS: Have you heard the new definition of a bachelor—a man who hasn't made the same mistake once.

Can't say we blame the fellow who said:

"I'd rather kill my wife than eat."

"Why, is she that alluring?"

"No, she's such a punk cook."

"It seems like common sense would prevent many divorces."

"Yes, and it would prevent just as many marriages."

Of course, we don't agree with that, but we do know that common sense will tell you to drive in here when you want prompt, courteous auto-service attention. We take care of your wants in a jiffy—we're on the job whenever you need us.

Driving today is far more complex than it was a few years ago when top car speeds were 40 or 50 miles an hour, two-wheel brakes were standard equipment on every car and motorists respected the slogan: "Courtesy Makes Safety."

Today, when car speeds on the open highway range between 50 and 80 miles an hour, and when there is little respect for safety slogans, it behooves car owners to see to it that their automobiles are in tip-top condition.

And that is where our garage plays an important part. Our mechanics can adjust your brakes so that quick stops are easy to accomplish. They can tune your motor, carburetor and distributor so that fast pick-up is easy, when it is necessary in swift-moving traffic. And they can generally inspect your car so that you can drive it with safety, under all conditions.

For the best in general garage service, at economical prices, see us.

Bids Rejected For New School

LOWEST "FIRM" BID $288,000 OVER ESTIMATE; BOARD TO SEEK ECONOMIES

The board of education, in session Tuesday evening rejected all bids received for the construction of a new high school here, holding that prices were too high to warrant further progress, and ordered its architects, the engineering firm of Britsch & Munger, Toledo, to proceed with new plans for a building that will come within the $460,000 fund available for the program.

The board canvassed the bids received for the school's construction and determined that the lowest "firm" bid for the structure amounted to $638,000, or $288,000 more than the amount of cash available for the project. Other bids for the completed building ranged as high as $800,000, or double the amount allocated for the work.

It's a big problem, and we'll have to whittle a little here and there and get out new plans and specifications that will come within the amount of money that we have to spend for the job," Jens Touborg, president of the board, said.

Mr. Touborg said that the board and Earl Place, superintendent, would meet with the architects within a week in an effort to develop the new plans. The board will then advertise for new bids, probably in September. It had been hoped to get the new building under way in the early fall but such a program is now problematical.

The original plans called for a two-story building, with 12 classrooms, administrative offices and a gymnasium. It may be necessary to eliminate the construction of the gym, which would cut costs by about $160,000, and to reduce the number of classrooms.

It also was announced that the board would reject all of the bids received for the sale of bonds for the construction, on August 16, and immediately re-advertise for new bids. This action was taken after it had been found that, through an error, a Detroit bank had been named as the depository for the bonds rather than the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh. The United Savings will be named as the depository when new bids are sought.

As September and the opening of school approaches, the board faces a serious problem in housing Tecumseh's increased enrollment. In all probability the Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal churches will be used for school purposes, as will the old Brownville school and the public library. Whether or not half-day sessions in some of the elementary grades will be necessary, because of crowded conditions, will not be determined until after the full enrollment has been determined.

Except for routine matters, there was little other business before the board at Tuesday's session. It did order the reconstruction of the steps at the public library, which are badly in need of repair.

Mrs. Lillian Wood, 52, Buried At Ridgeway

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton for Mrs. Lillian Wood, 52, who died Friday afternoon at her home northeast of Britton. The Rev. Edward D. Pumphrey of Ridgeway officiated and burial was in Ridgeway.

The wife of Barlow Wood, she had been a teacher in the Britton public schools. Mrs. Wood was a member of the Ridgeway Methodist church, the Tecumseh chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and the Britton Woman's Club.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter Alice and two sons Russell and Jimmie at home, a brother, LaVern J. Russell of Britton and several uncles, aunts, nieces and nephew. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russell preceded her in death.

Two Brothers Injured In Bike, Auto Mishap

Robert Cowen, 14, and his 18 month-old brother, Russell, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cowen of Tipton, were injured Friday afternoon when the motor bike being driven by Robert with Russell in the basket, struck a car coming out from a driveway on M-50, a half mile west of Tipton. The driver of the car was Alma Williams of Petersburg, who told State Police of the Clinton post because of the high banks at the driveway she did not see the bike.

The brothers were removed to Tecumseh hospital. Robert suffered a broken collar bone, knee injuries and lacerations. Russell, who suffered abrasions and head injuries, was treated and was allowed to return home with his mother.

Storm Damage Is Light Here

WORST OF WEDNESDAY MORNING STORM BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN IN LAKES AREA

Tecumseh apparently escaped damage in Wednesday morning's electrical and wind storm which, west of here, played havoc with crops and in one instance is reported to have struck a barn, killing a cow.

Locally, the damage was confined to electrical transformers. Lightning hit two transformers in the vicinity of the Tecumseh Products Company's plant and a part of the factory was without power for about two hours, beginning at 4 a.m. Another section was without electricity for about 30 minutes. The Consumers Power Co. also reported minor damage to fuses in immediate rural areas.

The Michigan Associated Telephone Co. reported seven rural lines temporarily out of order, and one toll line, to Dundee, out as a result of the storm. In Tecumseh, it was said, there was no damage.

The storm apparently spent its fury west of here, in the Onsted and Sand Lake areas. There, it was said, small limbs were torn from trees and corn was flattened by the wind. Lightning also was reported to have struck a barn on the Frank Kerr farm near Onsted, killing a cow.

State police at the Clinton post said that they had not received any reports of serious storm damage. However, phone lines were out in many areas and communication was difficult.

There was no indication of a thunderstorm at midnight Tuesday night and temperatures were in the low 70's. About 2:30 the storm rode in from the west on a stiff wind, and continued for about four and a half hours. Heavy rain fell here at all times, there were severe flashes of lightning and deafening thunder.

Funeral Service Held For Delia A. Robinson

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Dunn Funeral Home in Onsted for Mrs. Delia A. Robinson, 69, who died August 4 at her home in Onsted after a long illness. The Rev. F. D. Hague officiated and burial was in the North Rome cemetery. The bearers were Fritz Digue, Milford Osburn, Verle Osburn, Garland Osburn, Dale Osburn and Gerald Osburn.

Mrs. Robinson was born December 15, 1878, in Franklin township. Surviving are her husband, George Robinson, one daughter, Mrs. Ivan Southard, two grandchildren, her mother, Mrs. Veda LaChance of Romulus, a half-sister, Mrs. Mildred Snead of Jackson and three half-brothers, Arthur Osburn of Chicago, Russell Osburn of Jackson and Earl Osburn of New Jersey. One son Lawrence died in 1927.

WATER MAIN BREAK RESULTS IN FOUNTAIN

A fountain of water that shot 50 or 60 feet into the air attracted scores of people to the intersection of Pottawatamie and Evans street about 9:30 this morning.

The "fountain" was the result of a broken water main. Workmen, digging with a steam shovel, excavating for a new sewer at the American Legion Memorial Home, accidentally struck the water main in Pottawatamie street. It was several hours before the break was repaired, and some houses in the nearby area were without water for a short time.

Sees Danger In 'Paid' Training

ADRIAN COLLEGE PRESIDENT DISCUSSES EDUCATION OF FUTURE AT ROTARY

There is a distinct need for an increase in college training, nation-wide, but a proposal by President Truman's educational commission for a form of government subsidy in education might be dangerous, Dr. Samuel J. Harrison, president of Adrian College pointed out, Tuesday evening, when he spoke to the Tecumseh Rotary Club, following dinner at Brees House. Dr. Harrison had just returned from a conference of educators at Nashville, Tenn.

It is sometimes believed, because of GI educational advantages, that the nations' college enrollment is larger than normal, Dr. Harrison said, but a survey of pre-war trends shows that today's enrollment is no larger than it would have been had the normal pre-Pearl Harbor increase continued.

The President's commission, Harrison said, shows that college enrollment by 1960 must nearly double if the professions, business and industry are to be furnished the trained men and women needed to carry on in those fields. Present enrollments are taxing the finances and facilities of all institutions of higher learning, and it is impossible for them to expand to meet the proposed needs. Because of this fact, the commission has proposed that government pour into the educational institutions, in some form similar to the GI program, some two and a half billion dollars.

Such a program, Harrison pointed out, might be dangerous because it could give government dictatorial powers over the educational system.

Harrison also pointed out that there is a crying need for more funds in elementary and secondary schools, particularly in the south. Should the government spend billions for higher learning it would immediately be called upon for funds in other fields, he said.

There is a sharp disagreement among college leaders with the President's commission report, Harrison said, and what the future holds for education — whether it will continue as a free enterprise or a government subsidy — is a problem for discussion.

Presbyterians Continue To Push Expansion Plan

The $25,000 expansion program of the Presbyterian church, voted a month ago by the congregation, is being accepted whole-heartedly by members who have been solicited for funds to carry out the project.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. M. R. Blanden, the financial committee is steadily contacting members for outright donations or pledges. A spokesman for the committee explained, "the extra room is a necessity now, not only for the youth and adults of our church, but the entire community. We are going to reach our goal of $25,000," it was said.

It is hoped the extra space will be available in about nine months. The present church basement will be deepened, making additional space of about 3,200 square feet. At one end of the basement will be a stage and the other end a kitchen.

The building committee, headed by Don Nixon, will meet Monday, August 16, to proceed with the plans.

MACCABEES TO HOLD PICNIC ON AUGUST 15

Maccabees of Lenawee, Jackson and Washtenaw counties will hold their annual picnic at Island Park, Adrian, on Sunday, August 15, at 12 noon, it was announced today by M. O. White, general chairman. Two Clinton men received eye injuries, one serious, last week while at work.

A chisel pierced the lower part of the right eye of Leroy Jedele, a mechanic at Lancaster's Ford Service in Clinton, where he was working at the time of the mishap, Thursday. He is a patient in the University hospital, Ann Arbor. It is not known if the sight of the eye can be saved.

A bicyclist, Dean Robison, knocked down Howard Goodsill as he was going from the outer drive of a Clinton gas station, where he is an attendant. Dean was going through the inner drive. Mr. Goodsill was thrown on his face and received a severe bump over the right eye. C. W. Way, station owner, accompanied Mr. Goodsill to Mercy hospital, Jackson, where he was treated.

Ferguson Will Speak At Milan

SENATOR TO DELIVER ADDRESS AT HOMECOMING ON SATURDAY

Homer B. Ferguson, United States Senator from Michigan, will highlight a five-day homecoming celebration at Milan, Saturday when, at 2:30 p.m., he addresses an audience in Wilson Memorial Park. Arrangements to broadcast the speech over radio station WPAG, Ann Arbor, have been completed.

The annual VJ Day Celebration got under way on Tuesday and continues through Saturday evening. The village has taken on a carnival appearance for the affair, and there is fun for young and old, alike, each day and evening.

Senator Ferguson is chairman of the Congressional committee formerly known as the Truman committee. This body has been active in the investigation of war time contracts and subversive elements in the country.

The text of his message for Saturday is not known. He will use his discretion in the choice of a topic. Due, however, to the current events in Congress, forth coming election in November and the foreign problems, it is believed that each of these subjects will be discussed by the speaker.

Charles Blackmer is chairman of the committee in charge of the program and activities during the fourth annual celebration which is sponsored annually by the Earl Gladfelter post of the Milan American Legion.

LISTEN, GIRLS! THIS, REALLY, IS OFF THE RECORD

'Tis Said Real He-Men Are Getting Hair-Do's

If the Head-of-the-House stays overlong at the barber shop next time he gets a haircut—sh-h-h-h' it may be, girls, that he's getting a hair styling.

It's no sissy thing, either, barbers at the second annual national educational forum and trade show, sponsored by the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of America, on Chicago, want you to know. It's a matter, they say, of practicality and good grooming.

"Let's see that first trough—what-d'you-call-it — better. That's right. The first part. Now let's see how you cut it."

The barber-demonstrator, Peter Biersack, of Milwaukee, Wis., combed his businessman customer's straight pompadour over his nose. The customer sputtered. Bystanders grinned, or watched intently. The barber's razor cut strands of hair part way through, carefully. Trained fingers set it. Nonchalantly, the customer read his newspaper, trying hard not to look sheepish.

Then came a net, to hold the waves in place while a hair dryer completed the work. Finally, the businessman customer emerged with a wave rivaling that of a motion picture star.

Men are going to like it, barbers believe, though they argue a bit as to how many waves constitute a good styling.

One small-town barber contended one wave was enough to hold a man's hair in place. Beyond that he thought, the whole thing bordered on the sissy.

Another barber thought the number of waves depended on a man's style of beauty. "That," said this big city barber, "is where the hair styling comes in—just as it does with styling women's hair. Some look better with one or two waves. Other people look better with more."

A Philadelphia veteran barber, on the other hand, was inclined to think he'd have none of it. It should be added in fairness, however, that he had a shock of naturally wavy white hair.

Barber technicians at this national show spoke seriously of "beauty" in men. They see no reason why attention to beauty should be thought effeminate. It's a matter of good taste and grooming, they declared.

As for how men will take to hair styling or wave cutting—ever notice, asked a barber, how a man will stand before his mirror and try to pat a wave in his hair when he combs it? This is where wave cutting will help. The hair is so trimmed that it falls naturally into neat waves, and pretty much stays there.

Special training must be had for such hair cutting.

As for prices—the whole thing is so new, so far as men are concerned, that no one wants to venture just what prices will be charged. Probably it will depend upon what the men of the family will pay. One barber thought he might charge $3 for the first cutting, $2.50 for the next, and $1.50 thereafter to keep the wave in shape.

Blissfield To Hold Festival

NINETEENTH ANNUAL HOMECOMING EVENT TO BE HELD ON AUGUST 17-18

The American Legion's 19th annual Harvest Festival will be staged August 17 and 18 in Blissfield, Michigan.

"Two big nights and a day of fun are awaiting Festival-goers from miles around," says A. M. Dunlap, commander of the Robert Meachen Post No. 325, sponsors of the celebration.

One of the big features will be the Parade at 1 p.m., Wednesday, August 18, in which bands from Morenci, Hudson, Tecumseh, Sand Creek, Metamora, and Lyons, O., and Blissfield will take part. Miss Mary Lee Shaffer, the 'Harvest Festival Queen,' and members of her court also will ride in the parade.

The massed Band Concert, bringing all of the 300 young musicians together for ensemble playing, is scheduled at 1:45 p.m., at Ellis Playground, where a midway of rides, merry-go-round, concessions, and games will be set up by Legionnaires. Half-hour concerts will be presented by each individual band throughout the afternoon and early evening.

The Junior Legion baseball team is to play Hudson at 10 a.m., Wednesday, on the Ellis diamond, while the afternoon stanza will be highlighted with a game between the Inkster Colored All-Stars and the Blissfield Independents.

Some splendid free acts have been booked for performance in front of the grandstand both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

A thrilling spectacle is planned for 6 p.m., Wednesday, August 18, when William 'Ace' Henderson will go aloft in his newest radio type balloon for a parachute drop from about 5,000 feet. He provided a thrill for Blissfield festival fans last year. He now lives between Fayette and West Unity, O., on Route 127, where he operates a fruit orchard. Henderson made a triple parachute drop that thrilled thousands at Tecumseh's Fourth of July celebration.

Those who like to dance will enjoy music of the 18-piece Tecumseh Products orchestra at the Legion's 'Homecoming Dance' from 9 to 12 on Tuesday evening, August 17, an opening event of the Harvest Festival.

A new 1949 Ford sedan and a $1,000 fur coat will be given away to top the list of 10 big prizes offered. Proceeds of the Festival will aid in construction of a new Memorial Home.

June Reverses Downward Trend In Auto Deaths

The recent downward trend in traffic fatalities in Michigan was reversed during the month of June with the death of 119 persons, a new high for the year, according to the Michigan State Police.

All of the increase was on rural county road systems, the urban toll being down nearly one-half. Pedestrian and bicycle fatalities decreased, but there was a sharp gain in deaths resulting from railroad train-motor vehicle collisions.

Despite the June reversal, the total of 583 deaths during the first six months of the year is still four per cent below that of the same period last year, when 608 lost their lives. It is 36 per cent less than during the first half of 1941, when traffic reached its peak prior to the year. In addition, mileage for the first five months of this year was up 11 per cent over 1947, but the death rate was down 14 per cent on the same comparative basis.

Injuries and total number of accidents continued their upward march. Injuries numbered 3,543, an increase of five per cent over June of 1947, and accidents totalled 10,920, a gain of eight per cent.

The record for the first six months of the year shows 17,811 injured, an increase of eight per cent, and 48,943 accidents, an increase of five per cent over the same period last year.

Fourteen counties reported no traffic deaths during the first half of the year. They were Baraga, Benzie, Charlevoix, Gladwin, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Mackinac, Missaukee, Montmorency, Newaygo, Oscoda, Otsego, Roscommon and Schoolcraft. Thirty counties reported an increase, 28 a decrease, and 11 had the same number as occurred in the like period of last year.

WOOING THE VOTERS

Prices are still rising and by the end of the year they will be higher.

That is a pessimistic statement. But it is an accurate capsule summary of what most economists are saying and writing. All the forces that make for price inflation —higher wages, tremendous government spending, near-record purchasing power in the hands of the public—are still in effect.

High prices constitute the most serious problem of millions of families. But the American people must not be carried away by the kind of hysteria that believes that more laws, more controls and more political domination of the economy can provide the answer. This is an election year, and many a candidate will use price control as a device to woo the voters. What those candidates will not point out is that nobody will produce goods at a price which is too low to return a profit—and that the greatest beneficiary from price control is the black market racketeer.

The common argument that high prices are largely the result of conscienceless profits should be scotched. Competition is the best means of limiting profits that ever existed. As an example, the typical retailer in general merchandise earns a profit of around five cents on each dollar you spend with him. In the food field, with its fast turnover, he earns less than two cents. The profits of manufacturers are usually about six per cent, and are often less. Certainly, no one can say that this is an excessive wage for the enormous service business renders America.

BEFORE WINTER COMES

Get Your House In Order

There are three important things that you can do before winter comes to assure yourself and your family of more home comfort and, at the same time, stretch your budget money.

FIRST: If the roof on your house needs repair, now is the time to do it. Don't let winter rains and snow destroy the interior structure.

SECOND: If you're planning to paint this year, see about installing sidewall shingles. Sidewalls cost no more than two coats of paint — and they give your house that "new look" plus an added insulation value.

THIRD: Insulate your attic. Attic insulation is inexpensive, and home insulation saves up to 30 per cent in fuel costs.

For more information about these economies, we'll be glad to consult with you.

Slim And Full Lines Both Featured In Fall Styles; Length The Same

Fall fashions will be evenly divided between the slim and the full silhouette. Skirts will be about the same length, but there will be some surprises in store, says Marian Corey. Writing in McCall's for August about what to expect in clothes for fall, she tells about the oversize collar, the bat-wing sleeve and the dressy shirtfrock:

"Fall silhouettes: Fall clothes are evenly divided between the slim and the full, with skirts about the same as far as length is concerned. Suits and coats stand at 12 inches from the sidewalks; day dresses at 12 and 13; cocktail frocks may go down to 10. Evening dresses are at 6 or 8 inches from the floor for the informal types, and floor length for the grand gala gowns.

"Fall suits: Many have straight skirts and longish jackets. The skirts are plain but the jackets often go in for interesting details. However, there are really no set rules about suits; you will see all kinds.

"Fall coats: Even in coats this half-and-half division between the slim and the flared exists with the widely flared princess coat and the slim wrapped cape coat leading the field.

"Fall casual dresses: The interesting thing about these is they are not plain shirtfrocks. There is something soft and individual about each one—a different neck, a special sleeve, a striking pocket. Oddly enough the really plain shirtfrock has moved over into the dressy class, and is made of exotic fabrics like lame and satin.

"Fall dressy dresses: The slim and sophisticated ones are a surprise. Though slim, the skirt always has something about it to get it lots of attention.

"New fall sleeve: It is the 'cut-in-one' or bat-wing sleeve, so improved in cut and fit that it seems like an entirely new fashion. And it gives just the right shoulder line—smooth and rounding.

"Fall college clothes — As usual the college wardrobe is a matter of separate jackets, skirt, sweaters and blouses; of tweed suit; of slacks and pedal pushers and blue jeans; of checks and plaids and wool jersey; of smooth date dresses, and don't overlook that oversize collar; of bang-up formals and short dance dresses; of best coats, and of short casual coats; of a rain coat and, if possible, a fur coat.

"'Related tweeds,' or tweeds designed to go together, are used for a smart country-and-car suit, long of jacket, slim of skirt. The breast pockets are fakes, the hip pockets open at the side. There is an up-curved neck, and sleeves in one piece with the yoke. Another suit, which is suggested for broadcloth, has something new in jackets. It is long and above all has the tiered side peplums. This is the little-waist-round-hip- and-slim-skirt silhouettes in a dressy suit for young figures."

U.S. Schools In Need Of Cash

SURVEY SHOWS THAT AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM IS UNDER FINANCED

Boston — A dispelling of the illusion that American education is properly and adequately financed was called for recently at Harvard University by Dr. John K. Norton, Director of the Division of Administration and Guidance, Teachers College, Columbia, University.

Dr. Norton's admonition to approximately 150 school administrators from all parts of the country was made at a conference at the Harvard Summer School on Educational Administration.

The opening remarks were made by Prof. Alfred D. Simpson, Associate Professor of Education, Harvard Graduate School of Education. Chairman of the Conference is Dana M. Cotton, Associate Director, Harvard Summer School, and Director of Placement, Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Dr. Norton stated flatly that education today in the United States is allocated a smaller percentage of the expendable income of the citizenry than in 1940.

School boards generally are in a less advantageous position than in 1940, Dr. Norton said, as far as every operation involving finances is concerned, whether it be hiring new teachers and paying them better salaries, buying supplies, or building new schools.

Only 12,000 elementary school teachers were graduated this year from teachers colleges all over the country, "when we know that we will need at least 90,000 elementary school teachers in September," he warned.

He said that inadequately financed schools or the inability to pay higher teachers' salaries was a potent factor in the disproportionate ration between teacher demand and teacher supply, particularly in the elemetary schools.

Federal aid for education was solidly supported by both Dr. Norton and Howard A. Dawson, Director of Rural Service, National Education Association of Washington, D. C., who spoke at today's afternoon session of the conference.

Increased payroll costs provide the main reason why operating expenses have increased 128% since 1941.

Between 1941 and 1947, the number of our employees was increased by over 82%. During that same period the average monthly wage of each employee increased more than 69%.

With payroll comprising more than 72% of operating costs, you can see why our expenses have risen so sharply.

We are glad to pay these higher wages since they contribute so much to community prosperity. These added workers are also necessary to meet the greater demand for service.

But it is not financially possible to continue to meet such high operating costs from telephone rates which generally haven't changed in 20 years.

That is why we are seeking adjustments in service rates that will more adequately meet the increased operating costs in each community.

Who Do Not Now Have Combination Windows and Doors

Here's Why Weather-Seal Custom Fits Each Door and Window

When you buy combination storm doors and windows you want to keep out dust, dirt and draft. Weather-Seal is guaranteed for life to do this better.

That's because Weather-Seal does not believe in standard doors and windows. We have never found an opening on a house that did not vary in some way from standard . . . due usually, to warping or settling. Therefore, we know that we cannot effectively cover a non-standard opening with a standard door or window . . . and we don't try!

Miss Rena Joyce Service Bride Of Earl C. Goetz

Miss Rena Joyce Service, daughter of Mrs. Rose Service of Tecumseh, became the bride of Earl Charles Goetz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goetz of Blissfield, Saturday evening in St. John's Evangelical church at Adrian. The Rev. Frederick Miller read the double ring service at 7 o'clock before the church altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra.

The family pews were marked with gladioli tied with white ribbons. Ruebin Kamprath, church organist, played a program of organ music and accompanied Miss Norma Ambs of Colon, Michigan, when she sang "Bless This House," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Preceding the bride to the altar was her sister, Mrs. Junior Frear as matron of honor, the bridesmaids, Miss Marietta Service, sister of the bride, Mrs. Richard Goetz, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Norma Tucker, junior bridesmaid, Diane Marie Socks, niece of the bride, and the little flower girl, Jane Goetz, niece of the bridegroom.

White Swiss imported organdy was chosen by the bride, with which she made her wedding gown. It was fashioned with a scalloped yoke, high neckline and short sleeves. Tucked at the waist, the full skirt ended in a short scalloped train. The veil of matching organdy was edged in lace and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

An orchid organdy gown, styled after the bride's, was worn by Mrs. Frear and the bridesmaids were gowned in yellow. All wore hand crocheted picture hats, with large bows which matched their gowns matching mitts and they carried flowers in small baskets. Miss Socks wore a yellow gown with matching mitts, a bonnet and carried a small basket of flowers. The flower girl wore a white gown and bonnet.

David Frear, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a small heartshaped pillow edged in lace, which was also made by the bride.

Harold Ries of Blissfield was best man and the ushers were Richard and Wendell Goetz, brothers of the bridegroom, and Junior Frear, brother-in-law of the bride.

Some 375 guests attended the reception at Ottawa Lake at 9 o'clock. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with wedding bells was cut by Betty Sayers and Mary Ellen Kliendienst, of Blissfield. Guests were from Dundee, Blissfield, Riga, Ottawa Lake, Adrian, Jasper, Detroit, Tecumseh, Clinton, Dexter, Manchester, Lyons and Metamora, Ohio, and Britton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Service chose a rose crepe dress with white accessories. Mrs. Goetz wore a tan dress with white accessories. Both mothers had a lavender orchid.

The couple left on a trip to northern Michigan, the bride wearing a brown gabardine suit and her bridal orchid pinned on her shoulder. Upon their return they will reside on a farm near Blissfield, where Mr. Goetz is engaged in farming.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1944 and from Lenawee County Normal at Blissfield in 1945. She has taught in schools in Ogden and Madison townships. She attended Michigan Normal College this summer and will teach in Blissfield township this year.

The bridegroom graduated from Blissfield high school in 1942.

Annual Fire Loss Hits New High In Michigan

Fire losses in Michigan reached an all-time high of $25,231,852.94 in 1947, an increase of $3,232,628.35 over the previous record of $21,999,224.59 in 1946, according to the annual report released by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard in his capacity as state fire marshal.

Leonard said the new record could be attributed almost entirely to the increase in the value of property, which is substantiated by the fact that 48,163 fires occurred in 1947, or a reduction of 8,522 under the 56,685 fires of 1946.

Virtually all of the increase, or $3,104,130.03, occurred in the loss on the contents and buildings other than dwellings, the total being $14,398,953.37 in 1947 as compared with $11,294,823.34 in 1946.

Losses on dwellings and contents showed a slight increase, the 1947 figure being $8,468,534.10, or $375,157.29 more than the 1946 total of $8,193,366.81.

Farm fire loss in 1947 amounted to $2,364,364.47, which was $146,669.37 less than in 1946, when it totalled $2,511,033.84.

Fewer persons perished in fires in 1947, the figure standing at 157 as compared with 173 in 1946. Included among the dead last year were three firemen, while none lost their lives in 1946.

Typhoid Fever Deaths Are Few

THERE ARE 266 KNOWN CARRIERS IN STATE WHO ARE GUARDED CAREFULLY

There are 266 known carriers of typhoid fever in Michigan, but all of these are under close supervision of the health departments of the state to assure that they do not give the illness to others, the Michigan Department of Health reported today.

Michigan's 16 year search for spreaders of typhoid fever has revealed a total of 518 carriers and cut both cases and deaths from typhoid fever drastically. A total of 424 new cases of typhoid fever and 75 deaths from typhoid fever were reported in 1931. In 1947, there were 77 new cases and five deaths. Michigan has had no cases of typhoid fever due to a public water supply in 14 years.

When it became known in 1932 that the main source of typhoid infection in Michigan was carriers, health departments undertook a systematic search to find these carriers, and a typhoid fever control program which emphasized carrier control, safety of public water supplies, complete pasteurization of milk supplies, proper sewage disposal and a close check of food handlers.

Under this program, known typhoid carriers are supervised throughout their lives to see they do not handle food, water or dairy products intended for public consumption. They are visited by state or local health officers four times each year and are required to notify the health officer of any change of address. The identity of typhoid carriers is confidential information which health officers do not reveal as long as the carrier cooperates with the health departments.

Between two and three per cent of persons who contract typhoid fever remain carriers of the disease. No typhoid fever patient is released from health department supervision until three laboratory tests, a week apart, show that there are no typhoid fever germs in his stools. These tests reveal patients who remain carriers.

Practically all typhoid carriers harbor the typhoid organism in their gall bladders. The germs are expelled with the bile into the intestinal tract.

Complete removal of the gall bladder is successful in eliminating the organism from the body in about 85 per cent of the cases, the Department said.

State Bar of Michigan Calls For Rededication To American Way of Life

"Troublous times offer a constructive challenge, an opportunity to make progress," said Harry G. Gault, Flint, President of the State Bar of Michigan, "if we meet the challenge with a well founded knowledge of and belief in the principles which have made America great. It is the purpose of the Freedom Train to bring home to all of us heightened awareness of our rights, privileges and responsibilities as Americans."

The statement came in answer to a question about the visit of the Freedom Train to Michigan which starts in Kalamazoo on Friday, August 13. The tour of the Freedom Train is a project of the American Heritage Foundation. The Train carries impressive exhibits of famous documents symbolic of historic actions which have secured freedom in this Country.

The importance of its visit was emphasized in the August issue of the MICHIGAN STATE BAR JOURNAL which devoted its cover and editorial pages to the Train and its significance. Seldon S. Dickinson, Detroit, Chairman of the State Bar Committee on American Citizenship, in an editorial called upon local bar associations to give their time and support to the activities surrounding the visit of the Train, adding that:

"Freedom is everybody's business . . . The documents of the Freedom Train serve to remind us that the struggle for Freedom is an ancient one. Its maintenance has always required earnestness, resolution and sacrifice . . . continued resolution and sacrifice is required in the present and will always be required in times to come."

The tour of the Freedom Train is the longest tour in American history. It began in Philadelphia on September 17 and its 33,000-mile year-long journey will take it into every state in the union. Prior to the visit of the train to each community, a Week of Rededication is held in which citizens of all age groups rededicate themselves to the American heritage, and pledge themselves to active observance of their rights as citizens.

Admission to the Freedom Train is free and everyone is invited to go aboard to view the famous documents. Some of the exhibits are:

The Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, George Washington's Farewell Address, the Treaty of Paris, and others.

The schedule of the Train is:

Fourteen Signs Show When Marriage Is Headed For Sure Disaster

Do you know the danger signals which warn that a marriage is heading for the rocks? You should, because they could mean the difference between marital success or disaster, says Bertram Vogel. Pointing out the fourteen sure signs of a failing marriage, in Redbook Magazine for August, he has this to say:

"One of the most critical considerations in marriage inevitably has to do with sex, which, unfortunately, is frequently a serious problem. For unless married persons treat sex in a frank and adult manner — and unless sexual adjustment is normal and complete — they are headed for trouble.

"A second danger signal in marriage is evidence of waning interest in each other. Closely allied is the failure of any married woman to identify herself with her husband's troubles, either personal or business. She must stand by him when things are unfavorable to him.

"Any man or woman who wants to be the center of marriage doesn't know the real meaning of marriage. Neither party is all-important in this relationship. The belief of either partner that the other must be held primarily responsible for the success or failure of the marriage is dangerous, because it is unrealistic. In most instances such childish convictions indicate not only an unwillingness to accept individual responsibility but an underlying desire for escape from reality.

"Quarrels over money are a sure sign that there are nothing but dead ends ahead. They may have their basis, not in inadequate income itself, but in mental unhappiness stemming from other marital failings.

"Any marriage in, which either partner desires to be the dominant individual is wide open for trouble. But even more suspect is the marriage in which either partner gives evidence of a desire to reform the other. The feeling on the part of any married person that he is 'suffering' because of his marriage, but that he is willing to make the 'self-sacrifice,' is warning of trouble ahead.

"The desire of either individual for undue or excessive privacy is another red light in marriage. Any married person who needs to be 'amused' or entertained constantly should take his foot off the accelerator and come to a full stop. For although most normal people crave a certain amount of association with others, happily married persons who have interests in common don't find quiet evenings together either boring or unsatisfactory.

In instances when either partner refuses — on the basis of non-physical reasons — to have children, the soundness of the marriage is highly questionable. In a great many instances the man whose wife is capable of bearing a child may unconsciously resent her because of that fact and may reveal his displeasure in numerous other ways. Similarly, the wife whose husband is impotent may become restless and discontent. Often the solution to the problem may be found in the adoption of a child.

"The attitude and behavior of a child may frequently be a warning sign to parents. Older children usually react almost instantly to anything which seems to affect their security. But according to some medical authorities, even restlessness or nervousness in an infant may have its origin in parental discontent.

"Many people have no real appreciation for the danger to marriage revealed by flirting. For very often it's not the flirting that produces unhappiness in marriage but the unhappiness in marriage that causes the flirting. Final danger signals are undue possessiveness and suspicion. The desire to keep a mate away from parents or friends or jealousy of a mate's ability to experience any real pleasure outside of marriage is usually selfish in origin."

Few Openings Are Left In Schools Of Nursing

LANSING—The 1500 openings in Michigan's schools of professional nursing this year are filling rapidly but there are still vacancies for young women qualified to enter, according to an announcement from the Michigan Nursing Center Association.

A recent survey of the 28 state-accredited schools of nursing indicates that last year's sharp rise in applications is being continued. A forecast of full classes in September is based on the following reports:

Directors of half the schools say that prospects are definitely better than a year ago.

Thirty-six per cent more candidates have had their educational credentials checked by the State Board of Registration of Nurses in the year ending July 1 than the previous year, and the number still to be checked before schools open is correspondingly greater.

"Girls who apply are better informed about nursing, better prepared for it," say many of the school directors. Among other comments are these: "Their scholastic rating is higher." More of them have one or two years of college." "They have visited hospitals and have talked with high school counselors, and have made up their minds they want to become nurses."

Application for admission may still be made by any young woman between 18 and 35 who have completed high school with good scholastic standing and are in good health. A list of schools may be secured on request from the Michigan Nursing Center Association, 750 East Main Street, Lansing 12, Michigan.

Dental Care Is Very Important

The average five-year-old Michigan child has four teeth which need filling, according to a survey of 7,373 Michigan school children recently completed by the Bureau of Public Health Dentistry, Michigan Department of Health.

Approximately 70 per cent of the five-year-olds need dental treatment, and about 12 per cent are actually under dentists' care.

The teeth which need filling are the first or deciduous teeth which the child should retain for another five or six years, until they are replaced by permanent teeth. Keeping the molars of the first set of teeth is important because they help the child to chew properly the wide variety of foods which are essential to good growth and development. They help the jaw to expand normally to allow sufficient room for permanent teeth to take their proper places.

Good dental care for the child includes an early visit to the dentist at pre-school age and regular visits thereafter. Many three-year-olds have cavities but with adequate care first teeth can be retained until the child is 11 or 12 years of age. All cavities should be filled when small, and all infected teeth which cannot be successfully treated or filled should be removed. Fluorine treatment to reduce decay may be recommended by the dentist.

Good home care of the child's teeth includes furnishing him a good diet to promote normal body development, but keeping his diet low in sugar, desserts, candy and pop, to help control teeth decay. It also includes establishing good habits of mouth cleanliness, and helping the child to know his dentist as a friendly health counsellor.

Cain And Abel

". . And Abel was a keeper of the sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground . . . and Cain brought an offering unto the Lord. And Abel also brought of the firstlings of his flock unto the Lord. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and his offering . . . but unto Cain and his offering, He had not respect

"And He said unto Cain . . . If thou doest well, shalt not thou be accepted? And, if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door . . . And it came to pass . . that Cain rose up against his brother Abel and slew him." Genesis 3:2-8 (abridged).

Here is mankind's first crime of jealousy and violence — the murder of Abel by his brother. After the crime, Cain was driven from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the Land of Nod, outside Eden.

Today's Church is working for more peaceful relations between men and their brothers of all races, all creeds. You can help this cause by attending the Church of your choice regularly.

ST. IGNACE—This Upper Peninsula port, whose historic heritage dates back to 1676—just an even century before the Declaration of Independence was written—celebrated its homecoming and 25th anniversary of the Michigan State Ferry service last weekend (Aug. 6-7-8).

The event had all the trimmings of a modern Michigan festival, so loved by summer tourists.

A queen was crowned. "Miss Straits of Mackinac". Dignitaries made speeches, for the record at least. The coast guard cutter, Mackinaw, took big-wigs on Friday evening for a buffet dinner cruise, and there was a moonlight boat ride and dance aboard the S. S. Straits of Mackinac. A swimming race from British landing on Mackinac Island to St. Ignace was another news-making attraction.

And finally, the Cut River bridge—long under construction west of St. Ignace on U.S. 2—was officially opened Sunday by Governor Kim Sigler, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, and Congressman Charles E. Potter.

All these characteristics of a Michigan holiday serve to emphasize an interesting point, as we see it.

More than any other one thing, Michigan is unique as a summer tourist playground because of its Great Lakes, its many miles of shore-line, and its abundance of big water.

The St. Lawrence waterway, plus the Great Lakes, made possible the founding of St. Ignace in 1676 by Father Marquette, a Jesuit missionary from France. Six years later the French selected Point St. Ignace as a site for Fort Michilimackinac—a fact usually forgotten by travelers who visit the reconstructed fort at Mackinaw City. It was 1712 that the French fort was moved to the south side of the Straits, across from St. Ignace. The threat of George Rogers Clark; after the Revolutionary war when the British contested for possession of the North West, prompted the Redcoats to move the fort in 1780 to Mackinac Island.

The beginnings of Mackinac, a name originally given to the country bordering on the Straits, were at Point St. Ignace on the Upper Peninsula side.

St. Ignace is verily a real "whistle stop."

The ferry boats whistle, coming and going. Economic life of the community is linked vitally to the flow of commerce across the Straits. It is a lively place.

During the warm summer months the lines of automobiles grow long, as Mid-West visitors patiently await arrival and loading of the next ferry boat. In the Fall the deer hunters, laden with guns and equipment, jam the town, northward bound for camp.

The ferry ride across the Straits is a symbol of old and modern Michigan. Where else in these United Statts is there such a unique state-maintained transportation service? It exists because Michigan consists of two peninsulas, separated by the Straits of Mackinac between Lake Huron and Lake Michigan.

Michigan's Great Lakes also are the tombs of hundreds of vessels and thousands of men and women.

Even modern science and its radar—miracle discovery of World War II—have not overcome the perils of the deep.

Capt. Russell Bergh, commanding officer of the Coast Guard Cutter, Sundew, brought this grim fact to our attention during a fog-bound cruise from Charlevoix to Beaver Island on Sunday, June 27. Aboard were 124 Michigan newspaper editors and members of their families, all bound for St. James to attend the dedication of the marker at the Old Mormon Printing House.

Captain Bergh, a veteran seaman of Norwegian descent, was proud of the boat's radar. In a magic circle a revolving beam illuminated anything two feet above the surface of the water—land or boats. Then the radar equipment jammed due to reasons beyond the operator's control. Outside, the fog was thick as soup. Seaman resorted to the ancient method of sounding for depth. Finally as the cutter drifted dangerously into shallow water, Captain Bergh sent a radio appeal to the coast guard station at St. James, and a picket boat hurried out to guide the cutter into harbor.

You recall incidents, such as this, when you behold the Strait of Mackinac. Drama rides the Great Lakes. It is a vibrant part of Michigan.

FRESH GROUND BEEF FOR SANDWICHES

On a picnic or at home, there's nothing that is generally more certain to please than "HAMBURGERS" if they're made from our fresh ground beef.

Of course, that's only one of the items that you'll find in our meat department. And, in the other departments of our store you'll thrill when you see the staple and fancy groceries, today's baked goods — including pastries — a wide assortment of fresh frozen foods and, of course, a large produce department.

When you shop with us, you don't need to "shop around."

TOM, Tom, the piper's son,
Learned to drive when he was young,
Now he drives safely every day,
Over the hills and far away.

Tom's A-B-C's mean Always Be Careful. A high school training course has made him a far safer driver than those who learn the "hit or miss" way.

All young drivers deserve that chance—without it they cause eleven times more fatal accidents than drivers in their forties.

Many high schools now offer behind-the-wheel instruction. If there is no driver training course in your community, do the next best. Get instruction material through your school or police department.

Pasteurization Of Milk Urged

STATE LAW NOW MAKES PROTECTION MANDATORY IN ALL CITIES, VILLAGES

Michigan's new milk pasteurization law protects people living in cities, villages and urban areas which really want the protection, but peope living in rural areas, some vacationists and others who must buy raw milk directly from the farm, must do their own protecting, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

The state-wide pasteurization law which became effective July 1 requires that all milk sold to the retail trade, as well as milk, cream, skim milk, and other dairy products used in manufacture of butter, cheese and cottage cheese, be pasteurized. A previous law had provided the same safeguard for ice cream.

The laws were passed to assure that diseases such as typhoid fever, paratyphoid fever, septic sore throat, scarlet fever, diphtheria and undulant fever would not be spread by milk products in Michigan.

Milk and dairy products sold at the farm where they are produced, or used on the farm where they are produced are exempt from the law.

Farm people who use a quantity of milk can protect themselves with a small home pasteurizer which costs $25 to $40, but the pasteurized is not necessary. The same protection can be had by complying with the following directions:

Place milk in a large clean kettle or pan or double boiler arrangement.

Place dairy thermometer in milk. (These thermometers sell for about $2.00).

Heat milk to 160 degrees F.

Remove from stove and place in a larger pan of cold water.

When cool, pour pasteurized milk into clean containers.

Store in refrigerator immediately. Keep below 50 degrees F.

The Michigan Department of Health has prepared an illustrated wall card of instructions for home pasteurization of milk which can be had without charge by writing to the Department, Lansing 4, Michigan.

Why Get

Hot and Bothered

About Your Car?

Bring It To Us for the Service It Needs and We'll Do It--- Efficiently and Economically

Every day we see men who are all excited — hot and bothered, so to speak — because their car doesn't perform to suit them.

There's no use getting that way — its unnecessary, especially if you live in Tecumseh.

For nearly 20 years we've been servicing automobiles here, and we've built our business on the slogan: "The Honest Service Garage." During these 20 years, our books show, more than 95 per cent of all our business is "repeat customers" . . . men and women who bring their car to us regularly for the service it needs.

Don't get excited when your car refuses to start . . . just bring it to us . . . give us a call. Our mechanics are trained to give you efficient, careful and courteous service. They work with tools that are factory-tested and approved.

And remember this: Factory-trained men and factory-designed tools speed up the work. That cuts your repair costs . . . and that's important.

Soil And Crop Tour, Aug. 25-26

FARMERS TO LEARN VALUE OF BALANCED SOIL FERTILITY IN LOCAL PROGRAM

The demonstration work on balanced soil fertility has been in progress in Lenawee county for three years, using 62% metaphosphate from the TVA. The program of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District has been in progress for about an equal length of time. This latter project has introduced many improved cropping practices to increase fertility and improve soil on the farms in the county.

To acquaint all farmers with the programs, nine farms have been selected from these sources and they will be visited by farmers in a two-day tour, August 25-26. The results of three years of intensive activity with soils and crops can be observed, and as the tour progresses very definite information can be obtained.

"Farmers making the tour will have an opportunity to gain information on a variety of subjects relating to good soil management, cropping practfees, etc.," Louis G. Hall, Lenawee agricultural agent, said. "Specialists will be here to assist the County Extension and Soil Conservation Service with the discussions. The experience of the nine farmers will be most valuable to visiting agriculturists. If a farmer finds that he cannot make the complete tour, he can join it at any point he desires."

The tour will get under way at 9 o'clock on August 25, at the time at the farm of Frank Knuffen, 1 mile east on M-50, then 1 mile north. Showing a tile drainage layout system — The improvement of Soil Structure by proper use of Rotations and Cover Crops is important here.

10:30 a.m.—At the farm of Earl Pennington, Ridgeway, ½ mile south of M-50 on Ridge Road. T. V. A. Demonstration fields and tree plantings will be shown.

12:00 Noon—Dinner—Tecumseh Restaurants.

1:15 p.m.—At the farm of Herman Titley, Tecumseh, 1¼ mile south of M-50 on M-52. T. V. A. Demonstrations will be viewed and three years results discussed on five fields.

3:30 p.m.—At the farm of Lyle A. Bailey, Adrian, 2 miles west of M-52 on Shepherd Road. Again T. V. A. Demonstration fields will be seen and three years results are conclusive, says Bailey.

3:45 p.m.—At the W. H. Hart farm with Roland Russell, Adrian, ½ mile east of Bent Oak Road north of Adrian. Here there can be seen a sod waterway put in by grading and with a Bulldozer—corn planted and cultivated on a contour — cover crops sown in corn — timber management and other practices in an extension work plan.

Thursday, August 26th

9:00 a.m., (slow time)—At the farm of Robert Sanborn, Morenci, 1¼ mile east of Morenci on M-156, on Morenci Road, just northeast of Morenci. Three years T. V. A. Demonstrations: Limestone use of Brady Soil type; and the value of organic matter in sandy soils all will be discussed.

10:30 a.m.—At the farm of Stone Brothers, Hudson, ½ mile south of Medina village on Bothwell Road. The construction of a diversion terrace to check the run off water will be in progress and other soil conservation practices will be discussed in this plan.

12:00 Noon—Dinner — Hudson Restaurants.

1:30 p.m., (slow time)—At the farm of Leland T. Brighton, Cambridge, 2½ miles east Cambridge Junction on US-112. T. V. A. Demonstrations three years work on four field applications — tree planting — Reed's Canary grass on muck.

3:30 p.m.—At the farm of Leland Hubbard, Springville, 1 mile east of Springville on M-50 opposite Apiary. Grass Land farming — Rotations discussed.

MARRIED 25 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boyd celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary recently by entertaining friends and relatives at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Feigel and daughter Cynthia were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Boyd at Belle River, Canada, to further celebrate the occasion.

Public Safety Program Planned

TECUMSEH'S TRAFFIC PROBLEM EQUALS 12,000 CITY, STATE POLICE SAY

A definite program of safety promotion is to be launched in conjunction with the opening of school, it was announced today by A. W. Porter, chairman of the Safety Committee of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber's committee met last week with Earl H. Place, superintendent of schools, to formulate plans to protect Tecumseh's school children in every possible way.

The problem in Tecumseh is a difficult one, requiring every cooperative measure," said Mr. Porter. "Nearly 1,000 Tecumseh children will be attending school in seven different places, a number of which were neither designed nor located for school purposes. Moreover, Tecumseh's traffic problem is unusually hazardous at certain times of the day. Captain Caesar Scavarda of the Michigan State Police recently told a group of local officials that Tecumseh's traffic problem is equal to that of a city of 12,000 population."

The committee is ordering instructional and promotional material for use by students, teachers, school officials, parents, and the general public. Churches and clubs are asked to emphasize safety at their last meeting before the students enroll on Wednesday, September 8.

According to figures from the National Safety Council, 6,300 children between the ages of five and fourteen years were killed accidently in 1947. Many thousands more were injured so badly as to suffer permanent disabilities.

Superintendent Place stated that the schools would conduct an energetic campaign of safety education. The Chamber's committee is urging that all individuals and organizations cooperate to the fullest extent.

Other members of the committee serving with Mr. Porter are Yale Kerby and J. W. Spafford.

MARDAGENE DUNCAN SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

MardaGene Duncan and her mother, Mrs. Harry Duncan, returned home Friday evening from the Milton H. Berry Foundation School in Cincinnati, where MardaGene has been a patient for three months. Suffering severe injuries in an automobile accident one and one half years ago, which left her almost wholly paralyzed, Miss Duncan is now able to sit in a wheelchair several hours a day. She will return to the school for further treatment later.

GORDON COMFORT TELLS OF STAY AT BOYS' STATE

How a boy spends his time at Boys' State, an annual encampment of boys from Michigan at Michigan State College, was told to members of the Rotary Club Tuesday evening, following dinner at Brees House, by Gordon Comfort, the club's candidate to State last June. Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comfort.

The club annually sends a high school boy to State and as a result of Gordon's trip this year he declared that he "learned more about politics in a week" than he previously had learned in his lifetime.

Louis Vegeakos, 29, former Tecumseh resident and graduate of Tecumseh high school, was fatally injured at 2:35 Monday morning when the car he was driving skidded and crashed into a utility pole at Monroe and Silica, Toledo. He died two hours later in Toledo hospital where he was removed by ambulance.

Riding with Mr. Vegeakos was Mrs. Elayne Maloney, 24, of Monroe, in which city Vegeakos recently had made his home. Mrs. Maloney is in Toledo hospital suffering possible rib fractures and other injuries. She told Dr. Joseph Ceglio and George Henderson, sheriff's deputies, that they had been dancing at Centennial Terrace and were enroute home when the mishap occurred.

Deputies said that the Vegeakos car skidded 200 feet before it jumped the curb on the wrong side of the street and struck a utility pole.

Vegeakos is the son of the late Pete Vegeakos, former proprietor of Tecumseh Candy Kitchen. Mr. Vegeakos sold the business more than a year ago and moved to Ann Arbor where he later died.

Surviving Vegeakos are his mother, Mrs. Helen Dullas of Detroit, a son in St. Louis, Mo., an uncle in Monroe, and several cousins.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from the Little Funeral Home, Monroe, with burial in an Ann Arbor cemetery.

PLANE CRASHES BUT PILOT IS NOT HURT

Robert Kelly, 20, of Union City, miraculously escaped injury, Sunday, when the plane he was flying crashed near Springville, in a take off.

Tecumseh Police Car Is Equipped With 2-Way Radio

A two-way radio, making communication instantly available with the Lenawee sheriff's department or the Adrian city police, was installed on Monday in the Tecumseh police scout car.

"I believe that the radio will pay dividends in police work here," Leo Smith, chief of police, declared. "There have been many times when we had long waits for telephone service, and now that is over. We have checked our communication, for instance, to the state police, at Clinton, via the Adrian office, and it takes less than a minute to get a message to the state officers."

While the local police radio is not tuned to the state police band, it is possible to send state police messages to the sheriff's office at Adrian to be relayed from there by radio.

The local set is tuned to the same frequency as the Adrian police and sheriff's department radios.

The set was purchased through the generosity of Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co. Some time ago, when a hit-run driver escaped local officers because of slow communication, Mr. Herrick told the village to purchase the set and "send him the bill."

The cost of the radio and installation was $536.

Harris In Evanston For Trade Institute

Ronald Harris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is in Evanston, Illinois this week attending the National Institute of Commercial and Trade Organization Executives at Northwestern University.

The National Institute was established twenty-five years ago as summer school training and refresher course for commercial and trade association executives. It is sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries, the American Trade Association Executives, and Northwestern University. Several hundred students attend annually from all over the United States and Canada.

The demand for the type of training provided has grown so much in recent years that the National Institute has been unable to accommodate the number of applicants. As a result, regional institutes are now held annually at Dallas, Texas; the University of North Carolina, the University of Oregon, the University of Montana and Yale University.

Two new features at the National Institute this year will be the attendance of a scholarship student from Michigan and a professor from the University of Michigan observing the courses preparatory to establishing a course in organization work at the University. Both of these innovations are projects of the Michigan Commercial Secretaries Association of which Mr. Harris is secretary.

Driver Jailed After Accident

TWO FROM TECUMSEH HURT IN THREE-CAR CRASH ON M-50 NEAR IVES FARM

Ivan DeLine, 23, Sand Creek, was jailed and two others, both from Tecumseh, were taken to Bixby Hospital, following a three-car accident just south of Sheridan road on M-52 near the Ives farm at 5:20 Monday afternoon.

The injured are:

Miss Marie Koernig, 46, Tecumseh. She suffered severe cuts in her face and scalp and a possible concussion. Her condition at the hospital was reported as serious.

Harry L. Morse, 28, Route 1, Tecumseh. Cuts and bruises and a possible fracture of the left leg.

According to state police, the accident happened as DeLine, driving south, attempted to pass the Morse car, which also was going south. Miss Koernig was driving north. DeLine apparently attempted to "cut back" and in so doing hit the Morse car in the rear, causing Morse to lost control. The Morse car hit the Koernig car head-on and both cars went into the ditch.

State police at the Clinton post said that DeLine said that he had been in Clinton where he had had a couple of beers with friends. Two men were riding with him when the mishap occurred.

Officers gave him the meter test and then charged him with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned on Tuesday afternoon before Justice John Lowe, Adrian. He pleaded guilty, demanded an examination and was released on $100 bond.

Board Studies Building Plans

TO MEET FRIDAY WITH ARCHITECTS ON REVISION OF CONSTRUCTION PROPOSALS

How can Tecumseh build a new high school, large enough to meet its ever-growing needs, and keep the cost within the $400,000 fund available?

The answer to this question, in the face of fast-rising building costs, will be sought when members of the board of education and Earl H. Place, superintendent, meet with their architects, the firm of Britsch & Munger, in Toledo, Friday. This much, however, seems assured: A smaller building than was originally contemplated will be built, and a gymnasium in the new building, which would cost about $160,000, will, temporarily at least, be eliminated.

Jens Touborg, president of the board, summed up the situation when he said, "It's a big problem, and we will have to trim a little here and there and get out new plans and specifications that will come within the amount of money that we have to spend for the job."

The board earlier this month advertised for bids for the construction of the school on plans submitted by the architects, based on the $400,000 fund available. The lowest "firm" bid received was $688,000 and the highest about $800,000, or double the amount of cash available. Builders pointed out that construction costs have jumped rapidly in the past few months, and that a revision of the plans must be made if Tecumseh is to keep within its budget. The board immediately rejected all of the bids and set machinery in motion to prepare new plans.

Available for the building is $400,000 of which amount $145,000 is a gift from Tecumseh Products Company, Ray W. Herrick, president, Mr. Touborg, Frank Smith and C. M. Brown. At the time that the gift was made, it was specified that construction must be started this year. In addition to the gift, some $180,000 will be raised through the issuance of bonds and the balance, about $75,000, comes from a sinking fund already established.

The board hopes to be able to prepare new plans and to readvertise for bids by mid-September. This will give the construction to get under way by October, it was said. The board also has re-advertised for the sale of the bonds, fixing August 30 as the final date and naming the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh as the depository.

In the meantime, Mr. Place, who on July 1 succeeded W. L. Berkhof as superintendent, is rapidly shaping his plans for the reopening of school here on September 8.

Mr. Place declared today that Tecumseh's schools will be crowded if the anticipated enrollment materializes. Nearly 1,000 children are expected to register, he said.

School sessions will be held in St. Peter's parish house, in the public library, in the Presbyterian and Baptist churches, and in the Brownville (formerly Ford) school, as well as in the East and West Branch buildings and the Central building. The kindergarten enrollment is worrying school officials, some believing that it will exceed 100 and that at least two half-day sessions will be necessary.

Mrs. Lovina Henderson Buried Here, Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Collins Funeral Home for Lovina May Henderson, aged 76 years, formerly of Tecumseh, who died Sunday at her home in Flint. Friends and relatives attended from Detroit, Flint, Holly, Burkley, Buchanan, Dearborn, Adrian, Macon and Tecumseh.

Born in Otsego, Michigan, she was the daughter of William and Lovina Chase. Her husband, James M., preceded her in death November 1, 1947. Surviving are two sons, Herbert V. at home and Samuel C. of Dearborn, one daughter, Mrs. Ray B. Wilcox of Holly; five grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews, and one brother, H. V. Chase of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were former Tecumseh residents, living for many years in the 300 block on West Chicago boulevard.

GETS 5 DAYS IN JAIL, $100 FINE AND COURT COSTS

Police Capture Driver After 70-Mile-an-Hour Chase

After a 15-mile chase that took them nearly to Britton and to within less than a mile of the Adrian city limits, Tecumseh police last Friday evening arrested John V. Harvey, 23, of Adrian, R. F. D. 1, on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. In Justice F. C. Hanna's court last Saturday, Harvey was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail, to pay a fine of $100, costs of $4 and in default of payment of the fine and costs to spend an additional 90 days in jail.

According to Leo Smith, chief of police, who with Officer Vollmar made the arrest, they sighted Harvey driving recklessly in the downtown area. The officers gave chase, toward Britton, and lost him. Later, they discovered him on Pottawatamie street and they chased him west and out Adrian road at a 70-mile speed. It was not until they reached the State School for Girls, on M-52, they were able to halt him.

"It's fortunate no one was hurt," Chief Smith said. "I don't know how many stop streets Harvey disregarded."

Justice Hanna said that Harvey's license to drive a car expired last January.

Police spent a busy week, according to records at Justice Hanna's office. The following paid fines of $5 and costs of $3.35 for speeding: James Brandt, Eldridge Harmon, Alfred Kornowski, Hazen D. Monty, Karl F. Gooding and R. W. Garward.

James Mullaney, charged with improperly passing a car and failing to have his driver's license on his person, paid a $7 fine and $3.35 costs.

Liquidating The Middle Class

An economic review published by one of the country's leading banks recently touched on a phase of inflation that must be given a great deal more thought than it has received so far. It said, "Month by month, year by year, people who have been considered, with justice, the mainstay of our society—the great middle class—have been rewarded for their prudence, and self-reliance in steadily depreciating coin. These are the people who save for retirement, for the rainy day, for family security, as best they can with the resources at their disopal. They are the people who responded most generously to the calls for funds in the loan drives of the war emergency. They are the people who pay most of the taxes. They are the people who provide wise leadership in community life all through the country. It is a dangerous business in a free society to grind them down, take away their incentives, frustrate their efforts toward security . . .

"Back of this inflationary trend are government policies of spending, lending and guaranteeing which, more than any other single factor, have been responsible for our taut economy and for the spiraling of prices. The irony of it is that so much of this spending is pressed in the name of social welfare and liberalism. Yet those who see in such spending the menace to the security and freedom of the individual are classed as reactionary and insensible to humanitarian considerations."

It is sometimes argued that the enormous commitments of the government—such as those for military purposes and European aid—make any worthwhile reduction in the budget impossible. That is not so. The unparallel magnitude of necessary spending should cause the utmost intensification of efforts to cut unnecessary spending to the last possible dollar.

Again, how long will it take us to learn that a government which sets out to protect the people against every exigency of living is a goverment going hell bent down the road that leads to unbridled inflation and eventual dictatorship? Every tyrant comes into power with specious promises of what he will do to help the "common man," whoever he is. And once he get power, the common man becomes a slave.

Government-inspired inflation, along with all the other ills that it creates, is the most insidious enemy of freedom that exists. The economic liquidation of the middle class is just one of the symptoms. All other classes will get theirs sooner or later.

Pioneer Valley Lures Tourists

IS THE STORY-BOOK VACATION LAND OF THE EAST; SCENERY IS BEAUTIFUL

Northhampton, Mass.—New England's pioneer valley is a story-book vacation land circled by tidy hill towns that look down on nearly 1,000 miles of fishing streams. Springfield, Mass., is the area's gateway, and the lovely town of East Northfield is its rim.

From Springfield to the rim of this 2,500 mile vacation land, the historic Connecticut river winds through cities, towns, and great stretches of the richest farming country in the northeast. More than 500 miles of the Connecticut river tributaries, notably the Deerfield, Westfield, Quaboag, and Millers rivers, 500 large brooks, and probably 1,000 small brooks (one in nearly every backyard in the rural sections) provide nearly 1,000 miles of water for sport.

The valley has a rich combination of honest-to-goodness countryside, great forests and reservations, and shining cities with busy chambers of commerce soliciting (and getting) big convention groups. In the valley are some of the nation's most famous schools and colleges, Smith and Mount Holyoke and Deerfield Academy; yet only a few miles away are the great maple sugar orchards that produce the little known Massachusetts sirup.

A network of fine highways and trails are better known; The Skyline trail through Chester, Huntington and Middlefield, the newly named Lafayette trail through Chesterfield west, and the Mohawk trail that begins at the county seat, Greenfield, and climbs for 43 miles past splendid panoramas of hill and valley.

Further beautifying these roads about the middle of June is the valley's famous laurel, and visitors come from many states to gaze on its perfection. A "Laurel week" culminates in a great festival held at the town of Granville, Mass., and everyone is invited.

In the shadow of the Mt. Holyoke range, at the foot of spectacular Mt. Sugarloaf, on cool hills and village greens are more than 200 hotels, inns, and shining new cabins in the Pioneer valley towns. There are hundreds of guest houses where you can occupy the best spare room; and many farm homes, way off the beaten path, also take vacationists—and feed them well. Swimming and golf are available everywhere.

Transient travelers break long trips by staying at the modern hotels in the cities of Springfield, Holyoke (be sure to see the 1,400-foot dam there on the Connecticut river) and Westfield. After a day in remote upland pastures inspecting the lovely and profuse displays, you can return to a city for dancing or movies.

A list of pleasant places to stay in this region, a list of 200 stocked ponds and brooks, and a large scenic map suitable for framing, showing the beautiful drives, will be sent free of charge to anyone writing the Pioneer Valley Association, Northhampton, Mass. The association is a nonprofit trade association set up, not only to furnish vacation information to outsiders, but to protect the area's natural advantages. For instance, the association is now leading an effort to have the state repair and preserve the single cog railway that ascends Mt. Holyoke. It is the only one of its kind in the world.

Almost every busy man knows the importance of exercise and recreation but few of them stop long enough to put their knowledge into practice.

How Big Is Your Fly Crop? State Urges Reduction

How big is your fly crop?

The Michigan fly crop is one harvest which increases in direct proportion to the lack of industry of the persons who reap it, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

This is the height of the 1948 fly season. If you still have flies around your house and barn, now is the time to kill them and DDT is the way to do it, LaRue Miller, environmental engineer of the department, counselled.

You can spray the parts of your house and privy which need spraying with about ½ gallon of 5% DDT spray at the cost of about $1. The average size lawn can be treated with two pounds of wettable DDT powder at a cost of 75 cents. DDT isn't dangerous unless you eat it.

Medical men know that flies carry such diseases as typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera, poliomyelitis and many others. Germs of most human diseases are found in human excreta just as germs of animal diseases transmissable to humans are found in animal excreta. Some types of flies are born in and feed on excreta; others just wade through it.

The fly which walks across your summer foods or swims in your milk has just been hatched in and recently left the most disgusting, unclean and insanitary places in your neighborhood. It has just waded through filth which you would not willingly touch or even approach. Then it walks on your food, eats it, contaminates it.

Community wide fly eradication programs are the best answer to the fly problem, but even when a community has no such program, it is up to each householder to kill the flies in his own buildings and property to protect himself and his family from the serious diseases which flies transmit.

If its news call The Herald.

Prematurity Is Seventh As Death Cause In State

Prematurity took more Michigan babies' lives last year than all other causes, and it was the seventh leading cause of death among the entire population of the state, figures released by the Michigan Department of Health revealed.

To cut this unnecessary death toll and the accompanying heartaches, the Bureau of Maternal and Child Health of the Department is conducting a survey of the causes and prevention of prematurity in the state and is urging all expectant mothers to get the early and complete medical care. To make it possible to acquire more complete information on the incidence of prematurity, a new item, weight at birth, has been added to the birth certificates in the state.

Any baby weighing less than five and a half pounds at birth is considered a premature infant. The bureau estimates that 8,000 premature infants were born to Michigan mothers last year. According to reports made by physicians on death certificates, more than half of the 5,120 infant deaths in the state were from causes related to prematurity.

The whole story of the causes of prematurity is not known and in the next few years additional study will be undertaken. It is known that early, regular medical care and careful following of the physicians advice for rest, exercise, diet and possible limitations of strenuous activities are safeguards. The Bureau of Maternal and Child Health has many pamphlets to aid the expectant mother, which can be obtained from local health departments or from the Michigan Department of Health, Lansing 4, Michigan. The services of the local health department nurse or visiting nurse are also available to her.

LIKE TO TAKE A VACATION? . . . That old cliche about a jewel in a setting of white gold seems particularly appropriate when applied to Sun Valley, Ida. This is how the resort appears from the practice ski areas on Dollar mountain. The village itself is completely self-contained, with facilities ranging from smart hotels and many shops to warm-water swimming pools, skating rinks and a post office. Not only that, it's a good place to spend a few hundred dollars if you don't mind putting your money on ice and if you like sliding down mountains on skis.

APPLEWOOD ORCHARDS
Deerfield, Mich.

More of the Michigan babies who are born prematurely can live, with special care. Many of these tiny infants are not well developed enough to carry on a separate life without help. Their under-developed lungs cannot take in enough oxygen to maintain life; they may not be strong enough to nurse successfully, and they may not be able to digest the food they take. Their temperature control is usually so poor that they are cold, and they are much more susceptible to infection than full term babies.

The premature baby should be a patient in a hospital well-equipped and staffed to give skilled care to him until he has reached normal weight. There he is kept in an incubator, a heated bed constructed to maintain an even temperature and to keep him warm. Oxygen is added to the air he breathes. He is give specially prepared foods by methods which give him enough food but do not overtax his strength. His bedding and clothing are sterilized to protect him from infection. He is handled as little as possible and visitors view him only through nursery windows.

Before the baby is released from the hospital, the public heasn nurse can help the family prepare for his homecoming. After he is at home, the nurse can demonstrate the special techniques which are important in handling the tiny baby.

The future of the premature will become safer each year in Michigan, but the major problem at hand at the present time is the prevention of prematurity, according to Dr. Goldie B. Corneliuson, Director of the State Health Department's Bureau of Maternal and Child Health.

State's Roads High In Quality

FIFTY-SIX PER CENT OF RURAL HIGHWAYS PAVED: TWO STATES OUTRANK US

Lansing—Michigan's rural high way development rates higher than the national average, but is only mediocre compared with our four neighboring states according to "Highway Needs in Michigan," the engineering analysis of road deficiencies recently published by the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

"With 56 percent of its rural trunkline mileage made up of high surface types, the proportion of paved roads on the Michigan state highway system is higher than in Wisconsin (47%) or Ohio (34%) but lower than in Illinois (96%) or Indiana (57%). The average for state highway systems throughout the country is 27 percent," says the Federation's report.

Mileage of paved roads, however, is only one indicator of the adequacy of the road plant—since many miles of roads of high surface types may be obsolete, worn out, and dangerous.

Traffic on Michigan's rural roads averages 192 vehicles a day—a higher average than in Indiana, Illinois, or Wisconsin but lower than the Ohio average of 228 vehicles a day.

Mileage of divided highways on Michigan's rural trunkline system is lower than on any of the neighboring state systems except Wisconsin. As against 58 miles of divided roadway in Michigan, Wisconsin has 51 miles, Illinois 75 miles, Ohio 99 miles and Indiana 180 miles, according to "Highway Needs in Michigan."

The proportion of dirt roads on Michigan's county system is higher than in any of the other states. Whereas 32 percent of Michigan's rural county roads are unsurfaced, the proportion is 15 percent in Indiana, 18 percent in Ohio, 20 per cent in Wisconsin, and 26 percent in Illinois.

Miss Gloria Underwood Weds Earl Fetkenhier

Thursday afternoon in the Tecumseh Methodist church during a quiet ceremony performed in the presence of the immediate families, Miss Gloria Underwood of Tecumseh and Earl Fetkenhier of Adrian were united in marriage by the Rev. Norman MacNaughton, who read the double ring service.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Revah Ross of Marine City, sister of the groom and the bridegroom was attended by George Underwood, jr., of Adrian, brother of the bride.

The bride was beautiful in a white suit with a navy picture hat and pink and navy accessories. Her corsage was a pink orchid. The matron of honor was charming in a chartruse suit with black accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Underwood was dressed in a white suit with purple accessories. Her corsage was of roses tied with purple ribbon. Mrs. Fetkenhier, mother of the bridegroom wore a green and white dress with white accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses tied with white ribbon.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Underwood, sr., of Tecumseh. She graduated from Tecumseh high school in 1947 and also from the Barbizon School of Modeling in New York, where she modeled for two months. Since that time she has been employed in Detroit.

The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fetkenhier and attended Adrian high school before entering the service. He is a graduate of Ford Veterans College at Dearborn and is employed in Adrian.

A search of all corners failed to produce the missing pet.

Alaska By Car Thrilling Trip

ROUND-TRIP JOURNEY TAKES 30 DAYS, COSTS $800 FOR TWO; MOSQUITOES MANY

Fairbanks, Alaska—If your car is in good shape and you have a yen for adventure off the beaten path, a trip over the Alaskan highway not only will be to your liking but will provide you with a series of scenic thrills. You will not encounter too many difficulties in the matter of getting service and accommodations either.

This was the gist of a report recently issued by the American Automobile Association following completion of the first official inspection trip of the route by an AAA field car.

"Accommodations along the way are by no means the type to which the average United States traveler is accustomed," points out F. C. Durkin, AAA field reporter who made the trip. "However, by careful planning, the motorist can make his trip to stages that will bring him each night to points where the better run of establishments is available. Accommodations at such places are quite limited and it is important to phone ahead each day to make sure of space for the night." Other tips for the prospective Alaskan traveler offered by the AAA reporter included:

1. In addition to having the car in first class condition, carry along a good jack and two spare tires mounted on the wheels. When driving over gravel stretches on a hot day, it is a good idea to stop every couple of hours to let the tires cool.

2. In summer, the road is dusty, which can be annoying when you have to follow the car ahead for some distance. Drivers used to paved roads should take it quite slowly until they get accustomed to the feel of gravel under the wheels and behavior of the car on turns. Passing a car trailing a cloud of dust should be avoided.

3. Wear old clothes, preferably lightweight coveralls on the journey. Do not carry parkas or heavy woolen clothes. Many people arrive dressed for a polar jaunt only to discover Alaskan summers are much like those in the United States. Also leave behind your evening clothes. People in Alaska do not go in for "dressing up." Take some light clothing with a woolen shirt or two or perhaps a sweater or sport jacket. Women should take a light spring topcoat mainly for evening wear.

4. Mosquitoes are encountered all along the highway. Take along repellents and an aerosol bomb to spray the car in the morning.

5. It may be a good idea to carry along some canned or prepared food, but it is not really necessary. Food can be purchased at all stopping points. A small supply of apples, oranges, bananas, or other fresh fruit will be found welcome on the hot dusty portions of the trip.

6. The journey from Great Falls, Mont., to Fairbanks is 2,559 miles in length, mostly over gravel, so that this is no trip for a hurried vacationist. Thirty days would be a minimum for the round trip. Minimum cost for two persons in one car would be $800.

"Most of the people traveling the highway today are job-seekers who are dissappointed when they don't find a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow," says Mr Durkin. "But the bona fide tourists, with money and time at their disposal, are pleased with having accomplished the last really big motoring adventure on this continent.

"The Alaskas themselves tell you: 'If you want the comforts of home, stay home!'—but if you are willing to swap dust, mosquitoes, and frontier type accommodations for a journey to new horizons, there's no better trip than the Alaskan highway."

Adam and Eve Leave the Garden

"And unto Adam He said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree of which I commanded thee saying, "Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life."... Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken."—Genesis 3:17,23.

(Special to The Herald)

GRAYLING—A "new look" has arrived at 76,000-acre Camp Grayling Training Center of the Michigan National Guard.

Approximately 2,500 teen-age youths, most of them just out of high school, are getting their first experience in military training here.

When Congress resorted to compulsory training (Selective Service) as the only effective way of manning the army and navy, the National Guard was given a preferred status. Youths who enlisted in State Troops were exempted from the draft.

Like having a gold rush on its hands, the Michigan National Guard recruited 2,500 teen-agers in 30 days. Total enrollment soared to 7,300, an all-time record. The troops arrived at Lake Margrethe last week in more than 1,000 motor vehicles and 200 railroad cars. They were reviewed last Saturday (Aug. 14) by Governor Kim Sigler and Major General Ralph A. Loveland and this Saturday (Aug. 21) following a week of overnight bivouacs and field exercises, the troops will depart for home.

Youth is getting its first peacetime military training as a part of national security. The atmosphere is hardly that of a holiday although the traditional banter and horse-play of army life is as noticeable as ever. The Berlin crisis and other world events have cast a shadow. War is still a serious business.

Military discipline is being tightened this year.

And yet, according to top command, more emphasis is being put upon recreation than ever before. Soft ball games are held daily. Free motion pictures, latest from Hollywood, are offered each evening. The 46th Infantry Division Band is kept busy playing for regimental reviews and special concerts. Church attendance is compulsory. Military police units patrol the streets in Grayling. The "brig" is the last punishment.

It is apparent that General Loveland and his staff are making every effort to provide a dose of military training for teen-agers that will be acceptable to fathers and mothers back home.

The atmosphere is a bit informal to an old-time army man, uniforms of officers are just about the same as those of buck privates. The insignia of rank is unchanged. Saluting is maintained on a voluntary basis. There is less military swank.

All this reflects the "new look" of youth and a determination of the military command to make selective service a permanent part of our national defense policy, subject to approval of public opinion itself. Pride of National Guard units has deep roots in Michigan communities. Officers are watching with interest the congressional outcome of a move at Washington to put the National Guard under federal control. This feeling of opposition is running high here.

Col. Edward R. Roberts, Senior U. S. Army Instructor on duty here, diplomatically pointed out that National Guard divisions were not given "soft jobs" in World War II. The 45th Army Division (Oklahoma) suffered the second highest casualty rating in the war during its service in Italy and Europe. The 32nd Division (Michigan-Wisconsin) were first in action in the southwest Pacific, while the 29th Division (Maryland and Virginia) were among the first troops to land in Normandy.

The ground units at Grayling comprise the 46th Infantry Division. The air units are part of the Tenth Air Force.

On the ground and in the air, Michigan is doing its part to be ready for whatever the future may bring. Camp Grayling is a symbol of this preparedness.

SMALL TOWN PEACE MOVEMENT . . . As high government officials and foreign diplomats falter in their quest for world-wide peace, residents of Shelby county, Ohio, demonstrate that small peoples everywhere can play a significant role in the movement. Through their peace movement, known as "Neighbors in Action," Shelby county residents hope to promote peace by sending food and goodwill overseas.

NEW EARS . . . Words of cheer pass between Gary Lang, 6, of Manchester, Conn., and his mother as he tries out the new ears doctors are grafting on his head. He was born without any.

THINK ABOUT THESE THINGS
BEFORE YOU BUY YOUR TELEVISION SET!

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS:

1. Does the set you're buying give you complete coverage — all 13 channels, with simplified selection, maximum eye-comfort, sharp tuning and a powerful speaker?

2. Price is a factor, too. If the set you're looking at costs more than $299.95 you should FIRST check up on the new ADMIRAL MAGIC MIRROR with 29 tubes and 10-inch picture tube. Have you done it?

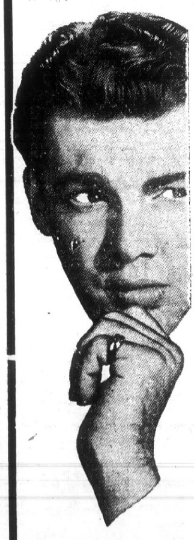
3. Have you compared the set you are looking at with MAGIC MIRROR? If you haven't actually SEEN THE DIFFERENCE then you should, before you decide.

4. Service is an important factor. Have you considered it? If you haven't then you should take into consideration that we are the oldest electrical supply and service dealers in Tecumseh. That we have an enviable reputation for service, which we intend to defend.

5. Do you realize that the new Admiral Magic Mirror Console Model is now priced LOWER than some table model sets of other makes?

6. Do you know that we will demonstrate our ADMIRAL MAGIC MIRROR against any model to compare performance and eye comfort?

7. What do you know about television? If you're not an expert, then service on your set is important. That is where we play an important part, because service is a part of every sale that we make.



We'll Be Glad to Talk Television With You If You're Interested.

Six LIFESAVING RULES FOR FARM PEOPLE

TAKE TIME TO BE SAFE

The loss of an arm or leg is a high price to pay for saving ten seconds. When operating power machinery, take time to be careful.

Your life will be safer if you . . .

Observe these simple rules:

1. Shut off P.T.O. before attempting to unclog corn picker, baler, etc.
2. Keep all shields in place when operating machine.
3. Don't trust defective hitches, brakes, clutches, seats.
4. Never mount or dismount from a moving tractor. Don't ride on drawbar.
5. Don't wear loose, floppy clothing around power machinery.
6. Think first. After the accident it is too late.

This year a disabling injury probably will strike some farm person every 19 seconds. Don't let carelessness put your name on that list.

Summer Theatre Shows Increase In Popularity

IS RAPIDLY SOLVING THE HIGH COST OF AMUSEMENTS FOR AVERAGE CITIZEN

Wellesley, Mass.—Summer theaters are no longer a side show in the theatrical world, according to Edward C. Cole, of the Yale Department of Drama, for today they are the only ones financially available to thousands of players.

Costs of metropolitan play production have risen so high, Mr. Cole pointed out at Wellesley College, where he has arrived as guest lecturer on television at the Summer Theater and school, that admission prices have to be raised, too, to a point out of the reach of many persons, except on rare occasions.

In summer theaters, especially those few which, like Wellesley, have a professional company aided by school students, costs are lower—especially rents for theaters—and so prices can be kept down. Thus theater-going each week can become a habit again for many who have been denied this kind of recreation in their home cities. Incidentally, Mr. Cole added, summer theatergoers usually have much of the expense of a theater evening in the city, with expensive travel or parking, and an expensive meal.

Summer theaters, he said, are apt to have a top price of around $2.10, compared to New York prices of from $3.30 to $6 or thereabouts, which makes a considerable difference for a family of three or four.

Experimentation is being done largely, Mr. Cole added, by summer and college theaters now, too, giving them additional interest for serious lovers of the stage.

So far, Wellesley is the only summer theater, it is believed, which is actually operated by a college in connection with a complete summer theater school, so that it has many resources back of it and much material available for its use. While the regular evening performances have been devoted to recent Broadway successes, Mr. Cole noted, the advanced students of the school have been experimenting in more the style of university drama departments, with one-act curtain raisers and full length plays.

condition is improving as is his wife's, Anita, who also received fractured ribs and a fractured disc in her back.

Get on the BUTLER BANDWAGON.

If You Can't Get In A New Car

You hear a lot of talk today about new cars . . . when they're going to be available to everybody. Of course, everybody wants one.

We wish we could sell EVERY BODY a new car . . . and do it today . . . but we can't. Some day, we hope, we can.

But until that time comes, remember this. The car you now are driving IS AN IMPORTANT CAR TO YOU. It's important for two reasons: First, its YOUR transportation until you get a new car or a better car. Second, when you sell or trade your car, the price that you get depends upon the condition that it is in.

So, your present car is IMPORTANT . . . it's just like cash in your bank account.

For the service that your car needs . . . service by trained mechanics . . . bring your car to us regularly.

We say, without fear of contradiction, that we have one of the best equipped garages in Lenawee county. We have factory-approved, precision tools, we have mechanics who are factory-trained.

It's mighty important, in these times, that mechanics have the "know how" and that the tools they use are intended for the job. It's important because it saves time . . . and time is money. That's why our customers tell us that repair bills at our garage are lower.
